A GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION OF INFERNAL MACHINES.

Contrivances Sent to People for the Purpose of Killing Them—Some Facts About Their Construction.

Of the multifarious violations of the law that are reported from day to day in the newspapers there is, perhaps, none that so thoroughly arouses public indignation and brings such widespread feeling of insecurity as the sending of an infernal machine to a man.

INSTRUMENT FOUND IN A RAILROAD CAR. "Hymanite bombs and infernal machines," said the inspector conservatively, "do not create a great deal of disturbance in this country. That is to say, these things are not at all popular as a means of taking life and doing other damage. It is only at infrequent intervals that the papers record instances of their use, and then it is usually the record of a failure to do the thing intended."

THE INSPECTOR TURNED TO GO and the reporter held this question at him from the rear: "Do throwers of bombs and senders of infernal machines usually figure in the police records for other crimes?"

"I never know," replied Mr. Byrnes, "but I have heard of a steamer sending a machine to a man."

IN further search of information on the subject, it was learned that the ordinary infernal machine is not as complicated as one would suppose.

IN most cases there is an explosive and a means of firing it in every direction. Powder, glass powder, and gun cotton are used. The spring that ignites when the cover is removed and the lighted fuse among the more common methods of setting the explosive.

RESPECTING the machine of the Brooklyn Police Department, was very up-to-date on the subject of infernal machines. After showing the reporter a photograph of the machine which was sent to ex-District Attorney Samuel D. Morris, about two years ago, and which is here reproduced with some others, the inspector said:

"If one man receives a machine intended to do him bodily injury, it has the effect of making other men in his particular line feel that sooner or later they, too, will be singled out by a would-be assassin. A number of men have reported their fears to me since the box intended for Mr. Webster was received. Some of them were wrought up to a high state of nervousness, and admitted candidly that they were almost afraid to open a letter."

"The action of the United States Supreme Court," said the inspector in conclusion, "furnishes a precedent for courts that may in the future be called upon to pass judgment upon criminals of this kind."—New York Star.

A SHIFTING ROMANCE.

BY H. S. FLEMING.

IN the front room of a Chicago flat, known to the occupants thereof as "The Tunnel," owing to the redundancy of light at either end, and the perpetual twilight pervading all the interior portions, three girls were seated—Meg, painting; Kate, polishing her nails; and Alice, propped upon the sofa in the bay-window, speaking.

"I don't know that I can do better than to take you, Meg, for see I must have a heroine. To be frank, your nature is really not complex enough for a first-class analytical study, but I shall have to take the best of you, and keep your beauty well in the foreground."

First of course, you must be discovered and described, so I will now introduce to the attention of my readers Margaret Dillingworth, seated at an easel. The maiden's sinuous figure is robed in black, but over all flows a voluminous apron of Turkey-red cotton, which envelops her form like a flame. She is young; the second daughter of a poor but worthy mechanic, and the possessor of no accomplishments and two incomparable sisters. She is at present engaged in earning a humble penny by copying a tea-store chromo for a wealthy patron who wishes some chit-chat for her drawing-room. At this moment—leaving over to the next chapter—the artist's brush has by some fatal mischance placed a touch of Prussian blue upon the golden locks of the tea-store siren, whose smile induces the customer to drink unthinkingly a decoction of acid and herbs. And now for my heroine, I warn you, Meg, of the artist's point of view. You know you are a poor girl, and must be looking for a poor fellow. I will trust to luck, and the first I can find, I shall pass this window shall be your fate."

A few moments' silence ensued. Two women passed the window. Several children and innumerable dogs passed the window. At last a man passed the window.

"Brother-in-law, I salute thee!" cried Alice, springing up in her chair, but as suddenly subsiding. "Why, girls, he is coming here!"

"Who is coming here? Where is he?" asked Kate, excitedly, vainly craning her neck to get a look at the comer.

"The doctor," declared Alice, trying stealthily to draw aside the interposing curtain. "He is coming up the steps, and he is—yes, he undoubtedly is—a book agent."

"Oh, go on!" cried Kate. "You are awfully picturesque in that red apron. Burst on him and dazzle him!"

"Yes, do go, Meg," urged Alice. "Seeing your apron, he may take you for our handmaid."

for pneumatic pressure to shoot their movable into the new positions.

There was a new sensation in the Dillingworth family. Alice had an admirer. Yes, Alice! She was admired to literary fame, and looked to Boston with such reverence that her sisters declared that she would never—no, never—enter that sacred city without continued and deprecatory genuflections.

Kate, who had accompanied Alice to three or four literary evenings, "was the one to make the announcement."

"You should see him, Meg! He is just as devoted as can be. Of course, in a very open way—that wouldn't please Alice, you know—but for four evenings now he has paid her marked attention. He comes over to us as soon as he can make an excuse, and then he stays until some one else actually crowds him away. He hardly looks at me. I declare, I think I might have an adventure. You've got your young man with the books—or at least you have the books. Alice is provided with an admiring swain, while I—have only Kate Dillingworth—a young person I am very tired of."

"You are too young to be thinking of such matters," remarked Meg, very unsympathetically. "But say, Kate, if I tell you something you will promise not to tell Alice?"

"On my honor as a gentleman," affirmed Kate.

"Well," said Meg confidentially, "I saw the book agent last week."

"Where do you think?"

"In the street, walking past our deserted flat. It was Sabbath afternoon. He stared in the windows until he saw the agent's sign on the door, walked on past, and finally turned and came down the street again. Here I was watching him through the curtains, and all the time his books were on his back!"

"What do you suppose he thinks?" queried Kate. "He must have said good-bye to those law books long ago."

"I wish the Windows would come back, so we could send them over," said Meg. "I should feel terribly comforted if I should meet him anywhere. Just like that!"

"Well, he ought to have come for them when he said he would," declared Kate, stoutly. "It serves him right."

After a pause, Meg asked: "What about Alice's admirer, Mr. Bartley? Is he in the looking?"

"Very," answered Kate, unhesitatingly. "But you will soon see for yourself. The last time he saw Alice he asked leave to call, and Alice said he might come."

That same evening, Meg, who had gone over to the corner drug store for some postage stamps, came home again, let herself in with the latch-key, and found herself in her mother and Kate. The room was now solely occupied by the owner of the three law books. Meg flushed crimson as she saw him, but she laughed in spite of herself as she said: "Alice was in the room."

"Well, so you have found us out. We didn't think you would discover us so soon."

"I was willing to take a find you," he answered, and at that moment was aware that Alice was in the room.

She looked inquiringly at Meg, and said somewhat stiffly to the visitor: "Good evening, Mr. Bartley. Meg and Alice added: 'See it is unnecessary to introduce my sister.'"

"I never saw him but once in my life, and that was the day he left the books," she supposed he had come for them to-night."

"The books!" echoed Alice. "What books?"

"Why, the law books he left with us six weeks ago, that belonged to the Windows. Do you remember?"

That is the reason that I did not accompany my mother and sisters to the Academy this evening."

"Your enemies are my friends," declared Mr. Bartley. "I owe to honey and not biscuits the first opportunity to our acquaintance of seeing you alone."

"But I was not alone before you came in," said Alice, flushing a little, but ignoring the implication in his remark. "I was spending my two old friends, dyspepsia and headache. On some future occasion, when I have had more discretion than appetite, we may possibly have a private interview; but to-night we are four."

He smiled indulgently at her fancy. "I believe you would just get to the most serious misfortune that could befall you," he said.

"Perhaps," answered Alice, musingly. "I don't know. I wonder what would be the most serious misfortune that could befall me. The most serious thing that has befallen me yet is to have my stories returned. I don't just when that happens, I assure you. What do you think Kate said the other day? She remarked that going for the magazines seemed to be the only business with absolute sure returns. That was pretty good for Kate, wasn't it?"

"Yes," he replied, somewhat absently. "She is a bright girl, and very good-looking, although, of course, not a beauty such as Miss Margaret."

"There it is coming!" groaned Alice, inwardly. "Brace yourself for some rhapsodies, Alice Dillingworth." "No one is beautiful when compared with Meg," she said, aloud. "I have noticed that all other women in a room become mere background when she enters it."

"I had not observed that she produced that effect," replied Mr. Bartley, "but she certainly is possessed of a most graceful figure."

"And such lovely, sunny color," said Alice.

"And she has unusually fine eyes," he added; "so soft and luminous. Not intellectual eyes, but dog's eyes—to use what I fancy to be a most flattering comparison. Eyes that are capable of working awful havoc among the most impressionable of my sex."

"You speak as though you were taking a bird's-eye view of an unkindred species," cried Alice. "And yet I fancy you are not beyond the influence of luminous gray eyes when they are properly set above cheeks of sunny color."

He looked at her inquiringly. "It may be I am not," he said; "but if it is not true, I would say that I am not suffering from the ravages of the eyes under discussion."

Alice glanced quickly at him, and then looked into the fire. "Men's hearts are made of adamant," she observed, sentimentally, and then added, "What is the weather out this evening, Mr. Bartley?"

"Decidedly unfavorable to my going home before your mother and sisters arrive, unless your two friends here find my presence insupportable," remarked Mr. Bartley coolly.

"I am not suffering from the ravages of the eyes under discussion."

"So this, then, is a private interview?" he demanded eagerly.

"Well, yes, I believe it is," she admitted, laughing, and feeling that her wit was deserting her.

He rose, and leaned over her chair. "Dear girl," he said, "you must know that I love you, and that it is no sudden thing with me. Put aside your jesting for a moment, and tell me if you can learn to care for me."

She sat nervously upright in her chair. She was really at the mercy of a surging flood of emotion, but she would not have been Alice if she had not rallied enough to remark, rather wickedly: "But I thought you expected me to be a most serious misfortune that could befall me, and if that misfortune has arrived?"

Whereupon the perverse Miss Dillingworth found herself silenced, if not convinced. Mrs. Dillingworth and Kate coming in a few moments later, and finding the situation only too palpable, were immediately taken into confidence.

"Where is Meg?" asked Alice, after a few moments, noting, although not deploring, her sister's absence.

How They Execute Men in Paris. The condemned murderer in France is informed when the Court of Cassation rejects his appeal, but he always has the hope that the President will pardon him, and on the strength of this hope most of the condemned remain comparatively tranquil. When the final day arrives the convict is awakened by the warden about half an hour before the time is set for the execution. The strait-jacket is removed and his ordinary clothes given him. Then he is bound hand and foot by two of the gendarmes' aides, and afterward led alone with the priest a few moments, unless the services of this ecclesiastic are declined.

From the condemned's cell he is taken to a dimly lighted room called the toilet chamber: here, seated on a stool, he listens to the priest, who reads aloud by a priest, while one of the aides cuts the hair from the back of the neck and the collar from the shirt. He is ready! Supported by the two aides and accompanied by the executioner, the priest and the other officials, the condemned marches out, the two outside doors by the open, and the guillotine, surrounded by the military and the police, greets the eye. Arrived at the bascule the executioner and his aides push him against the swinging plank; he falls so that his neck hits into the lower half of the moon-shaped socket, the upper half of which is immediately lowered; the executioner touches a spring, the knife falls with a sharp sound, the head drops into the tub, a little stream of blood gushes out from the trunk and justice is satisfied.

The whole operation takes less than half a minute. The headless body is slid into the willow basket; the head is placed between the legs and the basket is put into a wagon that has been waiting two hours for its burden. Escorted by a squad of gendarmes and followed by a priest in a modest cab the train gallops out to the Ixer Cemetery, three or four miles away, where a part of the enclosure, called the turnip field, is reserved for the burial of executed criminals. When the body is not claimed, it is immediately exhumed and given to the medical school.—Lyon Telegraph.

Making a Name. "So you are married?" said a traveling man to a friend.

"Oh, yes. Married over a year ago."

"Given up all your ideas about fame and glory, and all that sort of thing?"

"No, sir. I always said I would make a name for myself."

"Yes."

"Well, I've done it."

"Indeed?"

"Yes, I superintended the christening of our baby last week."—Merchant Traveler.

Before Ten. Judge B. (with emphasis).—"Clara, is that George coming round here again to-night?"

Clara (hopelessly).—"I believe so, papa."

Judge B.—"Well, daughter, remember this: This house will be closed at ten sharp, and."

Clara (hastily).—"Oh, George will be here before that. Papa, please don't worry."—Harper's Bazar.

A Shrewd Advertiser. "My rats!" exclaimed a man, shoving some one whose door near him, who had tried on a coat.

The fellow snatched out a box of cigars, and said: "If you don't mind, you sir, in a few minutes. Only ten cents. Endorsed by the medical fraternity everywhere. There is no use in suffering. One box! Thank you," he headed, as he put the money in his pocket.

"It was an accident you found him," some one remarked to the shrewd advertiser.

"Oh, no! It wasn't. If you ask a man if he's got rats he won't want to talk to you, but when you find out that he's got 'em the chances of selling him medicine are good. I advertise my medicine by going into crowds and slyly feeling for rats. 'Crowd,' 'rats,' 'a rat fellow. When the crowd gets thicker I'll go over and tap his head. Oh, yes, it may be painful, but, my dear sir, the business of this country must be carried on regardless of sentiment."—Arkansas Traveler.

"Sir John." The cadets at West Point are expected to address one another with ceremonial politeness, and the latest arrivals are promptly drilled in all social duties toward their fellows. Sometimes this discipline is rather arduous, and again its course is broken by some slight occurrence of an enlivening nature. One day a number of cadets accosted a new comer, and the following conversation ensued: "Well, mister, what's your name?" "John Walden."

AN OLD YEAR SONG.

As through the forest, dismayed By chill November, late I strayed, A lonely minstrel of the wood Was singing to the solitude: I loved thy music, thus I said, When o'er thy perch the leaves were spread; Sweet was thy song, but sweeter now Thy carol on the leafless bough.

Sing, little bird! thy note shall cheer The sadness of the dying year. When violets pranked the turf with blue And morning filled their cups with dew, Thy slender voice with rippling thrill The budding April bowers would fill. Nor passed its joyous tones away When April rounded into May. Thy life shall hail no second dawn— Sing, little bird! the spring is gone.

And I remember, well-a-day! Thy full-blown summer roundelay, As when behind a brooded squire, Some lonely maiden sings unseen: With answering notes the woodland rung, And every tree-top found a tongue. How deep the shade! the groves how fair! Sing, little bird! the woods are bare.

The summer's throbbing chant is done And all the forest is atone. The birds have left the whithering plain To flit among the trellised vines. On fan the air with scented plumes Amid the love-sick orange-blossoms. And thou art here alone—alone, Sing, little bird! the nest has flown.

The snow has capped your distant hill, At morn the running brook was still, From driven herbs the clouds that rise Are like the smoke of sacrifice; Ere long the frozen soil shall rock; The ploughshare, changed to stubborn rock; The brawling streams shall soon be dumb, Sing, little bird! the frosts have come.

Fast, fast the lengthening shadows creep, The songless fowls are half-asleep, The air grows chill, the setting sun May have these ere the song is done. The pale that warm thy breast grow cold, Thy secret die with thee untold! The lingering sunset still is bright, Sing, little bird! 't will soon be night.

—Oscar Wendell Holmes.

The Work of Seven Men. That locality and circumstance alone are true magicians in respect to their effects on the value of human labor is well known. In a manual by Mr. Alexander Wylie, entitled "Labor, Luxury and Leisure," it is stated that on the vast farms of Dakota, the equivalent of one man's work, supposing the crop amounts to twenty bushels to the acre, is 6,500 bushels of wheat. Now, keeping back enough for seed, we have here sufficient to produce 1,000 barrels of flour. This mass of food stuff can be carried through the flour mill and put into barrels, including the labor of making the latter, at the equivalent of one other man's labor for a year. Again, if it has been worked out at the rate of the work accomplished by each man employed on the New York Central railroad, the wheat can be transported to the flour mill and the thousand barrels of flour removed to this city, and all the machinery of the farm, the mill and the road be kept in full "going order," for an equivalent to the whole labor of two more men. It comes, then, to this: That one thousand barrels of flour, the annual ration of one thousand persons, can be placed in New York from a point 2,000 miles away with the exertions of only four men working one year in producing, milling and transporting the wheat. Further, the staple food can be baked and distributed by the endeavors of three more persons. It follows, then, that just seven persons can supply one thousand with the staff of life.—New York News.

Origin of the Word "Buddy." George W. Van Sicion, secretary of the Holland Society, writes to the Magazine of American History: "The word is of purely Dutch origin, and has come down to us from the Dutch colony in New York. It is pronounced 'Buddy' in Dutch, and also in English, and is used in Dutch as a term of endearment, and also as a name for a friend or comrade. It is an old word, and has been used in English since the time of Shakespeare."—Chicago News.

The Alabama dailies are trying to tell us something about the Blair bill. The Dispatch thinks the bill "offers inducements to mixed schools in Alabama." The Dispatch appears to be alone in this construction, at least among the press of this State. While we are always very much inclined to favor "the old flag and an appropriation," yet we think a dose of reconstruction might benefit the Blair bill.

Following is the law in Alabama as laid down in the new code which is now in effect:

Holidays: Paper Due on Holiday. Sunday, Christmas day, the first day of January, the 22d day of February, the fourth day of July, the day designated by the proclamation of the Governor for public thanksgiving, shall each be deemed a holiday. If Christmas day, or the first day of January, or the 22d day of February, or the 4th day of July, falls on Sunday, the Monday following is a holiday. If any paper, entitled to days of grace by the allowance thereof, or subject to protest, becomes due on a holiday, it must be taken as due on the next succeeding day.

The Greensboro Watchman tells the Montgomery Dispatch that "the whiskey factory in Atlanta only means that it had the largest number of votes, and by no means proves that prohibition has been a failure wherever tried. Greensboro is cited to prove that prohibition does diminish drunkenness. And the same appears from every place where the law is backed by public sentiment. Even in Atlanta prohibition, though only half tried conferred lasting blessings."

The Watchman is correct in this. Prohibition never had public sentiment at its back in Atlanta, the city having at both elections, voted against prohibition. The writer spent several days in Atlanta just previous to the last election on the whiskey question. Upon inquiry among prohibitionists and anti-prohibitionists enough information was gathered to justify the statement that the prohibition law was being evaded somewhat more flagrantly and openly than the law against theft, the law against carrying concealed weapons or any other law would be evaded by the depraved portion of the community who had no respect for the law. But prohibition in Atlanta, in spite of the fact that public sentiment was not upholding it, was not so great a failure as this fact might lead one to believe. The wine rooms were numerous—far too numerous—but they were few compared to the number of saloons in the city before the prohibition election. Furthermore they did not have a respectable patronage nor the patronage of a respectable element. They were frequented by the slums as a rule, and were avoided by the better classes because of this fact. The rabble being in the majority, the anti-prohibitionists carried the day at the recent election. Having made a note of these facts while in Atlanta, it is only justice to the prohibitionists in this section to publish them.

According to Mother Goose, when a man marries his trouble begins, and experience teaches him that some evils can be remedied. Hence when it is needed he procures a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, a preparation that will cure all the children on the globe if they are troubled with worms. White's Cream Vermifuge means Death to Worms.

Miss Anna Lou Duke, Miss Inez Collier, Misses Rosa and Lula Gullahorn and Mr. Ned Duke, spent the holidays at home.

Many suffer from irritation of the kidneys and bladder without knowing what is the matter with them. Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm will give relief.

The resolutions of the Verbena Methodist Church on the death of Rev. A. J. Briggs are too lengthy for publication and are necessarily omitted.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church cleared about $20 from their oyster supper at the court house on Tuesday night the 27th ult.

Go to Blank Brothers, Leading Clothiers, 2112, 2nd Avenue, Birmingham, Ala., to buy anything you need in the way of clothing and gent's furnishing goods.

To allay pains, subdue inflammation, heal foul sores and ulcers, the most prompt and satisfactory results are obtained by using that old reliable remedy, Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment.

F. Wesel & Co., dealers in printing machinery, New York, have an advertisement on the fourth page of the View to which attention is called.

The cry of fire on Tuesday night startled the town into a bustle. An out house and contents on the premises of Mr. W. A. Collier were consumed. No other damage.

Mrs. M. DeJarnette and family and Mr. Jay Hall, of Mobile, spent the holidays with Mrs. McNeil in Clanton. Mr. Pou DeJarnette came down from Birmingham to see his mother while she was here.

Sick headache is the bane of many lives; to cure and prevent this annoying complaint use Dr. J. H. McLean's Little Liver and Kidney Pills. They are agreeable to take and gentle in their action.

Ladies who experience a sense of weakness, and sometimes lameness of the back, should use Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It will supply the much needed strength and overcome all weakening irregularities.

The following officers have been elected by the Baptist Sunday school for the ensuing year; J. C. Lawrence, Superintendent; W. H. Sartor, assistant Supt.; R. C. Duke, Secretary; L. C. Day, Librarian.

Our New Jobber.

We start upon the new year by adding to our outfit one of the best job printing presses manufactured. It is now at work in the office and we are prepared to do larger and heavier, as well as better job printing than heretofore.

There are many accidents and diseases which affect stock and cause serious inconvenience and loss to the farmer in his work, which may be quickly remedied by the use of Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, by its vitalizing properties, will brighten pale cheeks, and transform a pale, haggard, dispirited woman into one of sparkling health and beauty.

A wreck occurred on the railroad Sunday near Strasburg. The second section of freight train No. 72 ran into the first section demolishing the caboose of the first section and damaging several cars. The engine of the second section was also considerably damaged.

The enterprising firm of Bains & Peebles, of Birmingham, have sent out their annual Christmas presents to their many friends and patrons in Clanton. The junior returns thanks for a kind remembrance. The prohibition editor got left as a matter of course.

For physical ailments, especially those incident to declining years, there is no remedy that produces such satisfactory results as Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm, its genial and invigorating effect on Liver and Kidneys is remarkable.

Disease lies in ambush for the weak, a feeble constitution is ill adapted to encounter a malarious atmosphere or such factory changes of temperature, and the least robust are usually the easiest victims; Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier will give tone and vitality and strength to your entire body.

Married, at the residence of the bride's mother, on Wednesday night, Dec. 21st, Mr. J. W. Bailey and Miss Lee Gullahorn, Judge H. J. Callen officiating. The happy couple will reside for a time in Clanton. We wish them a long life of happiness and prosperity.

We call special attention to the new advertisement of Messrs. Lomb & Hershey Co., which is made attractive by a stereotype of what might be called the "Goddess of Machinery." When you are in need of machinery of any kind correspond with them at Birmingham.

The Lawson Carpet Co., of Birmingham, have an advertisement in the View. Mr. Robt. Middleton, of this place, is with this firm and will be pleased to wait on the people of this section when they need goods in the carpet line. This is the only exclusive carpet house in Alabama.

Card of Thanks.

We take this method of returning our heartfelt thanks to the citizens of Clanton, who so readily assisted us at the burning of our servant's house and were instrumental in saving our dwelling.

Gratefully,

After Three Years.

W. F. Walton, of Springfield, Tenn., says: I have been suffering with Neuralgia in my face and head off and on for three years. I purchased a box of Dr. Tanner's Infallible Neuralgia Cure and took eight of the pills. I have not felt any symptoms of Neuralgia since. It gives me pleasure to recommend it." Sold by all druggists.

Mails Still Bad.

It is getting to be a rare thing when any mail leaves Clanton. The scaffold upon which the mail sack is hung stands on the inside of the curve in the track north of the station and in the effort to catch it the agent knocks it off about nine times out of ten. Last Saturday night the mail was knocked off and lay in a ditch all night where it got the benefit of one of the hardest rains that ever wet the earth. Monday night the same thing occurred and Tuesday morning it was repeated. At this writing no mail has left here since Sunday. Saturday night's mail contained about a thousand dollars in checks and several registered packages. Our post-mistress has reported the matter frequently but no attention is paid it. Our citizens have sent a petition to congressman Cobb praying for his efforts in their behalf. We trust that something may be done at once to remedy the trouble.

Did You Ever.

W. H. Revels, M. D., of Baltimore, Md., says: "I have been in the practice of medicine for over eighteen years, but never have I seen the equal of Hodges' Sarsaparilla. It has worked miracles here in curing Rheumatism and Scrofula. Have almost come to the conclusion that I cannot practice without it." Sold by all druggists.

Shooting Affray.

It is with a feeling of regret that we chronicle the unfortunate affray between Mr. Felix Ashley and Gordon DuBose, Esq., in which the latter received two dangerous wounds in the left breast, just above the heart, from a thirty-eight calibre revolver at close range, the bullets passing through his body. As the publication of the particulars of such a difficulty cannot benefit the community nor improve the morale of our readers, we make only this brief mention of the affray. It is the duty of the grand jury to give the unfortunate affair a thorough investigation, which duty we do not think they will neglect to perform.

Mr. Ashley surrendered himself to the authorities and was admitted to bail in the sum of $500, and released from custody.

It is thought the chances are in favor of Mr. DuBose's ultimate recovery, though his condition is still critical.

Beatty's Organs and Pianos.

Hon. Daniel F. Beatty, the great Organ and Piano Manufacturer is building and shipping more organs and pianos than ever. In 1870 Mr. Beatty left home a penniless cow-boy, and by his indomitable will he has worked his way up so as to sell so far, nearly 100,000 Beatty's Organs and Pianos since 1870. Nothing seems to dishearten him; obstacles laid in his way, that would have wrecked any ordinary man forever, he turns to an advertisement and comes out of it brighter than ever. His instruments, as is well known, are very popular and are to be found in all parts of the world. We are informed that during the next ten years he intends to sell 300,000 more of his make, that means a business of $20,000,000 if we average them at $100 each. It is already the largest business of the kind in existence. Send to Daniel F. Beatty, Washington, New Jersey for catalogue.

A Romantic Marriage.

There was quite a romantic little scene at the courthouse Sunday morning. It was the marriage of Mr. Adam Courtney and Miss Bettie Adair, of Verbena.

It was a runaway match. They came down from Verbena Sunday morning intending to go to West Point but their train was late and they missed connection. It being impossible for them to go to West Point that day they immediately came up town, hunted up Judge Randolph, went to his office, and the last link in love's golden chain was forged. The witnesses were Postmaster Clisby and Mr. Henry Matthews. They went back to Verbena on the first train that night as happy as larks.—Advertiser

The View extends congratulations, and trusts its young friends may not become discouraged because the Advertiser poet so broadly yet touchingly suggests that "the last link in love's golden chain was forged."

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Greene's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it.

A citizen of Montgomery in speaking of the late Rev. A. J. Briggs, said of his life:

"Taken altogether, from the morning to the eventide, the life he led is worthy of something more than passing notice. It was chequered and stormy at times, but the close was calm and peaceful. It was human yet beautiful. In early life he had some 'wild oats' to sow, and he sowed them with an open hand thick and fast. But before his sun had reached its zenith, while, in fact, he was still in the vigor and glory of young manhood, a great change came into his heart and life. He set his face toward the light of a new made day, chose the right way and kept it to the end."

Josh Billings says, "Brevity and silence are two great cards, and next to saying nothing, saying a little is the strength of the game." Therefore we say briefly that White's Cream Vermifuge is preferred by all as a remedy for worms, for the simple reason that it is the only pure preparation that brings the worms surely and speedily.

Some ask, "Does it pay to be good?" Perhaps our evidence in the matter will not be taken, and so we will not answer the question directly; but we will say that it is good to be paid.—Ez.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effect and does not blister. Read proof below.

Orange Mills, Fla., June 30, 1880. Dr. B. J. Kendall, Co.

Gents:—I have used your Kendall's Spavin Cure and it is wonderful to say the least. Yours respectfully, J. L. CHARY.

From the "Spirit of the Times," June 26, 1885. The old idea that a spavin was incurable has given way before the improvements made by modern science. Among these wonderful improvements must be mentioned the most successful remedy ever discovered for the cure of this disease, Kendall's Spavin Cure, one that is certain in its effect, and will not blister. It is prepared by Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt., and has received praise on every hand for its thorough and reliable work in cases of spavin or lock lameness. It is a certain cure for inflammation, enlargement of the joints, corns, etc., while blood purifying and general enfeeblement promptly disappear on its use. It is a standard remedy among horse-owners and breeders, where its work has often been proven. It is for sale by all druggists at 25 cents per bottle or six for $1.50, and will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by the proprietor, Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt.

WORDS OF WISDOM.

The greater misfortune of all is not to be able to bear misfortune.
 Where there is no want of will there will be no want of opportunity.
 We carry all our neighbor's crimes in sight and throw all our own over our shoulders.
 A sound discretion is not to much indicated by never making a mistake as by never repeating it.
 Simplicity in character, in manners, in style, in all things, the supreme excellence is simplicity.
 The first thing for acceptance of truth is to unlearn human doctrines and become as a little child.
 If a great thing can be done at all, it can be done easily. But it is that kind of ease with which a tree blossoms after long years of gathering strength.
 True quiet does not consist in speaking little or nothing, but repeating nothing evil, speaking nothing ill, being still amidst storms of trouble.
 Patience strengthens the spirit, sweetens the temper, stills anger, extinguishes envy, subdues pride, tames the tongue, restrains the hand and tramples upon temptations.
 The soul has its rainy days when all is cold and dark and desolate within—and when dripping from the fountain of sorrow, falling upon the roof of memory, makes it gloomy indeed.
 Oh, learn to speak kindly, gently, tenderly. Those very words may be the brightest upon your record of eternity,
 and mark your divine right to an heavenly inheritance. Oh, speak kindly, dear soul!

Good resolutions are often like loosely tied cord; on the first strain of temptation they slip. Those very words may be the brightest upon your record of eternity,
 and mark your divine right to an heavenly inheritance. Oh, speak kindly, dear soul!

Why "Mary Had a Little Lamb."
 The authorship of "Mary Had a Little Lamb" has been ascribed to various persons, and many romantic stories have been told regarding its composition.
 To Mrs. Hale's family we are indebted for the following account of the circumstances which led to its production. In 1837 Dr. Lowell Mason was induced to lend his musical talents to Boston, and while there, gave special attention to the training of children in vocal music, being the first person to introduce singing into the public schools. In order to make these singing classes attractive Dr.
 Mason requested Mrs. Hale and other writers to furnish him with verses suited to the capacity of children, and of a kind to interest them in the study of music.
 In response to this request, Mrs. Hale, ever ready to lend a hand in any good work, composed a series of little poems for children, which were set to music by Mr.
 Mason and sung in the school of Boston and afterwards throughout the country.
 Among these were the well-known "If ever I see, on bush or tree," and the world-famous "Mary's Lamb," which was founded on an incident of the writer's own childhood experience. A farmer's daughter, she had had in her lamb, that followed her wherever she went. Devotedly fond of animals and making pets of birds and kittens from her earliest to her latest years, this editor and mother of a family turned aside from her pressing cares to write these verses, which have found a sympathetic echo in the hearts of children all over the country. In 1830 the poems thus composed were published in book form under Mrs. Hale's signature, with the initials of other songs and rhymes, and dedicated to all good children in the United States.—Philadelphia Times.

Legal Don'ts
 Don't rely on a witness who can't go into detail.
 Don't testify to your own conclusions unless you are an expert.
 Don't refuse the call of a sheriff to aid him in making an arrest.
 Don't think that compound interest will render a contract usurious.
 Don't forget that a chattel mortgage is,
 in fact, a conditional bill of sale.
 Don't sue for one-half of a demand unless you want to lose the other.
 Don't forget that there is an implied guaranty in selling goods by sample.
 Don't transact your authority as agent, or you will become personally responsible.
 Don't erect a building upon foundations sunk in mire, or it will become part of the reality.
 Don't hold a paper or an account an unreasonable time, or you will be presumed to admit its correctness.
 Don't accept a chattel mortgage unless the schedule annexed contains every article to be covered by the lien.
 Don't think that a promise to marry will be void because no time is fixed.
 The law will allow a reasonable time.
 Don't acknowledge a man as an agent unless he can show that he stands in the principal's shoes as to the business in hand.
 Don't forget that a promissory note in the hands of innocent third parties for on contracts.—Philadelphia News.

A Ganche Savings Bank.
 Silver ornaments for bride and saddle are legal tender in exchange for anything salable wherever the Ganche, a South American cowboy, goes, and what is his seat by day and his pillow by night he uses as a sort of savings bank. I have seen saddles worth $1,000, with solid silver stirrups, pommels and ornaments, weighing as much as a man. A pair of silver spurs are worth any where from $50 to $100, according to size and workmanship, and stirrups of solid silver in the form of a hellish slipper, the bellies of Argentine consider essential to riding costume. The same are often made of brass, and when highly polished add a unique feature to the accoutrements of an Argentine caballero.—Harper's Magazine.

Strange Peculiarity of Vision.
 Jennie Gibson, a handsome girl of 16, living with her parents in Arkwright, N. Y., has never seen the world by daylight, though enabled by lamplight to sew and read just as clear as anybody. Up to the age of 4 or 5 years she was believed to be totally blind. The parents noticed that after the lamp was lighted she gave evidence of seeing, and gradually this power of sight grew upon her until she could see played with her dolls and toys by artificial light as eagerly as other children by daylight.—New York Tribune.

THE FOLDING BED.

A Chicago Man Goes to Sleep Under One—Rescued by Policemen.
 (From the Chicago Tribune.)
 A remarkable adventure with a folding bed occurred a few nights ago in a young man connected with a leading dry goods house of the city. The young man referred to lives on the North Side, and manifests occasionally much conviviality of disposition. He had been manifesting much gaiety one evening, week before last, and when he went home was in a bally and beaming mood. He hit the keyhole somehow, and went upstairs to his room. His folding bed he recognized as the place in which he was accustomed to sleep, and he recollected that something had to be done with the article to make it ready for occupancy.
 He grasped with it. The next morning the chambermaid entering the room was surprised to see that the folding bed had not been occupied, though it had been pulled down. She did the usual sweeping and dusting, and then seized the bed to lift it back to its place.
 Then she dropped it and began a series of blood-curling screams, which, when heard by the household, she fairly implanted her head on the downy pillows under the bed. It was lifted, and the body was there, sure enough. It was the body of Mr. —, and he was sleeping like a lamb. He had pulled the bed down on himself, and had gone to sleep perfectly satisfied, the legs of the article of furniture holding it at a sufficient height to prevent his suffocation. In his dazed condition he had discovered the easiest way of going to bed ever yet hit upon.
 Still another story in which the folding bed figured is reported from Ellis avenue. This particular folding bed is owned by a lady on the above-named thoroughfare. One memorable night in her life she was unable to sleep, and she turned to the folding bed. It was a woman at sight of a mouse will summon to her aid a woman's only weapon—to wit, her tongue—so did the fair Ellis avenue sufferer bethink her of the question of the folding bed. She was a little bit of a mouse, and right lustily did she employ it, too, as her neighbors can well and truly testify, and as her husband might also, but for the fact that it was lodge night, and his presence had been demanded. A succession of unearthly shrieks, the more venturesome of the aforenamed neighbors attempted to get into the house, but not being professional house breakers their efforts were signally unavailing. Meanwhile the screams and shrieks continued with redoubled vehemence, and it was not until one of the neighbors had called the police patrol, and two of Chicago's preservers of the peace had broken open the door and invaded the premises, and discovered the cause of so unseemly an outbreak in a most respectable, quiet neighborhood, that the poor woman was released from her folding prison, and peace gradually settled down upon the house.

How to Save Money.
 We must also save money in our daily life. In our advice to good housekeepers and ladies generally. The great necessity of saving money is to be able to pay for the things we need. The best way to save money is to buy the things we need at the lowest price. The best way to do this is to buy the things we need at the lowest price.

Heating Piles.
 Symptoms—Intense itching, itching and stinging; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue, tumors form, which often bleed profusely, becoming very sore. Swatara's mors. Equally efficacious in curing all skin diseases. DR. SWATARA & SON, Philadelphia.

Last Winter
 I had a very severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism, my feet and limbs swelled out of all proportion.
 I was confined to the house for several weeks and was a very great sufferer, scarcely able to walk at all.
 After trying medical advice and various preparations, all to no purpose, I was induced to try Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. I have taken two bottles, with the best results. My pains and aches have all left me, and I am now able to go about as usual. I can truly say that I never felt better in my life than I do now. My appetite is first rate, for all which I give credit to Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.—

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Obituary.

Died, in Maplesville, at the residence of his mother, Benjamin Franklin Hayes on the 1st day of January 1888, in the 26th year of his age.

It is a sad duty to record the death of a friend, especially one who was until a very short time since apparently in the full vigor of manhood. Yet it gives us pleasure in stating that in our short but pleasant acquaintance we ever found him full of generous and pursuing the noblest tenor of his way with the courage of a brave man to do right—only timid when doubt obscured his pathway. He departed while yet in the prime of life and of usefulness, but left a name unspotted and blameless. He as well as others would have been pleased to have lived longer and enjoyed the sweet communion of a devoted wife and kindred, but as his Master called him he could but obey the summons, expressing a hope of living in a better world.

The still small voice that calls away the loved member of the domestic circle is at all times sad and afflictive and was very much so in this instance as evidenced by the lamentations of wife, mother, brothers and sisters and the tears that fell thick and fast from the friends who surrounded his dying couch.

Frank, the sod that lies upon thy breast shall never leave you as you journey along beyond the River to beckon us on towards that land where perpetual bliss awaits the faithful. As we follow thee to the tomb the memory of thy virtues will go with us. And when we lay thy cold remains in the grave we will drop the turf lightly, and sadly leave it where friends in days to come may water it with their most precious tears and adorn it with choicest flowers as a slight token of affection.

Being a member of the noble order of the Farmer's Alliance, he was accompanied by his brethren from his home to the grave and all the solemnity of their faith and order was, together with their token of affection, the evergreen, gently consigned to his mother earth.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

The most successful remedy ever discovered as it is certain in its effect and does not blister. Read proof below.

Orange Mills, Fla. June 30, 1888.

Dr. B. J. Kendall Co.
Gents:—I have used your Kendall's Spavin Cure and it is wonderful to say the least. Yours respectfully,
J. L. CHERRY.

From the "Spirit of the Times," June 26, 1888. The old idea that a spavin was incurable has given way before the improvements made by modern science. Among these wonderful improvements must be mentioned the most successful remedy ever discovered for the cure of this disease, Kendall's Spavin Cure, one that is certain in its effect, and will not blister. It is prepared by Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Knoxville Falls, Vt., and has received praise on every hand for its thorough and reliable work in cases of spavin or hock lameness. It is a certain cure for rheumatism, enlargement of the joints, corns, etc., while blood purifying and internal enlargements promptly disappear on its use. It is a standard remedy among horse owners and breeders, whose work has often been proved. It is for sale by all druggists at $1 per bottle or six for $5, or will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Knoxville Falls, Vt.

Clanton post-office should be a money order office everybody admits, but no one seems disposed to exert themselves in order to secure this much needed branch of the department. We are continually receiving money orders on other offices and to collect them we experience considerable trouble and delay. This ought not to be and we will give our support to any plausible move by which the advantages of a money order office can be secured.

A Natural Artist.

Clanton has produced a natural artist, in the person of Mr. St. Clair Thornton, who bids fair to make a reputation that will win fame for both himself and Clanton. He is now only about sixteen years of age but has, from his earliest childhood been remarkably efficient in drawing and sketching and has thus developed the talent which nature has given him. But not until recently has this talent assumed a professional shape. A few weeks ago he went to Birmingham and began a course of lessons under the tutorage of a fine artist and he recently sent home a specimen of his work. It is a large crayon portrait of a child and is as pretty a piece of crayon work as we ever saw and we have been through many splendid art galleries in our life.

Fame and fortune awaits you "Dock" and by a strict application to business and your profession you are sure to win them. The View congratulates you on your success so far, and hopes that it may be unlimited.

Did You Ever.

W. H. Revels, M. D., of Baltimore, Md., says: "I have been in the practice of medicine for over fifteen years, but never have I seen the equal of Hodge's Sarsaparilla. It has worked miracles here in curing Rheumatism and Scrofula. Have almost come to the conclusion that I cannot practice without it." Sold by all druggists.

Le Conte Pear Culture.

Several hundred Le Conte pear trees were set out by our citizens here last fall. Mr. Ponder, Mr. W. H. Phillips and Mr. John Chandler have set out most of them. They propose to make a paying investment of it and in ten years from now Clanton will be famous for its production of this delicious fruit if these gentlemen are successful in this culture.

Mr. Ponder already has quite a number of trees that are now bearing every year but has added largely to their number. Mr. Phillips has purchased several acres of land on the suburbs of town and planted it with these trees, besides having set out a large number of them on his place in town. We do not know to what extent Mr. Chandler has gone into their culture but understand that he has put out about the same number of trees as the others.

There is money in the raising of this fruit and we hope these enterprising gentlemen will be successful in making it.

I Told You So.

Mr. E. A. Ireland, of Green, Phillips & Co., Nashville, Tenn., says: "I was afflicted with piles for twenty years, and I tried every remedy offered me; finally used the Ethiopian Pile Ointment. It gave me instant relief, and has effected a permanent cure." Sold by all druggists. sep 29

Towels.

Two towels have been left at this office by Mrs. J. M. Bell. She says they were left at her house by some of the young men the night of the fantastic party. As we are short on towels we guess we had better keep them to pay for this advertisement, but the owner can get them by applying at the View office and paying ten cents a line for this notice.

They are not fine towels; we suppose were worth two for a quarter when new, but then a young man certainly would not object to paying a few dollars to have his towels advertised so extensively. A prize box scarf pin also accompanied the towels. It is a representation of an unmentionable bug and painted green. Our devil has "cabbaged" it as his share of the spoils, and we cannot say what kind of a ransom will have to be paid him in order to recover said unmentionable bug, but suppose if properly appealed to the tender spot in his heart might be touched sufficiently to induce him to take a dollar for it.

Please count the lines before making application.

Amazing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, being conservative at least to try one bottle, as 50,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to be sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, in the United States and Canada.

Our young friend, Mr. G. B. Evans, who has been so ably filling the position of night operator at this place unfortunately let two trains pass the other night without giving them orders which he had for them, and the company thereupon suspended him for 30 days. He has however secured another position as operator at Columbus on the E. T. V. & G. road and will probably remain there.

POISONED.

Peculiar Death of Three People and Serious Illness of Two Children.

Special to Birmingham Herald.]

SEMA, Jan. 11.—Three people died near Dixie, a few miles from Selma, in Chilton county, under peculiarly unfortunate circumstances, last Sunday. The oldest son of Mr. Bearden, who had been absent from home on some business matter, was suddenly seized with some unknown disease and died in a short time. A short time afterward his eldest sister was a corpse also. While the funeral of brother and sister was in progress, a third child suddenly passed away, and two others are now lying at the point of death. The attending physician thinks death was superinduced by eating poisoned hog meat. The neighborhood is excited over the strange occurrence.

The following election notice was found tacked on a tree in Alabama:

"Next Monday thar's goin's to be a special lockshun' in this decret for constable an' as sheriff uv this here county I wantter say that I don't want the Bellbuckle boys to be follin' round the polls. They wouldn't vote fur me when they had a chance an' now dad-blame em—I would put it stronger, but it must be agin the law, —they shan't vote at all. This thing uv ridin' over the law and votin' agin the man that every body knows ought to be sheriff has got to stop, an' I don't know uv a better way than by makin' a shinin' zample uv the Bellbuckle boys, dad-blame 'em. Right here I wantter give the good people of this here county a pinter. Vote for Tom Hicks, fur he is a friend of mine and helped me whup the Pentycost boys last fall. I want this here lockshun to be quiet, an' the fust man that kicks up a row mount wish he hadn't."—Arkansas Traveler.

A good souled child is a fortress of strength between its parents and sin. The basest stump is beautiful when over-run by the honey-suckle.

There is no such thing as a hopeless life. The soul could no more exist without hope than the body without breath.—American Commercial Traveler.

Laws Relating to Newspaper Subscriptions.

The following is the decision of the United States Supreme Court:

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals the publishers may continue to send them until all arrears are paid.
3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered their discontinuance.

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effect and does not blister. Read proof below.

Orange Mills, Fla., June 30, 1886.

Dr. R. J. Kendall, Vt.,

Gentle—I have used your Kendall's Spavin Cure and it is wonderful to say the least. Yours respectfully,

J. L. CHABRY.

From the "Spirit of the Times," June 28, 1886. The old idea that a spavin was incurable has given way before the improvements made by modern science. Among these wonderful improvements must be mentioned the most successful remedy ever discovered for the cure of this disease, Kendall's Spavin Cure, one that is certain in its effect, and will not blister. It is prepared by Dr. R. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt., and has received prizes on every hand for its thorough and reliable work in cases of spavin or hock lameness. It is a certain cure for rheumatism, enlargement of the joints, corns, etc., while blood purifying and blood enlargements promptly disappear on its use. It is a standard remedy among horse owners and breeders, where its work has often been proven. It is for sale by all druggists at $1 per bottle or six for $5, or will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, Dr. R. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt.

Birmingham was considerably stirred up last week with murders, outcides and defaulting officials.

The great Kirmess exhibition in Montgomery this week seems to be a wonderful success to judge from the newspaper accounts of it.

Montgomery wants a brewery. Montgomery ought to have anything it wants. If it desires more beer and a better article, let them have it. It is their funeral.—Evansville Times.

Third-termism is getting a good deal of comment from the Alabama press. Rotation in office is a cardinal principle of Democracy, and we favor it in order that all of the ambitious may have a chance.

The Montgomery Advertiser says: "On manufactures depends the future of Montgomery." Yet this paper is not in favor of a tariff for the protection of manufactures.

Two train robbers by the name of Barrow created a big sensation in Montgomery last week. One of them was arrested. The other managed to get away after shooting a citizen who was attempting to check his flight. He has probably been captured by this time as the officers have kept close upon his heels. Both fugitives are wanted in Texas for train robbery. The citizen who was shot was a printer by the name of Neal Bray. Only a slight chance for his recovery.

Tom Ellis, editor of the Birmingham Hornet, is again in trouble. He shot detective Scarbrough four times Wednesday night. It is reported by the Birmingham papers that Scarbrough and a man named Haley were engaged in a difficulty and that Ellis drew a pistol and fired on Scarbrough from the rear without any provocation. Five shots were fired, four of them taking effect. Ellis has been arrested but was released on bond. Scarbrough is still alive though in a critical condition.

Frank M. Irion, city clerk of Birmingham, has misappropriated funds to the amount of $10,500 out of the Hillman Trust Fund over which he had control. He has left for parts unknown and we understand that no effort will be made to find and bring him back. His bondsmen will make good his deficit for $7,500 the amount of the bond and he leaves property enough behind him to cover the balance. He was a very popular young man and very prominent in social circles.

Why the Democratic Party Ought to Win.

The New York Herald bears allegiance to no party, but is unsparring in its criticism of all. It supports as it pleases the candidates of the one or the other, and sometimes makes choice from both parties when more than one office is to be filled. The following article, therefore, from a late issue of the paper is powerfully suggestive of the course it and other independent journals will pursue this year. The Herald says:

The people of this country see clearly that a Democratic administration means peace and commercial prosperity. It is evident that the business community in every part of the continent is not only satisfied with the present order of things, but will desire its continuance. National affairs are conducted on the lines of a policy at once conservative and patriotic. If there is a lack of that dangerous brilliancy which would entangle us in foreign complications, there is an increase in the public sense of security. Confidence prevails everywhere. No doubts or fears or suspicions lurk in the air. There is no prevailing feeling of uncertainty to interfere with commercial enterprise or adventure. When we take an account of stock we find that our political books balance, and there is no dreaded crisis to which we look forward with trepidation. The country is on its feet with cool blood and a level head and the pleasant consciousness of health and strength.

That is what the Democratic party is doing for the people. It is distinctly the people's party. It goes slowly, perhaps a little too slowly for some of our more aggressive citizens, but it carries a heavy burden of responsibility and does not propose to dump it into a ditch. It is better to have reputation for looking before you leap than a reputation for leaping before you look. The sure, sure, like Blaine might make a brilliant administration but it would be personal rather than national, and its brilliancy would be at the expense of the nation's happiness and welfare. The man of more sober counsel, who regards public office as a public trust, who is the people's servant and not a monarch with a four years term, is the only fit person to become the executive of the republic. We are not a war-loving race. We have a great country to develop. We are absorbed in the manipulation of our material resources. We are making use of the opportunities for wealth which are everywhere offered to the industrious and persevering. When an administration to which we delegate the oversight of our national interests honorably steers clear of foreign entanglements, keeps us free from intestine confusion and checks encroachments on the rights of any section of the country, it achieves the loftiest victory and wins the highest renown which the public affords.

The Republican party was overthrown, in spite of its desperate use of patronage, by an aroused and alarmed people. It has fallen from its high prestige of great moral ideas and while it retained the garb of the patriot it entered upon the life of the spoilsman. It was born of love of country, it ended of love of power. It began by serving the whole, but it ended by serving itself.

It is now the Jacobin party in American politics, while the Democrats represent the conservative cautious Girondists. Mr. Blaine is an ideal Jacobin leader. He is the restless head of a restless party. He wants place at any cost—not for the nation's sake, but for his own sake. He is the most desperate politician of the age. And therefore the one least to be trusted. The hot Jacobin blood is in his veins. He is perilously ambitious. He has ambitious followers, who have fed upon the treasury, and like lions who have tasted blood they are eager to get another chance at the public crib.

The Jacobins talked most about patriotism when they possessed the least of it. Their professed object was to save the country; their real purpose was to enrich themselves. They boasted of the rights of the people, but they had fire brands in their hands and their eyes were fixed on vaults containing valuables. They were the prototypes of certain Republicans of the present day. The Republican has come to be the Jacobin party.

The Girondists were progressive, but cautious. The flambeau was not to their taste. They were constructive and consistent. They effected changes by legitimate means only. They never run for duels, but for the public good. They were slower than the Jacobins, but they got there all the same, and there was neither fire nor pillage in their path.

In 1884 the people invited the Jacobin party to retire. At the same time they invited the Girondist party to take possession of the White House. As a consequence the country is quiet and prosperous. Its people are one people. North and South are shoulder to shoulder. The past is dead. The future is hopeful. A Democratic administration has given the country what it wants—peace and plenty. And the country has stood by this administration, and will stand by it in 1888.

The Senatorial Contest.

The legislature which will be elected next August, will at its session next November, elect a United States Senator to succeed Hon. John T. Morgan, whose term of office will expire in March of next year.

The fact that the election of a Senator will take place immediately after the coming campaign, and that the seat will be contested for by some of the most brilliant public men in the State, will tend to make the campaign of the coming summer one of more than ordinary interest, and the spirit is already abroad in the land, as is evidenced by the number of aspirants for legislative honors, and by the fact that the friends of the gentlemen who have announced as in the Senatorial race, are anxious to ascertain the aspirants' Senatorial preferences.

The democratic caucus of the next legislature will, it is generally conceded, have the names of Gen. Morgan, Col. H. C. Tompkins and Gov. Watts before it for the position, will by many it is thought that in case of a hitch in a selection, the name of Gov. Seay will be presented. Gov. Seay has received several very complimentary notices of his supposed candidacy, but up to this time he has not said whether he would allow his name to go before the caucus or not, but whether Gov. Seay enters the race or not the outlook is that the contest will be highly interesting.—Dispatch.

Love For Newspapers.

The strong attachment of subscribers to a well-conducted newspaper is fully confirmed by all publishers. "Stop my paper" words of dread to beginners in business, less their terror after a few years. So long as a paper pursues a just, honorable and judicious course, meeting the wants of its customers in all respects, the ties of friendship between the subscribers and the papers are as hard to break by an outside third party as the link which binds old friends in business or social life. Occasional defects and errors in a newspaper are overlooked by those who have become attached to it through its personal for years. They sometimes become dissatisfied with it on account of something which has slipped into its columns, and may stop taking it; but the absence of the familiar sheet at their homes and offices for a few weeks becomes an insupportable privation, and they hasten to take it again, and possibly apologizing for having stopped it. A conscientiously conducted paper becomes a favorite in the family.

White's Cream Vermifuge affords immediate relief to children afflicted with worms. There are many indications of this invaluable preparation that are pretty good counterfeits as far as looks go but are really worthless. There is but one genuine remedy, and that is White's Cream Vermifuge which will surely bring worms from children who suffer from them.

The dollar-pitching craze is raging in our town just now. Business men, boys and all take part in the sport. Fack says: "The man who pitches dollars throws his money away—it he loses."

The Dudes Know It.

Or if they don't they should know that Ransom Root Liniment cured Big Head in mules for W. E. Hunt, of Asheville, Ky. J. H. Mallory, of Port Station, Tenn., cured his hogs of blind staggers with it. In fact this King of Liniments is invaluable for man and beast, and no family should be without it. Sold by all druggists.

Now is the time to announce your name if you are a candidate for any position.

The View will announce all names of candidates for county offices at $5 cash in advance. Candidates for State offices, or Congress will be charged $10, and remittance must accompany announcement.

The View will have no preferences where more than one good man offers for the same position. The people want to hear from you and so does the View.

There are many accidents and diseases which affect stock and cause serious inconvenience and loss to the farmer in his work, which may be quickly remedied by the use of Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, by its vitalizing properties, will brighten pale cheeks, and transform a pale, haggard, dispirited woman into one of sparkling health and beauty.

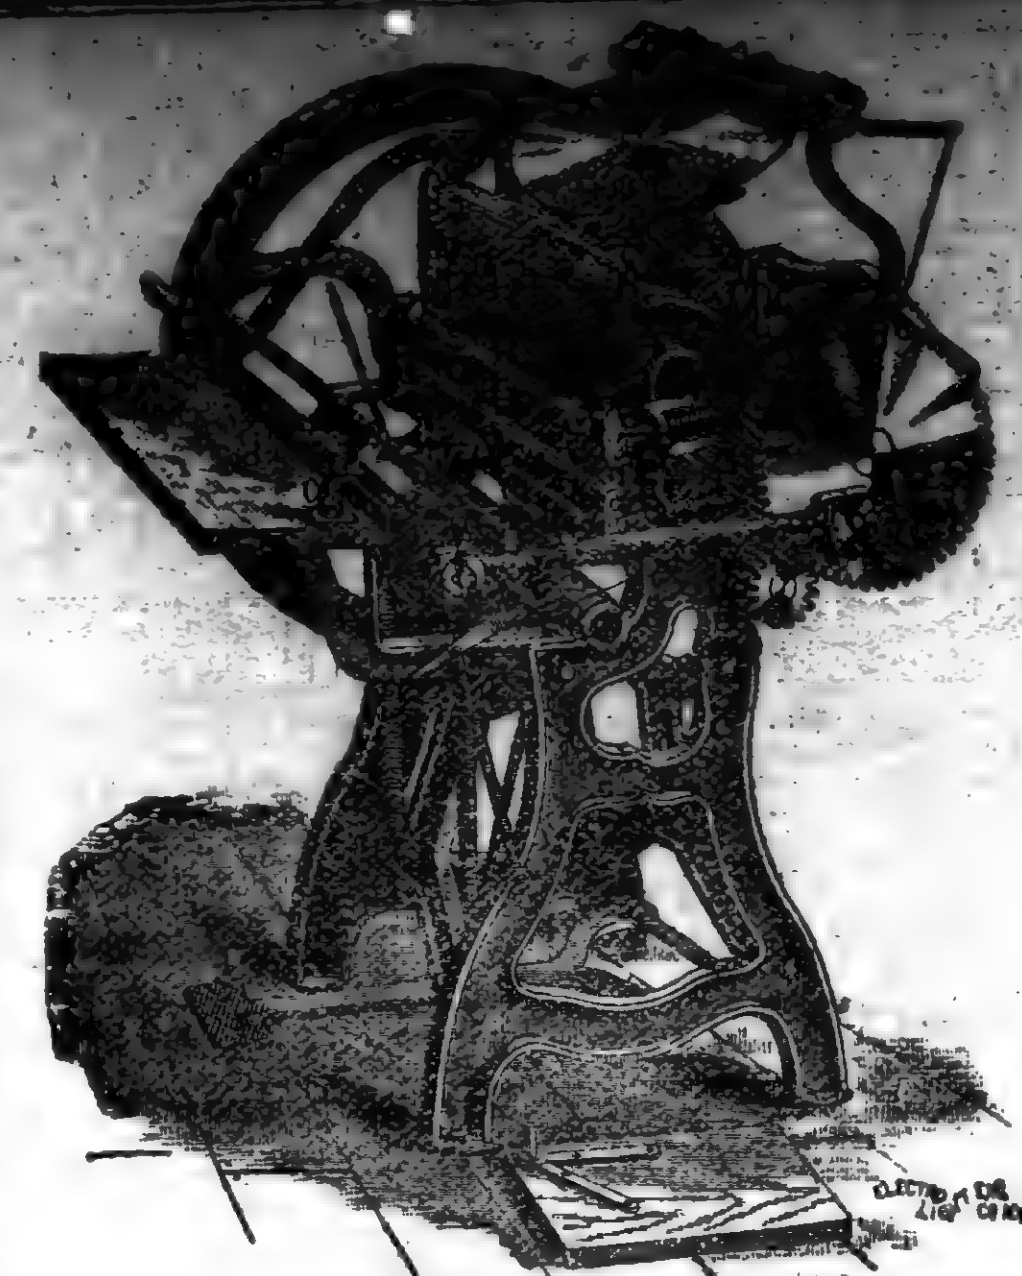

Judge David Davis once said that each year every local paper gives from $500 to $5,000 in local for the benefit of the community in which it is located. No other agency can or will do this. The editor in proportion to his means, does more for his town than any other ten men, and in all fairness, man with man, he ought to be supported, not because you may happen to like him or admire his writing, but because a local paper is the best investment a community can make.

Did You Ever. W. H. Revels, M. D., of Baltimore, Md., says: "I have been in the practice of medicine for over eighteen years, but never have I seen the equal of Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It has worked miracles here in curing Rheumatism and Scrofula. Have almost come to the conclusion that I cannot practice without it." Sold by all druggists.

A Bad Accident. Monday morning's mail train killed one goat and seriously wounded another one as it passed Clanton. It is thought that the wounded one will die. These goats have been residents of Clanton for several years, and the way they have multiplied is almost miraculous. They belong to everybody, but nobody particularly. We think every little boy in town claims a goat and the goats claim the town. We had thought that nothing short of a cyclone could exterminate them but if the trains continue to get in their work on them at the rate of two at a time they may succeed in wiping them out of existence.

George Morgan butchered a cow the other day and took out of her stomach the following articles, which have been examined by a reporter: Forty-two nails and pieces of nails, four buttons, one brass safety pin, one pin with black rubber head, one copper cent, three pieces of watch chain, one piece six inches, one four inches, and the other one inch long, three pieces of glass, one piece of oyster shell, four pieces of brass wire, three small pieces of iron, three pieces of brass, and a piece of hoop skirt. If anybody can kill a cow with more articles inside of her than this, we would like for her to trot her out.

Our New Job Press.

The above is a fac simile of our new job press which is turning out beautiful work. We are now prepared to do all kinds of printing needed in this section. We solicit a continuance of past patronage and guarantee satisfaction in all work done by us. Send us your work and thus aid a home enterprise.

The Clanton Rice Mill

Is a new enterprise that we are proud to call attention to. It has been placed at Baker's mill two miles east of Clanton, and is doing its work beautifully the proprietor tells us. It is an industry that will evidently deserve and obtain a liberal patronage. The cultivation of rice can be extensively engaged in in this section with profit.

During cold weather the ball room bells in decollete costume is dressed to kill.

A Nevada ranchman paints his cattle with tar, red clay and linseed oil to protect them from blizzards.

After Three Years.

W. F. Walton, of Springfield, Tenn., says: "I have been suffering with Neuralgia in my face and head off and on for three years. I purchased a box of Dr. Tanner's Infallible Neuralgia Cure and took eight of the pills. I have not felt any symptoms of Neuralgia since. It gives me pleasure to recommend it." Sold by all druggists.

The Queen of England is granted $300,000 annually for her own personal expenses, but she costs the people in one way and another $1,925,000 a year.

For physical ailments, especially those incident to declining years, there is no remedy that produces such satisfactory results as Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm, its gentle and invigorating effect on Liver and Kidneys is remarkable.

To allay pains, subdue inflammation, heal foul sores and ulcers, the most prompt and satisfactory results are obtained by using that old reliable remedy, Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment.

Mrs. Jefferson Davis is said to have remarked at Mason that she never from the first, believed in the success of the Southern Confederacy, but always told Mr. Davis that defeat was only a matter of time.

A keen observer can let his eye rove over a rosebud garden of girls and select therefrom the one who permits concealment like a worm in the bud to feed on her damask cheek, and an experienced mother knows just when a dose of White's Cream Vermifuge is needed to expel the worms that feed on the life of her child.

The Alabama State Wheel paper, published at Moulton, is edited by E. F. Jennings, who has been always a leading Republican in this State.

I Told You So.

Mr. E. A. Ireland, of Breen, Phillips & Co., Nashville, Tenn., says: "I was afflicted with piles for twenty years, and I tried every remedy offered me; finally used the Ethiopian Eye Ointment. It gave me instant relief, and has effected a permanent cure." Sold by all druggists.

Brooklyn, N. Y. is threatened with a small-pox epidemic.

Many men of many minds have agreed that Tabler's Buckeye Pile Ointment is unequalled. For any other disease it will do no good, but it is undoubtedly a safe simple and permanent cure for piles, one of the most painful diseases that ever befel a mortal, and we are sure every sufferer with it will hasten to relieve himself by using Tabler's Buckeye Pile Ointment.

The wet weather may produce much sickness. Be prudent.

A Mr. McLeod, a young married man, committed suicide in Birmingham last Wednesday night by taking strychnine. Failure in business is supposed to have been the cause of the rash act. He leaves a wife and two children.

Astonishing Success. It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive at least to try one bottle, as 80,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in the United States and Canada.

Laws Relating to Newspaper Subscriptions. The following is the decision of the United States Supreme Court:

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, are considered to continue their subscription.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals the discontinuance will continue to send them until all arrears are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effect and does not blister. Read proof below.

Orange Mills, Fla., June 30, 1888. Dr. B. J. Kendall Co. Gentles:—I have used your Kendall's Spavin Cure and it is wonderful to say the least. Yours respectfully,

J. L. CARY.

From the "Spirit of the Times," June 25, 1888. The old idea that a spavin was incurable has given way before the improvements made by modern science. Among these wonderful improvements must be mentioned the most successful remedy ever discovered for the cure of this disease, Kendall's Spavin Cure, one that is certain in its effect, and will not blister. It is prepared by Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt., and has received praise on every hand for its thorough and reliable work in curing spavin or hock lameness. It is a certain cure for rheumatism, enlargement of the joints, corns, etc., while blood spavine and ural enlargements promptly disappear on its use. It is a standard remedy among horse owners and breeders, where its work has often been proven. It is for sale by all druggists at $1 per bottle or six for $5, or will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt.

"UNDERGROUND."

A DESCRIPTION OF LONDON'S GREAT RAILWAY.

A Brilliant Definition of First, Second and Third-Class Passengers—Scenes Along the Routes.

RAY GOULD has been studying the "underground" railway system; has pronounced it "all very fine and large," and has written a book on the subject. It is a description of the "underground" railway system, and is a most interesting and valuable work. It is a book that every one who is interested in the "underground" railway system should read. It is a book that is well worth the price. It is a book that is well worth the price. It is a book that is well worth the price.

It is a book that is well worth the price. It is a book that is well worth the price. It is a book that is well worth the price. It is a book that is well worth the price. It is a book that is well worth the price. It is a book that is well worth the price. It is a book that is well worth the price. It is a book that is well worth the price. It is a book that is well worth the price.

As a matter of fact there are two railway systems—the Metropolitan and the Great Northern. As far as the public is concerned they are virtually one. They sell common tickets and run their trains in common. It is a book that is well worth the price. It is a book that is well worth the price. It is a book that is well worth the price. It is a book that is well worth the price. It is a book that is well worth the price.

CALM TO SLEEP.

We lay us calmly down to sleep When friendly night is come, and leave To God the rest; Whether we wake to mirth or weep, Or wake to morn on Time's fair shore, He knoweth best.

So sinks the sun in western skies When day is done and twilight dim Comes silent on; So fades the world's most hurrying prime On eyes that close in deep repose Till wakes the dawn.

Why vex our soul with weary cares? Why shun the grave for aching head? So cool and low! Have we found life so passing fair, So grand to be, so sweet that we Should dread to go!

Some other hand the task can take, If so it seemeth best, the task By us begun; No work for which we need to wake, In joy or grief, for life so brief, Beneath the sand.

—Louise Chandler Moulton.

THE WORK OF GHOULS.

There is one crime which stands out in the minds of the men above all others on the calendar—even above cold-blooded murder. That is the crime of grave robbing. The average jury will acquit a prisoner of almost anything else, under one plea or another, but the grave robber can make no such plea.

The man who disturbs our dead will ever be considered a ghoul, and the public will cry out for revenge against him. Some years ago, when I was in active detective service in one of the Middle States, a certain locality became infested with body snatchers. It was a large, populous county, having many deaths and a score of cemeteries, and before any well-organized plan to capture the scoundrels had been conceived, they had robbed upward of a score of graves.

The detection of such plunderers would seem to be a very easy matter. One would argue that nothing more would be needed than to set a watch on a certain cemetery, or on two or three of them, and that the fellows would certainly be bagged. Although they are nearly all going direct to medical colleges within a radius of one hundred miles, and it was evident that the officers of those institutions stood in, and would throw every obstacle in my way.

The sheriff of the county gave me the services of ten deputies as a starter, and after I had made a circuit of the county and noted every burial place, I posted the men, two at a place. In each instance they were to watch all night, and they were in no case to inform the public of the nature of their work.

The Anniston Daily Hot Blast is a very enterprising and well edited paper.

A fire on Broadway, New York, last Monday destroyed property valued at $1,400,000.

A negro killed a deputy Sheriff who was attempting to arrest him in Tuscaloosa county last week.

The blizzard in the north may add greatly to the population of the south during the next year.

Anniston, Ala., is winning a reputation as a bad place. The most recent sensation was the rape of an 11 year old girl by her step-father.

It is now said that Frank Irion's defection at Birmingham, was not his first, and that he once performed in the same role at Memphis.

The Kirmess entertainment at Montgomery added $205 to the Confederate monument fund, notwithstanding the wretched weather during which it was given.

Johnse Honeycutt, an escaped convict from Bibb county, was last week captured in Texas. He will be carried to Pratt Mines to serve out a sentence of six years for assault with intent to murder.

Eugene Tafel, principal of the Fulton Street school at Columbus, Ohio, who absconded last Friday with $800 which had been entrusted to him to pay the teachers under his control, absconded last week. He lost the money gambling. Don't gamble.

John Wilson, a self-made rich man, of Montgomery county, died a few days since and left the bulk of his fortune to the state institution for the deaf, dumb and blind, and the Presbyterian orphan's home at Tuskegee. The estate will yield $20,000 or more to each one.

George H. Clarkston, a Chicago drummer who was robbed in Kansas City of $55, in cash, a revolver, a gold watch worth $150, and a gold chain worth $80, is about to enter suit against the city for $5,000 damages. His claim is that the city is responsible for the safety of the life and property of citizens and strangers. The case is said to be without precedent.

In this enlightened age and under our form of government every man is free to express his opinion on all matters pertaining to the public good, and it is too much to expect that all would think alike. Personal abuse is not argument, neither can it be classed as wisdom. It is the outgrowth of fanaticism and its tendency is toward bitter and lasting strife.—Ez.

Tom Ellis, the notorious editor of the Birmingham Hornet, has been arrested on a charge of libel committed in the publication of articles in the Hornet directed against Detective Sullivan, and Capt. Anderson, of the Birmingham police force. Ellis gave bond in both cases. The police of Birmingham are beginning to think Ellis is a nuisance, no doubt.

Indiana has an organization of bold, bad men known as "White Caps." This mob is committing various acts of lawlessness and making itself decidedly objectionable. Were it only in Mississippi, now instead of Indiana, wouldn't it be a plum for the bloody-shirt wavers? Probably they could make a case for congressional investigation out of it.

A scheme is now on foot to hold a world's fair in Washington in 1892 to celebrate the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America. Senator Hoar has introduced a bill providing for such proper celebration of the event as the wonderful growth of America would suggest. This will, if carried through, be a bigger thing than the late Piedmont exposition.

A western debating society discussed the question of female suffrage, and a strutting orator in the negative wound up his article with this clincher: "I'd defy any one to point out a woman in this city or country who could be sheriff. Would a woman turn out at the dead of night to track and arrest a m-m-murderer? I say n-n-no. Ten to one she would swoon w-with him!" He sat down amid thunders of applause.—Boston Journal.

"If a man wants to steal and squander a trust fund around Birmingham, and still be considered an honest and virtuous gentleman, all he has to do is to be free with the money and spend it liberally. He can then run away and leave the whole columns in the newspapers devoted to eulogies on his honesty and integrity and sorrow for what is considered his misfortune rather than his fault. Of course the poor fellows whose money was stolen are not entitled to consideration.—Fort Payne Journal.

It is not necessary for the Journal to particularize Birmingham in this matter. The same thing would apply to any other town. Man is easily duped by generosity, and when he is the object of generosity, he will defend his benefactor unless he is a very ungrateful mortal. The Journal's idea is not a new one and will apply to all people who have any degree of Christian charity, and are not "marble-hearted fiends." Only those who have done evil themselves refuse to sympathize with a fallen fellow mortal.

The Largest Number of Witnesses in any one Case.

Wm. A. Collier, attorney for the contestee in the contest case of R. M. Honeycutt against Judge H. J. Callen, for the office of probate judge of Chilton county, Ala., on Wednesday filed interrogations in the circuit court of Chilton county, to some 2,200 witnesses probably the greatest number of witnesses ever had in any case.—Dispatch.

Mapleville Dots.

[Written for last week. Arrived late.] Mr. N. W. Foshee is now able to sit in his invalid's chair we hope to see him up soon.

Mr. Leonard DuBose gave our little village a flying visit recently. We are pleased to have Mr. J. O. Noble as our pastor another year and notwithstanding the inclement weather he had a good audience Sunday. The young people are pleased with him, though he sometimes tackles them about dancing, this we know he does from a sense of duty.

Mr. Robert Martin has left our town to go into business for Mr. C. F. Donthit, of Ashby.

Miss Lillie McGee has had a rather severe attack of measles from which she has now recovered and has resumed her school.

KENDALL'S

SPAVIN CURE

The most successful remedy ever discovered, is it is certain in every case and does not blister. See proof below.

Orange Hills, Fla., June 30, 1888.

Dr. B. J. Kendall Co.

Gentle—I have used your Kendall's Spavin Cure and it is wonderful to say the least. Yours respectfully, CHARY.

From the "Spirit of the Times," June 25, 1888. The old idea that a spavin was incurable has given way before the improvements made by modern science.

Among these wonderful improvements must be mentioned the most successful remedy ever discovered for the cure of this disease, Kendall's Spavin Cure, one that is certain in its effect, and will not blister. It is prepared by Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt., and has been used on every hand for its thorough and reliable work in cases of spavin or hock lameness. It is a certain cure for rheumatism, enlargement of the joints, corns, etc., while blood promptly disappears on its use. It is a standard remedy among horse owners and breeders, where its work has often been proven. It is for sale by all druggists at $1 per bottle or six for $5, and will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt.

Mrs. Temple and family of Dadeville, have moved to Clanton and will make this their home. We welcome them.

A literary club would be a pleasant institution for Clanton just now. Who will start the ball rolling in that direction?

We hear of another wedding to take place soon. The contracting parties live in Clanton but we understand that the knot will be tied in Montgomery by Father Savage.

Go to Blank Brothers, Leading Clothiers, 2112, 2nd Avenue, Birmingham, Ala., to buy anything you need in the way of clothing and gent's furnishing goods.

There are many accidents and diseases which affect stock and cause serious inconvenience and loss to the farmer in his work, which may be quickly remedied by the use of Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, by its vitalizing properties, will brighten pale cheeks, and transform a pale, haggard, dispirited woman into one of sparkling health and beauty.

Strayed.

From my premises three miles south of Clanton a red brindle sided cow without horns. She had on a small bell. Will pay a reward of $5 for her return. J. C. Mims.

If doing their job printing as cheap and as neat as it can be done anywhere and taking pay for it in trade is not an inducement to our merchants to give us their work, then we give it up.

Just received on commission 10,000 pounds nicely cut and cured pea vine hay. As a rich and nutritious stock food it has no equal in this market.

W. L. SAMPEY.

We are in receipt of an invitation to the marriage of our friend W. D. Lanier to Miss Mattie Jones, which is to take place in Birmingham, the home of the bride, on next Wednesday the 8th inst. We extend congratulations in advance of the happy event.

Sick headache is the bane of many lives; to cure and prevent this annoying complaint use Dr. J. H. McLean's Little Liver and Kidney Pills. They are agreeable to take and gentle in their action.

Ladies who experience a sense of weakness, and sometimes lameness of the back, should use Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It will supply the much needed strength and overcome all weakening irregularities.

We are informed that Rev. Dr. McCarty, late of Eufaula has been appointed pastor of the Clanton and Verbena Methodist Churches to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Rev. A. J. Briggs. He will probably preach here next Sunday at the Baptist Church.

As we went to press in advance of the supper last night we are unable to state the result. At this writing however the indications are that it will be a success and that money enough will be realized to buy a new bell for the Baptist church which is the object of the supper.

Disease lies in ambush for the weak, a feeble constitution is ill adapted to encounter a malarious atmosphere or sudden changes of temperature, and the least robust are usually the easiest victims. Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier will give tone and vitality and strength to your entire body.

For physical ailments, especially those incident to declining years, there is no remedy that produces such satisfactory results as Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm; its gentle and invigorating effect on Liver and Kidneys is remarkable.

The mail agents continue to fail to catch the mail as the train passes Clanton. The View was late getting off last week on that account. We make this statement so that our subscribers may know that it is not our fault. The View is always out on time but has failed to get off for a day or two after publication several times lately.

We are glad to see that our young men who have been trying to secure situations away from home have decided to remain in Clanton and go to work. Mr. C. R. Hannon has taken the management of the post-office in hand, thus relieving Miss Mollie. Mr. R. C. Duke has secured a position in the Circuit Clerk's office to do the writing.

For Sale.

I have 100 bushels of sound, carefully selected, unmixed yellow yam potatoes. As a prolific bearer, good keeper and delicious table potato they are without a rival. I will open my hills about the last of February and will fill all cash orders promptly at $1.00 per bushel packed and delivered on cars.

A False Alarm.

Last week Mr. Tom Evans, of Randolph, notified his mother's family, at this place, that he was to be married in a few days and requested them to come over to the wedding. The news created quite a stir in the family and considerable preparation was made to give the bride and groom a fitting reception on their arrival at this place, and several members of the family prepared to leave at once to attend the marriage ceremony.

They had gone to the depot to take the train and had purchased tickets when they received a telegram from the would-be groom stating that he was not going to be married at all but as they would not write to him he just wanted to let them know that he was still living.

That telegram was very thin Thomas. "There is many a slip 'twix the cup and the lip," but we hope that your fair charmer did not give you the mitten at the eleventh hour, though it looks very much that way. It will take better evidence than we have to convince us.

T. I. N. C. is not a cure all, but a quarter of a century of constant use has demonstrated beyond question that Tanner's Infallible Neuralgia Cure is the only known infallible cure for all kinds of Neuralgia and for nervous headache. 50 cents per box. Manufactured by Rungum Root Medicine Co., Nashville, Tenn. Sold by all druggists.

Jail Delivery.

Jim Petty, a white boy 18 or 19 years old, escaped from the county jail on Thursday morning. The jailer inadvertently left the outer door of the jail open for a few moments on the morning mentioned and went to his house a short distance from the jail. On returning he found that Petty had escaped by removing one of the iron bars of the outer cage in which he had been permitted to spend the night. It is thought that the prisoner was furnished with some tool by outside parties with which he succeeded in removing the bar and effecting his escape. He was the only prisoner confined in the jail. He was in for larceny. He was about five feet six or seven inches high with light complexion and a youthful appearance, his beard just becoming visible to a close observer. He has eluded capture thus far.

When you feel depressed don't dose yourself with mean bitters. Hodges' Sarsaparilla renovates and invigorates the system, and cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood. $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5. Manufactured by Rungum Root Medicine Co., Nashville, Tenn. Sold by all druggists.

Clanton to be Made a Money Order Office.

The following private letter from our immediate representative in Congress fully explains itself, and we take the liberty of publishing it as it contains information of considerable importance to the community at large:

WASHINGTON, D. C. Jan. 23, '88.

EDITORS CHILTON VIEW,

CLANTON, ALA.

DEAR SIRS:—In the last issue of the View I noticed your expressed wish that your post-office be made a money order office. Believing that you expressed the wishes of your people, I applied at once to have your office made a money order office; and I secured the promise of the official having that matter in charge, that at the next making of such offices, Clanton shall be included.

These offices are made at stated intervals, and you will be accommodated at no distant day.

Yours truly,

J. E. COBB.

Home testimonials are most reliable, and if you will send your name and address we will send statements of numbers of the best citizens of Nashville regarding the wonderful cures effected by Ethiopian File Ointment. It never fails. 50 cents and $1 per bottle. Manufactured by Rungum Root Medicine Co., Nashville, Tenn. For sale by all druggists.

Paper Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Phillips celebrated the first anniversary of their marriage (their paper wedding) at their residence on Court Avenue, in this place, on the night of the 27th ult. Quite a number of their friends were present and the evening was spent most pleasantly in bright and cheerful conversation and games.

Refreshments were served at 10 o'clock and several toasts were drunk to the bride and groom of a year. It was Clanton's social event of the season.

Positively the best remedy ever discovered for all diseases of man and beast that can be reached by an external medical application, is Rungum Root Liniment. One trial will convince. Manufactured only by Rungum Root Medicine Co., Nashville, Tenn. 50 cents per bottle. For sale by all druggists.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it.

The store of Mr. J. W. Broadhead at Dixie was entered by burglars on Saturday night last. The thieves got off with two guns, two pistols, some cash and sundry other articles of less value. Three negroes, George Green, Henry Thomas and George Golsen were arrested and some of the property was found in their possession. They implicated a fourth darkey who had left the neighborhood. Golsen was placed under bond by the justice before whom the three had a hearing and Green and Thomas failing to give bond, were brought to Clanton Wednesday morning in charge of deputy sheriff Lee Hays, and will board awhile in the Hotel Smitherman.

Another Jail Bird.

On last Thursday night a negro tramp was arrested at Lomax charged with burglary. He broke into the residence of Mr. Wm. Holridge near Jamison while the family were absent and got away with a small amount of money and some clothing. He produced the stolen articles on being arrested and was brought to Clanton and jailed.

So long has White's Cream Vermifuge been before the public that it is only necessary to say that this never failing remedy can be had of all druggists. Its long continued use is sufficient proof of its efficacy, and mothers who have tried it for worms in children declare it to be the only preparation that moves the worms promptly and effectually.

Mr. P. T. Barnum, the famous showman, from the fact that his great story "My Pucky Roy Tom" has proved such an immense success in the New York Family Story Paper, has determined to present to all subscribers to that paper, while his story lasts, a beautiful souvenir in the shape of a Portfolio. This Portfolio contains illustrations of all the wild animals that will appear in his show the coming season. The New York Family Story Paper for four months and "Barnum's Portfolio" as this beautiful souvenir is called, will be sent to any address for the small sum of $1.00, the regular price of the paper. This is certainly an opportunity which our readers should take advantage of. Address Munro's Publishing 24 & 26 Vandewater Street, New York.

No one can estimate the evil that may be produced by the neglect of one simple duty, and in matters pertaining to the health, prostration may have fatal results. Therefore, if your child has worms use White's Cream Vermifuge, a pure and simple remedy, which has stood the test and never failed to dislodge the worms. Try it.

Laws Relating to Newspaper Subscriptions.

The following is the decision of the United States Supreme Court:

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, are considered wishing to continue their subscription.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals the publishers may continue to send them until all arrears are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible until they have either taken their bills and ordered their discontinuance.

BYGONES.

A PAIR OF WEDDINGS.

BY ROSE TERRY COOK.

"You don't say so!"
Grandma Pitt looked sharply over her spectacles at pretty Nancy Campbell, Nanny had come up to Traverse from Boston to spend a day with her grandparents.

Grandma was ready with congratulations; yet, as she drew the fair young head down to her knee and stroked the bright hair with tremulous fingers,

"Well," said grandma, thoughtfully, "you've got to take things by and large, Elvira; by and large, there's some lye in all business."

And while Nanny was bustling round the kitchen the next morning, stirring cold milk into the Indian pudding that had the great oven to itself, basting the huge turkey in the roaster,

"So you're going to be married New Year's Day, now, Nanny?"
"No, dear—New Year's Eve."

"Well, you, Jack would not wait till June, when I wanted to have it; he said he never believed in long engagements."

"What shall I say to Alice, mamma?"
"Say nothing."

full. Why, Alice Brooks has got sick and drams like a baby; and Rosina Leavitt is lovely too; if she is a little dark."

"Well, anyway I call it cruelly to animals to have them go out in that condition of a cold winter's night into a big draughty church. Be you going 'low' too?"

"Oh, no! It's not the fashion for brides. I'm going to have white satin, high to the throat, and a long train."

"I guess you wouldn't let me go any other way," dryly remarked grandma.

"I guess I'd have to, if 'twas the fashion," pouted Nanny.

"Well, foot ain't all dead yet," retorted grandma, with some severity.

"When I was married 'twas daylight, and to home. Eben and me was going down to Boston for a spell, he was in the Silas Bunker's store then. I had on a dark blue cloth habit with frogs onto it, and a big lacy bonnet with a white feather real long and curly, and some red roses under the front on't."

"I guess you looked just lovely, grandma; but—"

"Oh, I don't know," said Nanny, "but I don't think I should have given into it. I should have said, 'I don't care for it, I don't like it, I don't want it.'"

So the matter was settled, and in due time the wedding came off. It was a pretty wedding, as Nanny had assured grandma it would be; but the old people of Traverse did not come down for it; the snow lay deep over all the country, the thermometer sank to depths unusual even in New England, and keen winds swept across the shining drifts that seemed to pierce the heaviest clothing.

"We love you just as much, dear," wrote grandma, "as though you come to see us married; but we old folks and the weather is considerable cold for anybody to be out in, and he is threatened some with sciatica, so we durstn't risk it. So we send you a little matter to buy a little wedding present with, and to you get some of the best of our comfort for it for to remember your very lovin' grandpa and grandma."

A check for five hundred dollars fell from the letter.

"Oh!" exclaimed Nanny. "Now I can have a seal-ring! I didn't want to ask father's!"

While the bridal procession was forming I am afraid even at the altar; certainly at the after procession—the "best man" was observed by a disinterested spectator to turn his eyes very often upon Alida Van Alstyne.

But the others—poor souls, how could they help it?—were pinched with cold; their cheeks colorless, their pretty noses absolutely blue.

"My dear Nanny! I have only found out to-day that your 'maids' intend to wear low dresses. I never have given into it. I should have said, 'I don't care for it, I don't like it, I don't want it.'"

"What shall I say to Alice, mamma?"
"Say nothing."

"What shall I say to Alice, mamma?"
"Say nothing."

BUDGET OF FUN.

HUMOROUS SKETCHES FROM VARIOUS SOURCES.

All She Asked—What They Stole—Dogs That Chum—Narrow Escape—Not Inquisitive—One Notch Better.

"It cannot be otherwise," he muttered hoarsely, "you must be mine. You and I could not avoid it if we would, and let us thank the fates that our union will be cemented by love. You could never have been another man's wife. There is a destiny hanging over you."

"What They Stole."
"Darringer, I hear that some robbers broke into your house last night. What did they steal?"

"Dogs That Chum."
"Is that your dog?" asked a passenger of the elevator boy.

"A Narrow Escape."
"Speaking of mushrooms and toad-stools, gentlemen," chimed in Dumley, "a friend of mine not long ago gathered a quantity of what he supposed were mushrooms, and took 'em home."

"One Notch Better."
As a train was ready to leave the Central Depot the other day, a drummer, who occupied two seats, and had prepared to leave the car to say good bye to some one.

"Not Inquisitive."
A gentleman once saw a boy peeling the bark from one of his choice trees with a hatchet. The gentleman tried to catch the boy, but the latter was too quick for him, so that the former changed his tactics.

"Sherman Said Joe Jefferson's Life."
Two plainly dressed men stood at the clerk's desk in the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

"A Tendency Toward the Country."
"The tendency of all cities," observed a traveler, "is to grow away from rather than along the river or coast. The cities unconvincing limits of New York comprise this here, but I don't think it is the cities in the back country the cities grow away from the river or coast, which is abandoned to commercial purposes, as in this city. The riverside, like the Battery, often offers the most pleasant place for a residence, and it was selected as such by the original residents, but in the development of the city the march of progress is into the country. Think over all the cities you have visited, and you'll find this to be the case."

"War on Carrier Pigeons."
The Russian Government has been trying experiments in the capture of carrier pigeons by falcons, and they have proved as successful as the Minister of War expected. The falcons saw the pigeons at a distance, gave chase, and captured them. The pigeons were then taken to the city and released. The Minister of War was very pleased with the results.

my ribbons, my sewing silk!" and she laughed a low, demure laugh that made his flesh creep. "Daisy shopping! Deprive me of one of the greatest pleasures of my life, my greatest treasure, the joy of a woman's existence. Friend!" she hissed, looking majestic in her wrath, while the eyes cast brimful of tenderness emitted flashes of indignant flame. "Beard, wretch, demon, begone!"

And Roland De Vere retired with such precipitation that he overturned a "what-not," and smashed to smithereens a crooked-necked stool of Shakespeare, the man who, it will be remembered, was long supposed to be the author of the plays of Bacon.

Roland De Vere will in future beware of arousing a woman's wrath by such a flimsy proposal as to do her shopping for her.—Boston Courier.

Turkish Cemeteries.
According to the Koran, the deceased in the power of his grave in perpetuity, and the objectionable system of sepulture in rotation is unknown to the Mussulmans; and in Constantinople, in Eyoub, and in Scutari, the room occupied by cemeteries is almost as extensive as that covered by dwellings. Within recent years has been found necessary, in order to open roads that have been much needed, to curtail and even suppress some of the cemeteries; but it required an express order from the Sultan, which made the "ulemas" utter the yell of b-gods. The express is pre-eminently the funeral train.

National Capital "Signboards."
Frank G. Carpenter, in one of his interesting letters from Washington, says of the "signboards" of the national capital:

Another remarkable character here is a man who is always ready to take a drink, and who lives around Washington's hotels trying to squeeze one out of every new comer.

Predicting a Big Explosion.
An American paper, the Freeman's Herald, predicts a terrible disaster in the oil regions of the United States. If the tapping of gas-wells is allowed to go on at its present rate without check or supervision of any sort, a fearful explosion of natural gas took place in China some two hundred years ago, it appears, tearing up and destroying a district and leaving a large island sea—that now known as the Gulf of Changhai.

A Fiendish Proposal.
"Be mine, dearest Angelina," exclaimed Roland De Vere, the handsome young dry-goods clerk, as he dropped on his knees at the feet of Angelina St. Clair, "be mine, and make me the happiest man the world contains."

Switzerland has 600,000 milk cows, all native bred, and divided into two sharply defined races, the brown and the spotted. The former are raised from deep down to mountain tops, the latter are raised in the valleys.

Why is a newspaper like a pretty woman? To be perfect it must be the embodiment of many types. Its form is made up. It is always chased, tho' inclined to be giddy. It enjoys a good press; the more rapid the better. It has a weakness for gossip. Talks a good deal. Can stand some praise, and it's awful proud of a new dress.—Ez.

We have received a sample package of rice turned out by our Clanton rice mill. It compares favorably with other rice in appearance and the grains seem to be much larger. We have not had an opportunity to eat any of it yet but will risk our judgement on it by saying it is fine. We hope that rice culture will soon grow to such an extent in our county as to keep several mills employed preparing it for market.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. DuBose desire to return sincere thanks to the generous citizens, of Clanton for the many acts of kindness and tender sympathy bestowed upon them while detained in their midst under most trying circumstances. We will be pardoned for making especial mention of the accomplished physician and skillful surgeon Dr. W. E. Upland Rice Culture.

TO THE FARMER:—It will soon be time to plant a rice crop for this year. Last Spring I told the farmers in the neighborhood that if they would plant trial crops I would have a mill here to clean it. The Farmers did plant the trial crops and I have the mill at Mr. Thos. Motes' mill, and it is doing excellent work and making a good sample of rice that compares favorably with the best samples found in the stores. Mr. Motes is a good miller.

Now since upland rice culture in Chilton county is a success it does look like "hauling coal to Newcastle" to ask or advise the farmer to plant rice. Any land that will make 10 bushels corn per acre will make 20 bushels rough rice—44 lbs to the bushel—which is worth in market the world over about one dollar a bushel. It will double the bushels in corn on any land on the farm. Land that will make any where from 15 to 50 bushels corn will double the bushels in rice, and any land that will make one bale cotton to two acres, will make 40 bushels rice to the acre. One bushel rough rice (44 lbs) will make 25 pounds clean head rice after paying the toll, with less than one half the labor to cultivate and prepare for market that is required for the cotton.

Any one not satisfied on the rice question should visit Mr. Motes' mill and see for himself. A very intelligent man told me the other day in compliment to my mill that it would not be 2 years before every farmer in Chilton county would have rice on their tables three times a day—and eat gravy.

You may expect frequent articles in the CHILTON VIEW on upland rice culture. Every farmer that plants upland rice can afford to take View and will make money by it.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Bilioussness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it.

Senator Plumb's resolution directing an inquiry into the inefficient mail service in the West and South, should be speedily acted upon by the Senate. Alabama is suffering greatly from an inefficient and inefficient mail service, and our representatives in Congress can do nothing that will be more appreciated by the people of Alabama than urging a strict and searching inquiry into this matter. The growing interests of the South demand it and we must have it.

Saturday was Abraham Lincoln's birthday. The Republican club of New York City gave a dinner in honor of the occasion.

The Republicans of Chicago are making ready for the National Republican Convention which meets in that city in June.

Read Gen. Wheeler's letter published in another column and give him an opinion upon the matter of which he writes if you are interested.

Judge E. W. Peck, ex-Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Alabama, died at his home in Tuscaloosa on Monday last in the eighty-eighth year of his age. He was born in 1799.

Miss Susie Clay, the talented editress of the Huntsville Democrat is quite ill with typhoid fever at her home in Huntsville. The journalistic fraternity of the State will join us in wishing her an early recovery.

The Birmingham Age favors Gen. Joe Wheeler, congressman from the 8th district as U. S. Senator to succeed Senator Morgan. Gen. Wheeler is a good worker, and we believe would do more for the State than Senator Morgan.

Candidates for the State offices are getting ripe fast, and as they are very thick, it is to be hoped a good number of them will get ripe enough to drop off the great tree of political aspirations before the convention. We speak in behalf of perspiring delegates.

James G. Blaine, the great Maine statesman declines to permit his name to go before the National Republican Convention as a candidate for the presidential nomination. Blaine is a sensible man and can't see any fun in being the second man in a race.

Hon. Roger Q. Mills, the Texas low tariff statesman who is chairman of the House ways and means committee admits that he does not expect any tariff bill to pass through the present session of Congress. He says the bill now before the ways and means committee is not acceptable to the Democratic majority of the committee.

Tom Ellis on his death bed told a minister who was trying to comfort the dying man in his last moments with reminding him of the promises of the Almighty that it "would be cowardly to think of religion now." So the soul of Ellis went before its creator unrepentant and utterly corrupt. A woeful thought and a woeful fate.

The Fort Payne Journal is after the View and Montgomery Dispatch with a sharp stick. We do not propose to bandy epithets with the Journal brother, for he can outstrip us as a highly accomplished slinger of billingsgate. But, as Dr. Blackstone said of Mr. Grenville, we wish the honorable gentleman instead of shaking his head would shake a good argument out of it.

Treasurer's Report.

A report of the condition of the county treasury on January 1st, 1888, is published in another column. It makes a satisfactory showing except in the fact that it does not give the condition of the fine and forfeiture fund. We are not prepared to say why such an omission was made, because we don't know.

IMPORTANT LETTER.

Gen. Wheeler Wishes to Get the Views of the People.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, Washington, D. C., Feb. 9, '88. EDITORS CHILTON VIEW: My Dear Sirs:—A sub-committee of the committee on public lands, consisting of Messrs. Holman, of Indiana; Stone, of Missouri; and Harson, of Illinois, have prepared and submitted to the whole committee a bill which proposes to make extreme changes in the laws governing the disposal and occupation of the Public Lands.

The effect of the bill, if enacted into a law, will be to repeal the act of March 3, 1879, which provides: "That within the State of Alabama all public lands whether mineral or otherwise, shall be subject to disposal only as agricultural lands."

The proposed law would change all this, as it provides that all public lands, whether valuable for deposits of coal or iron, shall be disposed of at not less than ten dollars per acre if more than fifteen miles from a railroad, and not less than twenty dollars per acre if within fifteen miles.

The proposed law also provides that public lands chiefly valuable for timber, shall not be sold, but the timber thereon shall be appraised and sold at not less than the appraised value, but not less than ten dollars per acre.

Feeling convinced that the proposed legislation would take all the public mineral and timber lands in Alabama out of the market during the present generation, and thereby retard the development of the State, I am strenuously opposing the bill, and shall endeavor to prevent final action by the Committee until I can hear from the people.

As a substitute for the proposed measure I am striving to secure an amendment to the law of March 3, 1879, which will bring all public lands in Alabama, of every description, whether mineral timber or other under the operation of the Homestead laws.

I am anxious in this matter to promote the best interests of the people of Alabama, and can only hope to succeed in this by being definitely informed what the people regard as their best interests.

To assist me in obtaining this definite information, will you be so kind as to ask those of your readers who have studied and thought upon the subject, to let me know what, in their opinion, will be the effect of the proposed legislation upon the interests and development of Alabama.

The committee is now disposed to make some concession in the line of my views, and it will be a great assistance to me to be possessed of a thorough knowledge of the wishes of the people.

With high regard,

Very truly yours,

JOS. WHEELER.

We agree with Gen. Wheeler in his opposition to the land grabbing scheme mentioned. The public lands, in our opinion, should be disposed of in no other way than under the homestead laws. Those readers who feel an interest in the matter can write to Gen. Wheeler giving their views upon the subject, as that is what he desires.

Good Lord Deliver Us.

Why wouldn't Gov. O'Neal make a good United States Senator?—Mobile Register.

We answer, for several reasons. First, he would turn the Senate into a camp for military instruction. Second, his brains (Frank Lyon, of Marengo, and E. H. Moren, of Bibb) are dead. These two are sufficient, but we will add that when the state of Alabama has to make United States Senators out of such material as ex-Gov. O'Neal, we had better withdraw from the government and set up to ourselves, elect Belvie Lockwood Queen, select a House of Lords from the students of our common schools, establish laws prohibiting internal improvements and run our course to the end. This able editor would make just about such a Senator as the devil would a minister.—Bibb Blade.

What A Southern Man Heard in the North.

SPECIAL TO THE BIRMINGHAM HERALD. JACKSONVILLE, ALA., Feb. 3.—Mr. G. B. Gentry, manager of the Jacksonville Land Company, has returned from a long visit to the North. He reports money easy up there, and expresses the utmost confidence that millions upon millions of that money will pour out upon the South at no distant day, but says that just now the Northern papers have given the South a black eye, and there is little confidence there in any southern investment outside of Southern railroads. He says the Northern press pick up and republish from the Southern papers every expression derogatory of any Southern town, and that these publications have their effect.

Pearls of Thought.

If any one says ill of you, let your life be so that none will believe him.

"We never see a tear in the eye," says a celebrated writer, "but we are reminded of a warm heart."

Whatever else we neglect, let us keep up the habit of communion with God. Prayer is the key of the position.

If a man empties his purse into his head, no man can take it away from him. An investment in knowledge always pays the best interest.

Let every man take care how he speaks and writes of honest people, and not set down at a venture the first thing that comes uppermost.

The man who is suspicious lives in a constant state of unhappiness. It would be better for his peace of mind to be too trustful than too guarded.

Final Settlement.

State of Alabama, Chilton County, Estate of George Hill, Deceased. Probate Court, 18th day of Feb'y, 1888. This day came H. C. Moss, the administrator of said estate, and filed his statement, accounts, vouchers and evidence for a final settlement of his administration. It is ordered that the 19th day of March, 1888, be appointed a day on which to make such settlement, at which time all persons interested can appear and contest the said settlement if they think proper.

Mr. P. C. Dennis, of Cooper's, gave us a pleasant call Friday.

Mrs. Tom Phillips and Miss Mollie Hannon visited Birmingham, this week.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Chills and Fever Cure is a specific for Chills and Fever, mild in its action and warranted a certain cure. 50 cents.

A large supply of base balls and bats just received at the View Stationery Stand.

Clanton now has a permanent photograph gallery. It is situated near the View office.

If you are suffering with weak or inflamed eyes, or granulated eyelids, you can be quickly cured by using Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Eye Salve. 50 cents a box.

We are glad to see Mr. W. H. Foshee and Mr. W. L. Sampey, who have both been quite sick the past week, up and out again.

The View is indebted to Representative J. E. Cobb, and Senators Morgan and Reagan for favors and interesting public documents.

Mr. Geo. W. Bains, of Bains & Peebles' wholesale drug house in Birmingham, spent last Saturday among his friends in Clanton.

Many suffer from irritation of the kidneys and bladder without knowing what is the matter with them. Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm will give relief.

A new bell has been ordered for the Baptist church. The bell will be repaired and the bell put into position as soon as it arrives.

Married, at the court house, on the night of the 8th inst., Mr. Ike Gallespie and Miss Annie Stanfield. Judge H. J. Callen performing the ceremony.

Go to Blank Brothers, Leading Clothiers, 2112, 2nd Avenue, Birmingham, Ala., to buy anything you need in the way of clothing and gent's furnishing goods.

The mite meeting at the residence of Mr. John Garner last Saturday night in addition to being a very pleasant entertainment was a success financially, netting about $6.00.

To allay pain, subside inflammation, heal foul sores and ulcers, the most prompt and satisfactory results are obtained by using that old reliable remedy, Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment.

Attention is called to the advertisement of Joel White in another column. He has the oldest and one of the best book and stationery establishments in the state. Patronize him.

A wreck of two freight trains between this place and Verbena, Tuesday morning caused a general delay of trains. The wreck was the result of a collision caused by the freight train running into some empty cars that had gotten loose. No one hurt.

New Shoes at Sampey's.

I have received a large lot of stylish and fashionable shoes and have marked them as low as I can afford to sell good shoes. I have a special shoe at $1.25 for men's wear and one at the same price for the ladies. Finer grades in proportion to the quality and finish of the goods. New clothing and hats this week. Call and see them.

Yours Truly,
W. L. SAMPEY.

A Base Ball Club.

It is time for Clanton to organize a base ball club. The View has a fine ball and bat to present to the first club organized.

Just received on commission 10,000 pounds nicely cut and cured pea vine hay. As a rich and nutritious stock food it has no equal in this market.

jan12th W. L. SAMPEY.

There are many accidents and diseases which affect stock and cause serious inconvenience and loss to the farmer in his work, which may be quickly remedied by the use of Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, by its vitalizing properties, will brighten pale cheeks, and transform a pale, haggard, dispirited woman into one of sparkling health and beauty.

Valentine Party.

The valentine party at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Sampey Tuesday evening was a very pleasant sociable and was one that proved remunerative to the Baptist Ladies' Aid Society.

A communication signed "Farmer," recommending a candidate for the office of sheriff is not published for the reason that communications recommending candidates for office are charged for at regular advertising rates and must be accompanied by the cash.

Sick headache is the bane of many lives; to cure and prevent this annoying complaint use Dr. J. H. McLean's Little Liver and Kidney Pills. They are agreeable to take and gentle in their action.

Ladies who experience a sense of weakness, and sometimes lameness of the back, should use Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It will supply the much needed strength and overcome all weakening irregularities.

The members of the Clanton Baptist church in conference last Sabbath elected W. L. Sampey and J. C. Lawrence additional deacons to the church. The ordination service will be held on the night of the 4th Sabbath in this month, at which time several visiting ministers will be present.

Misses Clara McDonald, of Memphis, and Annie Robinson, of Wetumpka, two interesting and accomplished young ladies who have been gracing our social circles with their presence for some time have returned to their respective homes to the regret of the many warm friends they made while here.

Disease lies in ambush for the weak, a feeble constitution is ill adapted to encounter a malarious atmosphere or sudden changes of temperature, and the most robust are usually the easiest victims. Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier will give tone and vitality and strength to your entire body.

For physical ailments, especially those incident to declining years, there is no remedy that produces such salutary results as Dr. J. H. McLean's Little Liver and Kidney Balm. Its gentle and invigorating effect on Liver and Kidneys is remarkable.

Don't Trespass.

We have been requested by several citizens to ask the public when visiting the cemetery not to reach into the enclosures and break off the flowers and shrubbery. Those who may have done this with no intention of doing wrong or those who have done so otherwise are asked to make a note of this request and act accordingly.

Mrs. M. J. Marsh, of Birmingham, desires to inform her many friends in Clanton and Chilton county that she is now prepared to give splendid accommodations to both transient and regular boarders at reasonable rates. She is located in a new brick building on the corner of 20th Street and Avenue A South; very close to the depot. She solicits the patronage of the people of this section. When you go to Birmingham stop with her.

Home testimonials are most reliable, and if you will send your name and address we will send statements of numbers of the best citizens of Nashville regarding the wonderful cures effected by Ethiopian Pile Ointment. It never fails. 50 cents and $1 per bottle. Manufactured by Ransom Root Medicine Co., Nashville, Tenn. For sale by all druggists.

I have 100 bushels of sound, carefully selected, unmixured yellow jam potatoes. As a prolific bearer, good keeper and delicious table potato they are without a rival. The Sloss Iron and Steel Company, of Birmingham, have the contract for working the county convicts of this county for the ensuing year. Mr. Hooper representing this company was in Clanton Tuesday for the purpose of removing said convicts to Birmingham. At this time there are only two county convicts, several of them having escaped a few months ago from Bivings, Duke & Co.'s saw mill where they were being worked.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Bosche's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive at least to try one bottle, as 80,000 open bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, in the United States and Canada.

Leap Year Party.

A delightful social gathering was the leap year party given by the young ladies at the residence of Mrs. and Mr. Chesnut on Wednesday night last. The hostess and her charming and accomplished husband did everything possible to make the occasion pleasant for their guests, and they succeeded admirably. The following couples attended:

Mr. G. Middleton and the lovely Miss Gracie Hanks, who manipulates mortgages and marriage licenses in the Probate office with such exquisite grace. Mr. D. T. Hannon and the demure and placid Miss Curtis Edwards, who occasionally looks over the pages of a geography or grammar at the Academy.

Mr. C. McDonald, of Memphis, Tenn., and the tall and graceful blonde, Miss C. R. Hannon, who is now occupied in scanning love letters as they pass through the postoffice.

Mr. A. Stanfield and the darling dreamy-eyed brunette, Miss W. H. Sartor, who has bewitched so many fair maidens, and loved them all.

Mr. Ella Gartin and the beautiful and accomplished, Miss R. C. Duke.

Mr. A. Mahone and Miss Arabie Bentley, whose sad, sweet face, jetty locks and curling moustache "do take the cake."

Mr. Gus Evans and Miss D. Middleton, a brown-eyed beauty with graceful sway and lovely smile which captivates every maiden's heart that feels its sunny rays.

Mr. Will Cast and Miss Frankie Burton, a lovely maiden who is now upon the carpet with very large feet, and ready to travel which ever way she may be beckoned.

Mr. Glen Phillips and Miss Genie Evans, who was on hand with her characteristic, irresistible and dove-like look of love that mashes the girls as fast as they can come and go.

Mr. Mr. Phillips and the handsome and dignified Miss Johnnie Gullahorn.

Mr. B. Watts and Miss Lucien Day, the vivacious blonde with lovely mouth and voice likely the happily-mated nightingale who sings of love and general merchandise at Sampey's on the corner.

Mr. E. Temple, and the plump and pleasing little buttercup, Miss W. F. Middleton.

Mr. French Evans and the lovely and petite Miss Gussie Middleton.

Mr. L. Watts and Miss Genie Sartor, who, among other charming qualities can beat the world as an accomplished sifter of tobacco.

Mr. L. Dedwilder and Miss Leonard Gullahorn, another exquisite juicer-squitter who can play euchre and casino like the most la de da professional.

Mr. A. Robinson, of Wetumpka, and Miss Willie Lawrence, the whiskered old maid who helps to make the View howl.

At 10 o'clock refreshments were served in the handsome dining hall of the house where the dances added to the merriment. Altogether the occasion was most enjoyable. An entertainment racy, rich and rare, and to be treasured up among the pleasant memories of all who attended.

When you feel depressed don't dose yourself with mean bitters. Hodges' Sarsaparilla renovates and invigorates the system, and cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood. $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5. Manufactured by Ransom Root Medicine Co., Nashville, Tenn. Sold by all druggists.

Jemison Locals.

Rev. Mr. Lindsay preached at the M. E. Church yesterday. Mr. P. C. Bean united with the church.

In reply to a petition from our citizens, we have been informed by Hon. J. E. Cobb that Jemison has been placed upon the list of money order offices next to be established, which will be at the beginning of the next fiscal year, July 1st. As we have no bank, this is a necessity to our growing town, and should have been attended to long since.

Mr. Ira Campbell has been appointed Justice of the Peace, vice W. H. Shelby, Esq., recently resigned.

Mr. G. W. Shaw has been appointed constable for Beat 2.

Mr. Harry LeRoy's mother is paying his family a visit.

Mrs. H. T. Caffey is visiting her mother near Benton, Lowndes Co.

Mr. J. B. Wooley, of Strassburg, paid his sweetheart at Jemison, a visit yesterday.

Leap Year Party.

A delightful social gathering was the leap year party given by the young ladies at the residence of Mrs. and Mr. Chesnut on Wednesday night last.

The hostess and her charming and accomplished husband did everything possible to make the occasion pleasant for their guests, and they succeeded admirably. The following couples attended:

Mr. G. Middleton and the lovely Miss Gracie Hanks, who manipulates mortgages and marriage licenses in the Probate office with such exquisite grace.

Mr. D. Thornton and the demure and placid Miss Curtis Edwards, who occasionally looks over the pages of a geography or grammar at the Academy.

Mr. C. McDonald, of Memphis, Tenn., and the tall and graceful blonde, Miss C. R. Hannon, who is now occupied in scanning love letters as they pass through the postoffice.

Mr. A. Stansfield and the darling dreamy-eyed brunette, Miss W. H. Sartor, who has bewitched so many fair maidens, and loved them all.

Mr. Ella Gorman and the beautiful and accomplished, Miss R. C. Duke.

Mr. A. Malone and Miss Archie Bentley, whose sad, sweet face, jetty locks and curling moustache "do take the cake."

Mr. Gus. Evans and Miss D. Middleton, a brown-eyed beauty with graceful away and lovely smile which captivates every maiden's heart that feels its sunny ray.

Mr. Will Cate and Miss Frankie Burton, a lovely maiden who is now upon the carpet with very large feet, ready to travel which ever way she may be beckoned.

Mr. Glen Phillips and Miss Genie Evans, who was on hand with her characteristic, irresistible and dove-like look of love that mashes the girls as fast as they can come and go.

Mr. M. Phillips and the handsome and dignified Miss Johnnie Gullahorn.

Mr. B. Watts and Miss Lucien Day, the vivacious blonde with lovely mouth and voice likely the happily-mated nightingale who sings of love and general merchandise at Sampey's on the corner.

Mr. French Evans and the lovely and petite Miss Genie Middleton.

Mr. L. Watts and Miss Genie Sartor, who, among other charming qualities can beat the world as an accomplished squirt of tobacco juice.

Mr. L. Dedwiler and Miss Leonard Gullahorn, another exquisite juice-squirt who can play eucbre and casino like the most la de da professional.

Mr. A. Robinson, of Wetumpka, and Miss Willie Lawrence, the whiskered old maid who helps to make the View howl.

At 10 o'clock refreshments were served in the handsome dining hall of the hostess where the dainties added to the merriment. Altogether the occasion was most enjoyable. An entertainment may, rich and rare, and to be treasured up among the pleasant memories of all who attended.

When you feel depressed don't dose yourself with mean bitters. Hodge's Sarsaparilla renovates and invigorates the system, rids you of all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood. 31 per bottle, six bottles for $5. Manufactured by Rungum Root Medicine Co., Nashville, Tenn. Sold by all druggists.

Jemison Locals.

Rev. Mr. Lindsey preached at the M. E. Church yesterday. Mr. P. C. Bean united with the church.

In reply to a petition from our citizens, we have been informed by Hon. J. E. Cobb that Jemison has been placed upon the list of money order offices next to be established, which will be at the beginning of the next fiscal year, July 1st. As we have no bank, this is a necessity to our growing town, and should have been attended to long since.

Mr. Ira Campbell has been appointed Justice of the Peace, vice W. H. Shelby, Esq., recently resigned.

Mr. G. W. Shaw has been appointed constable for Beat 2.

Mr. Harry LeRoy's mother is paying his family a visit.

Mrs. H. T. Caffey is visiting her mother near Benton, Lowndes Co.

Mr. J. B. Woolley, of Straburg, paid his sweetheart at Jemison a visit yesterday.

A new city directory gives Birmingham a population of 41,673.

President Cleveland will visit the sub-tropical exposition at Jacksonville, Fla., this month.

The town of Geneva, Ala., county seat of Geneva county, was almost totally destroyed by fire on the night of the 15th inst.

The Republicans of Alabama propose to hold a convention in Montgomery at an early day. They will make an effort to organize for the coming election perhaps.

A monument to the memory of Sir William Jasper has been erected in Savannah, Ga., and the occasion of the unveiling of it which is to-day and to-morrow, will be one of the grandest events in that city's history.

The State Democratic Executive Committee is called to meet in Montgomery on the 7th of March. A full attendance is requested as business of importance in connection with calling the next State Convention will be transacted.

The store of W. F. Vandiver & Co., wholesale grocers, Montgomery, was damaged by fire to the amount of $10,000 on Thursday night. This is the fourth serious fire that has occurred on Commerce street in that city in the last four months.

A telegram from Montgomery to the Birmingham Herald says: The solicitor of the fifth judicial circuit to-day paid the last amount of taxes due to the State for 1887. This completes the collection of all the revenue for last year leaving not a dollar of uncollected taxes for 1887, with $400,000 in the State Treasury.

Patrick Ford, editor of the Irish World, tells the republican party that it need not count on the Irish vote unless it nominates Blaine. If Blaine has ever done anything unusual to merit the Irish vote we should like for Pat to inform the country of it.—Dispatch.

We are acquainted with some of the sons of the Emerald Isle who are more concerned in Blaine's successes and defeats than in the welfare of their own families. Why it is thus we cannot understand unless it be from the fact that they are constant readers of Patrick Ford's paper and have become imbued with some of his ideas.

"But is it not a fact that the growth of manufactures under the policy of protection has greatly reduced the cost of everything that is manufactured or imported in competition with our manufactures? With all the talk about the cheapness of clothing—for example, a suit of ready-made clothes, such as are worn by the great mass of our people, can be bought about as low in Indianapolis as in London, with this important difference. The man who buys in Indianapolis can earn two or three times as much money in a day as a corresponding buyer can in England. Were the goods actually lower? That would be poor consolation to a man who could not earn money enough to pay for them."

Wherever we have met them the officers of the L. & N. railroad have proven themselves to be pleasant and accomplished gentlemen, and many of them are active Christians. The third vice president, Mr. E. B. Stahlman, of Nashville, is a member of the Methodist church, so is Mr. C. P. Atmore, G. P. A., of Louisville. With both of these gentlemen we have had business correspondence, and always found them prompt and courteous. Mr. Theo. Welch, of Montgomery, G. F. A., is a member of the first Baptist church of this city, and takes deep interest in all the concerns of the church. Knowing him personally we have seen much in him to admire, both as to his business and Christian life, he never allows his office opened on Sunday, neither will he read his business letters which come in on that day. While in Mobile two weeks since we visited the L. & N. offices and met Mr. H. G. Barkley, who has charge of the business in that city. His attentions were highly appreciated, and we only regretted our inability to visit his home. He too, is a consistent member of the Baptist church.—Ala. Baptist.

Good for Maplesville.

It seems from the way the Montgomery papers are talking and crowding over the matter that the new railroad from Montgomery to Maplesville, in this county, is an assured enterprise of the near future. The E. T. V. & G. system has taken the building of the road in hand. It will be a jubilee day for Maplesville when such a road is built.

The following paragraphs on the subject appeared in the Advertiser Sunday:

Montgomery wore a broad smile yesterday over the news contained in the Advertiser in reference to the early building of a railroad from Maplesville to the city and the smile, if anything, still broadened as the day wore on and strong confirmation was furnished by the appearance in this city of Mr. C. A. Wilson, of the E. T. V. & G. R. on matters connected with the enterprise.

In the near future Montgomery ought to manufacture into cloth every pound of cotton that now comes to this city. When cheap coal can be had, the movement will commence in that direction. Cheap coal will come with another railroad to the coal regions.

Mr. M. E. Pratt is taking a deep interest in the road from here to Maplesville. The best line is square through Prattville.

With a railroad via Maplesville and on to a junction with the Kansas City & Birmingham road, Montgomery will not only be brought in easy reach of the finest coal of the State but will get still cheaper freights from the Western markets.

The Dispatch of Tuesday says:

There is hardly a reasonable doubt but what the new road that is to connect Montgomery with some convenient point on the E. T. V. & G. line will be built, and it is equally probable that it will be built soon. Those who have the important project in hand guarantee it and we have no good reason to apprehend disappointment in the premises.

"On to Maplesville!" should be Montgomery's war cry until the road is completed.

Blaine Viewed with Suspicion.

Philadelphia Record.]

Read between the lines, Mr. Blaine's message from Florence is a curious though eminently characteristic performance. While declining to be the Republican candidate for the presidency, Mr. Blaine takes pains to impress the adherents of that party with his great political strength and to persuade them of the folly they would commit should they nominate anyone but himself for the leading place on their national ticket of 1888. He juggles with election returns to show the immense Republican losses between 1880 and his campaign of 1884, and modestly claims that in that contest he won back many Northern States from the Democrats. In making this claim he intimates that he would have an easy task to beat Cleveland in the campaign of 1888.

In effect Mr. Blaine says: "If, notwithstanding this letter, you make me your candidate, I will see to it that you carry every Northern State but one."

Mardi Gras.

Birmingham did not have a Mardi Gras pageant this year and this is the way the Chronicle speaks of such a show:

That relic of barbarism called Mardi Gras is fast sinking into the oblivion it merits. It is nothing but child's play, and as men become more manly they put away childish things. The people of New Orleans laugh in their sleeves at the avidity with which visitors run after this tinsel show. Of course the Crescent City will keep up this puppet pageant just as long as there are fools enough in the country to spend money to see it, but people are becoming wiser. The north tried Mardi Gras, and it was a miserable failure. The northern people love money too well to throw it away. The south is becoming more and more northernized. The age is fast becoming materialistic. Mardi Gras is being swept into the grave that swallowed up gladiatorial contests, bull-fights, and the tournament.

Will Be Held for Homestead Entry.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Messrs. Herbert, Cobb and Bankhead were before the committee on public lands to-day on the bill pending there to class the public lands. They favored making all the lands subject to homestead entry only, and opposed the reservation from sale or entry of the timber lands. The original bill proposed to withdraw from sale or entry all the lands which were chiefly valuable for timber. At the instance of Gen. Wheeler, who is a member of the committee and another member from Alabama this feature has been modified and as the bill now stands will leave subject to homestead entry, all the lands except those which are unfit for cultivation.

A terrible cyclone at Mount Vernon, Ill., destroyed many lives and much property on last Sunday.

LOCAL DOTTINGS.

The base ball fever is taken rapidly among the boys.

Mr. E. W. Chapman, of Jemison, was in to see us Tuesday.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Chills and Fever Cure is a specific for Chills and Fever, mild in its action and warranted a certain cure. 50 cents.

The irrepressible draught board was brought into use during the rainy spell.

A large supply of base balls and bats just received at the View Stationery Stand.

The View is again furnishing its readers with Dr. Talmage's excellent sermons.

Many suffer from irritation of the Kidneys and Bladder without knowing what is the matter with them. Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm will give relief.

Read the advertisements in the View. You will find much in them to interest you.

Mr. J. F. Welch, of Plantersville, was in Clanton Tuesday and paid the View a pleasant visit.

Mr. Wm. C. Robinson, son of commissioner Robinson has entered school at the Clanton Academy.

If you are suffering with weak or inflamed eyes, or granulated eyelids, you can be quickly cured by using Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Eye Salve. 50 cents a box.

Mr. C. of the Gregory & Co. Lumber Co., at Stanton, spent one day in Clanton last week and called on the View while here.

Whatever you fail to think of, don't forget to come around and pay your subscription while in Clanton court week.

Dr. J. S. Johnson was all smiles last Thursday. A bright, bouncing, 12 pound boy baby came to his house Wednesday night.

To allay pains, subdue inflammation, heal foul sores and ulcers, the most prompt and satisfactory results are obtained by using that old reliable remedy, Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment.

Go to Blank Brothers, Leading Clothiers, 2112 2nd Avenue, Birmingham, Ala., to buy anything you need in the way of clothing and gent's furnishing goods.

Attention is called to the advertisement of M. C. McRee, in another column. Mr. McRee keeps a nice line of dry goods and groceries and will sell as cheap as anybody. If you don't believe it just try him.

The rainy weather of the past few days has retarded building operations and lumber cutting. It has also thrown a damper on the dollar pitching craze and rather cooled off the fever of the base ball boys.

We learn that a lodge of Knights of Honor will soon be organized at this place. We are glad to hear it as we would like to take some stock in it ourselves. We suppose they extend to editors the customary free pass.

New Shoes at Sampey's.

I have received a large lot of stylish and serviceable shoes and have marked them as low as I can afford to sell good shoes. I have a special shoe at $1.25 for men's wear and one at the same price for the ladies. Finer grades in proportion to the quality and finish of the goods. New clothing and hats this week. Call and see them.

Yours Truly,
W. L. SAMPEY.

We will be glad to see any of our friends while they are here during court and especially those who are indebted to us as subscribers.

Just received on commission 10,000 pounds nicely cut and cured pea vine hay. As a rich and nutritious stock food it has no equal in this market.

There will be two concerts in Clanton during the coming term of our circuit court. The Baptists will give one the first week and the Episcopalians will give one the second week. The proceeds from both of them will be used for church purposes.

The Clanton boys are in a dilemma as to what to do for a baseball ground. All the grounds previously used for that purpose having been fenced in and built upon. We would suggest their trying to secure the ground used by the shooting club last summer.

There are many accidents and diseases which affect stock and cause serious inconvenience and loss to the farmer in his work, which may be quickly remedied by the use of Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, by its vitalizing properties, will brighten pale cheeks, and transform a pale, haggard, dejected woman into one of sparkling health and beauty.

Mr. A. J. Brooks, Verbenas' merchant prince, has been chosen as the merchant of the Farmer's Alliance of that section. Knowing Mr. Brooks as we do we feel justified in saying that this arrangement will prove very beneficial to the Alliance as well as to Mr. Brooks.

In the past two weeks the View Job Office has turned out a large lot of letter heads, bill heads, envelopes and commissary checks, and a lot of county blank printing in addition. The work comes from different sections of Chilton county and some of it from as great a distance as Birmingham.

Sick headache is the bane of many lives; to cure and prevent this annoying complaint use Dr. J. H. McLean's Little Liver and Kidney Pills. They are agreeable to take and gentle in their action.

Ladies who experience a sense of weakness, and sometimes lameness of the back, should use Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, it will supply the much needed strength and overcome all weakening irregularities.

The mail failed to get off again Thursday night. We trust our subscribers will bear with us in receiving their papers late as we cannot help ourselves. The railroad company seems to be a bigger concern than Uncle Sam and the only alternative we know of is for them to voluntarily stop and take on the mail.

A movement is on foot by the Episcopalians of Clanton, to build a house of worship here. From the progress made the past week in that direction by the parties in charge of the work the indications are that in a very short time the church will be built. The location they have in view is just opposite the Methodist church. A beautiful location.

Disease lies in ambush for the weak, a feeble constitution is ill adapted to encounter a malarious atmosphere or sudden changes of temperature, and the least robust are usually the easiest victims; Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier will give tone and vitality and strength to your entire body.

For physical ailments, especially those incident to declining years, there is no remedy that produces such satisfactory results as Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm, its general and invigorating effect on Liver and Kidneys is remarkable.

We would advise all parties who will have to attend court at this place during the next two weeks to come with their "pockets full of rocks," for by the time they pay up arrears on their subscription and the Ladies' Aid Societies get through with them they will have to walk home unless they come with their wallets well filled.

Mr. T. M. Edwards still has his advertisement in the View to which attention is directed. He is now handling a nice line of dry goods in connection with his grocery business and will give you bargains in whatever he has to sell. There have been some important changes made in this firm recently which will be made known through these columns shortly.

Our old maid hereby tenders Mr. Leonard Gallahorn a most abject apology for alluding to him as a tobacco "juice-squitter," as it has been learned that his grinders never associate with the filthy weed; and it is generally conceded that the man who does not chew tobacco is more of a gentleman than the man who does. Perhaps an apology to the tobacco chewers will be in order next week.

Church Notice.

Rev. W. G. Curry, of Verbena, will occupy the pulpit at the Baptist church next Sabbath, at 11 A. M., and Rev. J. M. McCord, of Celera, at 7 P. M. The subject for the evening hour will be "The Scriptural Qualifications and Duties of Deacons." Deacons elect, J. C. Lawrence and W. L. Sampey will be ordained at the evening service. Rev. C. W. Hare, of the Alabama Baptist, is expected to be present and participate in the exercises. These are able ministers, and the occasion will be an interesting one. A. E. Burns, Pastor.

Amusing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive at least to try one bottle, as 30,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, in the United States and Canada.

Mrs. M. J. Marsh, of Birmingham, desires to inform her many friends in Clanton and Chilton county that she is now prepared to give splendid accommodations to both transient and regular boarders at reasonable rates. She is located in a new brick building on the corner of 20th street and avenue A south; very convenient to the depot. She solicits the patronage of the people of this section. When you go to Birmingham stop with her. feb16-4t

A Reproof to Jim.

Brownwood (Ga.) Reporter.

Jim Freeman, of the Waycross Headlight, taunts us for being unmarried, and says no woman so foolish as to wed "one of our sort" can be found, is the reason. Jim is a married man, and we reckon he thinks he cornered the last foolish virgin, but he's mistaken. Should we happen to find in these parts one who would hitch on to us, we would have and subject her to one of the wire grass variety.

When you feel depressed don't dose yourself with mean bitters. Hodges' Sarsaparilla renovates and invigorates the system, and cures all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood. $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5. Manufactured by Ransom Root Medicine Co., Nashville, Tenn. Sold by all druggists.

Hardships of a Western Editor.

"Our paper in two days late this week," writes a Nebraska editor, "owing to an accident to our press. When we started to run the edition Wednesday night, as usual, one of the guy ropes gave way, allowing the forward glider-fluke to fall and break as it struck the flunker-flopper."

This, of course, as anyone who knows anything about a press will readily understand, left the gang-plank with only the flip-flap to support it, which also dropped and broke off the wapper-choke. This loosened the fluking between the ramrod and flunker-slasher, which also caused trouble. The report that the trouble was caused by over-indulgence in intoxicating stimulants by myself is a tissue of falsehoods, the peeled appearance of our right eye being caused by our going into the hatchway of the press in our anxiety to start it, and pulling the coupling pin after the slap-bung was broken, which caused the dingus to rise up and well us in the optic. We expect a brand new glider-fluke on this afternoon's train. —Chicago Tribune.

The Old Elmira Prison.

We find the following published in the Montgomery Advertiser: Mr. J. F. Maull, of Strasburg, Ala., was one of the Confederate prisoners confined at Elmira, New York, who made his escape. A short time since he wrote a letter to the Elmira Gazette making some inquiries about the old prison and received the following patriotic reply:

ELMIRA, N. Y., Feb. 16, 1888.

J. F. MAULL, Esq.: Dear Sir—Yours of the 8th was received in due course of time and I hasten to respond. In May last I visited the site of the old Confederate prison in a professional way and enclosed a slip from the Gazette of May 13th which describes the situation about as it is. About half of the lot is built over but the remainder is much as it was in the old days. The general features you will doubtless be able to recognize. By all means come to Elmira. We will try and make the visit a trifle pleasanter than your last? The army boys, those who are left, will make you think you are at a thanksgiving family reunion. We would like very much to have you write for us an account of your escape from prison. Make it full and long and we promise for it the best place in our columns. Everything about the prison is of wonderful interest to the people of this vicinity, and it has been proposed to make the boundaries so that the spot may be more closely identified by the visitors who go there. If you come to Elmira do not forget to give us a call. I can present you to many of the boys who wore shoulder straps, rheumatism and some other mementoes down in your part of the country and who would welcome you as heartily as could be desired. It doubtless would interest you to know that the plot in Woodlawn, where so many of your comrades are buried, is carefully kept and preserved from sacrilege. The grass is as carefully trimmed and the graves kept free from weeds as those of the militiamen echoed impartially over both. Come to Elmira and we will make the visit a pleasant one, and please do not forget to write us an account of the escape. A speedy answer will be appreciated. Very truly yours,

WILLIAM C. FENNER,

Asst. City Editor Gazette and Free Press, Elmira, N. Y.

OVER THE COUNTY.

Neighborhood News Gathered by Our Correspondents.

Hapleville Dots.

The farmers are hard at work making ready for the coming crop. St. Valentine has held supreme rule in our town since the 14th. It seems that Mr. Frank Kelley is hard to keep up with. He has returned from his trip to Rome, Ga., and has settled down on the farm for a year at least. Mr. James Coleman, of Selma, spent two days with us last week. Come again Jim, and the next time you come, we hope you will have your moustache sprouted. The light form of measles has now turned to something serious in the case of Mr. H. C. Bearden, who is now quite sick. Setting hens and planting gardens are the chief occupations of the country folk.

It won't be long before some of the young ladies of our town will be applying for a patent right on scissors as a surgical instrument for marking pigs.

Upland Rice.

TO THE FARMERS:—The time is near at hand to plant a rice crop for this year, and it is almost a general thing that almost every farmer will plant for home use if no more.

One acre of good upland well cultivated will make about 40 bushels rough rice (44 lbs to the bushel) that will yield 25 lbs clean rice after paying toll.

I have my new process rice mill at Baker's mill, owned and kept by Mr. Thos. Motes 2 1/2 miles east of Clanton. He is a good miller. He says the rice mill is in working every week. As the machinery wears smooth it is easier adjusted and breaks the rice less, and he thinks in a short time he can clean with very little breakage. Mr. Motes thinks he will be able to supply the demand in Clanton in a few weeks. The samples turned out now are nearly all head rice, which is worth from one to two cents per pound more in the market than cracked rice.

I think it is safe to say that every farmer that plants upland rice for a money crop can afford to take the CHILTON VIEW and pay his store bills before they are due. It will more than double corn and cotton, with less than one-half the labor to cultivate.

Call and see the mill work.

The great Renting railroad strike has ended. The company won.

W. W. Corcoran, the Washington philanthropist, died last week.

A Paris paper says "the people of St. Louis, D. T., are dying of a disease called the blizzards."

The Birmingham Herald says that at least $200 damage was done at the Hewlett saloon by the Sullivan-Ellis shooting.

The San Francisco Bulletin says: "Many a broadcloth husband owes his prosperity to the fact that he married a gingham girl."

Mr. Abell, proprietor of the Baltimore Sun, is worth $20,000,000, and is said to be the richest newspaper man in the world.

Selma will have had four conventions before the year ends, the agricultural, dental, press and congressional conventions.

Dr. David Hostetter is the most heavily insured man in this country. The aggregate of the policies held by him is $800,000.

Ex-Treasurer Ike Vincent is said to be dying of consumption in his convict cell at Pratt Mines. If this is true he ought to be turned out.

The Honduras Congress is discussing a bill for the establishment of a national jury system. Trial by jury is as yet unknown in that country.

Bill Brown, a poor but honest New York newsboy, went to Dakota seven years ago yesterday without a rag to his back. Now he is covered with 'em.

J. L. Sigman, of Rockcastle, Ky., in 1861 shot William Higginbotham, a 16 year old boy, because he hurried for Jeff. Davis, and he is now to be tried for the murder.

Mr. Chappell Cory is writing some excellent letters to the Montgomery Advertiser on the resources of southeast Alabama. We would like to have him do the same for central Alabama next.

Blaine sends from Florence, Italy, to the New York World, an emphatic statement that he will not allow his name to be used in connection with the next Presidential nomination, and insists upon the sincerity of his withdrawal.

Gen. Sheridan reassures the country that he would not accept the nomination for the presidency if it should be tendered him by the republican convention. The general is exercising himself over this matter quite unnecessarily.—Dispatch.

It is telegraphed from Santa Barbara, Cal., Mr. Joseph Pulitzer, of the New York World, is threatened with total blindness. He went to California for the benefit of treatment, but his experience has been disappointing. The Santa Barbara oculists have advised a trip abroad.

The whiskey tax is a war measure that should be buried along with the memories of that war. The federal government is not dependent on this source of revenue for being administered, and there is no good and substantial reason why it should not be abolished.—Dispatch.

Col. C. C. Shorter will be a candidate again for the legislature. He will undoubtedly, we think, be chosen to succeed himself. He will be the most prominent candidate then for the speakership of the next house and it is universally understood that he will be chosen to that place.

The Greenville council and county have appropriated $300 to be used exclusively in getting up a pamphlet to advertise the town. The citizens will increase the amount to $2,000. Here is a pointer, and it shows of what the enterprising towns of Alabama are capable.

The Tennessee Legislature is evidently determined to break up the pernicious and cowardly practice of carrying concealed weapons. The House passed recently a bill imposing a fine of $100 on anybody who carries a concealed and deadly weapon other than a pocket-knife. This penalty is sufficient to any man who carries a weapon.

Alabama Steel.

The iron men of Alabama, who have all along maintained their faith in the possibility of making steel from the iron they produced, some time ago determined to practically demonstrate, on the first opportunity, the fact which they so strongly believed, and last year when Mr. James Henderson who is the inventor of a process for converting iron into steel, arrived in Birmingham, he had no difficulty in disposing of his patents, and a company was organized with ample capital to thoroughly test the invention, and should the test prove satisfactory, to build in that city the largest steel plant in this country.

Preparations were commenced some months ago, and pushed forward steadily, until within the past week everything was in readiness. Yesterday the first test was made, and, as will be seen in our telegraphic columns, it was most satisfactory. It is now an established fact that steel can be made from Alabama iron by the Henderson process, and at a cost which eclipses anything ever before heard of in the production of that metal. The day of Pennsylvania's reign as the iron and steel center of America is at an end. Henderson steel from Alabama pig, at a cost of $16 per ton, is cheaper than the Pennsylvania iron master can produce his pig, and Alabama Henderson steel can be laid in Pittsburg or Johnstown at a cost of converting Pennsylvania pig into Bessemer steel.

The dawn is at hand. Yesterday was a great day for Birmingham and Alabama.—Montgomery Dispatch.

Better Times all Around in Birmingham.

Birmingham Chronicle.
There is a prospect now of a break in the miserable weather we have endured for months and there is also a bright promise of a better day for this city. We have had a dull winter because there has been but a slight demand for real estate.

The history of real estate here is the old, old story that needs no more telling. But for weeks now there has been a gradual demand for residence property at fair prices. On both sides of the city there has been a number of sales. The architects are busy with plans for many new residences, and the building prospect is very fine.

The Kansas City road is giving the city a growing business, as is the Georgia Pacific, and there is not a train on either that does not bring shoppers and country merchants to this market. In a few weeks the Georgia Central will be running into the city and a new field opened to our trade. This new road reaches marble, brown ore, limestone, kaolin, brick clay and immense timber forests. To our retail grocers it will bring country produce of all kinds. To our retail dry goods dealers it will bring customers.

Steel can now be made of our low grade iron and all the heavier steel needed in the South can be sold here at prices below competition. This means a number of smaller industries employing skilled workmen. For years it has been said that if iron could be made here cheaply the future of Birmingham was already assured. Well, steel can be made here cheaply and the already assured future of Birmingham is made doubly sure by our steel works.

All these things are restoring confidence and little by little money is being taken from the bank vaults and put into circulation. In other words, confidence is restored and the bottom reached in depression and a happy revolution is already felt. The coming summer will be one of the best we have yet known. Everything looks better.

The Public Land Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The bill proposed by the Committee on Public Lands to regulate the disposal of public lands, has been so amended in the committee stage of the bill that all public lands, whether mineral or other, shall be subject to entry under the present homestead laws, provided that one-half of the proposed homestead entry shall be susceptible of cultivation. The proposed minimum price of mineral lands has been fixed at $10 per acre, and the minimum price of $10 per acre for timber lands has been removed.

Gov. Wheeler will endeavor to amend it in the House to subject all lands to homestead entry after one year from the passage of the bill.

Gen. Fairchild is evidently very sorry he spoke. Every time his name is mentioned the remembrance of the three palsy cures is suggested. It is said that this is making the general very unhappy, and that he is very anxious to have his speech forgotten. Very likely he is, but he should recollect there are some things that can never be forgotten, and his ferocious speech on a very trifling matter is one of them. The three palsy cures will continue to be inseparably connected with Fairchild's name in the future.

With a railroad completed to Maplesville to connect with the East Tennessee & Virginia system of roads, Montgomery would be on the high road to prosperity—a fact its people appreciate to the fullest extent. But whether they have the ability to contribute the amount required of them to build this road, is another question. If they can, the question for them to ask, will it pay to do so? From a point, the Dispatch answers that it will, and it thinks it an opportunity the city cannot afford to let go by unimproved.—Dispatch.

Birmingham Herald: "Sergeant Jasper was a brave soldier of the revolutionary war who died in heroically rescuing his colors from the British."

The Herald is mistaken in its history. Sergeant Jasper won his fame in rescuing the American flag in the engagement at Fort Moultrie on Sullivan's Island, June 4th, 1776. He was not killed until three years after, Sept. 9th 1779, in another engagement near Savannah, Ga.

William Steinway, the piano manufacturer was elected a member of the National Democratic Executive Committee at its recent meeting in Washington, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Hubert O. Thompson. This was a victory for Cleveland. The selection of St. Louis as the place of meeting of the national convention is thought to be another victory for the administration.

Miss Annie Jordan, of Montgomery, a young lady of sixteen years wandered away from her home and was found dead last week in the woods near Union Springs. It is thought she was outraged and murdered. When she left home she was suffering with temporary mental aberration. A negro has been arrested on suspicion of having committed the crime.

Miss Mary J. Carpenter, of Randolph county, escaped from the insane asylum at Tuscaloosa last Wednesday evening, wandered down on the railroad and just before day Thursday morning was struck by a freight train and killed. An inquest was held, which exonerated all persons and she was buried at the asylum.

Since 1872, every candidate for Vice President has come from Indiana. This may be an encouraging little boomlet for Governor Gray, who aspires to that position. If precedents hold good, Gray will stand a fair chance for the second place when the convention assembles at St. Louis, in June.

The Knights of Labor threatened to boycott the Democrats if they held their convention in the new auditorium at Chicago. The Democrats will not meet in Chicago so the threat cannot be enforced. But the Republicans will hold their convention in the boycotted building.

Many Fires at Montgomery.

Special Telegram to The Herald.
MONTGOMERY, ALA., Feb. 27.—Montgomery has been on a boom since 2 o'clock this morning in the way of fire alarms, having had five. One half of the buildings burned were built during the war, at a cost of $37,000 in Confederate money. The others were slight and mostly covered by insurance.

Feb. 27th '88.

In Brief, and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Drowsy food, rough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

More than a Million Dollars.

A few months ago the editors of the Brewster Times wrote up their town and county, and the wide awake merchants of the place purchased thousands of copies of the paper and sent them over the North.

As a result of that little investment in printers ink several large plants have been established in that county, aggregating more than a million dollars capital and now these same merchants have raised money and are having a descriptive pamphlet gotten out to further advertise that now booming town. Good for Brewster.—Greenlee Advocate.

Farmers Alliance.

In a notice of the Chambers County Alliance, the Lafayette Sun has taken to this any of the organization:

The interest that the farmers are taking in these agricultural associations in Chambers county shows that the agricultural interests are going to be increased and the farmer of this county is bound to see better days. The time has come when the farmer must think as well as work and he is beginning to realize that following the plow and driving the hoe do not alone make a good farmer. They are beginning to realize that agriculture is a science as well as labor. We are glad to see this disposition among our farming classes. If we can put our agriculture on a higher plane; if we can arrive at the point when our farmers are out of debt, our fields teeming with the results of scientific and thoughtful labor, then every industry in Chambers county will prosper. The success of the merchant, the lawyer, the doctor—in fact the success of every vocation or profession in this county depends upon the farmers. We are glad to see him strive to get on a higher plane.

If the Farmers' Alliance comes up to its declaration of principles, it is certain to do good. We welcome the organization to Chambers county as we welcome anything that proposes to benefit our farming classes.

Chauncey Depew's great speech at Chicago having come contemporaneously with Blaine's withdrawal, ought to have given the New York orator more of a boom than it has done for Republican nomination. That railroad presidency is a millstone about the neck of Mr. Depew's political aspirations.

The president on his way home from Florida was greeted by the North Carolina Legislature with a demand for the repeal of the internal revenue taxes. It would be a good time for him to send in that supplementary message that was spoken of before Christmas.

A representative of the Knights of Labor delivered a lecture at the Academy on Tuesday night.

See two notices of the Alabama Mineral Land Company, one of which is a notice of mortgage sale.

The convention to nominate a Democratic candidate for President will meet in St. Louis on June 6th.

The following beautiful words set forth a very engaging kind of greatness and are from a student of modern Science:

"Of all kinds of greatness, the greatest is achieved by him who stands before the world as a model of every day virtue; dear to flattery, insensible to petty criticism, patient of opposition; dull to self-interest; calmly superior to the misjudgments of the shortsighted; whom nothing diverts from the effort to live nobly, and to whom noble means are as necessary as noble ends; in whom the most brilliant successes foster neither vanity nor arrogance; to whom fame is unimportant, and poverty a trivial circumstance: whose joys, like fragrant breezes from an encircling landscape, come from the friendship of the general world, to whose best interests the noble heart is forever loyal."

The Brooklyn Eagle makes the safe prediction that every vote cast in the St. Louis convention on the first ballot will be for Cleveland.

The Rockford Enterprise, in a glorification editorial, favors the re-election of Senator Morgan.

J. F. MAULL.

H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier will give tone and vitality and strength to your entire body.

For physical ailments, especially those incident to declining years, there is no remedy so sure as Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm, its genial and invigorating effect on Liver and Kidneys is remarkable.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Beecher's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive at least to try one bottle, as 50,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try sent free of cost. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in the United States and Canada.

For Sale.

The negro university will not be located in Montgomery, the Supreme court having declared the law establishing it unconstitutional.

The news goes out all over the world to-day that steel has been made in Birmingham, and with that news goes the assurance that here lies the site of the future great city of the South.—Herald.

The republican party in the state is not dead but sleeping. It is trying to arouse itself and is pinching its limbs and rubbing its eyes, and otherwise trying to get its blood to circulate. The state executive committee of the party has been called to meet in this city on the 6th inst. The object of the meeting is to call a state convention to select delegates to the national convention and to transact such other business as may be deemed advisable. The convention may see proper to put out a state ticket. It is to be hoped so at any rate. This would bring out the full democratic vote, which would bury the republicans under a majority of about 50,000, and would undo the democrats all along the line.—Dispatch.

Senator Beck's Warning.

Said Mr. Beck, of Kentucky, to a party of Republicans who sat in the cloak room of the Senate the other day smoking their after lunch cigars and discussing the Blaine letter, and he spoke with a very broad Scotch accent: "You fellows may laugh and you may crow, but I want to warn those of you who have pretended to be for Blaine in the past not to show too much joy over his withdrawal from there's vengeance in him yet. He'll be popping up among you yet, like a jack in the box, and every mother's son of you will run like a frightened deer. I've known Jim Blaine for a third of a century, and I tell you that you can't keep him down. He can write a thousand letters like this and still be a candidate for the presidency. He's got the maggot in his brain, and it will stay with him till he dies. Mark my words, now, he won't stay down; he couldn't if he wanted to, and he doesn't want to."

Public School Statistics.

Hon. Solomon Palmer, State Superintendent of Education, sends the View his annual report for the scholastic year ending September 30th, 1887, from which we cull the following in regard to our own county:

Number of children of school age in the county, 4,256; educational fund for October 1st, 1886 to September 30th, 1887, $8,385. The classification of this fund gave the white children $2,654, and the negroes $731. The number of white children was 3,386, and of colored children 870. The fund was disbursed as follows: The white teachers received $4,100; colored teachers $894. This looks strange as it is greater than the total amount at command during the year, but the discrepancy is probably due to the use of surplus funds of the preceding year. The average monthly pay of white teachers was $23; and of colored teachers $20. The total average paid teachers during the year was $89. The number of schools taught was 52 white and 14 colored. The average number of pupils enrolled to a teacher was 64 for whites and 44 for colored. The total enrollment in the schools for the year was 2,527, of which number 2,000 were white children and 527 colored. The average length of the schools was only 60 days.

Political.

During the past eight days, we have interviewed a large number of prominent and influential citizens from different sections of the county on matters political. The peculiar political condition of the county was freely discussed and the generally expressed opinion was that it would be inexpedient and nowise for the Democracy of the county to make nominations for the coming August election. Nearly every one of the large number expressing an opinion on the subject was a strict party man and a supporter of the organized Democracy, four of them being members of the county Democratic Executive Committee. Such unanimity was a surprise to us and we give it to our readers for what it may be worth.

Four years ago the View advocated in open convention the expediency of making nominations for county offices, after a careful study of the political conditions by which we were surrounded. We were then misunderstood if not misrepresented. Our resolution was tabled and nominations made. Can any one claim that the party has gained strength in the county by these nominations? We think not. And a number of the citizens whom we recently interviewed agree in this, and their opinion now is that the Democracy may be able to gain strength in our county during the next few years by a "wise and masterly inactivity" in the matter of nominations for the August election; a policy which even such a positive political character as John Randolph of Roanoke often advised.

Mill's Tariff Bill.

A prominent citizen of Montgomery, A. T. London, Esq., gives his views on the tariff bill now before congress. We publish an extract below which will be heartily endorsed by many of our readers, and will furnish some interesting information:

"The Mills tariff bill has been presented to the committee on ways and means and many papers have given it their approval, but it seems to me, it strikes so serious and fatal a blow at a large and growing interest in Alabama in common with all the other southern states as to call for action on the part of the southern press. I refer to lumber and timber which it is now proposed to put on the free list. So long as the forests of the northwest furnished a supply of cheap lumber to Chicago, Milwaukee and the other great western lumber markets we heard no complaint, but a purely protective tariff was maintained to keep out competition from the south, by means of the tariff, is enabled to pay the difference in the cost of lumber and thereby secure a home market, the western lumber manufacturers, with the selfishness which has always characterized their action, say we have used up our own forests under the protecting influence of the tariff against Canada and by a repeal of this same tariff give us protection against the south. The injustice of the proposed repeal of the duties on lumber will become manifest when the facts are considered. Alabama with her vast pine forest has sought and found a market for her product in the great west and north and today the combined product of Alabama timber and lumber exceeds in value the entire cotton crop of the state, and apart from this, the lumber industry is developing sections of the state which heretofore have remained a burden. In the single exception of iron, I am safe in saying that no single industry has induced so much capital to come into the state; and the question is presented squarely, to Southern Alabama especially, will it be to the interest of Alabama to be put in direct competition with Canada in the northern and western markets?"

The Montgomery Advertiser, in noticing the resignation of Mr. W. L. Chambers as president of the First National Bank of that city and his probable removal to Sheffield, compliments him highly, and has this to say in conclusion which will be of interest to our Maplesville friends:

Montgomery, however, will lose as much and more than Sheffield will gain, and we cannot look on the more than probable departure of Mr. Chambers as less than a matter of public lament. The mineral district has made no heavier draft on us than this. This, however, is a matter for the future. For the present, his retirement from the bank is to meet other business requirements that are pressing on his time. He may or may not go to Sheffield, but before he does he proposes to secure one great enterprise to Montgomery, to build which caused his resignation several weeks in advance of the time he had contemplated. This is the road from here to Maplesville, and to its construction he will from now on give his whole time and energies.

A correspondent of the Montgomery Advertiser writing from Birmingham says of Vincent's health:

The story of Ike Vincent's dying of consumption at Pratt Mines, which has been eagerly taken up by some of the State papers and urged as a reason why he should be pardoned is a fake. Vincent is in excellent health and bears his confinement well. I asked Dr. A. T. Healy, of the Board of Inspectors, to-day if Vincent had consumption. He laughed at the question and said he had never seen any symptoms of the disease in Vincent. The ex-Treasurer is still working in the tailoring department and it is said he now gives an excellent fit in striped suits.

Report of the Grand Jury.

SPRING TERM 1888.

To His Honor, Judge J. W. Lupton: As Foreman of the Grand Jury for this term I beg leave to submit to your Honor the following report. The Grand Jury has diligently looked into all cases brought to our attention, and have found 13 true bills, being all that we thought justified our attention and which we believe can be sustained.

We have examined the books of the Circuit Clerk, Sheriff, Superintendent of Education and Probate Judge and find them neatly kept and we are most correct.

We have also examined the books of the Treasurer and find that he has published a statement in our county paper purporting to show his account current with the county from July 1st, 1887, to January 1st, 1888, and we find that while his vouchers fail to show amounts paid out as he has shown in his published statement, still his vouchers show that he did actually pay out $26.84 more than his statement shows and instead (as per his published report) of owing the county the sum of $1,000.00 he is now owing the county the sum of $1,026.84.

We further find that his book containing the fine and forfeited fund, has a thorough examination since June 20th, 1885, having been simply run over from time to time, and we would respectfully suggest that the county employ a competent bookkeeper to go through not only the fine and forfeited fund book, but all the books belonging to the county, and a published statement be made. We make this suggestion simply because we believe that no man but an expert can do the work.

We have also visited the offices of the various officers and would suggest that the Circuit Clerk should have a good desk, also that the Register in Chancery have a desk and an iron safe in which to keep his valuable papers. We would further suggest that a room be built for the benefit of the Superintendent of Education, Treasurer and Assessor and furnished with such desk, tables and other articles as is necessary for their use. We would further recommend that our courthouse should be insured.

We would further suggest that the jail house immediately in the rear of the courthouse is a nuisance and is dangerous in case of a fire and should be removed at once. We regret to say that on an examination of our county jail, it is in a bad condition. It has only been in use two or three years and cost a large sum of money, and we find it showing signs of bad leakage and as a matter of fact is wet yet from leaks. Now we would respectfully ask that a fine be put upon such parties, who have been paid to look after the county's interest in this matter and failed to do their duty.

We would also respectfully suggest that the entire courthouse could be better kept as to cleanliness.

We have examined bonds of all our county officials and we believe them to be good. We thank you for your able and lucid charge and all the county officers for their kind attention. We would especially thank our able solicitor for his kindness, his affable and pleasant manners, coupled with his willingness at all times to render us all the assistance of an able council, and a man whose heart is too big for small things. "Long may he live!"

Having finished our work we would respectfully ask to be discharged.

The report of the last grand jury as elsewhere published will not be a surprise to those acquainted with the affairs of the county. The grand jury is a body constituted with full power to call for reformation in the manner which this report does, and the report is to be commended as one which proves that the body did not desire to shirk its responsibility.

In Brief, and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is the most complicated and wonderful thing in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cooking, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics. But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this bad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Mrs. M. J. Marsh, of Birmingham, desires to inform her many friends in Clanton and Chilton county that she is now prepared to give splendid accommodations to both transient and regular boarders at reasonable rates. When you go to Birmingham stop with her.

OVER THE COUNTY.

Neighborhood News Gathered by Our Correspondents.

Jemison Locals.

The greater part of our town has been at Clanton this week "courting."

Miss "Nan" Sherill, a charming young lady of this county, paid her sister, Miss Kate Sherill, a most pleasant visit a short time since.

Our K. of H. Lodge will soon be in working order. We expect to commence work with 25 charter members.

Jemison was visited by the tall end of a Dakota blizzard last Tuesday. Fortunately it lasted only a few minutes, as some of our citizens thought of emigrating further south.

Mr. I. N. Langston has been surveying some town lots and opening up a new street in West Jemison this week, for the accommodation of parties who desire building lots in that part of town. Several have already applied who mean business.

On Wednesday, the 23d ult., "Arbor Day" was celebrated at Jemison Academy and the occasion proved a most pleasant one. At the request of Col. Palmer and county superintendent Hicks, Prof. Speer and his excellent assistant, Miss Kate E. Sherill, had made appropriate selections for recitations by the school, many of which were well rendered. It being Washington's birth day the exercises were doubly impressive. They were crowned with a short introductory speech by the Principal, after which followed prayer by Rev. D. L. Lindsey. Next came Washington memorial exercises by the school, which interested the audience very much. Rev. A. E. Burns, who is ever awake to the educational interest, gave a very instructive and interesting address on the subject of arbor day. The selections for "arbor day," consisting of appropriate recitations and songs, were rendered by the school. Prof. J. M. Corderie addressed the school in some very forcible remarks, consisting of moral conclusions drawn from the occasion. His speech was brief but to the point. The delight of the day was greatly increased by the music of Mrs. O'Connor, the Misses Lowery, Missie Wells and Genie Durham and Messrs. Culpepper and Will and Robt. Durham. About 80 trees were planted, dedicated to the following persons: Hon. Jefferson Davis, Gov. Steag, Solomon Palmer, Supt. Ed., J. P. Allen, J. M. Corderie, I. J. Hunt and I. N. Langston, Board of Directors, A. E. Burns, former principal, Misses Mollie and Sallie Liles, former principals, Prof. G. L. Speer and Miss Kate Sherill, present principals, Mrs. O'Connor, music teacher, Rev. J. C. Hand, citizen, G. W. Demarus, ex-member Board of Trustees, J. H. Hughes, citizen, Willie Hubbard, former student, S. J. Heath, citizen, Mrs. Heath and J. M. Woolley. The dedication ceremonies, conducted by Rev. A. E. Burns were beautiful and impressive.

May the students of Jemison Academy remember and practice the moral lessons learned in the first celebration of arbor day at Jemison. X. Y. Z.

Home testimonials are most reliable, and if you will send your name and address we will send statements of numbers of the best citizens of Nashville reflecting the wonderful cures effected by Ethiopian Pile Ointment. It never fails. 50 cents a tin per bottle. Manufactured by Rungum Root Medicine Co., Nashville, Tenn. For sale by all druggists.

Cooper's Station News.

Rev. Hardy Jones filled his regular appointment at Chestnut creek church last Sunday and preached an excellent sermon.

There are a great many cases of mumps and measles in and around Cooper's.

We were glad to see Mrs. A. J. L. Dennis out at church last Sunday. She has been sick for some time.

We think the View is very interesting with Dr. Talmage's sermons and think the sermons are worth what the View costs and urge the people to subscribe for it.

Mrs. Mattie Norris and Will Allen were married Tuesday the 28th ult. We understand they were married in Justice Traywick's blacksmith shop at Verbena. They have since moved to Birmingham. We wish them a happy life.

We would like to hear from all parts of the county. Reckon the Six Mile Creek writer is dead, if not we would like to hear from him. Log hauling is lively considering the roads being so bad. Vox.

Dixie Dots.

We have had a little rain here of late we think.

Mr. McCord filled his regular appointment Sunday evening.

Stanton in the northern suburbs of Dixie, has a flourishing literary society. Hurrah for Dixie.

Mrs. Givhan, of Jemison, is visiting her daughter Mrs. Gilliam.

New building going up on Water street, also store on corner of Broad and Water streets.

Mr. Balet Bivings, of Clanton, has returned home from a short visit to the family of W. A. Smith.

Mr. H. Stewart, of Plantersville, spent Sunday with his sisters at this place.

We are very sorry to say that Mr. James Peebles has left our town for Ashby where he is now in business.

"Refreshing showers" Sunday night. Seems it was rather destructive as next morn three old maids were found half drowned on Water street; sad, sad sight.

There is nothing more plenty than religious creeds, and nothing that men will wrangle about more fiercely, and nothing that is of so little importance to any one, and nothing that is lived up to so poorly.

Mr. William D. Westcott is a candidate for Sheriff of Montgomery county. Mr. Westcott is an affable, popular gentleman, who is not without experience in the duties of the position for which he offers, and the sheriffalty would be in safe hands should he be elected.

The Tukegee News says: Gov. Watts has been mentioned as a suitable person to represent Montgomery in the next legislature. Should he consent to allow the use of his name in this connection, we hope he will be nominated. He is a great and good man and would adorn any position in the gift of the people.

The Democratic State Executive Committee met in Montgomery on the 7th inst., and fixed upon May 16th as the day and Montgomery as the place for holding the next Democratic State Convention. The representation was fixed at one delegate for each 300 votes cast for Gov. Seely at the last State election. This apportionment will give Chilton five delegates.

Senator John J. Ingalls, of Kansas, is a withered, but venomous little reptile of the John Brown species. He threw off a large amount of his gill upon the south and its sympathizers in discussing the pension grab bill last week. He was answered by Senator Blackburn, of Kentucky, and he evidently felt very much smaller after Blackburn's castigation. The Kentucky Senator was familiar with his history and showed him up in his true colors.

A terrible storm in New York and Washington, on the 12th inst., resulted in much damage and suffering. People were frozen to death on the busiest streets in New York. At seven o'clock P. M. the following telegram was sent out from the latter city:

The storm is increasing and is absolutely unprecedented. Business has been paralyzed. At the Stock Exchange, less than fifteen shares were sold. This is the smallest on record. Produce markets were all nominal. The steamers City of Berlin, and LaCompanie arrived out. The weather stopped the courts. Jurors and witnesses, even in murder cases, were unable to reach the city. Every street car in New York, Jersey City and Brooklyn, and the elevated trains all stopped. The Brooklyn bridge and all ferries were almost abandoned. Down town hotels are crowded with suburbanites. The elevated roads, which run three thousand trains daily usually, were stopped, the first time on record. Westerners declare that Dakota never furnished New York's blizzard of to-day. Of thirty mails that are due between 4 o'clock a. m. and noon, only two arrived by 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Senator Vest on Pensions.

Senator Vest, of Kentucky, made an interesting talk in the Senate recently on pension frauds. He said:

The reports of the commissioners of pensions shows that when the series of pension bills of 1879 was passed, there was some application for pensions pending. The very next year the number of applications jumped to 110,000. The claims agents invented that law and put a restriction on it and the number of applications for pensions jumped in one year from 40,000 to 110,000 and the amount of disbursements from thirty millions to fifty millions.

Mr. Vest went on to say that at the 2,300,000 enrolled as soldiers during the four years of the war, there were applications from 1,200,000 for pensions on account of disability. Such military execution had never been known in the history of the whole world. The Confederates had thought that they had poor powder and ordinance stores, and yet, making due allowance for the effect of the climate in producing disability, it would appear that one Confederate soldier, half clothed and half fed, had disabled three of his adversaries. There had been as such destruction in military annals since the children of Israel marched through the wilderness, destroying whole nations in a single day. The marksmanship of the Persian Prince in the Arabian Nights, whose arrows crossed mountains and rivers, and despatched space in their flight, had been nothing to the Confederate soldier's. His bullet must have killed two or three at the same time, and struck where it was not aimed. Fifty per cent. of the loss of the Union army were applicants for pensions on account of disability. Who, he asked, believed that they were honest applicants? Who believed that these pension bills had not degenerated into a political abuse which cried aloud in the faces of all honest men for redress? He had great regard for many of his friends on the opposite side of the chamber and in the words which he had spoken, he had wished to give an opportunity to some of them who had lurked back in the contest over the bill to throw a shining lance among the "Confederate Brigadiers" and try to carry off the Republican nomination for the Presidency.

THE PUBLIC ROADS.

A Chilton Who Has Investigated Their Condition Gives Some Sound Views in Regard to Their Improvement.

Replying to yours of the 12th asking me to give my views on working the public roads by contract, I take pleasure in giving them to you, but before doing so I wish to assure you and all who might take up an idea that I want to get out of road duty from now on, I will say that I am past the working age hence am free the balance of my days and what I may say I hope will be of benefit to my adopted county and no one will take any exceptions at what is written for I have nothing but good at heart.

As the roads are now being worked at instead of worked, we must try by calculations to see what it is costing us under the present system and you know the adage, that figures properly made can't and won't lie. It is a conceded fact ordinary labor at all public works in this county is $1 per day. The road laws say that the overseers can and must call his hands out 10 days in a year (if required) which of course shows that every man between the age of 18 and 45 is taxed $10 per year for this specific duty. Now as near as I can gather we have 3000 men subject to this duty which is 30,000 dollars it is now costing the county, and as we all know we have no roads now. All farmers know that to do the roads any good when worked they have to be worked in good weather and just at a time when no farmer is willing to lose the time away from his crop and perhaps he would, if he could stay on his farm, prefer to pay twice as much as his time is usually worth. The loss of this time when so much needed causes to many a farmer such a set back that his crop never recovers. Right here I wish to inquire who does this 30,000 dollars come out of, it certainly does not come from the rich men or the medium rich men who could afford to lose it. No it is pulled out of the laboring men of the county, who are the least able to bear it, men I happen to know who it takes every day they can put in at work to make both ends meet. I have a way of knowing about some of them, men with large families who take every day's wages to keep them from letting their little ones suffer for bread, and I assert that I don't believe it is right for these laboring men to have to make roads for the well to do to ride on in their buggies, drive their 6 steers or 2 horse wagons over. There is no justice in it and I appeal to all good men to let's try and lessen the burden of those men who are not so fortunate as we are. It is our duty and we should do it. I say let's devise a way that each and every man can be made to bear his part of the burden and I believe I can suggest a remedy and it is this: Let us have a law passed if possible allowing the county of Chilton to have its roads worked by contract and taxation. I can't say that my plan is a perfect one but I think with help and the better judgment of others we can build on my plan until we can make it perfect. Now while I object seriously to the laboring man keeping up the roads for the benefit of the richer class, at the same time I say they must do their part, and propose to put it in this way. As they walk the roads it is right for them to help keep them up, so I propose a tax upon them of $2 per head—not only on them but on all between the ages of 18 and 45.

Let every man who owns oxen, horses and mules, over two years old be taxed say 10 cents per head, and the land say of one per cent, and let's see how we will come out.

The abstract shows that we have 63,198 head of horses, 38,260 head of mules; 20,000 head of steers, (this is a guess as it does not show any steers but we know they are here) making a total of 121,458 head of stock to be taxed. There are 399,743 acres of land at a valuation of $650,234.00 and town property valued at $117,129.00, besides the government land subject to entry and not taxable. Now let us recapitulate and see how it shows up.

RECAPITULATION.
3,000 Men at $2.00 $ 6,000.00
121,458 Horses and Cattle 10c 12,145.80
200,463 worth of property 1 of 1 per cent. 1,463.00
Total $19,608.80
This shows a net gain to the working people of this county, of $10,386.20, which is quite an item and the burden falls upon all equally. Now let us contract the roads to be worked by the lowest bidder. Let him accompany his bid with a good bond for double the amount of his bid, which will insure it being carried out. Give him sufficient time to give the roads a thorough working, and then let the county commissioners force him to put up first-class work and make the roads all one grade, and have them kept up to the standard. Let the roads be straightened, which will save at least 100 miles in the travel. Have the roads all posted properly so that we can know where to go. (He can't know now.) A first-class man can take hold of this contract and make money for $15,000, which will be sufficient pay for all bridge building and causeways, etc. In three years from date of contract we could see the results of our change, which will not only save $30,000, but a one horse farmer could take his wagon with three hales of cotton and trot all the way to market. The man with two horse wagon and six horse wagon could all double their loads and the man of property could sit behind his bob-tail bays and strike a two-forty kick and go quick, and last but not least the man who does not own a horse and has to go on foot will start out knowing he can have a pleasant walk all the way over a good smooth road and can cross creeks and branches dry shod.

In speaking of this $2.00 taxation on men of no property I have met with opposition from some, I don't know what they are all for, but I prefer it to a chance to work it out. Let them go to the contractor, work according to his directions and do as much work as his hired men do, and work four days. Then take the contractors receipt, carry it to the Probate Judge, and get a receipt from the Judge, who will enter the amount against the contractor to be deducted from his pay. The working man will then save six days work in the year and is not out any money. By having strictly first-class roads parties hunting for trouble and for all that we are a "git up and git" people, and will say if there is not something in the land, these people would not have such roads. The rise in the value of lands would pay the property man for the extra tax, and would come in coming in will be sure to make work for the laboring man, hence every class will be benefitted. The farmer can work his crop to suit himself instead of being pulled on the road, and that poor devil of a saw mill man, will not be overworked and harassed by his work, part of them working one road and the rest at home for three or four days, and as soon as they get back the others go on another road; for it doesn't seem to matter how many roads roads go to work at the same time. Then the road overseers, how I pity them (I know how it is for I've been there). What a relief to him to know that every time a little bad place comes in a road that every foot in the neighborhood will send him word: "Better work that road or I'll report you to the grand jury," not thinking or caring that for every bill found against the poor fellow, he won't get off for less than $100 at best. Men usually take risks for money or property, but in this case it is forced on a poor devil, and if he does not do his duty, he is cursed by everybody, and if he does do his duty and have good roads, his men abuse him for making them work, and for all shilly, what does he make, simply get relief from the road for two years, 20 days, or say $20.

In conclusion let me say that we can have a first-class county if we will try. Health perfect, and we can raise every kind of fruit or vegetable that we want together with cotton, corn, rice, oats, wheat, peas, sugar cane, etc. In addition, we have minerals and timber which should attract the attention of capitalists and to develop which will take more labor for the farmer, for he could sell anything he makes at a better price. Now help me to work this thing up and do our county good, and let us not vote for any man for the Legislature who won't promise to work at this point, no matter what his political complexion, and try to have a special law enacted for the benefit of Chilton county.

Very Truly,
J. F. MAULL.

Jemison Locals.

A negro brakeman on a freight train was run over here while switching a train last Saturday evening, and died in about two hours after.

Dr. J. P. Givhan has now moved his family to Jemison. The doctor's excellent wife and charming daughter are quite an addition to the society of our town, and we extend to them a hearty welcome.

Mr. Mollie Allen has opened a first-class millinery shop in Jemison; such an establishment is much needed here, and we wish her much success.

Mr. C. H. Durham is enlarging his residence. When finished and painted it will add much to the appearance of north Jemison.

From the "Spirit of the Times," June 26, 1888. The old idea that a spavin was incurable has been given up before the improvements made by modern science. Among these wonderful improvements must be mentioned the most successful remedy ever discovered for the cure of this disease, Kendall's Spavin Cure, one that is certain in its effect, and will not blister. It is prepared by Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt., and has received praise on every hand for its thorough and reliable work in cases of spavin of hock lameness. It is a certain cure for rheumatism, enlargement of the joints, corns, etc., while blood purifying and internal enlargements promptly disappear on its use. It is a standard remedy among horse owners and breeders, where its work has often been proven. It is for sale by all druggists at $1 per bottle or six for $5, or will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt.

Through this section of Chilton we have a goodly number of farmers who by good judgment, economy and thrift are learning to "live at home."

In many respects we find this a pleasant little community, rendered doubly so by the privileges afforded in church and school matters. That worthy gentleman the Rev. J. Ledbetter serves the Methodist Protestant church at this place, and about one mile from the Mill Rev. D. L. Lindsay serves the Methodist Episcopal. At this church, known as "Pierce's Chapel," we have a good school taught by Mr. Davis. There is some talk of building a school house and engaging this excellent young man to teach another session. This is a wise consideration and deserves the attention of every citizen.

An official call will be published next week.

"Oh, the hog, the beautiful hog, curling his tail as he watches the dog, defying the law for his bread and meat; roaming at large in every street, hunting, grunting, nosing around, 'till the open gateway is sure to be found, with hinges broken and ruined quite, by the lovers that hung there Sunday night; it won't be shut, it won't hang level; in walks the hog and raises the very mischief."—E.

Nature usually makes a gallant fight against disease, and when helped by Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier will eradicate it from the system.

Many whose occupations are of a sedentary character, often have the feeling of being literally worn out, and are reminded very forcibly of declining years when if they knew what ailed them, they would find all their troubles arise from the inaction of their kidneys or liver. If they would at such times take Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm would again feel the vigor and strength of maturity.

Capt. C. C. Coleman, representing the Sloss Iron & Steel Co., of Birmingham, came down Friday and "scooped" the convicts sentenced to hard labor for the county at the recent term of the circuit court. There were four. Their names were J. R. Fulghum, white, Joe Daniel, Henry Thomas and George Green, negroes. Daniel is the darky who gave his wife such a fearful beating at Dixie only about ten days ago. They will all be put at digging coal at the Coalburg mines on the Georgia Pacific Railroad.

Notes on Clanton.

VERBENA, March 12th, 1888.

EDS. VIEW.—Having a knowledge of your town from its first existence, I desire to make a few notes in reference to its progress.

I have known Clanton since the first courthouse was built out on Walnut Creek, where it burned. Mr. Alfred Baker deserves much credit as the founder of the town upon its present site and for several years he took a prominent part in its upbuilding, but the progress seemed to be very slow.

Last week I had occasion to attend court. While there, in company with a friend, I took in the town. I had not done so in several years. We did not stop until we had walked entirely over the town upon both sides of the railroad. We were both surprised at the progress made in the last four or five years. We noted about twenty-five new residences not including those now building. I wish to say to the citizens of Clanton that the progress their town has made, and its future prosperity as well lies right at the door of the View.

None of its citizens can deny that the town has done pretty much all of its growing since the establishment of the View. There are some always ready to say that the county paper is no account, that it can be read in fifteen minutes, and costs too much. I just want to call the attention of this class to the good the paper has done Clanton and Chilton county. They should subscribe for other papers as well but they should never neglect to subscribe for and read the paper that is published at home and is always vitally interested in the progress and improvement of its section. Respectfully,

A VISITOR AT COURT.

Give Them A Chance!

That is to say your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Roscoe's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

Raffling an Indictable Offense.

The Supreme Court yesterday, in the case of Johnston vs. The State, from St. Clair Circuit Court, decided that the taking of a chance, and engaging in a raffie conducted in a public place, by the ordinary mode of throwing dice, was indictable as playing at a game with dice in one of the places prohibited by statute. The same thing had been decided in the case of McInnis vs. The State, in 51 vol. Ala. Reports, 1874. Judge Saffold delivering the opinion in the case. In Hawkin's case, 33 Ala., Judge Walker has decided that, in 1855, raffling was not indictable, for the reason that it was then licensed by law. There is no law which now licenses the practice, and hence the distinction made in Johnston's case just decided.—Montgomery Ad.

QUAINT AND CURIOUS.

The state is unknown in Belgium heretofore, the law prohibiting credit for drinks.

In the year 1848 the royal head of France paid $3,000 to have a corn removed from his toe.

A Milford (Penn.) correspondent says that thirty feet at a bound is no uncommon jump for a wildcat.

A thread has been produced from the common nettle so fine that a length of sixty miles weighs only two and a half pounds.

An elephant lives 400 years; a whale, 300; a tortoise, 100; a camel, 40; a horse, 25; a bear, 20; a lion, 20; an ox, 25; a cat, 15; a dog, 14; a sheep, 10; a squirrel, 8; a guinea pig, 7.

At the mouth of the Congo there is a remarkable submarine valley. Just at the mouth of the river it is 1,455 feet deep, and it can be distinctly traced for a hundred miles out to sea.

During her twenty years of married life Mrs. John Guest, of Wichita, Kan., has presented her husband with twenty-two children. She has twice given birth to twins and once to triplets.

The Berlin beer drinkers are the fastest in Europe. In a certain saloon a mechanical lion roars when a new cask is tapped, and that incites every one to finish his glass and order a new one.

The natives of Central Africa had never before seen a woman who wore skirts and long hair until Mrs. Hobbs, wife of the explorer, came among them, and they regarded her as a supernatural being.

The oldest piece of carpentry in the world is a wooden throne which belonged to a queen of the eighteenth Egyptian dynasty. It is more than 4,000 years old, and was recently presented by Jesse Haworth, a collector, to the British museum.

A Hanibal (Mo.) man says that he went into the woods a few days ago and painted a black circle on the end of a log, and when he went back to the spot an hour later he found 300 dead rabbits there. They had mistaken the circle for a hole in the log and dashed themselves to death against it.

A traveler on a Georgia railroad wanted to get off at a station where the train did not stop. It was after dark, and so when the conductor would not agree to stop for him, the passenger went to the front platform of the rear car, drew the conductor out, and when he was alone he jumped off.

A queer custom prevails among the Indians of the Kuskum country. It seems that if a native woman is agreeable to a change of husbands, the question of her possession is decided by a wrestling match between the two rivals, in which the victor carries off the woman. The vanquished combatant does not appear to entertain the slightest feeling of anger or resentment against his more successful opponent.

The die of the Goddess of Liberty used on our coins was first by Spence, the inventor of the Spencerian bath. He cut a medalion of Mrs. Washington, wife of General Washington, and some of the first issue of coins were struck with her portrait. When General Washington first saw them he was much displeased, and requested that the figure be changed. Mr. Spence then placed a cap on the head, altered the features a little, and called it the Goddess of Liberty. It has been used ever since then without material alteration.

Interesting Facts About the Ocean.
At the last meeting of the Royal Society of Edinburgh, Dr. John Murray of the Challenger Expedition made a communication on "The Height and Volume of the Dry Land and the Depth and Volume of the Ocean." According to his own investigations, Engelberg says, the mean height of the globe was 2,830 feet above the sea level, and the mean depth of the ocean was 12,490 feet, or 9,660 fathoms. If the ocean were regarded as being divided into two parts by the 1,000-fathom line, it would be having less depth than 1,000 fathoms was 2,938 feet, or 383 fathoms, or nearly the same depth beneath the sea as the height of the dry land above it. On the other hand, the mean depth of the area beyond the 1,000 fathoms was 14,440 feet, or 2,440 fathoms. The former area, called by Dr. Murray the "transitional area," occupies 34,000,000 square miles; and the latter area, which is the abyssal area, and is situated fully three miles below the average heights of the continents, occupies 118,000,000 square miles. Again, should the whole of the surface of the earth in the transitional area of the ocean there are many and varied conditions in respect to light, heat, currents, changes of level, the character and variety of the deposits, and in the animals and plants which inhabit the various parts of the region.

The deposits are in most respects similar to those which make up a very large part of the sedimentary formation of the dry land. In the abyssal area there is a uniform sea level by being removed to and piled up in the shallower waters of the ocean, then its extent would be about 90,000,000 square miles, and the rest of the surface of the earth would be covered by an ocean extending to 118,000,000 square miles. Again, should the whole of the solid land be reduced to one level under the ocean, then the surface of the earth would be covered by an ocean with a uniform depth of about two miles. — St. James's Gazette.

A Famous Almanac.
The Legislator is one of the most famous almanacs in the world. It is published at Liege, where the first edition was issued in 1636, and is distinguished by the accuracy of the statistics and others which cannot read. Its instructions are followed by many of the states of the world in connection with certain dates. Thus a pair of scissors indicates the proper time for cutting the hair. A vial denotes the right season for the season in liquid form, a pill box the season for taking pills. The almanac is purchased by many as a book of advice, dates being regarded by them as of a secondary importance. — Detroit Free Press.

The Apothecary's Balance.
Before apothecary stores were closed, the balance was used by the apothecary. He could keep his balance, as he should. So, on the day of the balance, he did not. "Why are you not using the balance?" said he. "I have used it for years, and it is broken." — Rev. 17-18.

3500 Reward.
If you suffer from dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharge falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at other times scanty, mucous, purulent, and bloody; if the eyes are weak, watery, and inflamed, and there is ringing in the ears, deafness, and a feeling of constriction in the throat, and a sensation of dimness, with mental depression, a hacking cough, and general debility, you are suffering from chronic nasal catarrh. Only a few of the above named symptoms are given, which often bleed, and which, if not treated, will lead to consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is more common, and more dangerous, less understood, and more successfully treated by physicians.

Dr. J. C. Catarrh, of New York, in good faith, $2,000 reward for a case of catarrh which he can cure. The remedy is sold by druggists at only 50 cents.

Super-Making.

The practicability of making merchandise from sugar is likely to have a satisfactory test, the corresponding plant of Kansas having received to make advantage of the successful experiments of the Bureau of Agriculture last autumn. The latest report says that arrangements have been completed for the erection in Garden City, Kansas, of a sugar mill at a cost of $100,000. Citizens subscribe to the stock and pay a bonus of $35,000.

Beastly woman, from whence came thy bloom?
Thy hair, eyes, thy features fair?
What kindly hand on thee was laid—Restoring thee with beauty rare?
"Was not ever thus," the dame replied,
"Once paid this face, these features fair,
The favorite prescription of Dr. Pierce Wrought the wonderful change which you behold."

Rev. Dr. McGlynn emphatically denies that he has asked to have his case reopened.

"Necessity is the Mother of Invention," O'Carroll is not an invention, but it makes Taylor's Hospital Cure a necessary one. Address 854 Broadway, New York.

ST. JACOBS OIL

RHEUMATISM.

The Case Stated.—Jan'y 17th, 1883. Messrs. C. Osgood & Co. Druggists, Lowell, Mass., wrote to the undersigned as follows: "Mr. Lewis Dennis, No. 188 Moody street, wishes to recommend St. Jacobs Oil, and desires especially to say that—

"Ours Robinson, of Granville, Mass., a boy of 12 years, came to his house in December of 1881 walking on crutches, his left leg being bent at the knee for over two months, and could not be bent back. Mr. Dennis had some St. Jacobs Oil in the house, and gave it to him to rub on his knee. In six days he had no use for his crutches, and was well without them, as he has been ever since."

Corroborative and Conclusive Testimony.—Lowell, Mass., July 9, 1887.—Gentlemen:—Mr. Lewis Dennis has just called upon me, and informs me that the boy Olin Robinson, who was a poor cripple on crutches, and who was cured by St. Jacobs Oil in 1881, has been and is now at work at manual labor; the case certainly proves the efficacy of St. Jacobs Oil.—Dr. Geo. C. Osgood, M.D.

Times: According to the decision of a Denver jury young man kill a woman he is in a "transitory frenzy" not guilty of murder. If there one of the bad young men of wild Western city aspires to be a murderer he must uphis victim calmly and de-delately, pull off his mittens, on his fingers, chat pleasantly her to show that he is not at angry, request her kindly to move her collar (provided it is intention to cut her throat) or to off her corset (if he is determined to shoot her), and then, af-assuring her in the presence of witnesses, that he is not "mad at er," proceed to moisten his hands, and calmly put her to death. That ged a murderer.

The Interest of Immigration.

The letter from Mr. W. W. Wilson, of Oxford, which is publicized elsewhere in this paper should generally read and acted upon.
propose to go to some expense getting out an extra edition of View for Mr. Wilkinson to north. If we can obtain a ann or more of real estate ading for this edition we will be uraged to make its circulation more extensive. We propose get out just as large a number extra copies of the paper for such as the advertising extended all justify. Immigration is the main hope of this section of country and those having property for sale should advertise it now. The blizzards of the north and west are forcing many people to seek a milder climate. If you have land or residence property for sale advertise it and give the price at which it can be bought. The low price of such property in the South will be an inducement for many to come this way.

We propose to do our part in this work and we simply ask the co-operation and assistance of others who are alike interested.

Alabama Year.

Birmingham Chronicle.
This is to be Alabama year. We have had booms and depressions without number, and now we are settling down to an even prosperity.
With all our ups and downs our progress has been very steadily onward. This year, we have promise of a season of opportunities. Tens of thousands of visitors are coming from the colder states to look about for business and homes.
There is likely to be a vast flood of people from the blizzard frozen west, who are anxious to farm on lands where the frost never checks the plow. They are people who will have money to buy lands and they have not been accustomed to live under mortgages. They are, in fact, the very people we want.
We have more land than we need,
and if the owners will be content to sell part, that the part held be made more valuable, we will have a lot of new blood in our agriculture. The people are coming and they wish to stay. If we sell them lands they will at once improve them and make them and those near them more valuable within a year.
Our timber section is now becoming of interest to the world. If the tariff on lumber is not removed by congress, our timber will rapidly enhance in value. Our forests are now as good as any in the world and men and corporations are buying large tracts of them whenever they can.
This is to be an era of investigation and investment in our good state.

Call For a County Convention.
ROOMS OF THE COUNTY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE DEMOCRATIC AND CONSERVATIVE PARTY OF CHILTON CO.
CLANTON, ALA., Mar. 20, '88.
At a meeting of the County Executive Committee held in Clanton Ala., on the 12th inst., a Convention of the Democratic and Conservative Party of Chilton County, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the various county offices to be filled at the August election, to recommend to the Government four persons for appointment as Commissioners to compose the "Court of County Revenue of Chilton County," for the appointment of delegates to the State and General conventions, and the selection of a Co. Ex. Committee was called to meet in Clanton, Ala., on Saturday, May 6th, 1888, at 11 A. M.
As fixed by the Committee, the several polling places of the county will be notified, respectively to the following member of representatives in the county convention.

Mims X Roads 8 Verona 16
Jemison 8 Cooper's 8
Providence 8 Kincheon 8
Benson 8 Mapleville 10
Macedonia 8 Latham's 8
Clanton 20 Dixie 90

The election of delegates to the county convention will be held under the management of the respective committees of the several voting places, at their respective polling places, on Saturday, April 21st, 1888.

All white citizens of Chilton county who have heretofore acted with the Democratic and Conservative Party or who intend in the ensuing August election so to do, are earnestly requested to attend at their respective places of voting and take part in the election of delegates to the county convention.

Ex-Governor Watts.

Birmingham Chronicle.
The presence of ex-Gov. Watts on our streets brings to mind the striking contrast between the new and old order of things. A representative of the south of antebellum days he stands on the streets of a city that is a type of the south of to-day. Whatever may be the defects of the system of slavery, it certainly produced the grandest race of men the world ever saw.
Ex-Governor Watts is one of the grandest figures of that race. He was born in the year that Alabama was admitted to the union, and his life seems inseparably linked with this grand old State. He has seen Alabama rescued from the wilderness, and placed among the first in the sisterhood of States. He stands like a colossus, with one foot upon past, and the other upon the present.

Newspaper Ethics.

If a lawyer is asked to plead a cause he demands a fee before he opens his persuasive mouth. You may go to the naughty one before he will give his legal services gratis. If one desires to know what investments are good and likely to be profitable the broker who advises him is quite sure to charge a commission for making the purchase.
Why then, should an editor be expected to advocate all sorts of public projects pro bono publico? The contractors for improvements make money out of them. Why should the editor not pay the editors who present their arguments to the public?
It is not considered derogatory for the highest lawyer in the land to appear before the city council and advocate the granting of a franchise but the editor who charges money for doing the same thing is assailed with cries of "a subsidized press!"
We are not saying that the cry is unjust, but we do ask where the difference is between that which the lawyer is praised for doing and that for which the editor is denounced. The man from whom a lawyer asks a fee proceeds to draw his check; the man from whom the editor asks pay cries "blackmail!"
Yet both do the self-same thing.
Why is there one code of morals for the bar and another for the press?—Printer's Circular.

Newspaper Advertising.

The business world of thirty years ago held advertising as beneath its dignity. Advertisers were regarded as queer and irregular; steady-going business houses felt ashamed to acknowledge the necessity of advertising their goods.
Now the position is exactly reversed and he who does not advertise is not only known as queer, but left behind the times, backing down hill instead of pulling up. Thirty times as much is spent now in advertising as was invested thirty years ago and all classes now are forced to accept the fact that the newspaper is the most impersonal, dignified, surest and speediest manner of securing patronage.
That it is profitable is quickly proven by a trial. A long list of the great advertisers of the world who have accumulated immense fortunes, proves it. The largest advertisers in the world are, as a rule, intelligent, progressive, conscientious and successful. The last vestige of prejudice against advertising has departed. The man or woman who hopes to achieve anything good or great without it will be disappointed and become an isolated failure in his or her community, with an unenviable notoriety for old-fashioned stupidity. If success is a desideratum, the sooner the better is recognition of the truth that steady newspaper advertising is an investment as sure as any other.
It is as necessary an item of expense as rent or insurance, and certainly as modest a manner of making known your wants as failures.
Like railroads, newspapers are great public thoroughfares and the moving world must get aboard or be left behind.—Greenville Advocate.

About Printers.

I wish I was a printer, I really do, indeed; It seems to me that printers Get everything they need— (Except money.)

They get the largest and best Of everything that grows, And see free into creases, And other kinds of shows— (By paying an equivalent.)

At ladies' fairs they're almost hugged By plenty girls who know That they will praise up everything The ladies have to show— (That's so.)

And then get a blow out free At every party feed, And the reason is because they write And other people read— (That's what's the matter.)

Our Sunday schools are not as well attended as they should be. Clanton has a large number of children who never attend Sabbath school and who should attend regularly every Sunday; their parents should see to it that their places in their class are never vacant when it can possibly be avoided; and the teachers in the school should also look after the scholars and bring them out. Picnic talk brings them, but that only lasts during the first summer months. We want something to bring them out all the year round.

Nature usually makes a gallant fight against disease, and when helped by Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier will eradicate it from the system.

Many whose occupations are of a sedentary character, often have the feeling of being literally worn out, and are reminded very forcibly of declining years when if they knew what ailed them, they would find all their troubles arose from the inaction of their kidneys or liver. If they would at such times take Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm would again feel the vigor and strength of maturity.

Immigration.

The following letter from an enterprising and energetic friend, Mr. W. W. Wilkinson, of Oxford, Ala., will explain itself to the people of this county:

Oxford, Ala., Mar. 10, 1888.

EDS. CHILTON VIEW:

MY DEAR FRIENDS: I am about to get off on a western tour in the interest of immigration to Alabama, and as you have a live town and paper you can send me papers or other advertising matter from your section to carry with me on the trip. Any one having a lot of cheap lands or city property they wish to sell can send me a description of it or advertise it in your valuable paper, and by that means get sale for it and induce immigrants to come down South. Please direct my paper to Chicago, care of the Palmer House and oblige, Your friend,

W. W. WILKINSON.

Mr. Wilkinson is a gentleman of extensive means and with an indomitable energy that never fails in any undertaking. Those who may be in a position to do so can act upon his suggestion. We shall take pleasure in supplying him with all the advertising matter that we can prepare. Those having lands or town property for sale can advertise such in one issue of the View at a very low rate. The sooner such advertising is furnished us the better. We shall, about the first week in April, print an extra edition of the View to be forwarded to Mr. Wilkinson for free circulation. All desiring to do so should take advantage of this excellent opportunity to reach purchasers for their surplus real estate.

Give Them A Chance!

That is to say your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Roscoe's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 15 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

Death of Hon. W. E. Johnson.

Hon. W. E. Johnson, late representative of this county in the lower house of the General Assembly, died at his home in this place on last Thursday morning the 15th inst., from a short illness of heart trouble. His remains were carried to Brierfield, Bibb county, for interment.

He had been engaged in the practice of law at this place for a number of years. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity and quite a number of his brother Masons accompanied his remains to Brierfield and performed the last sad rite, their solemn and impressive funeral service.

The deceased left a number of relatives and friends to mourn his untimely death. A few days prior to his death he made his will; leaving all his worldly possessions, with the exception of any two articles of his personal effects to be selected by his sister, Mrs. Alvis, as mementoes, to his niece, Miss Mamie Brushwood, who has been his companion and housekeeper for several years, he being unmarried.

The View sympathizes deeply with the bereaved ones.

Mr. W. D. Lanier, formerly of this place, is now with Messrs. D. A. Childs & Co., at No. 2011, 1st Ave., Birmingham, Ala. They carry the largest stock of Dry Goods and Carpets, Matting, &c., ever brought to the South. Mr. Lanier will be pleased to see any of his many friends of this section, when they visit Birmingham, or will send samples of Dress Goods, &c., on application. Don't forget the number—2011 1st Ave., Birmingham, Ala. D. A. Childs & Co.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR TREASURER.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Treasurer of Chilton county, subject to the action of the convention of the Democratic and Conservative Party. J. C. LAWRENCE.

The Alabama Press Association meets in Selma April 19th.

The Tuscaloosa Gazette has thirty-two announcements of candidates for the county offices.

The sub-tropical exposition at Jacksonville, Fla., is attracting a great deal of attention about this time.

Chief Justice Waite, of the U. S. Supreme Court died last week. Senator Morgan is among those mentioned as a suitable man to fill the vacancy so occasioned.

Col. Thos. G. Jones, of Montgomery, is among those who have been very favorably mentioned by the press of the State for the United States Senate to fill Senator Morgan's place.

The moral tone of a newspaper is to be judged as much by what it excludes from its columns as by what it prints. It requires more judgment to determine what not to publish than what to publish. At times the newspaper man is compelled to offend some of his very best friends by a refusal to print their articles. He regrets it, but duty forces him to do so.—Greenboro Watchman.

The Birmingham Herald now thinks the plan of making nominations in Jefferson county will turn out alright. In speaking of the plan as a sort of prize puzzle, we got our cue from the Herald itself. The Herald has lately changed editors. However, we have not changed our opinion of the Jefferson plan, and will watch the outcome with interest; and hope the Democracy may not be "downed."

The Advertiser recently told of an old negro woman who called on the tax assessor of Montgomery county and proposed paying her poll tax, and that it took the assessor fully half an hour to convince the old lady that she was not liable for poll tax. With some of our poll tax payers it is exactly the reverse, and the assessor is often forced to talk himself hoarse to make them believe that they are liable for poll tax or any other tax.

The State Treasurer of Kentucky is a defaulter to the amount of $200,000. Thus three Southern States, adjoining each other, Alabama, Tennessee and Kentucky, furnish the world a mortifying example to ponder upon. Kentucky's Treasurer had been in office twenty-one years. We are not sorry for a State that will keep the same man in office that long a time. Rotation will come about after awhile, and we will continue an expensive experience until it does.

Elsewhere in the View, will be found the announcement of J. C. Lawrence, of this paper, as a candidate for County Treasurer, subject to the action of the Democratic convention. This is the first public announcement made for any of the several offices to be filled at the next August election. It is time all candidates who propose to come before the convention were making their announcements, as it is now only a few weeks before that body meets to make nominations. The View will have no special candidate before the convention, but will, of course, support the nominees of the Democratic party. Come up gentlemen, with your announcements.

The Labor Convention.

A convention of organized labor, composed of representatives of the Farmers Alliance, Wheel, Grangers, Knights of Labor, Typographical Union, etc., met in Montgomery last Thursday. We have not been able from reading the proceedings, to learn of much that the convention did, except to organize and appoint committees for various purposes. Chilton county was more largely represented than any other single county. The committee appointed will work in the interest of obtaining legislation favorable to the laboring classes. On the subject of the convention, the Montgomery Dispatch editorially says:

The labor convention, which held a two days' session in this city the past week, beginning on Thursday and adjourning Friday night, was a new development in Alabama politics. The convention was composed of delegates from the several labor organizations in the state, and was, we presume, a fairly representative body of men. They were expected to do a great many unwise and injudicious things, but they were discreet beyond expectations; they displayed more caution, prudence and conservatism than conventions usually do, and on the whole, their demands for improved methods in politics, and new legislation in the interests of the laboring classes were reasonably free from extremism. The Dispatch cannot agree with them in much that they did, but it believes good can result from their movement, if bad men, unscrupulous leaders, do not attempt to direct it, and divert it to their own use. But the reform that these men seek can be accomplished within the Democratic party more surely and certainly than outside of it, and they only injure their cause when they seek to set up an opposition, based entirely on new principles and issues they themselves, or any considerable number of them, cannot agree and unite upon.

The call was issued by the Knights of Labor, who seek to secure the co-operation of the farmers of the State. They may succeed in doing so. It is right that labor should be organized as well as capital. The Dispatch believes in organized labor. But the trouble is, that the interests of the farmer not unfrequently clashes with the interests of the miner or the mechanic, and no considerable number of the farmers can be counted on to renounce their allegiance to the Democratic party and go over to a new party. Better they think to bear the ills they have than to fly to others they know not of.

This new movement may amount to a great deal, however, and it may serve a good purpose. If it has the tendency to make the Democratic party more prudent and painstaking in making its nominations for public offices, it will have done well, and done the people a great service. It is an ill wind that blows nobody good.

Montgomery to Maplesville.

The Prattville Progress says: The incorporators of the Montgomery and Maplesville road petitioned the town council of Prattville to grant them a right of way through the Prattville Cemetery. The council met several days ago and granted the right of way and signed a deed for it upon the understanding that the deed would be void if the road is not built within twelve months.

We think this is indeed a strange request and are surprised that the people of Prattville, who have loved ones buried in the cemetery would have granted a petition for a railroad to be built and locomotives and trains to run through their resting place and thus disturb the quietude of that sacred and hallowed spot. Is the cemetery so immense that the railroad cannot be built to Prattville without going through it?

A Pork-Packer Tells Startling Things About Local Manufacture.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—There was a tremendous sensation in the house committee on agriculture, Wm. G. Bartle, of St. Louis, a pork-packer, was called to testify about local manufacture. He stated that hogs that were affected with cholera are frequently slaughtered and put on hooks in the packing house and sold along with the other pork. He admitted that he had frequently done this and he had no doubt that other packers everywhere do it. There was no use trying to conceal the fact. Thousands of hogs from infested herds are killed and sold as good pork. He had been in the pork business forty years and knew what he was talking about. The testimony created a decided sensation in the committee. The chairman and members of the committee are trying to suppress the facts as it is feared it may have serious effects on the standing of American pork in foreign markets where it is now looked upon with suspicion.

New News Came From Boston to the Age.

The freaks of telegraphy are wonderful. A few weeks ago an unusual thing happened which was written up by the California press. The San Francisco office found itself in direct communication with Tehran, the capital of Persia, and a conversation was carried on between the lightning alger of Persia and the one in the domains of the Shah. Another unusual feat was concluded in the Age office, during the Eastern blizzard. The readers of the Age noticed some important dispatches bearing the very unusual date, "Boston via London." The practical portion of the story is as follows: Boston was isolated from the continent by the destruction of all wires centering at the "hub." The operator consequently telegraphed the news to London; it went thence to Calcutta in France; thence to Lisbon, Portugal; across the Atlantic again by cable to Rio Janeiro; from there to the City of Mexico, and via Galveston to the Age's editorial rooms. Where's Puck's girdle?—Birmingham Age.

Maplesville Dots.

We had a very hard rain Sunday night.

We were glad to see our friend, Mr. L. H. DuBois, in town Sunday and also Mr. Bob Martin, of Ashby.

Mr. Will Kelley, of Plantersville, paid his friends and relatives a short visit last week.

Mr. Jim Peebles gave us a pleasant visit last week.

Mr. Nobles, filled his regular appointment here last Sunday; and preached a good sermon.

Mr. B. O. Glover, has gone to Florida on business but will be back in a few days.

We hope the festive youth, of Maplesville, will not again disturb the slumbers of her quite people.

The Dunes is going back to Dayton again soon where he will not be accused of tying people's gates and putting wagons and buggies on top of houses and putting three bells on one little yearling and stealing chickens and several other little mean tricks. DUNCE.

From Chandler's Mill.

Our little neighborhood is sadder over the loss of a good neighbor and a worthy christian lady, Mrs. Eliza Headley, more lovingly known in our midst as "Grandma Headley."

Mr. Davis dismissed his school on the afternoon of the 20th for a respite of two weeks. The closing exercises were not only interesting, but also a convincing proof that Mr. Davis is the right man in the right place. We wish him a pleasant visit home and a speedy return to his scattered little flock. Mr. Chandler's family, who have recently moved to the mill will be an interesting addition to our neighborhood in church and school matters and to our society in general. We welcome them heartily.

There is a house being erected for Mr. Griffin and family who will soon, we trust, be another helpful addition to our midst.

Mr. Frank Crosby, one of our mill-boys, was married on the evening of the 20th, to Miss Piety Hill, a resident in the neighborhood of Maull's Mill. Many kind wishes to the happy pair. J. M.

Stanton Puffs.

The Baptist Church has purchased a bell, and it has been placed in position. It will ring for services next Sabbath, April 1st. Preaching by Rev. J. M. McCord.

It may be possible that the three old maids found nearly drowned at Dixie a few weeks ago were doing penance for bad behavior.

Your correspondent will endeavor in future to keep your readers posted as to Stanton.

Mr. E. F. Fuller has built a residence in Stanton and intends making it his future home.

Mr. Oscar Broadhead, of Dixie, is said to be slowly recovering from a dangerous illness. We are glad to hear this. His brother Monroe is no better at this writing.

Stanton improves and grows as the days roll by, another enterprise is under full headway. Messrs. Fuller & Gandy have started a brick manufactory, they have purchased a valuable town lot upon which will soon be erected several brick kilns, there is some fine brick clay here which has been tested by experts and pronounced "magnificent." The gentlemen connected with this enterprise are men of nerve, backbone and true grit and will leave few stones unturned to make the brick business a success.

Capt. Jas. A. Harwood assisted by his lovely and accomplished daughter, Miss Manie, have a large and flourishing school here.

We were sorry to learn through the View of the death of Hon. W. E. Johnston.

The View is read with much interest by Stantonians as its well up with the times and pretty solid generally.

The new railroad from Montgomery to Stanton has created great excitement. Lots have gone into the air. Mr. C. W. Hunt offered to take $100,000 worth of stock in the road, but the company informed him that they had enough money.

There is to be a show on southside, sometimes called Dixie. A huge time is expected.

We think the woods would have to be burnt and the ashes well sifted to find the four Sunday schools that were published in last week's paper for Dixie. We have visited the place and have never seen hair or hide of any Sunday school.

Prof. Harwood had a large crowd to witness the speaking last Friday evening. The pupils did nicely.

We now have a flourishing literary society which meets every Friday night at 8 o'clock. They read or speak keep up a good size listenting. We have one young man who comes "severalteen" miles. We can hardly think he is so impressed with the whole society, but from the cut of his eye it is decided that is one individual. That's alright about the tiger.

Mr. B. Hernandez and family have removed to Birmingham. We will miss them.

Mrs. Sharp Harwood is visiting friends in Uniontown. We regret to see her take the train, but we can rest assured that she will soon return to the huge town of Stanton.

President Cleveland and Gov. Gordon both have a weakness for kissing girl children. The difference is, Gordon displays the best taste—he kisses grown up girls, and Grover takes the little ones.—Dawson Journal.

The rain of Monday night was the hardest yet, and will be the cause of no little damage. Houses leaked, farm lands were badly washed, and the railroad track was rendered unsafe in many places. A washout near Deatsville caused a delay of several hours to the mail train Tuesday morning.

Mrs. F. L. Ashley on last Wednesday presented Rev. A. E. Burns, pastor of Clanton Baptist church, a large and valuable collection of books from the library of her father, the late Dr. Sumner, one of the most eminent divines of the Baptist Church. This was a noble offering from Mrs. Ashley and was greatly appreciated by Mr. Burns.

The View is pleased to place on its exchange list the "Verbena High School Alpha." As its name indicates it is devoted to the interests of Verbena and her excellent academy. It is neatly printed, and is a very interesting and worthy publication. It is published bi-monthly at 15 cents per month. Everybody should subscribe for it.

A list of the managers of the several beat meetings, to be held at the different voting places in the county on April 21st, will be published as soon as they have all been received. Mr. O. A. Duke has purchased the interest of his late partners, Maj. J. M. Bivings and Dr. A. E. Bivings, in the saw mill business near town and will continue the business under the style of Duke & Sons. We trust that this does not mean that the Messrs. Bivings will move from our county. They are such good citizens that we would greatly regret losing them.

Baby Bunting Again.

One of the greatest literary hits of the season is the story of "Baby Bunting; or the Alphabet of Love," by Laura Jean Libbey which is at present being published in the columns of the New York Family Story Paper. The paper containing the opening chapters of this wonderfully popular romance appeared on the news stands this morning. The tremendous rush for that number by the young ladies of the town shows clearly that the publishers have struck a bonanza. The family story paper is for sale by all newsdealers, or will be sent to any address four months, postage free, for $1.00. Norman L. Munro, Publisher, 24 and 26 W. Newmarket Street, New York.

Mrs. Cleveland's Tired Arm.
 "I should think your arm would be paralyzed," a Washington correspondent of the Gloucester Democrat ventured to say Mrs. Cleveland after one of the shakeliest hand receptions at the White House.
 "It is tired," she replied, "but it is curiously enough, the left arm, not the right. General Grant was troubled the same way—the arm that tired was the one not shaken. This mysterious paralytic can be left to the physiologists."

A white brakeman by the name of H. E. Stephens lost his balance and fell between two cars on the L. & N. railroad at Cooper's Tuesday afternoon. The train passed over him and he was instantly killed. His remains were carried to Birmingham.

Our young friend and former employe, John Nat Thornton, is now at work on the Tuscaloosa Gazette. Nat is a young man of superior moral manhood and integrity of character, and we wish him that unlimited success which such qualities deserve.

Capt. R. F. Kolb, State Agricultural Commissioner sends the View a batch of Wisconsin papers, the columns of which show that the commissioner is steadily and earnestly at work in the blizzard-ridden north in the interest of immigration to Alabama.

Messrs. D. A. Childs & Co., wholesale and retail dry goods dealers of Birmingham have an advertisement in the View to which the attention of all wanting dry goods is called. Mr. Will Lanier is with this house, and will be glad to see his friends in this section when they may be in the city.

Attention R. R. L.

For sprains, bruises, rheumatism, cramps, inflammation, swellings, cuts, burns, etc., in man and animal, ring bone, windfall, epizootic, scratches, etc., in horses, Ransom Root Liniment is a sure cure. The "King of Liniments" is a universal verdict. Never fails to cure any ailment that can be reached by an external medical application. 50 cents per bottle. For sale by all druggists.

The Flood.

The effects of last week's rains will be felt in this section for a long time to come. The farm lands on the hillsides were very seriously "washed," and the lands on levels are still too wet to admit of ploughing. This will throw the farmers behind. Mr. J. M. Ponder says the greater portion of his land will not be in condition to plow for eight or ten days yet. Trains are now running through on time over the Alabama river bridge. Those to the L. & N. road was heavy but it might have been worse.

PASTOR AND DEACONS,

Clanton Church.

The View has two scholarships in business colleges that can be bought cheap by any one desiring to take a business education.

Obituaries are charged for at half rates, and we have no objection to publishing them; where there is a disposition on the part of the writer to pay for their insertion.

We have met with little encouragement in the matter of an extra edition for gratuitous distribution in the northwest, and must be disappointed in issuing it, having received insufficient advertising to justify us in getting out such edition. The present advertising patronage of the View would create the impression that it is published in a suburb of Birmingham.

Give Them A Chance!

That is to say your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are laid. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boesche's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR TREASURER.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Treasurer of Chilton county, subject to the action of the convention of the Democratic and Conservative Party. J. C. LAWRENCE.

Be sure to attend your best meeting on the 21st.

All Democrats should turn out to the best meeting on the 21st and elect good men to represent them in the convention.

Mr. James K. Jackson is the Governor's private secretary. If he doesn't take care, he will soon be dubbed "Jim the Penman No. 2."

Mr. J. L. Cobbs, of Montgomery, seems to be the coming man for State Treasurer. The people could not get a better man for the place.

The level-headed editor of the Chilton View has sensible ideas on the third term question.—Dispatch.

We are glad to be able to give the Dispatch credit for being level-headed on the same point.

The resolutions of New Hope Alliance published in another column sound like the thunders of discord were abroad in the land. The spirit of those resolutions will be endorsed by every fair-minded and self-respecting white man who reads them.

A prominent republican has the following to say in the state organ: The contest just ahead of us is one on which every republican should take an active part. Our opponents are divided and disunited. It behooves the republicans to be active and on the alert, from now until the close of the contest to make victory certain in many counties in the state and perch victory upon our banner.

The public offices in Chilton seem to be going a-begging this year. Up to date there has been only one announcement in that county.—Dispatch.

The public offices in Chilton seem to be going a-begging, and that will do to publish. But if the Dispatch was aware of the number of candidates in Chilton county waiting to see what the Democratic convention is going to do before they come out of the bushes, it would publish something different.

Gov. Bay has written a letter to the Sheriff of Lowndes county calling for an explanation of the circumstances attending the recent lynching of a negro in that county. The Governor attempts to impress the fact upon the Sheriff that he must at all times be prepared and willing to sacrifice his own life in protecting prisoners in his charge from mob violence. The Sheriff did not endorse the Governor's plan of manufacturing heroism on paper for his subordinates, and so replied. The consequence, the Governor and the Sheriff have both seized an opportunity to be the public with their little "broeze."

Dr. Ford, the defaulting school superintendent of Escambia county has been sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. Dr. Ford has been prominent in State politics and apparently was a most polished gentleman. He pleaded guilty and pathetically threw himself on the mercy of the court. Strong drink is supposed to be the cause of his downfall.—Jacksonville Republican.

It is questionable whether this class of unfortunates deserve extenuating sympathy. There can be no excuse for gambling or drunkenness in fiduciary officials. When by either vice public funds are wasted, the offense deserves the gravest punishment.—Birmingham Herald.

A Letter Credits A Breach.

Some effort is being made to throw the responsibility of Gov. Bay's recent letter to Sheriff Brinson of Lowndes, asking for information concerning the lynching of the negro Calloway, upon the Governor's private secretary, whose name was signed to the letter. The Governor as an officer, if not as an individual, is altogether and alone responsible for the letter, even if the private secretary had written it without the Governor's knowledge. We are no apologists for the private secretary, but if the Governor places a man in a high and responsible position, as that of private secretary, the Governor himself should be and will be held wholly responsible for the official acts of that secretary, whether his acts be foolish or wise.

The Port Payne Journal has heretofore been a staunch friend of Gov. Bay. It says of his letter to Sheriff Brinson:

This letter raises a point which is fraught with interest to the whole state. It attempts to establish in the hands of the governor a censorship over all subordinate officers, an innovation which cannot be too promptly or sternly rebuked. Such an authority is entirely outside of and beyond the governor's province. Besides this the letter itself is insolent in tone and attempts not only to lecture the sheriff but to dictate to him a course to pursue in such cases—that of losing his life in a useless effort to defend singlehanded, a prisoner, against the determined vengeance of an indignant community—a course which neither the governor, his private secretary nor anybody else with three grains of sense would pursue. The worst feature of the whole affair is that the letter was signed not by the governor but by his private secretary. Since when did the governor's secretary acquire the right to lecture officers? If this letter was written at the instance of the governor it was simply inexcusably improper and out of place; and if it was written by the secretary on his own motion it was a piece of unwarranted impertinence which should have been rebuked in terms even more severe than those used by the sheriff in his reply. The people of this state are not ready to see the governor assume dictatorship and will not be ready when next heard from. The governor's zeal for the supremacy of law is all right, but when we see a man convicted of rape last fall and sentenced for life and pardoned three days after this letter was written, such extraordinary veneration for law and justice makes us exceedingly fatigued.

Denunciatory Resolutions.

Recognizing the great truth that it is the duty of every member of any organization to which he belongs to be ever ready to defend its principles, and whereas, in the recent publication of the Labor Convention in the city of Montgomery on the 23d of March, we see said convention was composed in part of Farmers' Alliance members; and whereas the Farmers' Alliance is composed in one sense of laborers, yet not in the sense in which that convention was organized, and these so-called delegates do not represent the Farmers' Alliance in Chilton county.

Therefore, be it resolved, That we, the members of New Hope Alliance, No. 77, denounce the whole proceedings as contrary to and in strict violation of the principles of the order, both State and national. In the first place, the Alliance is non-partisan, and we do not propose to co-operate with different organizations whose principles in many respects, are diametrically opposed to ours. Nor can we affiliate with the colored race, since it is one of our aims to elevate our class.

Resolved 2d, Since we cannot affiliate with a large majority composing that convention, we take this method to defend our position. First, we are white men, and believe white men should rule in county, State and national affairs. Second, we do not endorse the Henry George idea, which virtually deprives us of all title to our land, and we equally condemn the article in the proposed platform, allowing the general government to take possession of the railroads, which to our minds is socialism in its strictest sense; and while we recognize the laborer, the right to organize against monopoly, and even assert their political rights, the few so-called Alliance delegates had no right to commit the county of Chilton and State of Alabama, without authority from county and State Alliance. We believe the party now in power is equal to all emergency, and believe if the proper demand be made upon that party, all grievances and legislation needed by the farmers and laborers can be obtained through said party.

Resolved 3d, That these resolutions be published in the CHILTON VIEW and the Montgomery Advertiser and all papers endorsing our views are requested to copy the same. We also ask all true members of the Alliance to join with us in defending the principles of our order.

All of which we respectfully submit.

[Signed]

Jemison Locals.

[Boiled down for want of space.] Prof. J. M. Cordier has sold his drug business to Dr. J. P. Givhan and has bought Dr. McNeill's mill, 7 miles east of Jemison, to which place he will remove at an early day. We regret very much to give Prof. C. and his excellent wife up.

Dr. J. A. McNeill has bought Prof. Cordier's house and lot in town and will move back to Jemison. We welcome the doctor to his old home again. We want to warn the people that this influx of doctors does not necessarily mean a threatened epidemic; neither does it indicate that Jemison is sickly. Just a progressive town, that's all.

Messrs. Jeffries & Manning are preparing to put in operation a first class brick yard, and will soon be ready to supply a No. 1 article in that line.

The Methodist church has just received a lot of paint which adds much to its appearance.

Mr. Henry LeRoy's mother is visiting his family.

Stanton Falls.

The heavy rains damaged the G. & C. L. Co's road considerably; regular work was resumed early last week.

Mr. Herndon and family have moved to Birmingham. We shall miss "Butter" very much.

Miss Mary Lapsley, of Vinehill, Autauga Co., visited friends here recently.

The weekly prayer-meetings at Stanton are very well attended and much interest manifested.

We have heard nothing lately about the new railroad. Has it vanished in smoke or is it going to be on paper only.

The bridges on the public road that were washed away by high water have been replaced and the road is again open for travel.

The Lumber Company reports business as being lively. We hope continued success may be theirs.

Extract From Auditor Burke's Official Report.

"Every dollar of State taxes charged against the tax collectors of the several counties, for the fiscal year ending September 30th, 1886, has been collected and paid into the State Treasury, except in one county less than fifty dollars and some small amounts in litigation, instituted by tax collectors against certain corporations. This is an unprecedented record in the history of this State—perhaps of any State showing a thorough execution of the laws relating to the collection of State taxes. Tax collectors generally have been prompt, zealous and faithful in the discharge of their duties, and the State of Alabama is fortunate in the possession of such a corps of able officers. If the taxes can only be properly assessed, there will be little difficulty in securing their collection while the present excellent collectors remain in office."

April Weather.

Anniston Hot Blast.

The Hot Blast published the prediction for March, of Rev. Ira R. Hicks, of St. Louis, who has recently come into prominence as a weather prophet, and has since referred to the fact that in every instance up to date they have been verified. His predictions are confined simply to "storm periods," his object being to put people on their guard to watch for the approach of destructive storms, cyclones, etc. Blizzards at the West and North, and tropical storms at the South have been quite severe this year, and according to his forecasts we are to have plenty more, and occasional heavy frosts. The terrible snow storms and blizzards North on the 11th and 12th, and the cyclone and storms of the 19th and days following, predicted by Rev. Mr. Hicks, were verified in a manner that will not be forgotten by those with-in the circuit. An advance sheet of the Southern Cultivator, of Atlanta, has been received by the Hot Blast, and contains the Reverend prophet's predictions for April. In view of the wonderful verification of his March prognostications, his forecasts for April will be in great interest, and if regarded by our farmers, in the matter of taking precautions, may be the means of avoiding serious losses. The April prediction is as follows: A disturbing astronomical cause is central on April 1st, the period will end about the 4th, cool weather and frost for several days will follow. From the 11th to 17th of April showers will abound, with a heavy storm possible during "danger days." The heaviest storms of the month may be certainly expected during the period beginning about the 22d and ending about the 28th. Expect the phenomena to vary in character, according to the general progress of the season, from South to North. All storms, of whatever character, at this time will be hard. Make a note of this. Frost will follow.

Give Them A Chance!

That is to say your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them. When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

When a woman anxious to make a living asks what to do, the wise answer: "What you can do best." Many women have taken this hint, and are making money baking cake, canning fruit, making dainty deserts, raising bees, each doing what she can do best. It is said that a woman who in prosperous days had made a study of diamonds and was a fine judge, put the advice to test, and is to day in one of the largest diamond houses of this city, and is a most successful buyer.

"Everybody is getting compliments and puffs but me," whined Mr. Sardine as he looked over the local column of the village paper. "The editor has mentioned nearly every man in town this week, but me. Guess I'm not a favorite. Never had a compliment paid me in my life."

"Never was paid a compliment in your life!" echoed a scraggy, long nosed woman in a sneering tone. "Never was paid a compliment in your life, eh? Mr. Sardine, will you please to remember that two years ago I married you!" and by way of jogging his memory she accidentally upset the tea kettle of boiling water on Mr. Sardine's leg.

The Monday Meeting.

A mass meeting of citizens was held at the court house Monday last. It was largely attended by what is called the laboring element.

Some of the delegates were pleased to call the meeting a meeting of the citizens of Chilton county, and yet the meeting was not attended by large numbers of hard working, honest and intelligent citizens of the county with whom we are personally acquainted. J. S. Edwards was elected chairman of the assembly and Alex. G. Duke, Sec'y. This was a great go. Mr. Duke will work sometimes when he can get a job, but we never heard of Edwards doing any work, and we don't believe he knows how to do any that would entitle him to membership in a labor organization.

The meeting did much discussing of platform and principles for a labor party, which is now under full headway in Chilton county. This meeting and third party movement is the outcome of the last election in this county, where by the laboring class, and a number of soreheads who hope to make something out of that class imagined themselves imposed upon. The View has apprehended such an outgrowth and was not surprised at the large attendance.

The meeting adjourned without making nominations for county offices, but appointed another meeting to be held the 2d day of July to consider this matter. The following executive committee was selected by the meeting:

Beat 1—G. W. Vines.
Beat 2—J. J. Honeycutt.
Beat 3—Alex. Glascock.
Beat 4—Jas. A. Logan.
Beat 5—John B. Wells.
Beat 6—N. A. Dobbs.
Beat 7—George M. Settles.
Beat 8—B. R. Ratliff.

School books and all kinds of writing material for sale at the View Stationery Stand.

Maplesville Note.

Farmers are greatly discouraged on account of the recent hard rains. Mr. B. O. Glover has returned from Florida, and the dunes has returned to Dayton, and we hope peace and harmony will reign in our neighborhood hereafter.

Mr. Gilliam and family, of Howison's mill paid us a visit last week.

We are under many obligations to the Ladies Aid Society of Clanton, and especially Mrs. O. A. Duke who made the new Methodist Church, a very acceptable present of a new bell which we hope will soon be heard ringing, and be the means of calling up more Sunday School scholars.

The echo of "shool hawk!" may be heard all day around these regions.

Mrs. N. E. Goodwyn is on a visit to Mrs. Dr. DuBee, of Orrville.

B.

Give Them A Chance!

That is to say your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Roscoe's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

Women in India.
The young men of India, as they are called by the priests as something like camels, are goats and milk-buffaloes. They are the property of their husbands and in strength and mind—as they say, they are not allowed to inherit, but so long as they live at home are allowed food and clothes. We are told that a native woman writes in the Hartford Journal that if we develop ourselves we shall forget our babies and not cook so well; that our constitutions are so weak we can't stand the labor of study, but women have to go into the field and have to carry loads and mortar, but that has nothing to do with delicacy. They were also told their brains were not so heavy as men's.

Little girls are taken from school at an early age and sent to live with their mothers-in-law, the mothers of their brothers. Their own parents lose all control of them. The mother-in-law teaches them how to cook, scrub floors, etc. It's the only chance a woman has to assert herself and the mother-in-law does it to the full. The girls as wives are mere servants as daughters-in-law mere slaves. Their only hope is as mothers of sons that they may become autocrats as the Russian Czar's.
The majority of mothers-in-law are not liked by the young ladies.

Out of 129,000 women in India, only 200,000 can read or write; not over a dozen or two in highly and really educated. One can't describe the sufferings of the wife. She has no chance except in the love of her husband. If she has that, she's as well off as a pious cat, she has bread and meat and fish, and the care for her. But that isn't disgraced to be a wife. If a man can't do his duty right, what's the use being a wife?
Warner, who makes the famous Safe Cure, won't work without it's a drum, and women are married without their consent. Neither can she get a divorce.
In the house women wait upon the men.
After they have finished a meal she eats what her husband leaves on his plate.
If she serves him, she gets into his seat;
if she serves him, she gets into his seat;
on earth she must stand in his presence.
If the betrothed dies she becomes a widow, even if she has never seen him. It is her privilege to starve all her life. They tell her that in a former existence she killed him and she is left to take the punishment.
She has a single meal in twenty-four hours; has her head shaved, bright garments taken away, is forbidden pleasure, is regarded as unclean and shunned, and is kept in seclusion. They run away and finding they can't care for themselves they commit suicide in the sacred river as a way of reaching heaven.
There are more than 31,000,000 widows in India, 600,000 under nineteen years and 79,000 under nine years.

Living on Volcanic Isles.
Bonin Islands, discovered and settled by the Japanese 350 years ago, and deserted by them fifty years later, are situated between the twenty-fifth and twenty-seventh degrees of north latitude, and about 140 degrees 38 minutes. There are more than forty islands, large and small. St. John, being the only one inhabitable, boasts about fifty people of double nationality, governed by no law except the president's. This group is a volcanic formation, and the scenery is wonderful. High mountains whose heads disappear among the clouds, deep valleys worn into steep and forbidding walls of faultered and fractured rock, and a contrast of wild and picturesque, so terribly chanting, that one expects some cataclysmic and instantaneous change, some wonderful phenomenon, a falling of these frightful precipices, a rising of the fruitful plains, a grand mingling of the whole, for you cannot throw off the idea that the laws of gravitation are at fault, and that the laws of expectation are at any moment.
Pure springs of crystal water far up among the cliffs send down leaping brooks and rivulets, which, running through some volcanic rupture in the mountains, are scattered in finest spray, but, gathering again, ripple on their rocky course, seeming to smile as they glide more smoothly among the cabbage trees, watering the tobacco, lettuce and bananas, spreading over the pebbly beach, and mingling with the waters of the harbor. And such a harbor, landlocked with perfect "holding ground" from ten to thirty fathoms below the surface.
Twenty kinds of fish are caught along their "right bow" a cable's length ahead.

Green turtles are taken by thousands,
and form the principal fish food, although wild hogs are found among the hills in large numbers and are plenty.
Twenty kinds of fish are caught along the reefs and shores. Onions are raised in large quantities, sweet potatoes and yams are cultivated to some extent, and of which are exchanged with passing traders for Spanish dollars, and the dollars hoarded, for what—Kennedy (Mc) Journal.

Fish Living in Hot Water.
There is a pond on the Lay Ranch at Goletonda, Nev., which is fed by the waters from the hot springs. This pond has an area of two or three acres, and the temperature of the water is about eighty-five degrees, and in some places where the hot water bubbles up from the bottom the temperature is almost up to the boiling point. Recently the discovery has been made that this warm lake is literally alive with carp, some of which are more than a foot long. All efforts to catch them with a hook and line have failed, as they will not touch the most tempting bait. A few of them have been shot, and, contrary to the general supposition, the fish was hard and palatable. How the fish got into the lake is a mystery unsolved. Within the boiling hot, and the ranchers in the vicinity use the water to scald hogs in the butchering season.—Silver State.

A Wonderful Iron Tower.
Notwithstanding some reports to the contrary, work is progressing rapidly upon Mr. Riffel's iron tower, which is to be a lighthouse, which is to dominate the Exposition grounds and all Paris next year. According to the plans, it is to reach a height of 800 meters, or just about 2,600 feet. The four mighty legs of the tower, rising up like the Champs de Mars like the skeleton of some extinct monster, have already nearly reached the height of the towers of Notre Dame.—French Letter.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR TREASURER.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Treasurer of Chilton county, subject to the action of the Democratic county convention. J. C. LAWRENCE.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

I hereby respectfully announce myself as a candidate for the Legislature, subject to the action of the Democratic county convention. DAVID J. WATERWORTH.

All Democrats are expected to attend the convention at Jamison Saturday.

Col. Thos. G. Jones delivered a beautiful memorial address in Atlanta April 25th.

Mr. W. D. Westcott was nominated for Sheriff by the Democratic convention of Montgomery without opposition.

The opposition to the organized Democracy in Chilton is losing strength every day and will continue to grow weaker from now until the election.

A shooting affair in Jackson, Miss., between Gen. Wirt Adams and John H. Martin, editor of the New Mississippi, resulted in the death of both participants.

Capt. Alva Fitzpatrick, editor of the Montgomery Dispatch, was one of the nominees of the Democratic convention in Montgomery for the Legislature.

Geo. F. Montgomery, a well known lumber dealer of Birmingham, is reported as having left the country owing numerous large mill bills. A large part of his indebtedness is to the lumber mills in this county.

While the Democratic County Convention of Montgomery adopted no resolutions of instructions to its delegates to the State or other Conventions, the sentiment is enthusiastically in favor of Mr. John L. Cobbs for State Treasurer and for all honorable means to secure his nomination. The people of this county recognize to the fullest extent his eminent fitness for the position and will take pride and pleasure in advancing his interest. -Advertiser.

H. A. Wilson, the present chairman of the Republican Executive Committee of this county is a shrewd politician, or ought to be, as he has politics on the brain at all seasons, and he is an open enemy to the Democracy. He will resort to all the methods known to Republican politicians to accomplish whatever designs he may have in this direction. He has had the nerve to come into the county and organize the negroes by holding a mass convention. While his business is in Birmingham, he claims his residence in this county. We do not know what he is after in the way of office. We do know that he hopes to obtain the co-operation of the white laborers of the county. It is not possible that any great number of white men will affiliate with Wilson's gang. The true Democracy, the white Democracy, of the county will keep an eye on the few who may do so.

Commissioner Kolb Retained.

Capt. R. F. Kolb State Agricultural commissioner has returned from his recent trip to the northeast in the interest of immigration to Alabama. He has done a good work for the State and deserves much praise. He says of his trip: "I confess I left here and started on my trip with many misgivings. I didn't know exactly how I would be received at the north, especially by the newspapers, and even after I got there I was in constant dread for some time that they would fire into me. But I was agreeably surprised at my reception; everywhere I was kindly and hospitably treated. Governors, state officials and newspaper men, all called upon me and showed me every courtesy and consideration, and the newspapers helped me a great deal in getting Alabama literature before the people. I found the people anxious to learn something about Alabama. The severity of the winters at the north, and the repeated crop failures and low prices of their farm products have disheartened the farmers, and they are anxious to move to a milder climate, where crops are more certain, and better prices are secured for what they make. Hundreds of people have already come to Alabama, and nearly half a million dollars of capital that I know of, as a result of my visit. Deaton gets $100,000 from one firm which have gone there to establish car works. Thousands of more people and millions of more dollars will come to Alabama within the next eight months. The time was ripe for such a visit, and the good that will result can not be foretold.

"I accompanied over 400 people as far as Nashville coming south to see the country and locate here if they were pleased. Many of them are in Alabama now, and I met some in Montgomery to day."

A CLEAN SWEEP.

The Only Outstanding Claim for 3 Years Against Tax Collectors Settled.

A Few Suits Now Pending Against Corporations for Uncollected Taxes.

The famous amount of $49.75 which has been noted and commented on all over the United States as the only uncollected balance of taxes in the State of Alabama for the year ending September 30th, 1886, has at last been collected, and now there is absolutely no revenue of the State for the past three years uncollected except some small amounts in litigation on account of questions which have arisen as to the taxation of gross receipts of certain corporations.

Of these suits against corporations, the principal one is that against the western Union telegraph company the chief question being whether the taxable gross receipts of that company consists of all the receipts at their offices in this State, or only of the receipts from messages sent from points within the State. Heretofore taxes have been paid by the company under the latter construction, but the auditor and the attorney general held to the former construction, and hence this suit. There is also a suit with Pullman's Palace Car company, in which the same question is involved. Another question is the right of the State to levy a tax of more than seven and a half mills on the dollar upon any subject of taxation.

The position of the auditor and the attorney general in this matter, seems to be very strong, for otherwise there would be a large proportion of the gross earnings of these corporations actually received at their offices in this State, that would escape taxation altogether. The companies enjoy their franchises in Alabama, receive the benefits of the State government and all the gross earnings actually received at offices in this State enjoy the protection of our laws. There can be little doubt that the "gross receipts" upon which the tax of two per cent is levied, consist of all the gross earnings actually paid in at the offices or to the officers of such companies within the State of Alabama. This is a reasonable construction, and it will doubtless be so held. However these suits may result, the decision of the highest federal court will determine the matter finally, accounts on the auditor's books will be closed up, and not a dollar of taxes for the past three years will remain unsettled. -Exchange.

KENDALL'S SPRAIN CURE.

The most successful remedy ever discovered as it is certain in its effect and does not blister. Read proof below.

Orange Mills, Fla., June 30, 1888.

Dr. B. J. Kendall, Chilton Co., Ala.

Gentle:—I have used your Kendall's Spavin Cure and it is wonderful to say the least. Yours respectfully,

J. L. CHARY.

From the "Spirit of the Times," June 28, 1888. The old idea that a spavin was incurable has given way before the improvements made by modern science.

Among these wonderful improvements must be mentioned the most successful remedy ever discovered for the cure of this disease, Kendall's Spavin Cure, one that is certain in its effect, and will not blister. It is prepared by Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt., and has been proven on every hand for its thorough and reliable work in cases of spavin or hock lameness. It is a standard remedy among horse owners and breeders, whose work they have often and will continue to do.

It is for sale by all druggists at 25 cents per bottle or six for $1.50, and will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt.

Dr. Duncan's Cough Balsam.

All who have used this valuable medicine for Coughs, Colds and all other diseases of the lungs and throat, attest to its worth.

READ!

Dr. Duncan's—For a long time my wife was troubled with a cough that defied all the medicine I could find. I finally got your Cough Balsam, and it cured her in three days. Its value cannot be over estimated. Very truly,

JAS. W. PENNINGTON, Madison Co., Tenn.

DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE.

From infancy to old age the human family is liable to some form of kidney trouble. Restore the action of the liver and kidneys to a healthy state with DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE, and both the kidney and bladder will be restored. Read what the Rev. Dr. Arnold, of Camden, says of Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine.

"I was cured of Sympathetic Heart Disease, caused by a torpid liver and indigestion. Was troubled with it for 30 years, growing worse all the time, until I commenced taking Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine. Three bottles restored me to perfect health, and physicians and medicines had failed to give me any relief. Dr. Duncan's Medicine is better, if possible, than he represents them to be."

Some of our young ladies busied themselves on the 1st of May in looking down in the wells in order to catch a glimpse of their future husbands. One young lady saw her fellow in his shirt sleeves. Don't know whether he was too lazy to put on his coat or had just taken it off to go to work in dead earnest to make her a fortune or whether he had a coat at all or not.

The District Meeting.

The district meeting held with Clanton Baptist Church last Friday, Saturday and Sunday was very interesting, though the attendance was small. Considering the fact, however, that most of the delegates appointed from the other churches in this district, were farmers who were behind with their work, the attendance was as large as could have been expected at this season. We are sorry to say that the citizens of our town did not turn out as well as they should have done, and only a few manifested any interest in the meeting during Friday and Saturday. Rev. Hardy Jones, of Cooper's, was moderator, and he made a good one. Rev. W. G. Curry, Dr. H. W. Caffey and Mr. A. J. Brooks, of Verbena, though not in the district, came up and added much to the life and interest of the meeting. Many interesting and important subjects were discussed, and they all took a very active part in the discussions. Rev. Mr. Curry preached an excellent sermon on Friday night. We believe that all who attended went home feeling that they had been spiritually benefitted by the meeting.

People Demand Protection.

Patent Medicines.

What are they? As a general thing they are prescriptions having been used with great success by old and well-read physicians. Thousands of invalids have been unexpectedly cured by their use, and they are the wonder and dread of Physicians and Medical Colleges in the U. S., so much so, that Physicians graduating at Medical Colleges are required to discontinue Proprietary Medicines, as through them the country doctor loses his most profitable practice. As a manufacturer of Proprietary Medicines, Dr. G. G. Green, of Woodbury, N. J., advances most cordially, in order to prevent the risk that the sick and afflicted are liable to, almost daily by the use of Patent Medicines put out by inexperienced persons for aggrandizement only, and the employment of inexperienced and incompetent doctors by which almost every village and town is cursed; and men claiming to be doctors who had better be undertakers, experimenting with their patients and robbing them of their money and health—for the good of the afflicted that government protect its people by making laws to regulate the practice of medicine by better experienced and more thoroughly educated physicians, and thereby keep up the honor and credit of the profession, also form laws for the recording of Proprietary Medicines, under examination and decision of experienced Chemists and Physicians appointed for this purpose by the government, before they are licensed for general use. He would most freely place the receipt of Boscche's German Syrup and Green's August Flower under such laws, had he the proper protection, and thereby save the prejudice of the people, and avoid the competition and imitation of worthless medicines.—Chicago Mail Aug. 4, '87.

After Montgomery.

Mr. Fox Maull, a prominent lumber dealer of Chilton county, passed through the city last night en route to Cullman. In conversation with an Age reporter he stated that George F. Montgomery the lumber dealer who absconded from this city Friday, owed him over $800, and that he had kept up with Montgomery's movements ever since he left and located him at Cullman. Mr. Maull was on his way to Cullman last night to this city. Mr. Maull stated that he did not expect to encounter any trouble in capturing his man, provided Montgomery had not left Cullman before he reached there himself. Mr. Maull is something of a detective, as he rendered valuable aid in helping to locate Fred Watkins.—Daily Age.

In Brief, and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order by greasy food, rough food, sloppy food, bad cooking, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics. But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this bad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Whereas, We as democrats adhere to the democracy in which a majority must rule in all things and as said law was enacted without the advice or expressed wish of a majority of the people of Chilton county, therefore be it

Resolved, That the nominees of this convention for membership in the next Legislature if elected is hereby requested to use all power he may command to have said law repealed and that the commissioners of this county be elected as they were prior to its enactment.

On motion, the convention adjourned sine die.
B. J. Baldwin, Ch'n.
H. T. Caffey, Sec'y.

Mark Twain says when he was a candidate his enemies "proved" him to be a horse thief, a body snatcher, a professional burglar, and a bigamist. They also brought up two women who swore their children to him, and paraded an old hag as his grandmother in order to show that her red nose was caused by Mark's fist. He says that after the election they told him it was all done for political effect; and he then got over it.

The Convention's Work.

It was a large and harmonious gathering of the white Democracy of the county which met at Jenison on last Saturday, and was composed of representative citizens of various classes and callings. The ticket nominated will give satisfaction and will be triumphantly elected in August. In order to insure such a result beyond a doubt, every Democrat must work for its election. Over-confidence cannot help any cause, but straight-out, open-handed, and honest work will. Let us pull together and give the Democratic ticket a rousing majority for the sake of the good name of Chilton county. With unity and harmony and work we will surely win.

The lynching of a negro murderer in Lowndes county by a mob of white men has produced bitter fruit. On last Friday the Sheriff of the county was forced to call upon the Governor to furnish militia to enforce law and order in Lowndes, the negroes having caused considerable alarm among the whites by threats and uprisings at several points in the county. A conflict between the Sheriff's posse and a body of negroes resulted in the killing of two negroes and the wounding of two deputy sheriffs, one seriously.

Senator Ingalls has won the title of the Kansas Thersites. Thersites was the most deformed and illiberal of the Greeks during the Trojan war. He was fond of ridiculing his fellow soldiers particularly Achilles and Ulysses. Achilles killed him with one blow of his fist because he laughed at his mourning the death of Penthesilea.

We fully agree with an esteemed contemporary that the whites must learn self control and set an example to the negroes in this respect if they would escape such uprisings as have just occurred in Lowndes county.

Senator Ingalls, the Kansas Jay Hawk, is equal to a circus, and his exhibitions of venom and spite are again attracting the attention of the country.

Stanton Falls.
[Written for last week.]
Dr. R. C. Lockhart and family, of Selma, visited Mr. O. H. B. Wright last Sunday.

Mrs. Nannie Wilkins, of Selma, visited Mrs. Perry McFee this week.

One of the houses belonging to the G. & C. L. Co., occupied by negroes, was discovered on fire early Sunday morning, no alarm was given, and the house and contents were a total loss. The negroes were absent from home and from all appearances it seems to have been the work of an incendiary.

The meeting at the M. E. Church continues, much interest is being manifested by the members of the different churches. There has been no public professions of religion as yet.

Miss Lillie McGee, of Stanton, is absent from home, teaching music in Dallas Co.

Rev. T. E. Taylor preached at Mt. Carmel church last Sabbath. The Sabbath School at the Baptist church is well attended, and much interest manifested. Miss Lucy Wilson presides at the organ.

Mr. R. C. Coe and W. W. Little expect to attend the county convention.

The Democracy of Shelby county seems to be "under the weather" and very badly disorganized. Too much Farmer's Alliance seems to be the trouble.

The average number of days between death, and the payment of all the losses the National Life and Maturity Association has sustained is but 21. The Association has never contested a claim or paid one for other than its full face value.

CLANTON, ALA., May 7, '88.
This is to certify that I have this day received from the National Life and Maturity Association of Washington, D. C., by the hand of its district agent, Mr. Geo. D. Whitson, a certified check for the full face of the policy issued by that association on the life of my husband, Mr. William J. Simpson, who died in this town on April 14. This policy was written on February 10th of the present year, and immediately on notification of the death, the association forwarded me blanks for making proof of the same, which proof was completed on the 28th day of April. The check in settlement bears date May 3d, and I have to thank the association for its promptness, especially as the terms of the contract gave it ninety days within which to make the same.

MARY A. SIMPSON.

CLANTON, ALA., May 7, '88.

Simpson received the company for one thousand dollars.

Give Them A Chance!

That is to say your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot do their work. And what they do they cannot do well. Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Rosch's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

Bibb county has a citizen's ticket in opposition to the convention nominees.

"A Sorehead" selects the only Radical paper in Alabama, the Alabama Republican, in which to lie on the View. This proves that the soreheads are really in the crowd that every body knows they belong in—the Radical party.

The Rads and soreheads have begun to howl and "craze" the View. The Alabama Republican and the Alliance Banner each has some correspondence that proves the View has hit some of the office-seeking chaps in mighty tender places. It is all very sad no doubt.

The communication from Jemison, in the last issue of the Alabama Republican, and signed "A Sorehead," is utterly false in that it stated that the editor of this paper asked the mass-meeting at this place, to endorse him for the office of county treasurer. Neither the editor nor any one connected with this paper asked anything at the hands of that so-called mass-meeting.

The soreheads who suppose the so-called mass-meeting of "citizens" at Clanton frightened anybody, should ponder this saying of Lincoln's: "You can fool some of the people all of the time, and you can fool all of the people some of the time, but you cannot fool all of the people all of the time." The August election will open the eyes of the nation-heads to the truth of this proposition.

No truer statement has been recently made than that of the Knoxville Tribune when it said: "Any third party in any Southern State is Assistant Republican party." Southern men who favor third party movements play into the hands of the Republicans." Every man in Alabama who opposes the Democracy starts out with the belief that he will receive the Republican vote of his county or in the State as the case may be.—Montgomery Advertiser.

It is estimated that among the population of the city at London there are 2,423 wives who have left their husbands; 2,371 husbands who have left their wives; 4,794 divorced persons; 101,023 couples that live together in a state of innocent hostilities; 510,812 couples that are absolutely indifferent one to another; 1,060 couples that are apparently happy; 1,102 couples that are happy to a certain extent; and of couples that are really happy, 6.

Rev. E. M. Adams, of Bibb, President of the State Farmer's Alliance, has given his ruling in regard to Alliance men taking part in the organization of the Labor party at Montgomery, March 22d. He virtually says that the members of the Alliance as citizens can go where they please and do what they please, politically, but that they did not have authority to represent the Alliance, as the organization claims to be strictly non-partisan. He gives his opinion as an individual in these words: "I don't think it best for the laboring class to organize a new party. I think that we could have found relief under the Democratic banner sooner than with any new political party."

The State Convention.

At the State Democratic Convention last week the following ticket was nominated: For Governor, Thos. Say, of Haley; for Secretary of State, Chas. C. Langdon, of Mobile; for Treasurer, John L. Cobbs, of Montgomery; for Auditor, Cyrus D. Hogue, of Perry; for Attorney-General, Thos. N. McClellan, of Limestone; for Superintendent of Education, Solomon Palmer, of Marshall.

The platform adopted by the convention favors tariff reform, appropriations for public schools, a reduction of the surplus, and makes a further declaration favoring the promotion of emigration.

The platform in full is as follows:

The democratic party of the State of Alabama assembled in convention do hereby declare:

1. That the firmness, stability and statehood displayed by President Cleveland in the administration of his high office entitles him to the confidence and support of his fellow citizens. That we support and approve his administration, especially his action and efforts to secure a reform and reduction of the tariff; and we believe that the interests of the country demand his reelection and in that and our delegates to the national convention are hereby instructed to vote for his re-election.

2. That we are unalterably opposed to the present war tariff. We demand a reform of the tariff and a reduction of the surplus in the treasury by a reduction of the tariff taxation.

3. That we endorse the administration of Gov. Thos. Say which has been so eminently satisfactory to the whole people of Alabama.

4. That we favor a liberal appropriation for public schools, in order that the means of acquiring a knowledge of the rudiments of education may be afforded to every child in this State.

5. That we favor the encouragement of immigration to this state, and to that end we recommend such wise and judicious legislation by the general assembly as will best accomplish that result.

Under and by virtue of instructions from the Executive Committee of the Democratic and Conservative Party, of the 5th Congressional District, and in pursuance with resolutions passed at the meeting of the Committee, held in the Senate Chamber on the 9th day of May, at which there was a full attendance of the members of said committee, a convention of the Democratic and Conservative party of the aforesaid district is hereby called to assemble in Wetumpka, on Wednesday Sept. 5th, 1888, for the purpose of nominating a candidate of the party to represent the District in the 51st Congress of the United States, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before it. The basis of representation was fixed at one delegate for every one hundred votes and fraction of fifty and over cast for Governor Say in 1886, which will entitle each county to the following vote:

The Treasury Nominee.

Hon. John L. Cobbs, the nominee for State Treasurer, is a native of Virginia, but has lived in Alabama since 1844. His father was the well known Bishop Cobbs, of the Episcopal Church. Mr. Cobbs was educated in Tusculum, and at the expiration of his junior year left college, and began clerking in a dry goods store. He rapidly rose, and at the beginning of the war was a partner in the firm of Hogan & Cobbs, one of the best known firms in the State.

Jemison Locals.

Prof. J. M. Cordierie has bought Livingston's steam grist mill and gin in Jemison, and is now furnishing the "staff of life" to his fellow citizens. He will remove to the place adjoining the mill which is included in his purchase.

Dr. Duncan's Cough Balsam.
All who have used this valuable medicine for Coughs, Colds and all other diseases of the lungs and throat, attest to its worth.
READ!
DR. DUNCAN:—For a long time my wife was troubled with a cough that defied all the medicine I could find. I finally got your COUGH BALSAM which cured her in three days. Its value cannot be over estimated. Very truly,
Jas. W. Pennington,
Madison Co., Tenn.

DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE.
From infancy to old age the human family is liable to some form of liver trouble. Restore the action of the liver and kidneys to a healthy state with DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE, and both the liver and bladder will be restored. Read what the Rev. Dr. Arnold, of Camden, says of Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine:—
"I was cured of Symptomatic Heart Disease, caused by a torpid liver and indigestion. Was troubled with it for 30 years, growing worse all the time, until I commenced taking Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine. Three bottles restored me to perfect health after all physicians and medicines had failed to give me any relief. Dr. Duncan's Medicine is better, if possible, than he represents them to be."

Renovates and invigorates the system. Physicians recommend it. Take no other. Ransom Root Medicine Co., Nashville, Tenn. $1.00 per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

The town will be full of ministers and delegates the rest of this week. About seventy-five are expected. Clanton should do her prettiest while they are here. Now is an opportunity for the citizens of our town to open wide their doors and establish a reputation for that hospitality which is characteristic of the South. Clanton should not be behind. We extend to all a cordial welcome.

Four negroes escaped from the county jail Sunday afternoon. They had in some way obtained a key to the cell, and when the jailer opened the outer door of the jail they forced him aside and fled. Hounds were secured and chase made, but they have not yet been captured. One of them was Willis Fitzpatrick, who was in for attempting to rape. The other three were John Thomas, Neal Dair and Henry Nelson.

The junior and his better-half spent last Saturday out at the large saw mill of Mr. O. A. Duke, four miles from this place, and to say that we had a pleasant time is needless as the names of Mr. O. A. Duke and his excellent wife are synonymous with all that is pleasant, agreeable and hospitable.

Mr. Duke took the writer all over the plant and explained the various methods used in the working of the mill, planer, etc. The mill is as nicely fitted up as any we ever saw and turns out about 30,000 feet of lumber a day. He owns 6 or 7 miles of railroad which is in splendid condition. Has two locomotives and several cars. Not the least attraction at the mill is a large fish pond covering ten or twelve acres which has recently been formed by means of a large dam and in which several hundred fish of fine varieties had been placed for breeding. No fishing for a year or two.

The saw mill of W. H. Burton & Co., near this place, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday night. No insurance.

Attention R. R. L.

For sprains, bruises, rheumatism, cramps, inflammation, swellings, cuts, burns, etc., in man, and spitting, ring bone, windgal, epizootic, scratches, etc. In horses, Ransom Root Liniment is a sure cure. The "King of Liniments" is a universal verdict. Never fails to cure any ailment that can be reached by an external medical application. 50 cents per bottle. For sale by all druggists.

CLANTON, ALA., May 7, '88. By the promptness in which the National Life and Maternity Association in Washington, D. C., settles their death claims it proves that they are as ready to pay losses as they are to receive premiums. Mr. W. J. Simpson, of this place, was insured for one thousand dollars on February 10, 1888, died April 14, 1888, and on May 7, 1888, Mrs. W. J. Simpson received the company for one thousand dollars. H. J. CALLEN.

Give Them A Chance!

That is to say your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them. When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do they cannot do well. Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Rosch's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 25 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

What's the Matter With Your Blood?

As blood flows through the kidneys, it is purified.

There is nothing else about this fact except it is a revelation. Many people have been a victim of the real work of the kidneys. They not only drain the water from the system, but also the poisonous matter which the water holds in solution to carry out of the system. Over half the time, however, the kidneys fail to do this work.

What is the result?

Gradual failure of strength and health and eventually death by Bright's Disease or some unsuspicious kidney disease.

But particularly in the spring of the year, when the blood is filled with poisons, as it is in the spring of the year, you feel depressed, tired, languid, do not seem to have any disease, but your system does not respond to the great warmth of summer and spring as it should.

You had better look out!

The kidney poison is accumulating in the blood. To do any good, the kidney must be purified.

It is only reliable, and it is the only known specific to the world for the kidneys which is the only great blood purifier.

Q. E. WRIGHT, of Winston St., Cleveland, O., writes: "I have been suffering from kidney trouble for many years, and being distressed by the pain, I have been unable to do my work. I have been using your medicine, and I feel much better. I have been using your medicine, and I feel much better. I have been using your medicine, and I feel much better."

Q. E. WRIGHT, of Winston St., Cleveland, O., writes: "I have been suffering from kidney trouble for many years, and being distressed by the pain, I have been unable to do my work. I have been using your medicine, and I feel much better. I have been using your medicine, and I feel much better. I have been using your medicine, and I feel much better."

CAPT. W. D. ROBINSON, United States Marine Inspector for the chain of mail, writes: "I have been suffering from kidney trouble for many years, and being distressed by the pain, I have been unable to do my work. I have been using your medicine, and I feel much better. I have been using your medicine, and I feel much better. I have been using your medicine, and I feel much better."

JAMES WRIGHT, 201 Fifth Ave., New York, writes: "I have been suffering from kidney trouble for many years, and being distressed by the pain, I have been unable to do my work. I have been using your medicine, and I feel much better. I have been using your medicine, and I feel much better. I have been using your medicine, and I feel much better."

The four above cases are as good as a million. They prove what is stated, that the organ that removes the impurity from the blood most effectively is the kidney, and for this reason, when the kidney is diseased, the blood is impure, and the system is diseased.

Dr. D. Lewis, who was opposed to the use of medicine in general, thought so highly of this remedy that he said it had a serious kidney disease, he should use it.

Ask your friends and neighbors what they think of it.

In the spring of the year, when debility is so prevalent, and the seeds of disease are sown that may have a fatal blossoming before the fall, the prudent man and woman will give the system a thorough cleansing and purification.

WHERE BANK NOTES ARE MADE.

It is Not Easy to Steal Any on Account of the Watch that is Kept.

The recent arrest of two boys for stealing elevated railroad tickets from the Hamilton Bank Note Company, and the fact that they had been ordered to destroy them, was a surprise to the customers of bank note companies everywhere, as well as to the officials. It was the first time in years that a theft by employees of a bank note company had been made public, and if the officials of these companies can be believed, it was the first time that any such theft had occurred.

The President of a bank note company in this city recently said to the writer that it was absolutely impossible for any of his subordinates to steal anything without being detected at once. He said that the company's security is so perfect that a mistake occurs all have to be done over, and the first batch is destroyed. If one is lost and cannot be recovered all are destroyed, and a new series printed in entirely different colors.

An instance of this kind occurred several years ago. A bank note company in this city printed some bonds on contract for the Virginia Government. One package was stolen while they were being transported to the treasurer. Of course, none of them had been signed, and they were, therefore, not valid; but all the rest were at once destroyed, and a new set in different colors were ordered.

Each official in a bank note company serves as a check upon the other until the President is reached. He is practically uncheckable. All men are liable to be other than they seem, and even the highest have been known to fall, but so far no instance is on record in this country where the President of a bank note company became a defaulter.

How to Gain Flesh and Strength.

Use after each meal Scott's Emulsion with Hypophosphites. It is as palatable as milk, and easily digested. The rapidity with which delicate people improve with its use is wonderful. Use it in the case of children, and it will remedy Consumption, Throat Affections and Bronchitis. It is unequalled. Please read the following testimonial from a child eight months old with good results. He gained four pounds in a very short time. - Mrs. F. M. D., Albany.

A Mongolian Youth Restorer.

Ginseng is the most potent in its virtues and varied in its applications of all known Chinese medicines. American and European pharmacists have never been able to attribute any remarkable properties to the root, although it has been known to them for over 100 years.

Analysis shows that it is rich in gum and starch, and that it contains albumen, resin, and, perhaps, other principles, and it is put down by our dispensaries as being a mild stomachic.

On the contrary, the Chinese impute to it the most miraculous virtues. It has even been known, they say, to raise the dead to life. In some form or other it enters into a multitude of their medical compounds, but it seems somewhat difficult to learn when they use it for a cure. Probably it is a panacea. At any rate, it is given an almost fabulous value in the Celestial Empire, and the entire production of the United States, amounting to $1,000,000 annually, is exported to China.

The people who have been engaged for years in the export trade with China, and who are familiar with the use of ginseng among the Mongolians.

An exporter once showed a piece of the root to a member of the Chinese Embassy and inquired about its use among his people. The ambassador, however, the question was the use of a horn of plenty. It is certain, even that the Chinese regard it as a restorer of youth to the aged. The habit of the ginseng plant is widely distributed. It grows wild in Manchuria, Corea, along the great wall of China, and in various regions of the United States. The valuable ginseng was formerly gathered in Manchuria, where its sale became the exclusive monopoly of the Emperor.

In recent years the supply there has been exhausted and it has been obtained elsewhere. Besides, it is now cultivated along the banks of the Ussuri, where the humidity of the Pacific seaboard favors the development of the plant. The annual production in the United States is about 400,000 pounds, which is obtained from a great number of States. Much comes from the mountains of West Virginia (and Pennsylvania, a little from North Carolina, Ohio, and the States of the Northwest furnish the rest.

As early as 1751 ginseng was gathered in New England as an article of commerce. The celebrated Rev. Jonathan Edwards wrote a letter to his friend, Rev. Mr. McCulloch, in Scotland, in 1753, that since it had been found the previous summer in the mountains near Stockbridge and elsewhere in New England and in the country of the Six Nations, "the traders in Albany have been eager to purchase all they could get of the root to send to England, where they make great profit by it. This has occasioned the Indians of this country to spend a great deal of time in the woods, in the neglect of public worship and husbandry, and also in going much to Albany, to sell their roots (which proves worse to them than in going into the woods), where they are always much in the way of temperance and drunkenness." - American Analyst.

A Chinese-American Belle.

In Grass Valley the Chinese New Year was celebrated with lots of fire crackers, bombs and festivities. Tin Loy, the boss Chinaman there, had charge of the celebration and rushed things in fine shape. Tin Loy talks English fairly and is supposed to be wealthy. He believes in newspapers and gets himself noticed as a "goodly good Chinaman" occasionally.

Those who know him best, however, claim that he is as intense in his Mongolianism as any Chinaman in China, and that his habits and ideas are strong proof that a Chinaman never changes.

But his 14-year-old daughter, Miss Lily, is altogether of a different type. She was born in Grass Valley and proudly insists that she is a "native American" girl. In this she is sustained by the Supreme Court of the United States, which declares that all of every color, born in the United States are American citizens.

Miss Lily has shown her Americanism in many ways. She dresses like American girls, talks English only, and goes to the public school. She is an adept scholar, reads and writes well, plays nicely on the piano, and paints handsomely. Recently her father took her to China and underwent to have her face "fixed" and "made over" by the Chinese.

The young lady fought against this barbarity and triumphed. She attended the Chinese school for a while, and fairly "broke up" the teacher with her American independence.

Tin Loy insisted that his daughter should adopt the Chinese mode of dress and worldly ways, at least for their New Year festival. Being coerced into this barbarity, the young lady looked herself in her room and refused to see any one. She boldly denounced the China gowns as mere homedevils. Tin Loy is proud of his girl, and supplies her with an abundance of pocket money to satisfy her American predilection. - Seattle Times.

The little assistant of the juggler, in the presence of the spectators who could plainly see the eggs on the bottom, slowly filled the vessel with water. The juggler placed his bare hand on the rim of the bowl and the eggs disappeared from view, reappearing when the hand was removed. This was repeated several times, but he kept the explanation of the trick to himself.

A Man Adopted by Rabbits.

There is an old man in Mound Valley, Nev., a local paper says, who has been adopted by a lot of jack rabbits. Their friendliness and good feeling have become so obvious that the old fellow would be thankful if someone would take him to the city and sell him for a pet. He is a sort of hermit, living all alone on his ranch, where he devotes all his time to cattle and horse raising.

As he doesn't try to raise vegetables the rabbits could do him no harm, and so he has never tried to drive them away. They seem to become very tame, and, as the jack rabbits in raising him, he has become quite friendly to them. When he goes out after his cows two or three dozen rabbits will come trooping along after him, leaving around him, running between his legs, and rubbing his flanks. Very often a drove of them will gather around his cabin and cut up all sorts of pranks in front of his door, leap on his head, jump into his chair—if he is not occupying the only one himself—and nose around among his kitchen and dishes for something to eat. He is a sort of hermit, living all alone on his ranch, where he devotes all his time to cattle and horse raising.

Several of the most intelligent have singled out for special favors. He has taught them a number of tricks, such as jumping over a bar or through a ring, walking on their hind legs, and jumping over another like a frog. But the rabbits have developed such a liking for civilization that they are about to take possession of his house, and have even begun to rear their broods in it, so that the old man hardly knows now whether he owns the house or simply lives there with the rabbits.

The lumber dealers and manufacturers of this section are somewhat demoralized over the big swindle practiced on them by Montgomery, the lumber fiend who got into Southern lumber dealers for $250,000 worth of lumber, a large part of which was from mills in this county. So far but little has been accomplished toward recovering the lumber or getting Montgomery back in the State.

In Memoriam.

On the 14th day of April, 1888, at his home in Clanton, WILLIAM J. SIMPSON, at the age of 34 years died.

"How poor this world would be without his graves." They are the reminders that there is a better land than this, that there is an eternal rest, a place of perpetual peace. They tell to remember the virtues, possessed by the few, that shine as the beauteous constellations across the stormy sea of life.

With you, my dear friend, I have often agreed, that there are pleasures connected with such absence, more exquisite, more refined, than any of those that bear that name in this world. What then will be our felicity when we again shall meet? When every anxious care and apprehension banished from our hearts, they shall glow with the delightful consciousness of having ministered one to the other.

Support me, my dear, dear friend, in my reflections, that every day is lessening the period that divides us, whilst it is adding strength to that delightful tenderness which shall bind us forever.

"Is this Death?"

Dreaded thing! How beautiful Thou art!"

He loved his God, and loving Him, he obeyed His precepts. He loved his fellow man, and loving him, he obeyed the mandates of his Maker. He loved his splendid little family, and in loving them he was true to his Holy vows. Exquisite and ennobling! Emotions which, alas! are but little known to the bulk of our species, reserved by God himself for those who love him, by fearing to commit what is offensive to him; and who obey him by following the best instincts of nature!

With what pleasing melancholy, what tender regret does his friend recall the past. Is there not then something in these sadly soothing frames of mind, when it pleases us to be pained, and when sorrow is mingled with satisfaction.

"We that seemed only friends, were lovers."

Now Death knows it! and love knows it! And I! and Thou!"

Many whose occupations are of a sedentary character, often have the feeling of being literally worn out, and are reminded very forcibly of declining years when if they knew what ailed them, they would find all their troubles arose from the function of their kidneys or liver. If they would at such times or liver. If they would at such times take Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm would again feel the vigor and strength of maturity.

We wonder what relation Daniel M. Lockwood, who nominated Cleveland for Mayor of Buffalo, for Gov. of New York and for President of the United States, is to B. H. Lockwood, who opposed Cleveland in the Presidential election.

The National Democratic convention meets in St. Louis next Tuesday. The re-nomination of Grover Cleveland is a foregone conclusion. It is said that Cleveland favors Allen G. Thurman for second place on the ticket. Cleveland and Thurman or Cleveland and Gray would either be a strong ticket. That the Democratic ticket will be elected is almost a certainty.

John Wamamaker's brother has been giving some reminiscences of the boyhood of the great Philadelphia merchant. His first work was done in the clothing store of Lippincott, where he received a salary of $1.50 per week, all of which he gave to his mother. His dinner, when he had any, consisted of a piece of pie and a glass of milk, costing 2 cents. Each year his salary was increased, and at the time he was 20 he had saved $200.

In respect of patronage the position of postmaster general is now the most important in the Cabinet. The 50,000 postmasters who are responsible for their appointment to the chief of the department are supplemented by an immense number of clerks at Washington, on the railroads and as examiners and inspectors all over the country, and the postmaster general is to the people at large almost as influential a man as the President himself.

A young gentleman of France, one evening after a dance, made a bet while supping that he could swallow a raw egg without breaking the shell, and he did so. A few days afterward he experienced violent pains; the doctor administered a strong emetic, the egg came back, but broken, and out sprang a chicken. The warmth of the young man's stomach had produced the unexpected result, and if any one doubts the truth of the story, say those who vouch for it, he can go to Chalons and see the chicken that was hatched.

The New York Tribune says: "If Mr. Cleveland were a man of ability, of profound understanding of public questions, his master ship would not be strange." He was able to beat Blaine in 1884, and he will be able to beat anybody that the Republicans can put up against him in 1888. As far as his understanding of public questions, no President since Thomas Jefferson has displayed greater ability. Take him all in all, he is a great man. The little stings and arrows of the Tribune will not affect him. He could teach it common sense for a century.

CLEVELAND'S RENOMINATION.

The Man Who Will Probably Make the Speech at St. Louis.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—New York will of course present the name of Grover Cleveland to the St. Louis Convention for re-nomination to the Presidency, but it is not known yet who will be selected to perform this office. Daniel M. Lockwood, who nominated President Cleveland for Mayor of Buffalo, for Governor of New York, and for President of the United States, is now United States District Attorney for the Northern District of New York, and so cannot go as a delegate to the convention. It is understood that he would willingly resign his office in order to nominate President Cleveland again, but he will probably not be permitted to make this sacrifice.

GOV. HILL TO BE THERE.

It is now well understood here that Gov. David B. Hill will be one of the delegates at large from New York. He will have very few followers in the State convention, but the friends of the national administration will see that he is elected. It is understood that he would willingly present President Cleveland's name to the convention as the choice of New York, but may not be allowed to do so. Mayor Hewitt may go as a delegate at large, and he is also spoken of as desiring to put President Cleveland in nomination.

THE PROBABLE MAJ.

A well-informed New Yorker said to-day, however, that he thought Daniel Dougherty, former ly of Philadelphia, now of New York, would be elected a delegate to St. Louis, and would be allowed to present the President's name to the convention. Mr. Dougherty's speech at Cincinnati in 1880, nominating Gen. Hancock, is still regarded as one of the best efforts of the year. Col. John R. Fellows, who did the talking for Secretary Manning in the Chicago convention of 1884, will be again a delegate and so will Representative William B. Cochrane, who with Thomas F. Grady did the talking for John Kelly, but Mr. Grady will not be there, and Mr. Cochrane will be there for Cleveland.

Blaine Again.

Boston, May 27.—Joseph H. Manley, Mr. Blaine's orderly, and chairman of the Maine state Republican committee, arrived at Young's hotel last night from Augusta, and will at once go to Washington to hold a consultation with the leading republican congressmen regarding Mr. Blaine's candidacy. "I am not going to forward Mr. Blaine's interests," said Mr. Manley to a correspondent, "in fact, I think they do not need promoting. The country is all alive for Blaine, and I think the movement has got beyond his control. I know Mr. Blaine has no hand in the enthusiasm for him, but it is here and we must look at it as a fact. When the Blaine forces are marshaled at Chicago and mean to nominate him I propose to make things as pleasant as possible. After I have talked over matters a little I can tell more than now, but I will say from present indications there is a strong pressure in favor of his nomination."

Mr. Manley says there is no truth in the published statement that Mr. Blaine will positively decline re-nomination at an early day, while his friends are laboring to keep him silent. Mr. Blaine is positive as regards his candidacy, and will continue so up to the hour of the convention. He has never on any occasion given his friends to understand that he would not accept if nominated, and from what is positively known it may be depended upon that he will not decline if the honor is thrust upon him. The Maine statesman looked smiling and was evidently very happy over the prospects of Mr. Blaine's nomination.

How Morgan Adjourned the Senate.

Washington, May 24.—The secret session of the Senate to-day was without result. The motion of Mr. Sherman to proceed to consider the Fisheries treaty with open doors, which was the pending question, was debated for two hours but without developing any thing of interest. Neither party was in a position to have its way regarded. Late in the evening Jones (Ark.) moved to adjourn over till Monday and the yeas and nays were ordered.

The division was upon strict party lines and the motion was lost by a tie vote. Morgan then took the floor and announced his intention to talk till Saturday night, whereupon the Senate adjourned till to-morrow.

New England Farmers and the Mills Bill.

New York Press.] The New England Homestead has taken a vote on the Mills bill among the farmers of New England and Eastern New York. Out of 2832 returns from legal voters 2590 were against the bill and only 242 registered in its favor. Maine voted 4 to 1; New Hampshire, 30 to 1; Rhode Island, 7 to 1; Connecticut, 7 to 1; Vermont, 20 to 1; Massachusetts, 12 to 1, and New York 9 to 1. In all human probability a general farmer's tariff vote throughout the country would produce similar results. The farmers realize that their prosperity depends upon the continued existence of the home market. Otherwise they will be devoured by middlemen and wasteful commercial expenses.

Senatorial Convention.

A Convention of the Democratic and Conservative party of the 15th Senatorial District is called to meet in the city of Wetumpka, Wednesday the 11th day of July, in the Court House at 12 o'clock m., for the purpose of nominating a candidate to represent said district in the State of Alabama. Each county will be entitled to the same number of delegates as it is entitled to in the Congressional convention, to-wit:—

Mobile Harbor.

The senate ought to put the Mobile Harbor bill back to $250,000. Hon. J. T. Jones has worked very faithfully for Mobile, so faithfully, in fact, that the upper districts are beginning to say: "If our congressmen had worked for the Coast like Jones has worked for Mobile" etc. etc. He has convinced the whole House of Representatives that Mobile and Alabama need this $250,000, and here comes the senate committee taking snap judgment on Alabama to reduce the amount by $100,000. Not a note of warning was given even to the senators from Alabama. The reduction is not right and ought not to stand. With deep water at Mobile, more commerce would flow through that port than through any city south of Baltimore and the railroads can't help it. More miles of navigable river are tributary to it than to any seaport in America except New Orleans.—Advertiser.

The cheek and audacity of some of the people who apply to the Government for pensions is remarkable. Take the case of William H. Hester for example. Hester applied for a pension on the ground that in 1860, while in the Government service, he was caught in a sand-storm and the sand blew into his eyes and came near putting them out. This is what he swore to, and also that at this time he was taken care of by a Mr. Baldwin. The latter swore, that while he knew Hester in 1869, he never heard of the sand-storm or bad eyes, but on the contrary never knew Hester to be ailing except on one occasion, and that was when he had eaten too much. An affidavit of Baldwin's was produced, but it proved to be a forgery. After reviewing the case the President declared it "a fraud from beginning to end," and justly concluded that "the effrontery with which it has been pushed shows the necessity of a careful examination of these cases."

Our Home Girls.

The cynic may smile and curl the lips at the pure innocence and sweet simplicity of our blushing village girls; they may not appear so at ease, talkative and coquettish in company but being properly brought up they are modest, gentle and affable. Observation teaches that the "high falutin," high born, as they are called, who are educated in all the cold, conventional forms of modern society are inclined to be haughty in their demeanor, formal and repulsive in their manners, and deficient in sentiment as well as sensibility.

Those "bon tons," who are so bewitching to some, whose minds have been forced, who have acquired character for talent and a reputation for their ability to reason, are generally as cold as the snow of the ice cold Alps. Reason and simplicity seldom go together. And just as reason predominates over the mind of a lady and she gets to be what is termed strong minded, she becomes masculine and loses those gentle affectionate, feminine graces which are so much to be admired. Give us ever a girl whose soul is all simplicity, unpolluted by the cold, conventional forms and notions of society. We prefer the native simplicity of the wild flower of the fields to the more gorgeous but less sweet one that has been forced in the hot house.

The New York Democratic State committee have organized on a Cleveland basis. The New York delegation to St. Louis will be solid for Cleveland. The Republican delegation is split up between Blaine, Depew, Gresham and Sherman.

James G. Blaine has written a letter from Paris to Whitelaw Reid, of the New York Tribune, in which he says he will not accept the Republican nomination for President if it is tendered.

Every State delegation to the St. Louis convention will be solid for Cleveland, and he will have no opposition.

Gen. Phil Sheridan, the Federal cavalry leader is on his death bed.

Jemison Locals.

We regret to chronicle the death of Henry Armstrong which occurred here a few days since. We tender our sympathies to the bereaved mother in the loss of a loved and an only son.

Mrs. F. H. Donkin has returned from a visit of several weeks to friends and relatives at Gallatin, Tennessee, looking much improved. We suppose they have more good things to eat in middle Tennessee than we do in the pine woods of central Alabama.

Prof. G. L. Speer has closed his school, and our juvenile population spends a vast deal of their leisure time playing and courting.

Miss Kate Sherill has returned to her home at Vine Hill, Autauga Co., much to the regret of her many friends here. Her life is replete with those virtues which go to make up an exalted womanhood, and she has won the universal respect, esteem and love of our town.

The ladies of the M. E. church will give an ice cream supper at Mr. C. H. Durham's Tuesday night for the benefit of the church.

Mr. R. J. Heath is just beginning the erection of a nice residence just east of the "Chilton House."

Dr. B. J. Kendall, Sir:—I have used your Kendall's Spain Cure, and it is wonderful to say the least. Yours respectfully,
J. L. CHARY.

From the "Spirit of the Times," June 26, 1888. The old idea that a specific was incurable has given way before the improvements made by modern science. Among these wonderful improvements must be mentioned the most successful remedy ever discovered for the cure of this disease, Kendall's Spain Cure, one that is certain in its effect, and will not blister. It is prepared by Dr. B. J. Kendall, Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt., and has received praise on every hand for its thorough and reliable work in cases of sprain or lock lameness. It is a certain cure for rheumatism, enlargement of the joints, corns, etc., while blood sprains and bursae enlargements promptly disappear on its use. It is a standard remedy among horse owners and breeders, where its work has often been proven. It is for sale by all druggists at $1 per bottle or six for $5, or will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, Dr. B. J. Kendall, Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt.

From infancy to old age the human family is liable to some form of kidney trouble. Restore the action of the liver and kidneys to a healthy state with DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE, and both the kidney and bladder will be restored. Read what the Rev. Dr. Arnold, of Camden, says of Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine:—

"I was cured of Symptomatic Heart Disease, caused by a torpid liver and indigestion. Was troubled with it for 30 years, growing worse all the time, until I commenced taking Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine. Three bottles restored me to perfect health after all physicians and medicines had failed to give me any relief. Dr. Duncan's Medicine is better, if possible, than he represents them to be."

LOCAL NOTINGS.

The Growth of Man.

This is the state of man; to-day he puts forth the tender leaves of hope, to-morrow blossoms, and bears his blushing honors thick upon him; The third day comes a frost, a killing frost; And when he thinks, good, easy man, full surely His greatness is a-ripening, nips his root; And then he falls as I do. —[Shakespeare.]

Premium.

By subscribing for the VIEW now and paying in advance you can get the New York World until November as a premium. This will give you a good Democratic metropolitan journal through the coming campaign free of charge. Try it. Old subscribers can avail themselves of this offer by paying for the VIEW for one year in advance.

Stop the Humane.

Some persons have been placing dead animals in the swamp on the edge of the town and leaving them in such close proximity to residences as to render them offensive to the olfactory of the occupants. This should be stopped as it will result in giving our doctors more work than they can do this summer, and it is not probable that those good doctors are disposed to calve business in their line by such a plan.

How He Went to Sleep.

Written by a wounded soldier, while lying in the hospital at Washington, and found under his pillow after his death:

I lay me down to sleep,
With little thought or care
Whether my waking Find me here or there.

My good right hand—
Forgot to tanning now,
To march the weary march
I know not how.

A bowing, burdened heart
That only asks for rest
Upon the Saviour's breast.

I am not eager, bold or strong,
All that is past,
I'm ready not to do,
At last, at last.

My half day's work is done,
And that is all my part,
I give a patient God,
My patient heart.

And grasp His banner still,
Through all the blue sea dim,
The stripes no less than stars
Lead up to Him.

Rev. Jos. M. Kailin, now attending the Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky., will return to Alabama this summer and be assigned to work by the State Mission Board in the ministerial field.

Suicide.

Found dead in the grove in front of Mr. Jno. Aldridge's house on Sunday morning last, a male cat belonging to Mr. L. B. Wells. Hung by a rope that had been used as a swing.

There is going to be a basket picnic at Douglass' schoolhouse on Wadsworth's log road Saturday, June 9th. The log train will leave the mill about nine o'clock, return about five, making connection with the accommodation trains both morning and evening. All are respectfully invited to attend.

Wonderful Cures.

W. D. Hoyt & Co., Wholesale and Retail Druggists of Rome, Ga., say: We have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery, Electric Bitters and Bucklen's Arnica Salve for four years. Have never handled remedies that sell as well, or give such universal satisfaction. There have been some wonderful cures effected by these medicines in this city. Several cases of Consumption have been entirely cured by use of a few bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, taken in connection with Electric Bitters. We guarantee them always. Sold by W. H. Phillips, Clanton.

Notice.

The members of the Democratic Executive Committee are hereby requested to meet in Clanton on June 4th, for the transaction of important business. By order of D. J. WATERWORTH, Chrm'n Ex. Com. W. L. SAMPEY, Sec'y.

The numerous warm friends in this neighborhood of Maj. John L. Harrell, formerly of this place, will regret to learn that he is suffering seriously with an eye trouble. He is under the treatment of that eminent specialist, Dr. B. J. Baldwin, in Montgomery, and we expect to see him alright again soon. He is head book-keeper for Dunnivant, Tate & DeBardleben at Leeds.

Club Rate.

It affords us pleasure to state to our Baptist readers that we have made arrangements with the proprietors of the Alabama Baptist, whereby we are enabled to offer that paper and the CHILTON VIEW for one year for $2.75. Surely every Baptist citizen of Chilton county will take advantage of this offer.

Don't

let that cold of yours run on. You think it is light and that it may run into catarrh. Or into pneumonia. Or consumption. Catarrh is disgusting. Pneumonia is dangerous. Consumption is death itself. The breathing apparatus must be kept healthy and clear of all obstructions and offensive matter. Otherwise there is trouble ahead. All the diseases of these parts, head, nose, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs, can be delightfully and entirely cured by the use of Bucklen's German Syrup. If you don't know this already, thousands and thousands of people can tell you. They have been cured by it, and know how it is, themselves. Bottle only 75 cents. Ask any druggist.

Pleasy Girls.

The young ladies at Ward's Seminary in Nashville refused to recite a lesson in alleged United States history because it grossly misrepresented the South. They are worthy daughters of noble Confederate sires, and heroes like their mothers, who wore homespun dresses and made bandages for wounded soldiers in war times.

They are patriotic Americans, all; the United States is their country and the star-spangled banner their flag, but their native emotion, and the cause for which their fathers fought, cannot be slandered within their hearing.

While women of the South are made in this mould the calumny of professed historians can be safely defied.

If a man wants a wife with loyalty to herself, her people and her country, and whose spirit and pride mark her an uncrowned queen let him seek her from this history class in Ward's Seminary.

By the way, Ward's Seminary being a Southern school, the objectionable book should be thrown out of its curriculum.—B. Herald.

How Giraffes are Captured.

Mr. Lohse, a hunter of wild animals in the employ of a New York firm, told a Sun reporter how giraffes are captured. It takes only about four to six horsemen and about twelve or fifteen footmen for a giraffe hunt.

The long-necked animals on stilts go in herds of 30 to 100 head. When the hunting party discover the spoor of a herd of giraffes they creep up on them and wait until the mid-day heat when the animals are in the shade of the thickets. Then the horsemen run in on them and drive them out into the open country under the scorching rays of the sun. An hour's chase in this desert exhausts the giraffes so that the young ones drop in their tracks unable to go any further. The old giraffes are killed for their meat, which is considered a great delicacy. It tastes something like veal. The young, as soon as they fall down in an exhausted state, are secured with a halter, to which is fastened two long ropes. As soon as it is sufficiently recovered to walk it is driven between two hunters to the nearest shade. Then it is allowed to rest and is fed on goat's milk. A dozen or so goats are always taken on a giraffe hunt for this purpose. After the young giraffe becomes used to the goat's milk it is driven to the camp, and thence by easy stages to the main camp, or serail. The giraffes that are so captured are never more than two to four months old. They grow very fast, and reach Europe when they are about a year old and 8 or 9 feet high. I have had over forty of them at a time running loose in the serail.

Didn't Work for Once.

"Will you be kind enough, pa," said Bobby, in a low, wet-medulated tone of voice, "to give me another piece of pie?"

"No, sir," replied the old man.

"You're dead enough?"

"No," said Bobby, with a valiant air, "you told me that poltinaise always pays."

Peer Africa.

In answer to a question in Parliament, the British government has promised to use every endeavor to lessen the evil of, if not put down altogether, the liquor traffic among the native races inhabiting the British dependencies. The hope was also expressed that the American government would, in future, co-operate more readily than they had hitherto done in preventing the sale of intoxicating liquors to native races. It appears that during 1906, more than ten million gallons of the illicit spirits ever manufactured were sent to Africa alone, of which England sent 311,384 gallons, and Germany 7,873,043 gallons, while the Netherlands, the United States, France, Spain and Portugal sent smaller quantities.

Cotton in Europe.

With regard to American cotton, the quantities are very badly distributed. In fact, Liverpool and Havre have now 300,000 bales from America less than they had at the same period a year ago. But the requirements are great and certainly more pressing than last year, consequently, by the first of August, Europe ought to have not only these 300,000 bales, but also 300,000 bales more than had been shipped from the 21st of April to the 31st of August, 1897. This being the case, it is said that it is probable the Americans will maintain their prices on the different markets, even if the news of the crops were favorable, as its first bales cannot appear in the market before September or October. —French paper.

In General Debility, Emaciation, Consumption, and Wasting in Children, Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites, is a most valuable food and medicine. It creates an appetite for food, strengthens the nervous system, and builds up the body. Please read: "I tried Scott's Emulsion on a young man whom Physicians at times gave up hope. Since he began using the Emulsion he has gained weight, strength, and from all appearances his life will be prolonged many years." —John Murray, Esq., of Glasgow, Scotland.

Conventional "Men's" Resolutions. Whereat, The M. N. H. Co., of C. R. Co., has resolved to make it known to the world that it forms the double connecting link of Pullman tourist travel between the winter cities of Florida and the summer resorts of the North. The M. N. H. Co. is a "rapid transit" system, it is unexcelled in the world, and it is the only one that can be relied upon for service between Chicago and Louisville, Indianapolis and Cincinnati, and all the other cities of the West. Its rates are as low as the lowest; its service is as prompt as the best; its equipment is as comfortable as the most luxurious. In the event of starting on a trip it is good policy to consult with F. M. McCormick, Gen'l. Pass. Agent, Union Route, 186 Dearborn St., Chicago, for full particulars. (In any event, for a Tourist Guide, enclose a postage.)

The success of some of the agents employed by B. F. Johnson & Co., Richmond, Va., in the development of the country was made known to their agents to make as high as $30 and $40 a day, and sometimes their profit ran up as high as $50 and $75—even more. But we hear of the success of some of the agents, and we believe we are in earnest. Write to them and see for yourself what they will do for you.

Graphic's Delight.

It is related of the eccentric Earl of Bridgewater, that he took great care of his feet. Many people would say that would be just the way to injure them. At any rate, he was an excellent customer for the shoemaker. He kept a large number of dogs, and had shoes made for each of their paws. And he took at least equal care of himself, for he never wore a pair of boots or shoes more than once, and had consequently 365 new pairs every year. None of his servants dared touch the boots laid by, which were distributed among them every second year.

A ship is to be launched at Chester, Pa., on the 9th inst., to be named "The City of Birmingham." A party of Birmingham people will attend the launching. Miss Pauline Caldwell, daughter of Dr. Caldwell, of Birmingham, has been selected to christen the ship by "breaking the bottle on the prow."

There will be six Presidential tickets in the field this year. Four of them have already made nominations for President, viz: For the Woman's Rights party, Belva A. Lockwood; the Union Labor, A. J. Streeter; the United Labor party, R. H. Doudrey; the Prohibition party, Clinton B. Fiske.

Mr. Blaine's friends are making a distinct and open bid for the Conkling vote. Associated Press gives a deal of space to those who want to show that while Conkling would not speak to Blaine, Blaine has always been an admirer of Conkling and said lots of nice things about him in his book. That much is certainly true, but a book like Blaine's could not have omitted Great Conkling.

Mr. Michael Duffy, a Montgomery policeman, died on Monday last. Flugs were ordered by the Mayor to be placed at half mast on the city building and police headquarters in honor of Mr. Duffy's memory. Mr. Duffy was in the service of the city for thirty years except when in the Confederate army. In the Confederate service he fought from Manassas to Appomattox and received eighteen wounds.

A friend handed us a copy of the Alabama Republican this week. It is very sweet on the View, but is disposed to show sensitiveness because it imagines the View man has neglected to treat the editor of the Republican with much respect. Great Caesar! What an unlimited amount of gall and self-conceit that man must have, who, after affiliating with the Republican party of Alabama, thinks he is entitled to any respect.

Another Scandal.

A malignant social scandal in the life of the chief executive officer of the country is sufficient to create the sensation of the day, if true. A telegraphic synopsis of a recent sensational development in the home life of President Cleveland is published elsewhere. It is impossible to believe that the "scandal" is anything more than the malignant vapors of the enemies of the President. It is published only to show to what desperate straits the enemies of the President have been driven. It charges that the President has made a violent assault upon Mrs. Cleveland and has twice driven her from the White House. Much silly stuff is likely to fall out of the telegraph wires. "Don't let a hundred believe what a slander can be proven."

It is much to be hoped that this is not a prelude to another nasty Presidential campaign such as the last.

Mr. Randall's "Passing"

Athens Constitution.

We learn from some of our exchanges that Mr. Randall has passed away as a democrat. The funeral is described in various ways. One paper heads the obituary "Mr. Randall's Day;" another, with a volume of fine literary vaporizing from its dilated nostrils, calls attention to "The Passing of Mr. Randall."

Evidently the occasion is an unusually solemn one. But we bear in mind the fact that this is not the first time that Mr. Randall's funeral sermon has been preached by both republican and democratic journals. We remember that in 1884, when Mr. Randall refused to support the horizontal tariff introduced by Mr. Morrison, he was formally read out of the party by Editor Henry Waterson.

This was the first "passing" of Mr. Randall; but then came a critical period in the campaign, when Mr. Randall was called on to go into New Jersey and give emphasis to the protection plank of the Chicago platform. About the same time it was thought that New York was determined to make a vigorous attempt to redeem the fortunes of the democracy.

Under these circumstances who was called on to aid the party? Not Editor Waterson, with his brilliant rhetoric; nor Morrison, with his horizontal arguments. No; the democratic committee called on Mr. Randall, who had been formally read out of the party, and he went into New York state and made short work of the republicans. He showed that the democratic party stood on a platform that would give protection to American labor and American industries, and his arguments were conclusive.

Although he had been read out of the party by some of the small fry he entered into the campaign with a zest and vigor that told all over the country. Mr. Randall, as it appears, is again engaged in "passing;" but when the critical period comes, he will again be called on, and he will respond just as he did when he stood between the south and the infamous force bill. He had nothing to gain then, and has nothing to gain now; he is simply a democrat who is willing to work at all seasons for the good of the party.

Depew's Prospects.

The New York Times says that if one of Blaine's most intimate friends can be trusted—and he is a man whose word in business matters is daily taken as if it were his bond—Mr. Depew now has the Republican nomination in his possession. The gentleman said to a reporter of the Times:

"Mr. Depew has been in constant receipt of telegrams from all parts of the country assuring him that now that Mr. Blaine had certainly withdrawn they should support him for the Republican nomination for the Presidency. By actual count, as I happen to know, Mr. Depew has to-day been assured of the votes of more than a majority of the delegates to Chicago. When he left his house to go to the Metropolitan Opera House to-night he had the nomination on his desk."

Mr. Depew himself said to a Times reporter:

"Mr. Blaine's letter removes the last doubt that the most skeptical can have entertained of the sincerity of his withdrawal. He would have been nominated had he not withdrawn, for he had 400 delegates, more than a majority of the convention. Of course, I cannot talk of my own candidacy."

All Get Married.

Albany Journal.

By one of those unexpected turns of fortune which occur in Albany as often as anywhere, a man who but half a dozen years ago was a hodge-carrier has become comparatively wealthy. This change of financial circumstances has had the usual effect upon the ex-hod-carrier's wife, who enjoys decorating her adipose form with what she supposes to be the latest styles. She has also, notwithstanding an utter disability to read, affected a fine literary taste, which she ostentatiously announces whenever possible. Calling upon a lady whom she has been trying to make herself acquainted with, she picked up a book from the table, and, innocent of any knowledge that it was a copy of the Bible, asked the loan of it a little time, as "she had not the book in her library." The lady readily consented. After keeping it about a fortnight her visitor returned the volume with profuse thanks. "How do you like it," was asked. "Very well, indeed; but I knew how it would turn out before I was half through. They married after all."

A Charge Wanted.

Troy Messenger.

It is about definitely settled that the next Legislature will divest the power of appointing county superintendents of education and confer it upon the governor. There is no reason why the people of the respective counties should not elect the county superintendents. If the reasons for giving the governor the power to appoint are good and sufficient, then the same reasons would apply to all the other county officers.

The Battle of Lowndes.

By CHARLES G. MORRIS.

From Greenview School Journal.

Hurray for the Blues! Hurray for the Blues! Hurray for the boys who deserve our praise!

Hurray for the Rifles and Cavalry-men Who went to the war and came back again!

They went with sabers and bayonets bright, And marched to the ridge at the dead of night! But when they arrived at the great battle grounds, No traces were found of the battle of Lowndes.

Footsore and weary they wended their way, To the homes they had left so cheerful and gay. Just mention it now if you wish to see frowns For the boys got enough of the battle of Lowndes.

Cleveland Charged With Assaulting His Wife.

St. Louis, June 2.—It has come and it would be crushing, but the delegates and the people refuse to believe it! "We can prove it," whisper the enemies of President Cleveland, but not one in a hundred believes such a slander can be proven. The whole city is to-night discussing it in suppressed tones, and the spread of a pious lie is slow in comparison to the spread of this outrageous scandal. Stop in the street, in the hotel, in the barroom, in church, in the theatre, in the parlor, in the privacy of the home circle, and you will hear it. It is a mine which the enemies of the President have long been preparing. The explosion has taken place, and the only result so far is a stench of huge dimensions. The story to-night is alleged that a pamphlet is being quietly circulated, giving the charge in detail.

This horrible story is, in substance, that the President acted in a very vulgar manner toward Mrs. Cleveland; that he has violently assaulted her, and that she was twice compelled to leave the White House. Other charges are made, but this is the sensation of the day. It is circulated all over the city this morning, and to-night everybody is talking of nothing else. It is a monstrous, a malicious falsehood by friends of the President and is put down as the work of some of his bitter enemies in the party.

NEWSPAPERS AND EDITORS.

Montgomery Dispatch.]

"Carthage Cole" delivered an address before the recent meeting of the press association of Mississippi on "Newspapers and Editors," which is being very widely copied, and is attracting very general attention, not alone because of the subject of which it treats but because of its merits, its good sense, and wise conclusions. Her picture of the editor of the average weekly newspaper, is life-like and, while it may be a whit or so overdrawn it is so well drawn, denoting such a vivid imagination, that the Dispatch reproduces it in the author's own words. She says:

You have often seen these gray, sad-looking little publications, without any patent indices or outside of any kind worth mentioning. You could say off by heart the little array of valueless items; how Mr. Thomas Robinson has a new red wagon, and Mr. Richard Brown has favored the editor with the first young onions of the season, and Mr. Henry Jones' blacksmith sign fell down in the night and killed a goose.

"Oh, I can see in my mind, and you can see with me, the sort of town from which this struggling newspaper comes. The long, ragged streets decorated with broken barrel-hoops and dented tomato cans, with dog kennel everywhere. The stores are bare like empty, with here and there a clerk selling ribbon for the party or a few nails and rivets to put up that sign. Lazy men sit around chewing tobacco, whittling sticks and making an unseemly litter on the sidewalks under the cool shade of the mulberry trees, and they have not even the ambition to collect their pine whittlings and take them home for kindling.

I can see the dust in the road as the doctor's buggy rattles past, the horse clucking its four heels together in a rhythmic way that recalls the blacksmith's sign and anvil chorus in "Trovatore," and I can hear the lazy stick-whittlers betting money they haven't got that Jim Jones' wife has had twins again.

And then the editor comes along, the editor of the down-in-the-mouth, unpatronized paper—and if we were there, we who are his fellow-sufferers, his brothers and sisters, his loyal lasting friends, if we were there our hats and our bonnets would be off to him. Who but a fellow scribe can guess with what courage, what hope, what patience he sticks at his work, and writes his earnest editorials and helps run off the paper and makes out his bills and tries to collect subscriptions, and noses around for more fallen signs and dead geese and red wagons and new babies! He is the victim of people who have not learned the magic of advertising, of a stick-whittling community, of gossip and ignorance and indifference and idleness."

The Verdict Verdict.

W. D. Salt, Druggist, Blythe Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every little child has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, Druggist, Ballville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 30 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Biliary or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at Phillips' Druggists.

Howard College.

Marion Standard: Birmingham

wants the Auburn College moved there. Hadn't she better make a success of Howard College before she have claims to any other College? When Howard College was removed from Marion it was with promise of large donations from Birmingham and an agreement that within twelve months a fifty thousand dollar building should be erected. How has she complied with her promise? We have heard that no sign of even the foundation of that $50,000 building can be seen although the year has about expired. We have also heard that there has been a wonderful shrinkage in the lands which almost entirely made up Birmingham's donation to the College.

Senatorial Convention.

A Convention of the Democratic and Conservative party of the 15th Senatorial District is called to meet in the city of Wetumpka, Wednesday the 11th day of July, in the Court House at 12 o'clock m., for the purpose of nominating a candidate to represent said district in the State of Alabama. Each county will be entitled to the same number of delegates as it is entitled to in the Congressional convention, to-wit: Chilton.....15. Coosa.....17. Elmore.....20.

Gents:—I have used your Kendall's Spavin Cure and it is wonderful to say the least. Yours respectfully, J. L. GRARY.

From the "Spirit of the Times," June 28, 1888. The old idea that a spavin was incurable has given way before the improvements made by modern science. Among these wonderful improvements must be mentioned the most successful remedy ever discovered for the cure of this disease, Kendall's Spavin Cure, one that is certain in its effect, and will not blister. It is prepared by Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt., and has received praise on every hand for its thorough and reliable work in cases of spavin or hock lameness. It is a certain cure for rheumatism, enlargement of the joints, corns, etc., while blood poisoning and bursal enlargement promptly disappear on its use. It is a standard remedy among horse owners and breeders, where its work has often been proven. It is for sale by all druggists at $1 per bottle or six for $5, or will be forwarded to any address on receipt of it by the proprietors, Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt.

From infancy to old age the human family is liable to some form of kidney trouble. Restore the action of the liver and kidneys to a healthy state with DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE, and both the liver and bladder will be restored. Read what the Rev. Dr. Arnold, of Camden, says of Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine: "It was cured of Symptomatic Heart Disease, caused by a torpid liver and indigestion. Was troubled with it for 30 years, growing worse all the time, until I commenced taking Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine. Three bottles restored to perfect health after all physicians and medicines had failed to give me any relief. Dr. Duncan's Medicines are better, if possible, than he represents them to be."

LOCAL NOTICES.

Why is it?

We spent the summer by the sea. Together merrily laughed and flirted; Her dainty limbs, from toe to knee, Were freely left to kick and skirt. But if her buttoned bodice slipped, A glimpse of snowy shoulder showing, She'd quickly pin the place that ripped. While blushes on her cheeks were glowing.

To-night I take her to the ball; She cometh down, a dream Elysian, As bare as Eve's before the fall. Her shoulders are a lovely vision, A gaze entranced from head to foot; Beneath her soft skirt's silky lace, There peeps a tiny satin boot. She draws it back—how red her face is.

Local news and hawking chickens are scarce.

Mr. O. T. Grimes, of Pratt Saw Mill, was in to see us Saturday.

Our base ball nine ought to get up a match game with some other club.

Blackberries are ripe. We live in hope of being able to stand starvation off while they last.

A Woman's Discovery.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutch upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night, and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." This writes W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Get a free trial bottle at Phillips' Drug Store.

Dr. Renfro Dead.

Dr. J. J. D. Renfro, who will be remembered as having done much good evangelistic work in our midst some years since, died at Woodlawn, near Birmingham, on last Saturday. Dr. Renfro was one of the most prominent ministers of the Baptist denomination in the South. The Birmingham Chronicle says of him:

"Dr. Renfro spent nearly all his life at Talladega and there will be mourning in every household there, for he was beloved by all without regard to denomination. He will be buried there beside his wife, two noble sons and two fair young daughters. He leaves one son and one daughter.

He had received honors from his church and no man stood higher in the Baptist church than this man who has been called before his time into eternity.

Pneumonia was the immediate cause of his death, but those who know him, know that a broken heart was the real cause. He has not been himself since the death of his wife several months since. He has been really ill since last Sunday, when he took part in the meeting for the Howard College, but he has been unwell since his return from the Southern Baptist Convention at Richmond.

Chilton County Iron Ore Beds to be Worked Again.

It is rumored that the iron ore beds near this place, will soon be worked again. It will be remembered that these beds were being worked a few years ago by Col. Sloss and the work was abandoned though the railroad running from them and striking the L. & N. road at Lomax has never been interfered with and still remains in tact. We learn that Col. Sloss has sold his interest in this enterprise to other parties who will soon begin to get out ore to be shipped to furnaces in North Alabama. Parties who are interested were down here last week inspecting the ore beds and expressed themselves as well pleased with them, stating that they would work them sometime in the near future, and would extend the narrow gauge road further east where ore can be obtained in greater quantities.

What Am I to Do?

The symptoms of Biliousness are unpleasant but two well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A Bilious man is seldom a breakfast eater. Too frequently, alas, he has an excellent appetite for liquids, but none for solids of a morning. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time; if it is not white and furred, it is rough at all events.

The digestive system is wholly out of order and Diarrhea or Constipation may be a symptom of the two may alternate. There are often Hemorrhoids or even loss of blood. There may be giddiness and often headache and acidity or flatulency and tenderness in the stomach. To correct all this if not effect a cure try Green's August Flower, it costs but a trifle and thousands attest its efficacy.

A practical revivalist requested all in the congregation who paid their debts to rise. The rising was general. After they had taken their seats, a call was made for those who didn't pay their debts, and one solitary individual arose, who explained that he was the editor, and could not pay because the rest of the congregation were owing him their subscription.—Ez.

In Philadelphia the iron market is much depressed. Prices are low and eastern furnaces are unable to compete with the South.

The Louisville & Nashville propose to build a new railroad from Birmingham to Huntsville through the mineral lands of the famous Murphree's valley.

The Mississippi river is familiarly and popularly known as the "Father of Waters."—Hot Blast. Yes, the item had gone the rounds of the press some days before the Hot Blast caught on.—Herald.

Now that the Presidential campaign is about to begin let it be understood that the first man who starts a slander on the private character of either of the candidates "will forthwith be beheaded."—Ex.

Mr. Frank W. Gist, of the Bibb Blade, is a candidate for Assistant Clerk of the next House of Representatives. Frank would fill the place very acceptably we have no doubt and he is an ambitious and deserving young man whom we think is worthy of the trust.

There is to be a continuation of the building boom during the summer. There are thousands of new houses going up everywhere and many contracts are being let every week. Suburban lots can be bought at fair prices and homes are being built.—B'ham Chronicle.

A ship is to be launched at Chester, Pa., on the 9th inst., to be named "The City of Birmingham." A party of Birmingham people will attend the launching. Miss Pauline Caldwell, daughter of Dr. Caldwell, of Birmingham, has been selected to christen the ship by "breaking the bottle on the prow."

There will be six Presidential tickets in the field this year. Four of them have already made nominations for President, viz: For the Woman's Rights party, Belva A. Lockwood; the United Labor, A. J. Streeter; the United Labor party, R. H. Doudrey; the Prohibition party, Clinton B. Fiske.

Mr. Blaine's friends are making a distinct and open bid for the Conkling vote. Associated Press gives a deal of space to those who want to show that while Conkling would not speak to Blaine, Blaine has always been an admirer of Conkling and said lots of nice things about him in his book. That much is certainly true, but a book like Blaine's could not have omitted Great Conkling.

Mr. Michael Duffy, a Montgomery policeman, died on Monday last. Flags were ordered by the Mayor to be placed at half mast on the city building and police headquarters in honor of Mr. Duffy's memory. Mr. Duffy was in the service of the city for thirty years except when in the Confederate army. In the Confederate service he fought on Manassas to Appomattox and received eighteen wounds.

A friend handed us a copy of the Alabama Republican this week. It is very sweet on the View, but is disposed to show sensitiveness because it imagines the View man has neglected to treat the editor of the Republican with much respect. Great Caesar! What an unlimited amount of gall and self-conceit that man must have, who, after affiliating with the Republican party of Alabama, thinks he is entitled to any respect.

Another Scandal.

A malignant social scandal in the life of the chief executive officer of the country is sufficient to create the sensation of the day, if true. A telegraphic synopsis of a recent sensational development in the home life of President Cleveland is published elsewhere. It is impossible to believe that the "scandal" is anything more than the malignant vapors of the enemies of the President. It is published only to show to what desperate straits the enemies of the President have been driven. It charges that the President has made a violent assault upon Mrs. Cleveland and has twice driven her from the White House. Such silly stuff is likely to fill the air as the telegram says: "But we in a hundred believe such a slander can be proven." It is much to be hoped that this is not a prelude to another nasty Presidential campaign such as the last.

Mr. Randall's "Passing"

Atlanta Constitution.

We learn from some of our exchanges that Mr. Randall has passed away as a democrat. The funeral is described in various ways. One paper heads the obsequies "Mr. Randall's Day," another, with a volume of fine literary vapor pouring from its dilated nostrils, calls attention to "The Passing of Mr. Randall."

Evidently the occasion is an unusually solemn one. But we bear in mind the fact that this is not the first time that Mr. Randall's funeral sermon has been preached by both republican and democratic journals. We remember that in 1884, when Mr. Randall refused to support the horizontal tariff introduced by Mr. Morrison, he was formally read out of the party by Editor Henry Waterson.

This was the first "passing" of Mr. Randall in the campaign, when Mr. Randall was called on to go into New Jersey and give emphasis to the protection plank of the Chicago platform. About the same time it was thought that New York was determined to make a vigorous attempt to redeem the fortunes of the democracy.

Under these circumstances who was called on to aid the party? Not Editor Waterson, with his brilliant rhetoric; nor Morrison, with his horizontal arguments. No; the democratic committee called on Mr. Randall, who had been formally read out of the party, and he went into New York state and made short work of the republicans. He showed that the democratic party stood on a platform that would give protection to American labor and American industries, and his arguments were conclusive.

Although he had been read out of the party by some of the small fry he entered into the campaign with a zest and vigor that told all over the country. Mr. Randall, as it appears, is again engaged in "passing," but when the critical period comes, he will again be called on, and he will respond just as he did when he stood between the south and the infamous force bill. He had nothing to gain then, and has nothing to gain now; he is simply a democrat who is willing to work at all seasons for the good of the party.

Depew's Prospects.

The New York Times says that if one of Blaine's most intimate friends can be trusted—and he is a man whose word in business matters is daily taken as if it were his bond—Mr. Depew now has the Republican nomination in his possession. The gentleman said to a reporter of the Times:

"Mr. Depew has been in constant receipt of telegrams from all parts of the country assuring him that now that Mr. Blaine had certainly withdrawn they should support him for the Republican nomination for the Presidency. By actual count, as I happen to know, Mr. Depew has to-day been assured of the votes of more than a majority of the delegates to Chicago. When he left his house to go to the Metropolitan Opera House to-night he had the nomination on his desk."

Mr. Depew himself said to a Times reporter:

"Mr. Blaine's letter removes the last doubt that the most skeptical can have entertained of the sincerity of his withdrawal. He would have been nominated had he not withdrawn, for he had 406 delegates, more than a majority of the convention. Of course, I cannot talk of my own candidacy."

All Get Married.

Albany Journal.

By one of those unexpected turns of fortune which occur in Albany as often as anywhere, a man who but half a dozen years ago was a bod-carrier has become comparatively wealthy. This change of financial circumstances has had the usual effect upon the ex-bod-carrier's wife, who enjoys decorating her adobe form with what she supposes to be the latest styles. She has also, notwithstanding an utter disability to read, affected a fine literary taste, which she ostentatiously announces whenever possible. Calling upon a lady whom she has been trying to make herself acquainted with, she picked up a book from the table, and, innocent of any knowledge that it was a copy of the Bible asked the loan of it a little time, as "she had not the book in her library." The lady readily consented. After keeping it about a fortnight her visitor returned the volume with profuse thanks. "How did you like it?" was asked. "Very well, indeed; but I knew how it would turn out before I was half through. They married after all."

A Charge Wanted.

Troy Messenger.

It is about definitely settled that the next Legislature will divest the power of appointing county superintendents of education and confer it upon the governor. There is no reason why the people of the respective counties should not elect the county superintendents. If the reasons for giving the governor the power to appoint are good and sufficient, then the same reasons would apply to all the other county officers.

The Battle of Lowndes.

BY CHARLES C. MORRIS.

From Greenville School Journal.

Hurray for the Blues! Hurray for the Blues! Hurray for the boys who deserve our praise! Hurray for the Rifles and Cavalry-men Who went to the war and came back again!

They went with sabers and bayonets bright, And stretched to the ridge at the dead of night; But when they arrived at the great battle grounds, No traces were found of the battle of Lowndes.

Footsore and weary they wended their way, To the homes they had left so cheerful and gay; Just now it is now if you wish to see frowns For the boys got enough of the battle of Lowndes.

Cleveland Charged With Assaulting His Wife.

St. Louis, June 3.—It has come and it would be crushing, but the delegates and the people refuse to believe it! "We can prove it," whisper the enemies of President Cleveland, but not one in a hundred believes such a slander can be proven. The whole city is to-night discussing it in suppressed tones, and the spread of a prairie fire is slow in comparison to the spread of this outrageous scandal. Stop in the street, in the hotel, in the barroom, in church, in the theatre, in the parlor, in the privacy of the home circle, and you will hear it. It is a mine which the enemies of the President have long been preparing. The explosion has taken place, and the only result so far is a stench of huge dimensions. The story was first put in circulation by word to-night it is alleged that a pamphlet is being quietly circulated, giving the charge in detail.

This is the story, in substance, that the President acted in a very ungentlemanly manner toward Mrs. Cleveland; that he has violently assaulted her, and that she was twice compelled to leave the White House. Other charges are made, but this is the sensation of the day. It was circulated all over the city this morning, and to-night everybody is talking of nothing else. It is pronounced a malicious falsehood by friends of the President and is put down as the work of some of his bitter enemies in the party.

NEWSPAPERS AND EDITORS.

Montgomery Dispatch.]

"Cartharine Cole" delivered an address before the recent meeting of the press association of Mississippi on "Newspapers and Editors," which is being very widely copied, and is attracting very general attention, not alone because of the subject of which it treats but because of its merits, its good sense, and wise conclusions. Her picture of the editor of the average weekly newspaper, is life-like and, while it may be a whit or so overdrawn it is so well drawn, denoting such a vivid imagination, that the Dispatch reproduces it in the author's own words. She says:

You have often seen these gray, sad-looking little publications, without any patent insides or outside of any kind worth mentioning. You could say off by heart the little array of valueless items; how Mr. Thomas Robinson has a new red wagon, and Mr. Richard Brown has favored the editor with the first young onions of the season, and Mr. Henry Jones' blacksmith sign fell down in the night and killed a goose.

"Oh, I can see in my mind, and you can see with me, the sort of town from which this struggling newspaper comes. The long, ragged streets decorated with broken barrel-hoops and dented tomato cans, with dog kennel everywhere. The stores are bare like empty, with here and there a clerk selling ribbon for the party or a few nails and rivets to put up that sign. Lazy men sit around chewing tobacco, whittling sticks and making an unbecomingly litter on the sidewalks under the cool shade of the mulberry trees, and they have not even the ambition to collect their pine whittlings and take them home for kindlings.

I can see the dust in the road as the doctor's buggy rattles past, the horse clinking its four heels together in a rhythmic way that recalls the "Brother Smith's" sign and anvil chorus in "Trot-and-I" and I can hear the lazy stick-whittlers betting money they haven't got that Jim Jones' wife has had twins again.

And then the editor comes along—the editor of the down-in-the-mouth, un-naturalized paper—and if we were there, we who are his fellow-sufferers, his brothers and sisters, his loyal lasting friends, if we were there our hate and our bonnets would be off to him. Who but a fellow scribe can guess with what courage, what hope, what patience he sticks at his work, and writes his earnest editorials and helps run off the paper and makes out his bills and tries to collect subscriptions, and noses around for more fallen signs and dead geese and red wagons and new babies! He is the victim of people who have not learned the magic of advertising, of a stick-whittling community, of gossip and ignorance and indifference and idleness."

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Salt, Druggist, Rippon Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief. Every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 30 years' experience is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Bladder. Only a half dollar a bottle at Phillips' Drug Store.

Howard College.

Marion Standard.

Birmingham wants the Auburn College moved there. Hadn't she better make a success of Howard College before she has claims to any other College? When Howard College was removed from Marion it was with promises of large donations from Birmingham and an agreement that within twelve months a fifty thousand dollar building should be erected. How has she complied with her promise? We have heard that no sign of even the foundation of that $50,000 building can be seen although the year has about expired. We have also heard that there has been a wonderful shrinkage in the lands which almost entirely made up Birmingham's donation to the College.

Senatorial Convention.

A Convention of the Democratic and Conservative party of the 15th Senatorial District is called to meet in the city of Wetumpka, Wednesday the 11th day of July, in the Court House at 12 o'clock m., for the purpose of nominating a candidate to represent said district in the State of Alabama. Each county will be entitled to the same number of delegates as it is entitled to in the Congressional convention, to-wit:—

has revolutionized the world during the last half century. Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Gents:—I have used your Kendall's Spavin Cure and it is wonderful to say the least. Yours respectfully,
J. L. CHARY.

From the "Spirit of the Times," June 20, 1886. The old idea that a spavin was incurable has given way before the improvements made by modern science. Among these wonderful improvements must be mentioned the most successful remedy ever discovered for the cure of this disease, Kendall's Spavin Cure, one that is certain in its effect, and will not blister. It is prepared by Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt., and has received praise on every hand for its thorough and reliable work in cases of spavin or hock lameness. It is a certain cure for rheumatism, enlargement of the joints, corns, etc., while blood spavins and bursal enlargements promptly disappear on its use. It is a standard remedy among horse owners and breeders, where its work has often been proven. It is for sale by all drug stores at $1 per bottle or six for $5, or will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt.

Dr. Duncan's Cough Balsam.

All who have used this valuable medicine for Coughs, Colds and all other diseases of the lungs and breast, attest to its worth.

READ!

DR. DUNCAN'S.—For a long time my wife was troubled with a cough that defied all the medicine I could find. I finally got your COUGH BALSAM which cured her in three days. Its value cannot be over estimated. Very truly,
JAS. W. PRINCE, JR.,
Madison Co., Tenn.

DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE.

From Infancy to old age the human family is liable to some form of kidney trouble. Restore the action of the liver and kidneys to a healthy state with DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE, and both the kidney and bladder will be restored. Read what the Rev. Dr. Arnold, of Camden, says of Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine: "It was cured of Symptomatic Heart Disease, caused by a torpid liver and indigestion. Was troubled with it for 30 years, growing worse all the time, until I commenced taking Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine. Three bottles restored me to perfect health after all physicians and medicines had failed to give me any relief. Dr. Duncan's medicines are better, if possible, than he represents them to be."

LOCAL DOINGS.

Why is it?

We spent the summer by the sea. Together merrily laughed and flirted; Her shiny limbs, from toe to knee, Were freely left to kick unskirted. But her buttoned bodice slipped, A glimpse of snowy shoulder showing, She'd quickly pin the place that ripped. While blushes on her cheeks were glowing.

Don't I take her to the ball? She's with the crowd, a beauty Elysian, As pure as Eve's before the fall. Her shoulders are a lovely vision, I gazed entranced from head to foot; Beneath her soft skirt's silky lace There peeps a tiny satin boot. She draws it back—how red her face is.

Local news and spring chickens are scarce.

Mr. O. T. Grimes, of Pratt Saw Mill, was in to see us Saturday.

Our base ball nine ought to get up a match game with some other club.

Miss Myrtle Alvis, of Brierfield, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ehrman, at this place.

Our Saturday beef market is like an oasis in the desert to the denizens of our burg.

Blackberries are ripe. We live in hope of being able to stand starvation off while they last.

Mr. Pou DeFarnette, who has been in ill health for sometime, is in Clanton recuperating.

Rev. Dr. McCarty preached two excellent sermons in the Methodist church at this place last Sabbath.

Everybody is invited to attend the Children's Day exercises at the Baptist church Sunday evening and they will be expected to be there.

Summer Dainties.

In order to meet the present dullness of trade, I will make special low prices on Summer Dry Goods to make your chicken money go as far as possible toward buying suitable and reasonable dresses for the hot weather. Bring the cash and the cash will get the goods.

Yours Truly,

W. L. SAMPAY.

Mr. P. Smith and Mrs. L. A. Scott joined the Methodist church, at this place, by letter, last Sunday. In the county court last Monday, Buddi Graham colored, was fined $10 and cost for assault and battery.

The VIEW received a treat in the way of a basket of nice May apples from Mr. D. J. Waterworth on Monday.

Come to the View Stationery Stand to buy all kinds of school supplies, stationery and fancy goods.

A Woman's Discovery.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutch upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night, and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Get a free trial bottle at Phillips' Drug Store.

Dr. Renfro Dead.

Dr. J. J. D. Renfro, who will be remembered as having done much good evangelistic work in our midst some years since, died at Woodlawn, near Birmingham, on last Saturday. Dr. Renfro was one of the most prominent ministers in the South. The Birmingham Chronicle says of him:

"Dr. Renfro spent nearly all his life at Talladega and there will be mourning in every household there, for he was beloved by all without regard to denomination. He will be buried there beside his wife, two noble sons and two fair young daughters. He leaves one son and one daughter.

He had received honors from his church and no man stood higher in the Baptist church than this man who has been called before his time into eternity.

Pneumonia was the immediate cause of his death, but those who know him, know that a broken heart was the real cause. He has not been himself since the death of his wife several months since. He has been really ill since last Sunday, when he took part in the meeting for the Howard College, but he has been unwell since his return from the Southern Baptist Convention at Richmond.

Chilton County Iron Ore Beds to be Worked Again.

It is rumored that the iron ore beds near this place, will soon be worked again. It will be remembered that these beds were being worked a few years ago by Col. Sloss and the work was abandoned though the railroad running from them and striking the L. & N. road at Lomax has never been interfered with and still remains in tact.

We learn that Col. Sloss has sold his interest in this enterprise to other parties who will soon begin to get out ore to be shipped to furnaces in North Alabama. Parties who are interested were down here last week inspecting the ore beds and expressed themselves as well pleased with them, stating that they would work them sometime in the near future, and would extend the narrow gauge road further east where ore can be obtained in greater quantities.

What Am I to Do?

The symptoms of Biliousness are un- happily but too well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A Bilious man is seldom a breakfast eater. Too frequently, alas, he has an excellent appetite for liquids, but none for solids of a morning. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time; if it is not white and furled, it is rough at all events. The digestive system is wholly out of order and Diarrhea or Constipation may be a symptom or the two may alternate. There are often Hemorrhoids or even loss of blood. There may be giddiness and often headache and acidity or flatulence and tenderness in the stomach. To correct all this if not effect a cure try Green's August Flower. It costs but a trifle and thousands attest its efficacy.

A practical revivalist requested all in the congregation who paid their debts to rise. The rising was general. After they had taken their seats, a call was made for those who didn't pay their debts, and one solitary individual arose, who explained that he was the editor, and could not pay because the rest of the congregation were owing him their subscription.—Ez.

It is just a little amusing and a trifle suggestive to see a crowd of philosophers resting their tired frames on a dry goods box, discussing the tariff and the need of protection of their interests. If man had to pay as a direct tax what illness and infirmities cost, the howl of indignant protest that would arise would appal a Comanche Indian. Undoubtedly those who howl the loudest about their "interests" have the least to fuss about. The farmers need a few good champions, but not of the alligator type—all mouth.—Exchange.

The capitals of Alabama, in order of chronology, stand as follows: Huntsville, Cahaba, Tuscaloosa, Montgomery. The town of Montevallo, Shelby county, and not Columbus, Bibb county, as these columns inadvertently said yesterday, was once a strong competitor for the honor, and came very near receiving it. Montevallo is within two or three miles of the centre of the state. Hence its claim.—Age.

The Age should not forget that St. Stephens in Washington county was the first capital of Alabama as a Territory. In regard to its geography the best authorities have it that Lomax two miles north of Clanton is the geographical centre of the State. Montevallo is about twenty miles distant.

The National ticket.

Grover Cleveland, of New York, and Allen G. Thurman, of Ohio, compose the ticket for President and Vice President nominated last week at St. Louis by the national Democratic convention. In our humble opinion it is the strongest ticket that could have been placed before the people by the party.

The platform promulgated by the convention endorses that of the Chicago convention of 1884, and is broad enough for all Democrats to stand upon by free traders, tariff-for-revenue-only or protectionists. In this particular the national Democracy as a manufacturer of broad and liberal platforms has not been surpassed by any political organization from the time of the Cæsars down.

We believe the ticket will be triumphantly elected.

The Opposition Ticket.

The county Democratic ticket will have opposition. A ticket has been nominated or elected or selected by some remarkable process familiar only to office seekers and galled jades, and here is the ticket in all of its grandeur:

For Representative—J. M. Dykes.
For Sheriff—Lee Hayes.
For Assessor—E. G. Rollins.
For Collector—B. M. Gentry.
For Treasurer—W. B. Stock.

The ticket was nominated by what is supposed to be the primary election plan, which plan caused such a "cut up" on the part of the opposition just two years ago.

Six years ago the hydra-headed opposition to the county Democracy were kicking because of a county convention, so the next county ticket was nominated by primary election. Though the View didn't get its choice in the ticket nominated, yet it never doubted that the nominations were made fairly and honestly. But of course the opposition must needs kick at the primary election plan, because there was nothing else to kick at. And yet two years later this same opposition place a ticket before the people upon the same plan and proceed to denounce conventions.

There is nothing more in this than opposition to the organized Democracy by men who feel that they would never attain prominence where intelligence must give them place.

The Democratic voters of the county will vote for the regularly nominated convention ticket, and we believe it will be elected.

Speech of Mr. Dougherty, of New York in Nominating Cleveland at St. Louis.

Mr. Dougherty said "I greet you, my countryman, with fraternal regard. In your presence I bow to the majesty of the people. The sight itself is inspiring, the thought sublime. You come from every State and Territory, from every nook and corner of our ocean-bound continent. You are about to discharge a more than imperial duty. With simplest circumstances, you are the representatives of the people, are to choose a magistrate with power mightier than a monarch, yet checked and controlled by the supreme law of the written constitution. Thus impressed, I ascend the rostrum to name the next President of the United States. New York presents him to the convention, and pledges her electoral vote. Delegations from the thirty-eight States and all the Territories are here assembled, without caucus or consultation, ready simultaneously to take up the cry and make the vote unanimous. We are here, indeed, not to choose a candidate only, but to name the one the people have already chosen. He is the man for the people. His career illustrates the glory of our institutions. Eight years ago unknown, save in his own locality, he for the last four has stood in the gaze of the world, discharging the most exalted duties that could be confided to a mortal. To-day determines that not of his own choice, but by the mandate of his countrymen, and with the sanction of heaven, he shall fill the Presidency for four years more. He has met and mastered every question as if from youth trained to statesmanship. The promises of his letter of acceptance and inaugural address have been fulfilled. His fidelity in the past inspires faith in the future. He is not a hope; he is a realization. Scorning subterfuge, disdaining re-election by conceding convictions, he courageously declares to Congress, dropping minor matters, that the supreme issue is reform, revision, reduction of national taxation; that the treasury of the United States, glutted with unneeded gold, oppresses industry, embarrasses business, enlarges financial tranquility, and breeds extravagancies, centralized and corruption; that high taxation, vital for the expenditures of an unparalleled war, its robbery in years of prosperous peace; that the millions that poured into the treasury came from the hard earned savings of the American people; that in violation of the equality of rights the present tariff has created a privileged class, who, shaping legislation for personal gain, levy by law contributions for the necessities of life from every man, woman and child in the land.

The man who asserts that to lower the tariff means free trade insults intelligence. We brand him as a falsifier. It is the farthest from our thought to imperil capital or disturb enterprises. We aim to uphold wages and protect the rights of all. This administration has wrested the public domain from would-be barons and corrupt corporations, faithless to obligations and reserved it for free homes for this and coming generations. There is no pilfering; there are no jobs under this administration. Public office is a public trust. Integrity stands guard at every post of our vast empire. While the President has been the medium through which has flown the undying gratitude of the republic for her soldiers, he has not hesitated to withhold approval from special legislation if strictest inquiry reveal a want of truth and justice.

Above all, sectional strife, as never before, is at an end, and 60,000,000 of freemen in ties of brotherhood are prosperous and happy. These are the achievements of this administration. Under the same illustrious leader we are ready to meet our political opponent in high and honorable debate, and state our principles on the intelligence, virtue and patriotism of the people. Adhering to the constitution, its every line and letter, ever remembering that powers not delegated to the United States by the constitution nor prohibited by it to the States are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people by the authority of the Democracy of the entire Union, I give you a name entwined with victory; I nominate Grover Cleveland, of New York."

THE CHARGES DENIED.

A Letter From Mrs. Cleveland to be Printed.

Boston, June 6.—The Globe will print to-morrow morning a positive and authentic contradiction of the charges made against President Cleveland by the Rev. C. H. Pondloton, of Worcester, who now says he was not correctly quoted, and will also publish the following letter from Mrs. Cleveland to a friend in Worcester:

EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON June 3.

Mrs. Nicodemus:

Dear Madam—I can only say in answer to your letter, that every statement made by Rev. C. H. Pondloton, in the interview which you send me, is basely false, and I pity the man of this calling, who has been made the tool to give circulation to such wicked and heartless lies. I can wish the women of our country no greater blessing, than that their homes and their lives may be as happy, and that their husbands may be as kind, attentive, considerate and affectionate as mine. Very truly, FRANCES F. CLEVELAND.

Their Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at Phillips' Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, by mail, at 25c. Every bottle warranted.

Children's Day at Mt. Zion.

Children's Day: I want to say for the purpose of stimulating other churches, that the Sabbath School at Mt. Zion Baptist Church is a success. Last Sabbath was Children's Day at that church, and it afforded me much pleasure to be with them and participate in the exercises. The manner of the address, the responsive readings, and the sweet singing, all went to show that they had labored hard to make themselves successful in Sunday School work, and every one seemed to realize an ample reward, for they made everybody feel pleasant. A collection of $4.10 was taken for missions, and about $20 was contributed in cash and otherwise for the afflicted poor at home.

Those people are not rich, but have big, benevolent hearts by which they are prompted to do something for the world as long as they live. Doubtless they feel that they owe it to God for the privilege of living in the world.

Oh tell me not that a country Sabbath School cannot be a success. That worthy gentleman, Mr. H. C. Young is the efficient Superintendent of the Mt. Zion Sunday School.

Maplesville Dots.

Miss Lula DuBose has been welcomed by her many friends after a pleasant trip to her sister's, Mrs. Berry, of Orrville.

Mrs. M. G. Sullivan, of Dayton, Ala., called by and spent a few pleasant days with her sister, Mrs. Glover, of this place, while on her way to Birmingham.

Mrs. Crit Woolley, of Selma, is on a visit to her father-in-law, Dr. A. S. Woolley.

Some of the girls had the pleasure to get a peep at the handsome face of Mr. J. M. Kallin last Saturday while on the cars.

Mr. Tommie Foshee went to see his sweetheart at Ashby last Sunday. Hurrah! for Thomas.

We feel under many obligations to Mr. T. E. Crumpton, for taking such a deep interest in our Sunday school.

Mr. J. O. Noble filled his regular appointment here last Sunday.

Messrs. Jimmie and Fletcher McCary, of Birmingham, have been on a visit to their mother, Mrs. E. M. McCary.

Mr. L. H. DuBose gave the "folks at home" a flying visit last Sunday.

Crops are looking well all around Maplesville.

Jemison Locals.

Your correspondent had the pleasure of attending the recitation of Mrs. O'Connor's music class on Tuesday last; and feels constrained to say that he never saw such proficiency in such young pupils. They were all well grounded in the rudiments of music and most of them performed well for much older scholars. Mrs. O'Connor exhibits much tact in the management of her class, and her industry is untiring. We trust she will be liberally patronized.

Mr. Spicer and Mrs. Carroll were married at the Baptist church last Sunday week, Rev. Mr. Lee officiating. Success and happiness to them.

Mrs. Bandy has been absent several days visiting friends in Columbiana.

Dr. Dunklin and wife returned from Boseman last Sunday, where he spent nearly a week at the bedside of a sick sister. We are glad to know that she is convalescing.

Quite a number from Jemison are attending the railroad picnic at Blount Springs to-day.

Mr. W. D. McMeans has hauled lumber to his lot just west of the Jeffries place, preparatory to commencing a new residence.

Mr. Clem Butler has bought the Hunt place opposite Mr. Shelby Allen's and moved his family to town.

What Jemison needs now more than anything is a good substantial hotel building. With this one single exception, we are abreast of any town in the county. Already some of our people call Jemison the metropolis of the county, and Mr. Editor this means a good deal when you consider how extremely modest (I) and unassuming (I) we all are.

Beas Up.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with headache, you are drowsy, nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their base very cheap, bad whisky, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in a worse condition than before. What you want is an alternative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and only 50 cents a bottle at Phillips' drug store, in Clanton.

We have a scholarship in the Kentucky University, at Lexington, Ky., which we will sell cheap.

The examination exercises of Clanton High School came off on last Thursday and were attended by a good many patrons of the school. They all seemed well satisfied with the progress made by the pupils during the past scholastic year.

That was something of a family re-union at Mr. Lewis' last Sunday. Mrs. S. J. Brock, nee Miss Annie Lewis, and her husband, and Mr. Henry Lewis, of Mont-gomery, and Messrs. Albert and George Lewis, of Birmingham, all spent last Sabbath with the "Old Folks at Home." Mrs. Brock will remain several weeks.

Worth Knowing.

Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City, Fla., was taken with a severe cold, attended with a distressing cough, and running into consumption with its first stages. He tried many so-called popu-lar cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced in flesh, had diffi-culty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and found immediate relief, and after using about a half dozen bottles, found himself well and was able to return to the office. So other remedy can show so grand a record of cures as Dr. King's New Dis-covery for Consumption. Guaranteed to do just what is claimed for it. Trial bottle free on Phillips' Drug Store.

Mr. Charles Mahone, of Locust Grove, Ga., was in Clanton Sat-urday and Sunday to see his sis-ter, Miss Annie, who has had charge of the music department of Clanton High School during the scholastic year just closed, and accompanied her to their home in Loachapoka. Miss Annie, by her many accomplishments and amia-ble disposition, made many friends in Clanton who wish her a pleas-ant vacation at home and look forward to her return next fall with pleasure.

Public Installation.

At a regular communication of Clanton Lodge No. 423 A. F. & A. M., the following officers were elected for the ensuing Masonic year: William D. Sartor, W. M.; Joseph H. Chandler, S. W.; James M. Stanfield, J. W.; Wil-liam H. Wright, Treasurer; Buchanan H. Chesnut, Sec'y; William H. Sartor, S. D.; Walter M. Gray, J. D.; William Wright, Sr., Tyler.

The above named officers will be in-stalled at the M. E. Church in Clanton on the night of June 30th at 8 p. m. The public respectfully invited to at-tend.

A GREAT SUCCESS.

Concert at Clanton High School.

Last Friday night the courthouse at this place, was crowded to its utmost capacity by an appreciative audience to witness the closing exercises of Clanton High School, which consisted of music, both vocal and instrumental, recita-tions, dialogues, choruses and tableaux.

The fact that the house was crowded till there was barely standing room, and the balconies and windows were all full of anxious and interested spectators goes to show how much interest our people take in an exercise of this kind, and to say that the occasion was a suc-cess is putting it mildly.

The entertainment was gotten up and controlled by the young lady teachers of the school, Misses Middleton and Mahone, and they deserve unstinted praise for the untiring energy and the patience and perseverance exercised in learning the children, and in training them in such a way as to make the rendition of their respective parts altogether pleasing to the audience.

The vocal music and the tableaux and choruses, in which the school was assisted by some of our young men, were especially good.

There were so many children who took part in the exercises and they did so well that we deem it unnecessary to make special mention of any.

Though the arrangement and prepara-tion for an occasion of this kind is al-ways attended with much trouble and many vexations, yet we know of noth-ing that affords a community more gen-uine pleasure than to turn out to see and hear the children in whom they are all interested acquit themselves so creditably. May it fall to our lot to be present on many such occasions.

Don't

let that cold of yours run on. You think it is a light thing. But it may run into asthma. Or into pneumonia. Or consumption. Catarrh is disgusting. Pneumonia is dangerous. Consumption is death itself. The breathing ap-paratus must be kept healthy and clear of all obstructions and offensive mat-ter. Otherwise there is trouble ahead. All the diseases of these parts, head, nose, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs, can be delightfully and entirely cured by the use of Roschke's German Syrup. If you don't know this already, thousands and thousands of people can tell you. They have been cured by it, and "know how it is, themselves." Bottle only 75 cents. Ask any druggist.

CURIOUS FACTS.

Beats are good swimmers and enjoy the water.

The farms of the United States are valued at ten billions.

The first cotton was raised in the United States in 1691.

Printing was known in China in the sixth century, but it was not introduced into America until 1839.

The original of Lincoln's general emancipation proclamation was burned in the great Chicago fire.

Mrs. Sally Sumner, of Jones county, Ga., is 92 years old and resides in the grandchildren, one for every day in the year.

An Ohio man has four legs born without the aid of an ear, and so lacking in hearing that they don't know when it thunders.

The captain of an incoming Atlantic steamer tells of icebergs he encountered, one of which, he says, would weigh not less than half a million tons.

When a future Chinese belle is about three days old she is formally betrothed to the groom of some respectable neighbor, and when she is about fifteen she is carried to his house and left there and that end it.

Mrs. Morris, of Sheboygan, Mich., possesses a highly-prized relic a large meerschaum pipe that belonged to a former King of Denmark.

385 years old. It has been an heirloom in her family for generations.

A Pacific coast missionary relates that after walking fifteen miles to perform a marriage ceremony he received in payment a sack of fine cabbage, and lodged him home on his back for fear of offending his parishioners.

The bursting of a crocodile tank at the freight yard of the Midland Railway, at Carlisle, England, allowed a quantity of the crocodile to run into a small stream which is a tributary to the River Ure, and it poisoned the tons of fish, including salmon and trout.

Three little Buffalo (N. Y.) girls, all under eleven, lately started to walk to Indianapolis, where the mother of one of them is living. As they took a cash capital of but one silver dollar along, they were reasonably glad to be overtaken by rescuers less than twenty miles away.

A twelve-pound cannon shot was found imbedded seven inches deep in an oak tree in the suburbs of Franklin, Tenn. It was evidently fired from a Federal cannon during the bloody battle twenty-three years ago, as it entered the tree on the side next to the town. The fibres of oak are still attached to the shell, and are nearly as hard as the iron itself.

A Hartford (Conn.) lady remitted to a large New York house to pay a bill, and by mistake sent one cent less than the face of the bill. The New York house wrote (two cents) asking for the missing cent, and on receiving it sent upon a receipt (cost two cents more), and of course it cost the debtor two cents to forward the one, making in all six cents expended in paying one cent.

Business is business.

An umbrella that was brought to this country from Holland in 1690 is on exhibition in Albany, N. Y. It bears the name of an Italian maker. It has been asserted that umbrellas are a later invention than 1690, and that an Englishman first appeared in the streets of London in the last century with one to protect him from the rain. The fact is, however, that umbrellas were in use by the Egyptians 4000 years ago. The umbrellas seen sometimes attached to a vehicle in the streets are seen pictured upon the wall paintings of ancient Egypt.

Old-Time Missouri Courtship.

"When I was a young man," said the politician, "I traveled in the Southwestern States, selling and peddling, etc. On one of my trips I stopped over night in a settler's cabin in Southeast Missouri. The settler and his family were mighty cordial, gave me the best they had and made me welcome to the floor.

The oldest daughter was sixteen or seventeen years old and a perfect beauty for her situation. She was the kind of girl a novelist would break his neck to get hold of for a heroine. She had very attractive and pleasing features, but I shudder when I think of her in real life. She took quite a shine to me and we laid down she had told me nearly everything she ever heard. A heavy rain fell during the night, and as the roads had been heavy before, they were not passable the next morning. So I had to stay at the cabin. The girl was very attentive the three days I was there, and on the evening of the last day she said: 'Say, is you married?' I told her 'no,' and wanted to know why she asked. 'Well, if you ain't' she said, 'we uns might get spliced.'

The speaker paused to allow his hearers time to break all their buttons and then proceeded.

"Her father approved heartily of the plan. 'I've been wishing you uns would hitch ever since I seen you uns,' he said, and the whole family was so congratulatory that I was afraid to decline. I told them I was married and offered to ride to the meeting house about twenty miles away and get the preacher. They laughed at the idea. 'We uns can marry ourselves by kissing over a candle,' she said. I looked at her and said, 'I told you 'no,' and wanted to know why she asked. 'Well, if you uns ain't' she said, 'we uns might get spliced.'

THE PICKET COULDED NINE.

It was a Misconception, but a Gleaming Dagger Made the Correction.

(From the Detroit Free Press.)

As the sun went down and darkness began to creep over the face of the earth the angry artillery died away and the crackle of musketry was less spiteful.

For while the fighting on the extreme right hung on, to settle the question of who should occupy the old earthworks, but at length dead silence fell upon the whole field.

Blissful! Not it was silence compared to the awful roar of the long afternoon, but it was a silence broken by the screams and groans and prayers of wounded men by the movements of regiments and artillery by the subdued voices of 75,000 men as they camped for the night without fire, and anxiously debated the chances for the morrow.

The sergeant marches off to the left at the head of a column. He drops a man at "Post No. 1," and gives him whispered instruction. It is the same at posts 2, 3, 4, etc., until the last man has been stationed.

There must be vigilant, wakeful men between friends and foes while the long night wears away.

"Post No. 6" is under a great beech tree. Shot and shell have scarred and riven its trunk, and shot and shell have scattered and riven its thick limbs. A quarter of a century hence this tree will bear witness to the terrible struggle of to-day.

"From this tree to the edge of that thicket, and the command is given. The difficulty has been to preserve it, and as he passes on the picket takes up his beat. He counts as he passes them by—one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight. What? Corporal! They are in the grass near the path he travels! What can he touch any of them with his foot. There are others to the right and left, farther away. It was here that the enemy charged a battery of our heavy artillery. It was here that the enemy charged a battery of our heavy artillery. It was here that the enemy charged a battery of our heavy artillery.

From tree to thicket and turn. From thicket to tree and turn. He must watch and listen and be on his guard, but by and by he finds time to count again. One—two—three—four—five—six—seven—eight—nine! What! He counted only eight before! Was he mistaken, or can the dead of the battle creep upon him silently and he know it not? Yes, there are nine. In the darkness he had made a mistake. Nine! Well, what matters one more or one less corpse upon a field of battle?

To the tree and turn. To the thicket and turn. As he heads for the tree again the ninth corpse assumes a sitting position and looks after him. A moment later it struggles up, and a figure goes creeping after the picket on the grass on the meadow is thick and matted. His footfalls give out no sound. Softly—softly—creeping—creeping, and now he is close upon the last picket. There is a gleam of steel in the darkness—a swift and powerful blow, and he who was placed to watch will watch no more.

Through the gaps the spies will pour in and strike about the camp, a regi- ment will be silently advanced to the rear position; the ghoul will scintillate and creep up to the dead.

The picket laid counted, "seven—eight—nine!"

There is a missing corpse. The number has been made good!

"Hold Up" a Car.

The Louisville Post tells this story:—Louis Nevin, recently returned from Hot Springs, Ark., brought a tarantula as big as a tea-saucer to Dr. Vanderepore, a prominent eye-surgeon, who was at a great deal of trouble in catching the insect and in bringing him to Louisville. It was bagged in the wilds of the hilly country about Hot Springs. While Mr. Nevin had it in his possession, there was a gleam of steel in the darkness—a swift and powerful blow, and he who was placed to watch will watch no more.

How to Do It.

A new plan of irrigation has just been inaugurated on the Paraguan river south of Laredo, Kansas. A large wheel is placed in the edge of the water, which resembles somewhat a double windmill.

The wheel is so constructed and connected that it is kept constantly turning by the current. To the rim of the wheel is attached eight large troughs, each holding eight gallons of water. As the wheel turns these troughs dip up water, carry it to the highest point of the wheel and then empty it into the irrigation ditch. Through ditches and laterals it is then carried to the adjacent land. By this means the river, by its own force, is constantly turning a stream of water on the surrounding country.

"What in the world has happened to you since last time I saw you?" asked one of the other men. "I don't know," replied the other. "I can't understand it. Then you were a big, strong, low-spirited, and I remember you said that you had a very good head on your shoulders. Now you are a weak, nervous, and I don't know what you are good for."

"I was a healthy, strong, and I was a very good head on your shoulders. Now you are a weak, nervous, and I don't know what you are good for."

Mr. Milo Barrett, of Montgomery died at his summer residence at Verbena Sunday morning. He had been in feeble health for some time. He was known as a worthy and useful citizen.

From the number of beer kegs seen on the street Tuesday one would suppose that there was a small size brewery in the vicinity of Clanton. This "blind tiger" business should be stopped.

Don't

let that cold of yours run on. You think it is a light thing. But it may run into catarrh. Or into pneumonia. Or consumption. Catarrh is disgusting. Pneumonia is dangerous. Consumption is death itself. The breathing apparatus must be kept healthy and clear of all obstructions and offensive matter. Otherwise there is trouble ahead. All the diseases of these parts, head, nose, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs, can be delightfully and entirely cured by the use of Boecher's German Syrup. If you don't know this already, thousands and thousands of people can tell you. They have been cured by it, and "know how it is, themselves." Bottle only 75 cents. Ask any druggist.

Notwithstanding the extremely warm weather of last Sunday afternoon a large crowd gathered to witness the Children's Day celebration at Baptist church in this place. The occasion was a very pleasant one and every one present seemed to enjoy it. The collection for missionary work was small considering the large congregation; $4.37 being the amount contributed.

Dixie and Stanton are two of the growing towns of our sister county, Chilton. At the former place Parrell Bros. have erected a saw mill and are cutting a large amount of lumber. The principal business of the place is done by T. E. Callier & Son. At Stanton the Gregory & Coe Lumber Company do a large business. Superintended by that kind and affable gentleman, Mr. Coe—who is always ready to serve his friends.—Bobb Blade.

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Abscess of Lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable Consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made. Jesse Middlewart, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died of Lung Trouble. Was given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottle free at W. H. Phillips' Drug Store.

You do not, any of you, advertise enough. You ought to use printer's ink every day. You are asleep and want your business to run itself. Standing advertisements in the paper command confidence. The man who for a year lives in one community and leads a reputable life, even though he be of moderate ability, will grow in the confidence and esteem of his fellows. On the same principle a newspaper advertisement becomes familiar to the eyes of the readers. It may be seldom read, still it makes the name and business of the man familiar, and its presence in the columns of a paper inspires confidence in the stability of his enterprise.—P. T. Barnum.

James Gillespie Blaine is said to have slept in a bed one night last week in which Richard III. once slept. Hurrah for Blaine!

Col. A. C. Hargrove, one of the ablest and truest men in Alabama is the nominee for State Senator from Tuscaloosa and Bibb counties.

Money matters in Alabama, are shortly to be made easier than now, as Treasurer Smith is to pay out about $500,000 for various purposes.

Chicago is crowding over a couple of baby girls that beat the record for minutes. They are Miss Floo Edison, weight one pound and three-quarters, and Miss Danske, weight just one pound.

Our thanks are due Gen. Joe Wheeler for a copy of his speech in the House on the tariff, delivered on the 4th and 5th of May. It is an able effort and abounds with sound democratic doctrine.

As Mr. Ingalls has truthfully remarked, Mr. Harrison has an "awful record on the tariff, the currency, the Chinese and other questions." His chance for an electoral vote on the Pacific slope is about as remote a possibility as one can imagine.

The Winston Herald has realized one of the pleasures of running a good county newspaper. "The longer we run a newspaper and write about people and events, the more we realize how utterly impossible it is to scratch every man on the place where he itches most."

The Birmingham News thinks a connection by water with Tuscaloosa is practicable, but it says "time and endless repetitions are required to hammer a big idea into the head of the average citizen. The idea of the News is to connect by way of a canal from the Warrior."

President Diaz of Mexico is making an honest effort to keep on friendly terms with the United States. The Mexican government has announced that it will punish with death interference by soldiers with American citizens or American laws when committed on their side of the border.

At the recent commencement exercises of the State University at Tuscaloosa Martin David Sibert, Gadsden, received the prize for the best oration. There were thirty-three graduates of the academic department and seventeen from the law school. President Clayton delivered the diplomas to the former, and Chief Justice Stone, of the Supreme Court, to the latter.

How Collins Presides.

The following which we take from the St. Louis Republic will under the circumstances, be interesting:

The Hon. Patrick A. Collins, the "high muck-a-muck" of Massachusetts Democracy, is said to be a particularly able presiding officer of political conventions, of whom it is told that some years ago he was presiding over a Democratic convention in Massachusetts in which was an Irish delegate from his own end of Boston, the proprietor of half a dozen saloons and a thick, old fashioned brogue. He was very anxious for some reason, to get the floor, and jumped up every time he thought he saw a chance for it until he had become a nuisance to the whole convention. At last, just as a committee was about to report, he jumped up again right in front, "Mr. President," he shouted, "Mr. President," Collins rapped sternly with his gavel but did not notice him. "Mr. President," he continued, "Mr. President." Again Collins rapped vigorously, this time turning his head eyes upon the obstreperous delegate with a withering glance. But instead of withering, it so exasperated the delegate that he shook his fist at the presiding officer and yelled: "You, Pat Collins, I want the floor!" Collins, leaped right over the table at that, shook his gavel at the disturber and quietly but firmly said: "Sit down you terrorist!" The terrorist promptly took his seat, while the convention bowed with delight.

Indiana is Safe.

Representative C. C. Matson the democratic nominee for Governor of Indiana, says that there is no question now, if there had ever been, about the democrats carrying Indiana. "The republicans," he says, "might have picked up a dozen men outside of the state who would have brought more strength to the ticket in Indiana than Harrison. He is a man of cold, haughty and unpopular manners, and has more ways to make himself hateful than any other man in the country. The workmen detest him because he has gone out of his way in various instances to show that he has no sympathy with them. He can get nothing but the regular dyed-in-the-wool republicans and can arouse no enthusiasm among them. Senator Turpie was equally emphatic. He spoke of Harrison's bitter and contemptible epithets applied to the greenbackers in Indiana a few days ago, which had aroused their mortal hatred and the hostility of the workmen of his state."

THE LIGHTNING-ROD MYTH.

Electricians Now Declare them More Harmful than Good.

From the Philadelphia Record. Lightning-rods are going out of use. Why? Because they are not believed to be the protection that it was once thought they were. This was what an electrician told a reporter. Fifteen years ago the lightning-rod agent was everywhere in this land, and more especially at every farmer's. Today, it is claimed, their number has materially decreased, and farmers are discontinuing the use of the rods.

"What is your opinion upon the subject of lightning-rods?" was asked of Chief Walker, of the City Electrical Department.

"Candidly, in nine cases out of ten," he replied, "I think they are humbugs. I believe it is a fact that more barns are struck and burned than with them off. In the first place, it is best to keep electricity as far away from a building as possible. The object of the lightning-rod is to attract it. The rod is supposed to act as a conductor of the electrical current to the earth, but, instead of being carried off the current, in consequence of faulty construction of the rod or attachments, is frequently switched into the building. The end of the wire is supposed to be buried in moist earth, the moisture acting as a good conductor. Without strict attention the iron becomes oxidized and rusts off, and then the rod is worse than nothing. It is a positive danger under such circumstances, attracting the electricity of the atmosphere and having no adequate outlet for it. Then, again, the same danger arises when the insulators upon the sides of the building become defective. The lightning is attracted from the atmosphere, where it might have remained but for the rod, and it is turned loose against the building on its way to the earth. If, for instance, the attachments on a barn are poor or worn out, the current may be deflected and set fire to the building. This is no uncommon occurrence. In this city some years ago the rod on the Belmont Works was struck, and it fused the current flowed on down and played about the machinery in the liveliest kind of way. A big stone was knocked off the Washington monument by lightning. When the ground contact is good and lightning is about to strike a building, a rod may be of use, but I think the rods do more harm than good. There was a time when farmers were scared into rodding their barns and houses, but I think they are getting over that."

Gentle:—I have used your Kendall's Spavin Cure, and it is wonderful to say the least. Yours respectfully,

J. L. CHABY.

From the "Spirit of the Times," June 28, 1886. The old idea that a spavin was incurable has given way before the improvements made by modern science. Among these wonderful improvements must be mentioned the most successful remedy ever discovered for the cure of this disease, Kendall's Spavin Cure, one that is certain in its effect, and will not blister. It is prepared by Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburgh Falls, Vt., and has received prizes on every hand for its thorough and reliable work in cases of spavin or lock lameness. It is a certain cure for rheumatism, enlargement of the joints, corns, etc., while blood spavins and bursal enlargements promptly disappear on its use. It is a standard remedy among horse owners and breeders, where its work has often been proven by all drug registers at $1 per bottle or six for $5, or will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE.

From infancy to old age the human family is liable to some form of kidney trouble. Restore the action of the liver and kidneys to a healthy state with DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE, and both the kidney and bladder will be restored. Read what the Rev. Dr. Arnold, of Camden, says of Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine:—

"I was cured of Symptomatic Heart Disease, caused by a torpid liver and indigestion. Was troubled with it for 30 years, growing worse all the time, until I commenced taking Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine. Three bottles restored me to perfect health after all physicians and medicines had failed to give me any relief. Dr. Duncan's Medicines are better, if possible, than he represents them to be."

LOCAL DOTTINGS.

Mind Cure.

Think health, and health will find you. As certain as the day.

And pain will lag behind you. And lose you on the way.

Think love, and love will meet you. And go where'er you go.

And fate can no more treat you. Like some malicious foe.

Think joy, and joy will hear you. For thoughts are always heard.

And it shall needle near you. Like some contented bird.

Whate'er your sad condition—What'er your woes or pains—Bright thoughts shall bring fruition. As surely as God rains.

We want you to tell us if any one is visiting you or any thing unusual may have happened in your neighborhood that would be interesting to the readers of the View. We would urge upon our citizens the necessity of thoroughly attending to sanitary matters. Lime is not only one of the cheapest, but one of the best disinfectants. Heat is the best of all, if you have a nuisance that lime will not destroy, burn it up. Health is wealth and unclean premises are an abominable degradation.

Now is the Time to use Hodge's Sarsaparil with Iodide of Potash, the great purifier for the blood. A certain cure for rheumatism, scrofulous affections, and all diseases peculiar to females. Renovates and invigorates the system. Physicians recommend it. Take no other. Rungum Root Medicine Co., Nashville, Tenn. $1.00 per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

One secret of prosperity, is to keep as much money in the State and county as possible, and send as little out as possible. To do this we should never send off for that which we can make or obtain at home.

Attention R. R. L.

For sprains, bruises, rheumatism, cramps, inflammation, swellings, cuts, lacerations, in mind and spirit, ring bone, windgal, epizootic, scratches, etc. in horses, Rungum Root Liment is a sure cure. The "King of Liniments" is a universal remedy. Never fails to cure any ailment that can be reached by an external medical application. 50 cents per bottle. For sale by all druggists.

Petitions have been extensively signed in Elmore county and forwarded to the Governor, asking him to have the State Attorney-General institute proceedings of impeachment against Judge Lancaster, probate judge of that county. State Examiner Reeves reports Judge Lancaster several hundred dollars behind in his accounts for licenses.

A Sound Legal Opinion.

E. Bainbridge Munday, Esq., county attorney, Clay county, Tex., says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with Malaria Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: "He positively believes he would have died, had it not been for Electric Bitters."

This great remedy will ward off as well as cure all Malaria Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders stands unequalled. Price 50c and $1 at Phillips' Drug Store.

A Sad Death.

Mrs. Mary C. Simpson died at her residence in Clanton on Tuesday night of typho-malarial fever. Hers was truly one of the saddest deaths our community has ever known. Her husband preceded her to the grave but a few short weeks ago, and there are left of the happy household two little boys who are not yet old enough to fully realize their loss. The deceased was the only daughter of Judge H. J. Callen. The relatives have the deepest sympathies of the community in their great affliction.

Mr. John C. Lawrence, of the View office, left with his wife for Tuscaloosa, the home of his boyhood, on Wednesday. Mr. Lawrence has accepted a position on the Tuscaloosa Gazette. He will be greatly missed at the View office, but we hope the View will continue to "get there" as regularly as usual every Thursday morning.

A New Building.

Mr. R. Ehrman is having his old store house torn down to make room for a handsome two story building 40 x 70 feet in which he will open up a new stock of merchandise as soon as completed.

The county Farmers Alliance met at Clanton yesterday. We are not informed as to the particular purport of the meeting.

Don't

let that cold of yours run on. You think it is a little thing. But it may run into catarrh. Or into pneumonia. Or consumption. Catarrh is disgusting. Pneumonia is dangerous. Consumption is death itself. The breathing apparatus must be kept healthy and clear of all obstructions and offensive matter. Otherwise there is trouble ahead. All the diseases of these parts, head, nose, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs, can be delightfully and entirely cured by the use of Boech's German Syrup. If you don't know this already, thousands and thousands of people can tell you. They have been cured by it, and know how it is, themselves. Bottle only 75 cents. Ask any druggist. ccow 1 sep

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always comes at first only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit, he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all throat, lung and chest affections. Trial bottle free at Phillips' Drug Store. Large bottles $1.

McCarty, who assisted him.

Personal.

Mr. N. H. Frohlichstein, of Mobile, Ala., writes: "I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, having used it for a severe attack of Bronchitis and Catarrh. It gave me instant relief and entirely cured me and I have not been afflicted since. I also beg to state that I had tried other remedies with no good result. Have also used electric bitters and Dr. King's New Life Pills, both of which I can recommend. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, is sold on a positive guarantee. Trial bottles free at Phillips' Drug Store."

Mrs. Mary Callen Simpson.

Father, mother, children, friends ask in heart-broken sobs has she left us forever? Must we live on without the sunshine of her dear presence? One who was ever ready to cheer us with a loving heart. The flowers around her dear have drooped. Her bird has ceased his song of gladness. She was a true friend, and neighbor. A willing worker for her Master, in the society with which she was connected. A lonely mound near her departed loved ones speaks of rest, sweet rest beyond.

"The fairest things are born to die; The fondest hearts meet but to sever, Life smile to-day, and soon they sigh, And then are mute in death forever."

A LOVING FRIEND.

The Protracted Meeting.

The series of services at the Methodist Church closed Tuesday morning. During their continuance there were twenty accessions to the church and thirty conversions. Much of the success of the meetings was due to the earnest and able work of Rev. T. R. McCarty, who labored faithfully and tirelessly during three daily services. Our community owes him a debt of gratitude that it cannot repay.

Mr. McCarty returned to his home in Chambers county Tuesday afternoon.

The Birmingham Herald has this to say of our young friend, Glaucus Evans: "Mr. G. E. Evans, who was for a long time the night operator of the Louisville & Nashville road at Clanton, has just received the appointment of station agent of the Louisville & Nashville and East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroads at Calera. Mr. Evans is one of the most efficient and courteous employees in the service of the Louisville & Nashville company, and well deserved the promotion he has received. His appointment has given universal satisfaction and is highly gratifying to his friends."

Mr. Payton Aldridge of this place has accepted the position of road master of the Bessemer Dummy Line. His family will remain in Clanton.

What Am I to Do?

The symptoms of Biliousness are unpleasant but two well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A bilious man is seldom a breakfast eater. Too frequently, alas, he has an excellent appetite for liquids, but none for solid food in the morning. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time; if it is not white and furred, it is rough at all events.

The digestive system is wholly out of order and Diarrhea or Constipation may be a symptom of the two may alternate. There are often Hemorrhoids or even loss of blood. There may be giddiness and often headache and acidity or flatulence and tenderness in the stomach. To correct all this if not effect a cure try Green's August Flower. It costs but a trifle and thousands attest its efficacy.

Wonderful Cures.

W. D. Hoyt & Co., Wholesale and Retail Druggists of Rome, Ga., say: "We have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery, Electric Bitters and Bucklen's Arnica Salve for four years. Have never handled remedies that sell as well, or give such universal satisfaction. There have been some wonderful cures effected by the medicines in this city. Several cases of Consumption have been entirely cured by use of a few bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, taken in connection with Electric Bitter. Bitters. We guarantee them always. Sold by W. H. Phillips, Clanton."

POPULAR SCIENCE.

Import treated with a mixture of camphor and linseed oil, becomes waterproof.

Dr. Julius Pohlmann declares that our teeth decay from lack of exercise—our food being too soft to require much chewing, especially during childhood.

The sugar mine (Acacia saccharifera) is estimated to number 100,000 per pound in most unrefined sugar. It causes the "green" itch of these handling the raw sugar.

The Caucasus region, with its mighty peaks sixteen to seventeen thousand feet in height, is now visited in summer by the more ambitious Alpine clubmen.

Traveling, according to Mr. Frankfort, is tolerably secure.

The French Government is about to build an absolutely unassailable man-of-war. This will be accomplished by the use of cellulose anisole, a product of coconut fibre, so elastic that it pierced the hole close of itself.

Among recent mechanical curiosities are a scarf pin with a bird's head that, as you examine it, is made to twitter by pressure upon a concealed rubber bulb;

and a bicycle with wheels six and a half feet in diameter, between which the feet sit on the connecting axis.

A museum of religions is a novelty of the French metropolis. A traveler of Lyons, M. Guimet, has long been collecting all priests' robes and other objects relating to religious ceremonies; and these have been presented to Paris on condition that a suitable building be provided, which has been done.

An automatic chess recorder has been produced by Dr. Wurtemberg, of Zurich. An ingenious electrical arrangement prints on a strip of paper the index number and level of the square from and to which the piece is moved, and moves of the black pieces have a different place on the tape from those of the white.

Some people doubt the poisonous effect of nutmeg, but several cases of numeg poisoning have been reported in the British Medical Journal during the past summer. A whole nutmeg was taken in four of the cases, and five whole ones in the remaining case. In still another case, the use of half a nutmeg in a hot drink was nearly fatal.

A very rare water lily forty years ago discovered by Dr. Charles Wright in Texas, has recently been re-discovered near Waco. From a plant raised in England from Wright's seed, Dr. Hooker named it Nymphaea elegans—lily from a remarkable beauty. The half-opened seeds are like lavender, lighter at the base, and the sepals of the expanded flowers seem tipped with purple blue.

The sepals are also brownish or purplish lined. No doubt there are other places in Texas where it also grows, awaiting some watchful eye to see. Two young ladies, Sarah A. Trumble and Miss

M. Judith Wright found it there.

The Deadliest Intoxicant.

Absinthe is the deadliest intoxicant in the world and its use is increasing. Its slightest use is its abuse. And it is easy to form the habit of taking it because the intoxication it causes is exhilarating and pleasant, and it needs a very small quantity to do the work. The drink introduced into New York by Frenchmen and travelers and it is now a common beverage in hotels, clubs and fashionable barrooms. French soldiers introduced it into Paris after the campaign in Algeria in 1848. In an astonishingly short period it permeated the civilized world. To day its manufacture is one of the largest liquor trades of Europe. Neuchâtel, in Switzerland, is the headquarters for its manufacture.

Two million of gallons yearly are made there. What France makes and does not consume is sent for the most part to America.

It is a pretty, seductive and insidious liquor. The taste is pleasant and not at all like a spirituous compound. Yet it is made by mashing together the sweetest flowering tops of four species of wormwood, with sweet flag and angelica root and star anise fruit, and macerating them in alcohol. The compound is distilled after eight days' soaking and anise oil is added to give it taste. Intoxications are made of essential oils and bark, and a blue vitrol. This is quickly fatal. But the genuine is deadly enough. The intemeration is very close, too, and imports themselves are often deceived. Unge-neral principles it may be said that the average abstemious person of this country has never tasted the genuine absinthe in his life. The hospitals are rapidly getting to know the victims of absinthe.

Its effects are frightful and unmistakable, and very few of its devotees are ever restored to entire health. A year and special treatment is even now being experimented with by some of the Bellevue physicians.—New York Graphic.

Alive in His Grave.

A latter-day Lazarus has temporarily returned to life at a place called Esparron, in the Department of the Haute-

Garonne, France. He was an elderly man, named Badi, whose death had been duly certified by the local doctors.

Preparations were made for his burial, and the coffin containing his body was actually lowered into the grave when a hollow voice was heard uttering moans between the four boards. Then followed several distinct knocks on the inside of the coffin lid. Most of the people who were standing around the grave were terrified and ran away as if they were pursued by a battalion of "bogies."

The Cure, the croque-mort, and the sexton showed, however, no signs of trepidation, and one of the funeral troupes of music went for the Mayor, while another boldly and rather practically shouted down to the supposed dead man: "Wait a bit, old man."

When the Mayor arrived the coffin was opened and the man was taken out, but the fright was too much for him; all the town was now talking of the "Modern Lazarus," whose resurrection was regarded as a miracle; but, after having hovered for a day or two between time and eternity, the venerable rillager at last departed from the precincts of the cheerful day in real calm.—London

Telegraph.

Prince Bismarck's Wife.

Prince Bismarck's wife is said to be a typical "hausfrau," with never a thought above petty domestic details. The Crown Prince's wife is of the same stamp. In their eyes it is a little short of infamous for the Empress to read philosophy, advocate the higher education of women, and take an intelligent interest in the affairs of the Empire and of the world. Yet her breadth of intellect and force of character have never prevented the Empress from being the model wife and a model mother.—New York Tribune.

CHAINS AND HANDCUFFS.

New Quicksilver are Treated in Russian Prisons.

I had heard only a few days previously from an Englishman, born in Russia, that the worst of Russian criminals were put down in quicksilver mines in Siberia, where they were speedily killed by salubrious fumes. Like many others I at once believed the story, but little thought I should one day have the satisfaction of kicking the bottom out of it, by proclaiming after crossing the ocean my conviction that there are no such things in Siberia as quicksilver mines, and challenging any one to bring proof that there ever have been. As an instance, however, of the pertinacity with which a false idea continues to spread over my mind, I may mention that after my return to England, with the editor of a leading Petersburg journal, who assured me that I was quite mistaken in supposing there were no quicksilver mines in Siberia. Upon my maintaining the contrary, he declared that he could bring me proof on the spot, which accordingly he left the room to do, but returned begging my pardon, and saying that they were silver mines.

Thimblefuls of argenteal mercury have long been found, no doubt, here and there in Siberia, as at Kolyvan, and a reluctant political exile told me that he had many miles distant, that there was a small quicksilver mine at Nerchinsk, but too poor to be worth working.

When, however, he was deported to four places in succession about Ner-chinsk, he heard nothing more of the said "quicksilver" mine, and neither he nor any other released exile who had worked there in the silver mines, and whom I questioned, perceived, they said, objectionable "fumes."

Another point on which false information has been spread relates to the manner prisoners wear their chains, which some, like the author of "Called Back," would have us believe is under their trousers. But this is purely a hoax. I have in my possession pairs of Russian handcuffs and leg chains, and

The town of Brewton, Ala., had a $75,000 fire on Monday night. The greater portion of the business houses of the town were destroyed.

The Lancaster woman who only eats once every 54 days has received 300 offers of marriage from young Philadelphia lawyers. She has declined them all on the ground that since she enjoys only seven meals a year she wants to be sure that she will get them.

There are 401 votes in the electoral college. Of these the southern, or late slave holding states, contribute 153. A majority of the college is 201, so that 48 northern votes, in addition to the "solid south," will be needed to elect a Democratic president. New York has 36, Indiana 15, New Jersey 9 and Connecticut 6—all of which were carried by Cleveland in 1884. We believe the Democrats will again carry all of these this year, and have the best prospect of also carrying Michigan, California, Illinois, Wisconsin, and a good fighting chance in Ohio, Iowa, New Hampshire and Minnesota.

Joint Resolution.

Proposing an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution which when adopted, shall be section 57 of said article.

Section I. Be it resolved by the General Assembly of Alabama, that the following proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Alabama be submitted to the people of this state for their consideration at the next general election for Representatives, which when agreed to by a majority of all the citizens of this State voting for Representatives at such election, shall be valid to all intents and purposes as a part of the Constitution of the State of Alabama Article IV, section 57. No bill which does not apply to the whole State, except bills creating and regulating municipal corporations and bills fixing the time of holding the courts and prescribing rules of practice therein, shall be introduced into either house of the Legislature after the twentieth legislative day of the session nor shall any such bill be considered or passed by either house after the thirty-fifth (35) legislative day of the session, nor shall any bill which applies to the whole State be amended by either house after the twentieth (20) legislative day of the session so as to confine its operations to a part of the State.

Section 2. It shall be the duty of the sheriff and other officers charged by law with the superintendence and returning of the votes cast at the next general election for Representatives to open a poll for the vote of the qualified electors on this proposed amendment, said sheriff or other returning officers to make a return of said vote to the Secretary of State of the returns of the votes cast for Representatives at said election.

Section 3.

The vote at said election on said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, to be a plain piece of white paper of the size and description now prescribed by law for the ballots cast at general elections, and to be printed or written, or partly printed upon it those for said proposed Amendment, "For Local Legislation Amendment," and those against, "Against Local Legislation Amendment," that electors may print or write, "For Local Legislation Amendment," or "Against Local Legislation Amendment" on the same ballot they cast for Representatives at said election.

ALOU'S LETTER.

Ala. Baptist State Convention.

TALLADEGA, July 16, '88.

The sixty-fifth annual session of this body convened in the Baptist Church on Friday, July 13th. Hon. Jonathan Harison, of Selma, was re-elected President by acclamation, and Hon. T. G. Byth, of Mobile, and Hon. G. R. Farnham, of Evergreen, were chosen Vice-Presidents.

Several hundred delegates and visitors in attendance. One of the first things done was to change the time of meeting from July to November.

Representatives from the House and Foreign Mission Boards, the American Baptist Publication Society and the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary were here.

State Missions are demanding the attention of Alabama Baptists as never before, and as a distinguished minister said on the floor, "it is the foundation of all our work in the State." North Alabama is now the great mission field and grand results have already been achieved from even the small amounts expended. The mineral region of the State has attracted the attention of the capitalist, but in the near future central and south Alabama will receive a proportionate share of capital and immigration. The Baptists must go into all these fields or they will be left behind in the progressive march of God's evangelizing hosts. To accomplish this grand work there must be co-operation on the part of the churches and associations with the State Mission Board.

Howard College, around which gather the interests of the future greatness of Alabama Baptists is brought before us now; and must be endowed immediately. The Baptists of every section of the State have decided to let the college remain at East Lake, and unite in a strong effort to increase the endowment already begun. The prospects of the college for the next session are indeed most flattering. The harmonious action of the convention in its endorsement of Howard College in its present location is a sufficient guarantee of success.

The next session of the convention will be held in Selma, November, 1889.

FIFTEENTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT.

Jno. H. Parker Nominated and Morgan Endorsed.

WETUMPKA, ALA., July 11.—The senatorial convention for the 15th district convened here at 12 m. today. Hon. Albert T. Goodwin, of Elmore county, was made temporary and permanent chairman.

Resolutions were introduced pledging support of all delegates to the nominee; endorsing the action of Senator Falkner; instructing Senator Parker to support Hon. John T. Morgan; and adopting the majority rule.

Hon. Levi Johnson, and John H. Parker, Esqs., were placed in nomination. On the first ballot Parker received 34 and Johnson 18 votes. Parker was then declared the nominee.

Two Conventions.

What a contrast between the St. Louis and Chicago conventions! One the embodiment of everything that is orderly, dignified and commendable in political procedure—the other ruled by arbitrary methods and the type of everything irregular in parliamentary law. One swayed by high and lofty motives of patriotism—the other dominated by petty objects of political aims and desire. The one composed of the representative men from all parts of the republic—the other constituted of motley elements selected by the forces of manipulation and trickery. One inspired by a zeal to promote the public good—the other governed by an unhallowed desire to prostitute interests of the people to the aggrandizement of individuals—one stamped with the seal of integrity—the other the perfect reflex and incarnation of hypocrisy. One a grand reality—the other a delusion and a snare. One composed of the living representatives of the greatest political organization ever devised by the thought and ingenuity of man—the other custodians of a ruined and bankrupt party conceived in iniquity and born in sin. One a democratic convention—the other a national republican powder.—Dispatch.

Campaign News Cheap.

Wouldn't you like to keep fully posted with all the campaign news from now until after the Presidential election in November? You can do it for 25 cents. THE MONTGOMERY WEEKLY ADVERTISER will be sent to any address from now until Nov. 10th for that small sum, and it can be sent in stamps. This is the most attractive offer ever made to citizens of Alabama, because the Advertiser contains more than a cipher of this State wants than any other newspaper printed in or out of the State. It will also give all the news about the State election in August, as well as the presidential election in November.

In addition it prints the State news far more fully than any other paper. Then it contains a "Farmer's Department" by Prof. Newman, of Auburn. It is the most readable paper an Alabamian can get—has twelve pages every week, and is for twenty-five cents to November 10th. For a club of four with 25 cents each, the paper will be sent free for the same time to the getter up of the club. Subscribe at once. Get up four names and send $1, and get your paper free. Address: THE ADVERTISER, Montgomery, Ala.

A Wreck at Strasburg, Delay: the Limited.

CALERA, ALA., July 16.—The limited express which left Montgomery, 1:20 this morning did not reach this place until about 10:30. The cause of the delay was the wrecking of a train of empty coal cars, just this side of Strasburg. It occurred in the early part of the night, and the Montgomery train was delayed at that point for about four hours.

A Little Too Strong.

The Griffin (Ga.) News tells of a man, residing near that town, who suffered a swarm of bees to locate in a hollow tree on his grounds. After a length of time he tapped the tree and put in a faucet and drew six barrels of the purest honey ever seen. But more: After a short time a strange growth of small trees began growing around this tree. By accident one of them became bruised one day, and noticing the peculiar appearance of the sap running from it tasted and found it to be pure honey. He immediately transplanted three hundred of them into an orchard, and now draws from each about ten gallons of pure honey each season.

For the benefit of the public at large, we will say we are personally acquainted with the author of the above. He was born and reared at Findlay, O., and is a beautiful blonde, loving his "constitutional" almost well enough to be a Kentuckian. During our acquaintance, he showed considerable talent as a liar, but never in moments of our greatest admiration for his blooming talent did we suppose he would reach the present high pinnacle of fame among the noted liars of our glorious free country, even with the advantage of having been born in Ohio. Brother Glesmer, here's our hand, and may you live to even surpass this.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE

Dr. B. J. Kendall, Sir:
Gents:—I have used your Kendall's Spavin Cure and it is wonderful to say the least. Yours respectfully,
J. L. CHARY.
From the "Spirit of the Times," June 28, 1888. The old idea that a spavin was incurable has given way before the improvements made by modern science. Among these wonderful improvements must be mentioned the most successful remedy ever discovered for the cure of this disease, Kendall's Spavin Cure, one that is certain in its effect, and will not blister. It is prepared by Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt., and has received praise on every hand for its thorough and reliable work in cases of spavin or hock lameness. It is a certain cure for rheumatism, enlargement of the joints, corns, etc., while blood spavins and bursal enlargements promptly disappear on its use. It is a standard remedy among horse owners and breeders, where its work has often been proven. It is for sale by all druggists at $1 per bottle or six for $5, or will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt.

DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE.

From infancy to old age the human family is liable to some form of liver trouble. Restore the action of the liver and kidneys to a healthy state with DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE, and both the liver and bladder will be restored. Read what the Rev. Dr. Arnold, of Camden, says of Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine:
"I was cured of Symptomatic Heart Disease, caused by a torpid liver and indigestion. Was troubled with it for 30 years, growing worse all the time, until I commenced taking Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine. Three bottles restored me to perfect health after all physicians and medicines had failed to give me any relief. Dr. Duncan's Medicine is better, if possible, than he represents them to be."

Sheriff Smitherman and a deputy went out five miles east of town one day last week and arrested one Poly Mims on a charge of assault and battery with a weapon. On reaching the creek just on the other side of the Gilchrist place near town, the prisoner took the notion into his head to bid the Sheriff a sudden farewell, which he did by plunging into the creek and darting into the swamp. His parting words were, "Goodbye Mr. Smitherman, I'm going to see my wife."

Found Dead.

A negro man named Payton Wilson, who was employed as a farm laborer upon the plantation of Mrs. Popwell, 5 miles east of Clanton, was found on last Saturday evening near the Clanton and Maplesville road lying in a deep gully, dead, his head crushed and jaw bone broken in three places. He disappeared from his home about 10 days ago, since which time nothing was heard of him until the discovery of his body.

An inquest was held on last Monday by Justice of the Peace Rice, and a verdict of murder by unknown party was rendered.

The Milton Buzz-Saw, published at Milton, Fla., has been received at this office. Mr. A. J. Hall, formerly of this place, is editor and proprietor. We will be pleased to place such a remarkable publication on our exchange list and will take particular pains to observe the motto which the Buzz-Saw flows to the breeze in these words: "Don't monkey with it."

It is rumored that there will be a leap year party at Mr. S. A. Blasingame's very soon. Beware boys! and remember the last affair of that kind, where a timid, trusting boy was doomed.

DEVIL.

Alliance dinner and barbecue near Verbena, on next Saturday. Public invited.

Mr. Payton Wilson, of Birmingham, is visiting relatives in Clanton.

Men Who Harm a Town.

An exchange thus tersely tells who are the men to choke a town to death if they could. But the great beauty about it all is, the sort of men described below are not much force, and what they do say amounts to very little one way or another:

First—Those who oppose improvements.

Second—Those who don't advertise.

Third—Those who run it down to strangers.

Fourth—Those who distrust its public men.

Fifth—Those who show no hospitality to any one.

Sixth—Those who hate to see others make money.

Seventh—Those who oppose every movement that does not originate with themselves.

Eighth—Those who put on long faces when a stranger speaks of locating.

Ninth—Those who oppose every public enterprise that does not appear of personal benefit to themselves.

What Am I to Do?

The symptoms of Biliousness are unpleasant, but two well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A Bilious man is seldom a breakfast eater. He frequently, also, has an excellent appetite for liquids, but none for solids of a morning. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time; if it is not white and coated, it is rough at all events. The digestive system is wholly out of order and Diarrhea or Constipation may be a symptom or the two may alternate. There are often Hemorrhoids or even loss of blood. There may be griping and often headache and acidity or flatulence and tenderness in the stomach. To correct all this if not effect a cure try Green's August Flower. It costs but a trifle and thousands attest its efficacy.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." "Abraham Hare, Druggist, Bellville, Ohio, affirms: 'The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters.' Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar to be at Phillips Drug Store."

The Mills tariff bill has passed the house of representatives. It is not thought it will pass the Senate.

A very atrocious murder was committed near Montevallo on Saturday night. A white man by the name of Levi Lolly was called out of his house and shot by a negro.

Mr. Mills was particular to show in his fourth of July speech to Tammany Hall, that his bill was not a free trade measure, it is claimed that he gained many votes for the party.

General Fitzhugh Lee made a good hit at the Gettysburg reunion. He said that two babies were born near each other in Kentucky. One was Abraham Lincoln and the other was Jefferson Davis. If they had changed their environment, Davis might have been Lincoln, and Lincoln might have been Davis.

Here is a pleasant little item from the Washington Star of Saturday: "Mrs. Cleveland drove into the city yesterday at noon behind the sorrels and paid a visit to the White House. The quiet of country life at Oak View has been very acceptable to Mrs. Cleveland, and she never was more charming than at present."

Judge Calvin S. Brice, who has been elected chairman of the National Democratic Committee is from Ohio, but for some years has had a home in New York. He is a gentleman in the prime of life, about forty years of age, a thorough-going business man, and is admirably fitted by his energy and administrative capacity for the important place.

OVER THE COUNTRY.

Neighborhood News Gathered by Our Correspondents.

Bra. Ike Goes to the Picnic.

According to arrangement, the people and citizens of the Mulberry neighborhood had a picnic on the 18th inst. at Isabella Church. Bra. Ike being a public man decided to attend that meeting, so on that morning he saddled up his long-sided Baalam, put on his claw-hammer coat, and copers breeches and off he went. He was a lively aspect on that occasion. When he got there he said Parson Honeycutt had done begun his speech, and the house being crowded he got a seat in the window, but he couldn't get geared into the speech, because the parson had fork his text before he got in. He said the parson told a heap of good things, and from what he gained from the speech he understood the parson wanted the farmers to build up an exchange bank, to be operated especially for the farmer's benefit. But the whole thing meant to build up the Republican party.

Well there was lots of folks there and among them there was a goodly number of candidates. There was John Garner, Lee Hayes, Enoch Hayes, Monroe Gentry, Joe Green, &c. Bra. Ike was somewhat astonished at not finding Wiley Vines there, but he said that he was informed that Wiley had got Lee to represent him, and that he himself would go to Jimson and keep up the corners among the masons. After the two or three hours speech ended the people spread the dinner in the grove, and Bro. Ike says it was a dinner too. As he represented all the good people of Chilton at that table, he had a right to know. He said his copers breeches was full large in the morning, but in the evening his breeches went back on him, the buttons gave way and the seams burst, and in, there was a mighty shaking of the dry bones of himself and his mule as they sped through the air homeward. Well, Bro. Ike enjoyed the occasion to his heart's satisfaction. He says he had always heard that the Mulberry folks were famous for dinners, but after he saw for himself he said the half had not never been told him.

Bro. Ike is jubilant over the prospect of the Democratic ticket. He says if the ticket is best he concedes himself that the intelligent people of the country are just outraged. Bro. Ike has been trying to solve the problem that troubles him, Bro. Dykes, and he says he is thoroughly convinced that the movie-drama over, whether the water is poured out of the bucket at night or not, and he says if Bro. Dykes is elected, he ten will think the world is rapidly whirling, before he gets away from the capital, and perhaps he will think so before he gets there. Bro. Ike says this is a curious time with the folks. He thinks the judgment is close at hand, and says if it is not it ought to be for Bro. Dykes is taking the pulpit to explain his political standing. Bro. Ike thinks he will exceed 14 votes in Chilton, if he is a new comer.

Verbena Views.

The Rev. Dr. McCarty was very sick last Sunday, and we did not have any service.

Miss Fannie Nix, of Deatsville, who has been visiting the family Dr. Williamson, has returned home leaving many broken hearts. Fishing is all the go in Verbena, and some of the young ladies are very successful both in and out of the water.

Mr. Scott, of Kincheon, paid us a visit last week. He says that box will go strictly Democratic.

Mr. Barnett Merriwether, of Birmingham, is visiting his home at this place. He is a leading politician of Birmingham.

Mr. John Wells, of Vicksburg, Miss., is visiting relatives in Verbena.

The Alliance picnic near Verbena, was a success, and well represented with babies, and plenty of good things to eat, and besides the well-filled baskets we had plenty of barbecued meats that would have made an editor hit his devil. The farmers did not fight because they are accustomed to good eating. But it took my best to get along with them, when we went to the table. The farmers around here I think are in a prosperous condition. They work for what they can eat and wear. Of course they trouble the poor, tired merchants some, but the Alliance promises to give the merchants a long rest in the near future.

Our gathering was non-political. We had a few remarks from a visiting member from Autauga county, a Mr. Stewart, who spoke on the development of the Alliance. Giving rather a brief history of the past and future, he showed to some extent in what way they could be benefited. They must have a foundation, and it takes money to make or build a foundation, and this being the case, they will have to go to some merchant, banker or broker, and what is the difference after all. A sensible gentleman told some of the Alliance members that the only way they could improve themselves or their farming interests was to commence and consume only what they made, and not consume until made.

A gentleman whom I can produce told Mr. W. B. Strock to come and get his Radical papers out of the postoffice. Mr. Strock said to the messenger: "As well be a Radical as anything else these days."

A man who voted a Radical ticket once will vote it again.

Jimson Locals.

We are needing rain. Mr. "Slug" Hunt, of this place, is quite sick.

Little Myrtle Chapman is very sick with fever.

The Masonic dinner Wednesday was well attended.

Mr. Frank Bandy, who has been visiting his mother, has returned to Columbiana where he is at work.

There were several couples that went out to Pleasant Grove, Sunday, to singing. They report a splendid time.

Misses Mary and Ola Shelby, two of Oxmoor's charming belles, have returned to their home at this place.

Miss Geneva Johnson, of Rome, Ga., is visiting friends and relatives at this place.

A long and happy life to the View.

The members of Jimson Lodge, No. 411, A. F. & A. M., held their annual celebration July 18th. An excellent programme was rendered, which was interspersed with beautiful music; the officers elect for the ensuing year were publicly installed; Rev. A. E. Burns delivered a masterly address; and finally a sumptuous dinner was spread. Your correspondent regrets that he is unable to give you a more extended notice of the exercises.

Mr. George Skaggs died recently at Pine Hill. We extend our sincere sympathy to the grief-stricken family and friends.

Rev. Mr. Wallace, of Six Mile, filed Mr. Wyatt's pulpit, at the Presbyterian church last Sunday night.

The K. of H. Lodge of this place is now in good working order, and has 29 members, with good prospect of several more soon.

Mr. D. M. Hand left this morning for a visit of some days to Brewton.

Mr. J. P. Allen recently attended the Ala. Presbytery, which convened at Gadsden, Wilcox Co. He had a pleasant trip, the heat excepted.

Mr. Wiley Vines, our popular candidate for sheriff, was in town today canvassing. One of our most influential citizens told him a single man ought to have the office; and as both the other candidates had families, he would make him a present of a fine suit of clothes if he would beat them. Wiley is hopeful of carrying beat 2 in August.

Mr. Tobie Lee and Miss Deshazo, of Brewton, are visiting Mr. Shelby Allen's family.

Miss Maggie Maul, of Birmingham, is visiting Mr. L. Boyd's family.

Benson Locals.

Rain in abundance. Last Sunday it rained in torrents for the space of one and a half hours. The branches were creeks and the creeks were rivers soon after the rain. A tin vessel 12 inches in diameter, sitting on a wash stand in the yard was filled to the depth of 104 inches during the rain fall. We country folks call it a regular water-spout. Crop prospects are good in this vicinity.

Mr. R. P. Wooley and wife, of Clanton, have been visiting friends and relatives on Mulberry.

Rev. T. J. Elam, filled Rev. A. E. Burns' appointment at Mulberry church, on the 3d Sunday. He preached a very able and effective sermon.

Candidates are thick in the country. When a man hellos at the gate the chickens are seen to take to the woods, and the roosters cease their crowing for the space of twelve hours.

Success to the View and the Democratic ticket.

Maplesville Dots.

Mrs. Hammer was the guest of Mrs. N. E. Goodwin last week.

The accomplished Miss Kate Todd, of Plantersville, is teaching at Maplesville.

The people of Maplesville, were much pleased with our next representative, Mr. Green, who was in our neighborhood last week.

Mrs. Smitherman and Miss Alpha Smitherman, have been visiting Mrs. Wilson, of Clanton, who was quite sick, but is now convalescing.

Died here Sunday eve, little girl of Mr. Rollins, 5 years old.

Our excellent pastor, Rev. J. O. Nobles, has been doing much good the past week in holding a protracted meeting, assisted by Revs. Shores, Urquhart, and D. C. McGee. The latter spent many years of his life with us in boyhood, and we are proud now to acknowledge it.

We are pleased to state that N. W. Foshee is improving in health.

Never, perhaps, was there so little interest manifested in the state election as there is in the approaching one. Here we are within four weeks of the day of voting and nine tenths of the people seem to know or care but little, if anything, about what is going on or going to be the result. Excepting Seay, Palmer, McClellan and Langdon, all of whom are candidates for re-election, three out of every five voters don't know who the state nominees are. North of the mountains not a candidate has been seen or heard since the State Convention except two—on their way home. What is the matter? Have our beloved nominees forgotten us? Are not the officers they seek worth the time and trouble of visiting the "White folks settlement of the state?" Have they forgotten how to mix with the people? Can they no longer make speeches and discuss the issues of the day or do they regard their nomination as equivalent to an election? We warn you brethren beloved, not to neglect or ignore us, for some day Seay may want to be president, Palmer Governor, McClellan Senator and the other two fellows (we have forgotten their names) may aspire to Congress. If you cannot come to see us write a letter. Whoop yourselves up in some way.—Centur News.

Gents:—I have used your Kendall's Spavin Cure and it is wonderful to say the least. Yours respectfully,
J. L. CHART.
From the "Spirit of the Times," June 28, 1898. The old idea that a spavin was incurable has given way before the improvements made by modern science. Among these wonderful improvements must be mentioned the most successful remedy ever discovered for the cure of this disease, Kendall's Spavin Cure, one that is certain in its effect, and will not blister. It is prepared by Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt., and has received praise on every hand for its thorough and reliable work in cases of spavin or hock lameness. It is a certain cure for rheumatism, enlargement of the joints, corns, etc., while blood spavins and bursal enlargements promptly disappear on its use. It is a standard remedy among horse owners and breeders, where its work has often been proven. It is for sale by all druggists at $1 per bottle or six for $5, and will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt.

DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE.

From infancy to old age the human family is liable to some form of kidney trouble. Restore the action of the liver and kidneys to a healthy state with DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE, and both the kidney and bladder will be restored. Read what the Rev. Dr. Arnold, of Camden, says of Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine:—
"I was cured of Symptomatic Heart Disease, caused by a torpid liver and indigestion. Was troubled with it for 30 years, growing worse all the time, until I commenced taking Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine. Three bottles restored me to perfect health after all physicians and medicines had failed to give me any relief. Dr. Duncan's Medicine is better, if possible, than he represents them to be."

Ms. BROWN.—We beg a little space in your columns to publish some facts, and hope you will give us that space.

It is reported in some portions of the county that the convention committed a blunder in nominating Mr. E. J.

Hayes for tax collector. We as citizens take this method of informing the public that we have known Mr. Hayes from his infancy, and we make no hesitation in saying that he is a young man of untarnished character. He was born and raised in this county, and has ever borne the name of a high-toned, honorable gentleman. He has had the care of his mother and family resting upon him from his boyhood. His father died when Enoch was a mere child, and from that time he has managed to support his mother and her family, with credit to himself and honor to the neighborhood. He is a consistent member of the Baptist Church and is regarded as a model in piety and morals, and we think that in every respect he is worthy and well qualified to fulfill all the duties of the office of tax collector. Mr. Hayes is entirely ignorant of this notice, but we as citizens feel it our duty to defend him against the slanders of designing parties.

Cowardly Murder.

MONTVALLO, ALA., July 8.—A most atrocious murder was committed near here Saturday night.

Mr. Levi Lolly, a well-to-do farmer living near the Brierfield mines was called from his bed about 11 o'clock by a party who wanted to know the way to Brierfield. He went out to give him direction and discovered that there were two white men and a negro. As soon as he heard them the negro raised his pistol and told Lolly to stand and at the same time shooting him through the left side. Lolly turned to run in the house and they fired again. He reached his door and grabbed his gun and jumped back into the yard, and fired at the crowd, and at the same time fire was opened up on him from another quarter. Nine shots were fired by the assassins and two by Lolly.

Lolly died yesterday evening.

Warrants have been issued on suspicion. Lolly was a most excellent and inoffensive citizen and great excitement prevails over the killing. He was not known to have an enemy in the world until a few days ago when he had a quarrel with a party about some work.

It will be remembered that the Sherintendent of the mines not more than half a mile distant was shot and killed in his own house last fall by an unknown party.

Parties were tried for the offense, but no convictions were had.

TOPICS OF INTEREST RELATIVE TO FARM AND GARDEN

Grafting Wax.

How to make this is often asked, and while there are many recipes given, the one that we like best after forty years of experience, is as follows: Use one pint lard, four pounds resin, one pound beeswax. Melt all over a slow fire; stir well and pour on water; when cool enough to work grease the hands well and work it like shoe-maker's wax or taffy. Then roll balls of convenient size for putting into the vessel used when grafting. It should be heated over a moderate fire, and put on the grafts thin, but not too hot. This wax will not crack in cold weather, nor run, even if the weather gets up to 100 degrees in the shade. —Popular Gardening.

Feeding Young Pigs

If the young pig is not getting enough milk from its mother to push it through usually secure about the fourth or fifth week of its life. The little piglets are that none but the little ones can have access to them, and give the pigs two or three small rations daily of cow's milk. It is not best at first to feed whole milk, or, if so, it should be diluted with one-third water and fed to them warm and perfectly sweet. Half a pint a piglet until they are six weeks old will be found a liberal allowance, in addition to what they get from the sow. After the eighth week they may have the whole milk, and the quantity may be increased gradually until they have all they will consume. About the tenth or twelfth week, if a small ration of corn meal is added to the milk, the piglets will quickly respond with added growth and appearance. The milk is making bone and muscle, and the corn meal will interlard a streak of fat that will give to the hams and shoulders that fine marbled appearance that butchers and consumers delight in. If the feeder is near a city or large home market, where he can supply certain butchers, it is no hard matter by a little care and foresight to establish a brand of butchers' pork that will readily command one or two cents above the market. But there must be real excellence in the product. It cannot be done with any kind of a pig, by simply making it very fat. For this kind of feeding the Berkshire and Essex, if pure bred, are particularly well adapted. By following the plan indicated above, with grass or clover in summer, and steamed fodder or hay in winter, it is no trouble to turn off pigs of 25 to 300 pounds weight at seven or eight months, and this is the most that butchers want for the local market, while during the summer 150 pounds suits them better if rightly fed.

This, however, applies chiefly to small farms and nearness to market, and no doubt the same practice can be followed by thousands of our largest feeders with added profit to their present course. It is within the observation of thinking breeders, that if there is any hog disease in the country certain ones seem to get more than their share of it. This is for the most part due either to breeding, or to an exclusive corn diet. Either of these will debilitate the constitution, and are especially to be guarded against if one would be successful in this business. As to how long the milk diet can be profitably continued, we desire to quote an experiment made with Professor Shelton, at the Kansas Agricultural College. His experiment was made with ten pure-bred Essex pigs, whose average weight was eighty days, and the average weight forty-one pounds and a fraction. They were divided into lots of five each, but each pig had a pen to itself. Soon after the experiment began, one pig had to be withdrawn on account of sickness. One lot fed new milk fresh from the cow, with shorts; the other lots shorts and water. All feed was accurately weighed, and several facts are deducible from the experiment, but we wish to use it in its relation to milk as pig food. The result after feeding 100 days was that the lot which received the milk diet weighed 141 pounds, while those that got no milk weighed 101 pounds, a difference of just forty pounds each in favor of the milk. But this is not all. Professor Shelton says: "The milk fed pigs at the end of the experiment were ripe and ready for the butcher, while those that were fed on shorts alone were quite unsalable. The pigs which had received the milk were sold to the butcher at the highest market price; the others, with possibly two exceptions, were salable only as stockers. Indeed, three of them did not weigh, four months later, as much as the milk-fed pigs did at the end of the experiment." —American Agriculturist.

Farm and Garden Notes.

Poultry will not thrive in a wet or damp place. Large growing trees should not be planted in small yards. The codling-moth has got to Nevada and become a nuisance. Mr. Strong, of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, thinks very highly of clover as a substitute for glass in raising vegetables, and expresses the opinion that it might be used with great advantage in forwarding crops. Mr. E. G. Goff, horticulturist of the New York Experiment Station, found, as the result of a long series of tests, that the productivity of any strain of potatoes can be materially increased by the continued selection for seed of tubers from the most productive hills. The farmer who will succeed the best in growing crops will be the one who prepares the land the best. We now have so many improved implements for stirring the soil that there is really no excuse for planting land that is not well pulverized. The manure should be thoroughly mingled with the soil that no portion of it shall be without fertilizer within a few inches of it. In working land early it will be dumpy and must be worked fine. W. D. Phillips advises, in American Cultivator, that especially in preparing the land for deep-growing roots, like parsnips and horseradish, it is necessary to run the plough very deep and take a narrow slice and, after harrowing, plough again and rake fine. Quick-growing crops, like radishes and lettuce, spinach, etc., do not require so deep working of the land, but will usually well repay the extra expense of two ploughings and often of two harrowings. Large pansies are comparatively a modern invention. In Harrison's Floral Cabinet, in 1840-45, the first large improvements are painted. In ten years they had advanced to their full development, and no larger; a little larger ones have been raised since. In 1850 the rose took them, as it subsequently did the verbena, and the raising of new named kinds was discontinued. Seedlings raised their heads, and pansy seed instead of pansy plants came to be popular. Modern improvements have been in the line of new names rather than in the line of new roses.

HOUSEHOLD MATTERS

A Lesson in Bitter.

A little maid in the morning told me, "I wish this butter was done. Then off to the field I'd be turning!" So she hurried the butter up and down. Till the farmer called in the late-made cream. "Churn slowly!"

"Don't ply the churn so fast, my dear. It is not good for the butter. And will make your arms ache, too, I fear. And put you all in a flutter!" For this is a rule wherever we turn. Don't be in a haste whatever you churn. Churn slowly!

"If you want your butter nice and sweet, Don't churn with nervous jerking. But ply the dasher slowly and evenly. You'll hardly know that you're working; And when the butter has come you'd say, 'Yes, surely, this is the better way.' Churn slowly!"

Now all you folks, do you think that you A lesson can find in butter? Don't be in haste whatever you do; Or get yourself in a flutter: And when you stand at the foot of your churn, Let the farmer's words to you be remembered. Churn slowly."

To Embellish the Corners.

Corners are sometimes eyesores from their very bareness. One of these may be mended by a very simple arrangement of three cornered shelves covered with felt or plush, the fronts being finished with a six-inch fringe, or with strips of Lincrusta-Walton. The shelves should be at least twelve inches apart, and there may be two, three or more of them, as desired. An India rubber curtain suspended from a slender brass rod from the lower one is a pretty addition. Another corner may have a single shelf upon which is a bust or a handsome vase. Take a sufficient length of soft silk or other drapery, draw it through a brass ring, which affix to the picture rail, letting the ends fall in graceful folds behind the bust or other ornament, covering the shelf and hanging some distance below it. A pedestal, tall lamp or some other arrangement would fill up the lower part of the corner prettily. —American Cultivator.

Darning No Silk Cushion

Take six pieces of silk darning, each measuring four and a half inches in length, and overseam on the wrong side neatly, leaving half an inch at each end for fringe. Any colors can be selected, but purple, gray, brown, pink, green and black look well together. The best way to do, as the saying goes, is "to cut your case according to your cloth." An ordinary cushion of ends of broad or narrow use is a year's scrap bag. Feather stitch the seams on the right side with ravel, or for the sake of variety, make different fancy stitches. Then overseam the last two pieces of braid which were left open for convenience, and sew up the cushion with feather stitch. Gather this long bag at one end, above the half inch left for fringe, and fill with cotton, sprinkled with sachet powder. Then sew up the other end. Take a pin and fringe the braid and tie a pretty little bow of narrow ribbon over the stitches at each end. Slip your darning needle in carefully and securely and you have a useful addition to your work basket. The perfume combines pleasure with utility, and you can either follow the scent as the hunting dogs do their game, or you can stick your fingers in pursuit of your needles. This is supposing your work-basket is in its traditional disorder, but a careful little girl will have a place for everything and everything in its place; and youth is the time for forming habits of neatness and industry. Another needle-cushion is made of four pieces of braid, six inches long, overseamed and stitched as above, but for one inch and has a piece supplied for a bodkin by working three narrow bars, an inch apart in button-hole stitch, on one piece of braid, and then filled with a piece of flannel rolled tightly and finished like the first. —Decorative Press.

Recipes.

ASPARAGUS DRESSING.—A simply, easily prepared dressing for asparagus consists of one teaspoonful of made mustard, a little salt and pepper and a dessert spoonful of vinegar mixed with one tablespoonful of butter melted.

BAKED EGGS.—Grass a pie-pan well with lard, spread thick with brown or cracked crumbs, break the eggs over them in a circle, pepper and salt; set in the oven to bake until the whites are all set, then run a knife round under them and slip off onto a plate, and you have a dish that is both wholesome and handsome.

PRUNE PUDDING.—A delicious prune pudding is made by stewing a pound of prunes until they are soft; remove the stones, add sugar to your taste and the whites of three eggs beaten to a stiff froth. Make a puff paste for the bottom of the pudding dish. After beating the eggs and prunes together until they are thoroughly mixed; spread on the crust. Bake half an hour, or until a cake batter can be used instead of the puff paste, and with the two remaining layers you can make a Washington pie.

TOMATO SAUCE.—Strain off the liquid from a two pound can of tomatoes. Put into a frying pan a teaspoonful of dripping, lard or grease, or a small onion chopped fine, a spray of mace and a teaspoonful of flour. When it begins to brown add the tomato pulp. Simmer over a moderate fire to prevent burning; stir and cover twenty minutes, salt and pepper to taste. Press the pulp through a fine sieve, and if too thick add a very little beef gravy or clear soup. Return to the range and keep hot until wanted. This is the simplest way to make tomato sauce at home.

BEST SPROUTS.—A very wholesome vegetable is the young beet greens. Wash them well and cut up, but not fine. Put into a large frying pan quarter of a pound of oil or lard, and set it to begin to fry out the greens. Pile them up high on the dish and put a cover on top. They will gradually cook down. No water should be added. Stir occasionally. From fifteen to twenty minutes is long enough to cook them. The tender tops of radishes are excellent eating, and may be mixed with other greens, although many throw them away.

NEW PEAS.—The green peas receive more abuse from cooks than any other vegetable. If they do not spoil the color of the peas they invariably cook them to a mush or drown them in a bath of milk or water. Sometimes they soak the peas in water after shelling them, thereby ruining their flavor. Melt a heaping teaspoonful of butter in a polished fryingpan, add a pint of shelled green peas, and stir the pan to prevent burning. This preliminary cooking brings out their color. Add a table-spoonful of clear soup or hot water, cover the pan ten minutes, and try the peas. If not too old they should be cooked. Turn them into a hot vegetable dish, season with salt, white pepper, and a little more butter. No so-called boiling is necessary.

The one prohibition in life is eating too much, and the one cure is abstemiousness.

Who is Never Crazy?

There are many firm believers in the theory that most people are crazy at times, and facts seem to support their belief. The following, from a source unknown to the writer, will likely remind a number of our readers of some incident in their experience, which at the time of its occurrence seemed to them most unaccountable:

"A wise man will step backward out of a porch of into a puddle, a great philosopher will hunt for the specks that are in his hand or on his forehead; a hunter will sometimes shoot himself of his dog. A working girl had been feeding a great clothing knife for ten years. One day she watched the knife come down slowly upon her hand. Too late she woke out of her stupor with one hand gone. For a few seconds her mind had failed, and she sat by her machine a temporary lunatic and had watched the knife approach her own hand. A distinguished professor was teaching near a canal. Walking along one evening in summer he walked as deliberately into the canal as he had been walking along the path a second before. He was brought to his senses by the water and mud and the absurdity of the situation. He had on a new suit of clothes and a new silk hat, but though the damage was thus great, he still laughs over the adventure. Our mail collector found in the loose boxes among the sheets all sorts of papers and articles which have been put in by some hand from whose motions the mind has become detached for a second. A glove, a pair of spectacles, a deed, a mortgage, a theatre ticket, goes in, and on goes the person, holding on to the regular letter which should have been deposited. This is called absent-mindedness, but is a brief lunacy."

Fearfully and Wonderfully Made.

One of the stories which has been current in social circles at Washington lately is in regard to the remarkable make-up of a well-known young society woman. The mould in which she had been cast by an unknown fate was unsatisfactory alike to herself and parents, who finally concluded to try the effects of foreign travel for her. After a long absence abroad the family returned, and to the astonishment of all who had previously known her, the daughter was completely metamorphosed. From a tall, angular girl, she had not only become well rounded, but buxom, with a noticeable broadening of the shoulders. After a while it leaked out that while in Paris the girl had been taken to a model maker, who, in consideration of a large sum, agreed to construct a wire figure of the desired proportions, which was ingeniously made to open down the back, and was of such fine, soft material that its presence would fail to be detected save by the keenest scrutiny. This wire cage necessitated, with evening dress, a band of wire, or, for a more complete disguise, a corset of some description, and as long as worn effectually precluded the idea of scoliosis gowns on the part of the wearer.

A Common-Sense Remedy.

In the matter of curatives what you want is something that will do its work while you continue to do yours—a remedy that will give you no less a vengeance than interfere with your business. Such a remedy is Dr. Pierce's Kidney and Bladder Remedy. It is purely vegetable and also entirely harmless. They require no change of diet, and are not affected by wet or cold. Their action does not interfere with let or bust, as you can still and yet be cured while you work. They are so pure that the youngest, the oldest, the man in delicate person of either sex can use them with great benefit. Beware of imitations, and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for Dr. Pierce's and let no explanation or solicitation induce you to accept a substitute.

"The King's Daughters" now number 30,700 in the U. S. The society is to have a paper. Would you know the keen delight of a wholesome appetite? Unrestrained by color, diet, headache, or cold, or fever, or rheumatism, or any other ailment, they are purely vegetable and also entirely harmless. They require no change of diet, and are not affected by wet or cold. Their action does not interfere with let or bust, as you can still and yet be cured while you work. They are so pure that the youngest, the oldest, the man in delicate person of either sex can use them with great benefit.

A Summer Medicine

Summer's heat debilitates both nerves and body, and Headache, Sleeplessness, Nervous Prostration, and an "all-played-out" sensation prove that Park's Cherry Compound should be used now. This medicine restores health to Nerves, Kidneys, Liver, and Bowels, and imparts life and energy to the heat prostrated system. Vacations or no vacations, Park's Cherry Compound is the medicine for this season. It is a scientific combination of the best tonics, and those who use it begin the hot summer days with clear heads, strong nerves, and general good health. Park's Cherry Compound is sold by all druggists, $1 a bottle. Six for $5.

Transit People.

Manchuria seems to be a good place for bankers. The English consul at Newchwang explains the process by which those who take care of other people's money get rich. Wealthy inhabitants are afraid to let their wealth be known, as it would be certainly confiscated by the government, which does not think its citizens should have too much money. Enormous sums are therefore deposited with bankers, and no receipts are taken from them. No interest is asked, and at the death of the depositor the heirs very frequently do not know of the thousands and thousands of taels which had been deposited and which consequently go to the bank. A banker could even refuse, should he get into difficulty, to restore what he had taken on trust, as a merchant would not, of course, make a scandal which should bring him of keeping his money out of the hands of his imperial and other rulers.

A Business-like Offer.

For many years the manufacturers of Dr. Scott's Emulsion have offered, in good faith, $100 for a case. Scott's Emulsion cannot cure. The remedy is sold by druggists at only 50 cents. This wonderful remedy has fairly attained a world-wide reputation. If you have dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the bowels, indigestion, sometimes profuse watery, and acid, at others thick, mucous, mucus, purulent, bloody and putrid, if the eyes are weak, watery and inflamed, if there is ringing in the ears, do not hesitate to try Scott's Emulsion. It is a powerful expectorant of offensive matter, together with scales from the lungs, the voice being cleared and the nasal passages, the breath offensive, smell and taste improved; scabs on the face, eruptions, and all the above symptoms, if you suffer from any of them, are cured. Thousands of cases annually, without number, of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous or less understood, or more successfully treated by physicians.

Vote the straight Democratic ticket on Monday next.

If you vote any but the regularly nominated convention Democratic ticket you will cast a vote to strengthen the Radical party.

The View thanks the Milton, Fla., Buzz-Saw for a grand "puff" in its last issue. Bro. Hall is disposed to "stretch the blanket" in his kind remarks concerning the View.

If a county wants influence in the next Legislature, it will not obtain it if the Representative is one who deflates the democratic nominee. There are several counties in Alabama that would do well to ponder on this matter. If they elect Independents or Republicans the Democrats who will be largely in the majority will exclude them from all party caucuses and deliberations.—Advertiser.

Vote the Democratic Ticket.

Why should you vote the straight Democratic convention ticket?

First, because it is the white man's ticket, and second, because it presents to the people of Chilton county men capable of filling the public trusts with which they will be entrusted by the ballots of their fellow citizens on the first Monday in August.

Deeming it a privilege which no one can deny us to raise our feeble voice in behalf of the regularly organized Democratic ticket, we will only ask the white men of Chilton county to recall the dark days of radical misrule in Alabama to remind them that a vote against the organized Democracy is a vote in favor of a return to that state of political chaos and disorder which has already brought us enough suffering in the past. A lesson for us all.

Let us consider the difference in the men who are candidates for official position in Chilton county.

Joseph Green is the Democratic nominee for representative. He is a gentleman who has lived in the county since it was a county and is well qualified by experience, education, and familiarity with the needs of the people to fill such an important position. His opponent is one J. M. Dykes, a very recent radical importation from Coosa county, of whom the least and best that can be said is that he is not fit to fill any public office.

The Democratic nominee for Sheriff is John Garner. Has Chilton county ever had a better Sheriff than John Garner made while he held the office? He has had experience in the work in this and Shelby counties since he was grown and we could not get a better officer, or one who would be more zealous in the performance of the disagreeable duties which the Sheriff's office imposes. Who is his opponent? One Leo Hayes, who is on a par with Dykes in the matter of intelligence, and is wholly unfit for such a responsible position.

For Assessor the Democratic nominee is W. A. Smith. He has held the office more than one term, and his experience is what the office needs. It is, perhaps, the most important of the offices to be filled, and should be filled by a man of capacity and experience. Capt. Smith has these qualities, and they will insure his re-election in spite of the fact that his opponent, E. G. Rollins, is the only man of any merit on the mongrel opposition ticket, and Rollins is by no means fit for the onerous duties of tax assessor.

For Collector the Democratic party presents the name of E. J. Hayes, a worthy young man who is well qualified by natural capabilities and moral manhood to fill the position. His opponent is B. M. Gentry, whom everybody has come to regard as nothing more than a chronic office-seeker, and entirely undeserving of so important a public trust.

For Treasurer the Democratic party presents a good old man, Mr. J. M. Parish, who has been weighed in the balances and not found wanting in any of the essentials that go to make up an honest, christian character. His opponent, W. D. Strock, is perhaps as good a man as the opposition could have found who would accept a nomination just to be beat. We are surprised at Mr. Strock, and his faithlessness to his party will cost him the good opinion of his best friends.

While we have no denunciation for those who may think differently yet we feel sure that every "true blue" Democrat will vote the convention ticket; and we would have it understood that if the Democratic ticket in Chilton county cannot be elected by a free ballot and a fair count, we will be prepared to see it defeated.

AN ADDRESS

Of the Democratic Executive Committee to the Voters of Alabama.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., July 28, 1888.

To the voters of Alabama: On the 6th day of August you will be again called upon to select those who are to administer the government of this state for two years. The Democratic party, conscious of its fidelity to its promises in the past, referring with confidence to the record it has made since 1874, when you entrusted it with the government of this great commonwealth, again asks your suffrages for those whom its representatives in convention assembled have nominated for the several executive and legislative offices that are to be filled at that election. Its opponent in whatever garb it may be dressed, by whatever name it may be called, is the same enemy to the people of this section, the same opponent to the progress and welfare of this country that has been arrayed against the democracy for the past twenty years. The republican party held its convention in this city and nominated candidates for the various state offices, who are now canvassing the state and asking you to return that party to power. The convention that nominated them was characteristic of the party, and as the stream cannot rise higher than its source, so we can not expect the candidates to be better than those who commissioned them to bear the banner of their party. They must be presumed to be fit representatives of the body that selected them as leaders. In that convention for hours rival factions, led by negroes, who had been selected by each respectively to preside over its deliberations, contended for the supremacy, and scenes of strife and turmoil were witnessed, unparalleled even in the history of southern radicalism, and which disgusted even the men who have been affiliating and cooperating with that party in the past. Those scenes cannot be described, for they beggar description. Being out of power has not improved the republican party of Alabama, and years of defeat has not made it anywise fit to entrust with power. The history of this state while in power contains nothing that commends it to the favor of the people of Alabama. For four years it had control of the legislative, judicial and executive departments of our state government, and for two others it had absolute control of the judicial department and partial control of the legislative and executive. It found our state with a credit unimpaired, and our people hopeful, energetic and even at that early date rapidly recovering from the disastrous effects of the war: it went out of power with our people disheartened and almost hopeless; it changed progress into retrogression; it left us without credit, and under its corrupt and inefficient administration of the affairs of state; our securities had sunk so low in the estimation of the financial world that scarcely a purchaser could be found for them at any price. During the four years that party had control of the several departments of our state government it received into the treasury of the state, through taxes wrung from an impoverished people and by pledges of the earnings of coming generations, in the shape of bonds to be paid in the future, the sum of $6,750,000. With that immense sum at the disposal of the state, when it left power, it left the interest on our debt unpaid, and while in power, it suffered our public schools to dwindle to nothing, and finally to close altogether. The Democratic party found our state bankrupt. It has elevated her credit until now it is second to that of no one of her sisters in the American Union. It found people discouraged. It has enkindled in them anew the hopes and aspirations of energetic manhood, and under the benign influence of an honest and just government, they have entered upon an era of prosperity which we feel assured will be unparalleled in the history of even Caucasian progress and development. The Democratic party, for fourteen years has annually collected from the people a sum averaging less than one-sixth of the amount collected and received during the four years of republican ascendancy, and with this sum has promptly met every obligation; has paid punctually the interest on our bonded debt and has found means sufficient to keep our public schools open for more days in each year than the republican party averaged in two years; and this has been done while the tax rate has been gradually reduced from three-fourths of one per cent. the rate at which it was kept while the republicans had control to one-half of one per cent. the rate at which it is now fixed. The republican party while in power, devoted its energies and talents to the elevation of a different and of an inferior race to supremacy over those who have for centuries shaped the destinies of the world, and sought to make masters of those who had been but lately relieved from a state of servitude. The Democratic party is the true friend to the negro, it promises and gives him equal justice in his civil rights, but remembers that civilization is bounded by the same geographical lines that bounds Caucasian supremacy, and it is that race alone, of all the races that dwell on the earth, that has shown itself capable of government and of the highest moral, political and material progress and advancement. Judging the republican party by its past and by that alone, it can and ought to be judged, if it is again returned to power the same motives will prompt its actions that prompted them then; the same ends will be sought which it then sought. The white men of Alabama, whatever may be their difference in matters of policy, cannot afford to have the good work accomplished by them in the memorable struggle that restored white supremacy undone, if they love good government and believe in the control of intelligence and virtue they must still fight with that party which has been faithful to its promises and which gives assurance by its past that honesty and integrity will control its administration in the future. It is true that some of its agents have been found faithless, but it has brought down upon them the hand of an unswerving justice. The candidates we now present are every way worthy of your suffrages. They have been tried and found worthy; they are in the highest degree the Jeffersonian qualifications; they are capable and honest. The Democratic party asks that every man will, on the 6th of August, discharge the duty he owes his country that of casting his ballot for his choice. This is a duty that no man has a right to neglect, no one else can discharge it for him, and the perpetration of free government is dependent upon the citizen's capacity and willingness to discharge it. If this is done the Democratic party has no fear of the result; it knows the people are capable of discerning and appreciating good government, and knowing that it does not doubt that the conduct of the party in the past will give it the confidence and trust of the people in the future. Let the people then rally again to our standard, state, district and county, and thereby assure two more years of peace, progress and honest administration.

HENRY C. TOMPKINS, Ch'm.
REUBEN C. SHORTER, Sec'y.

Our Nominee For Senator.

VERBENA, July 26, 1888.

ED. CHILTON VIEW:—Having traveled through Coosa county somewhat extensively, I am proud to say that the people of Coosa are showing their patriotism by preparing to vote for their favorite party, without condescending to utilize organizations set up for other and more noble purposes than to consummate party designs. By the way the District convention could not have made a better choice than in the person of Capt. John H. Parker as a candidate for the Senate. His opponent in the convention was a good man, a farmer much esteemed, and an Alliance man, but without any regard to that, notwithstanding Coosa is largely Alliance, Mr. Parker, who does not belong to any organization either religious or secular, received an expression from the best meetings as the choice of the voters of Coosa county, and then received the nomination by an overwhelming majority, and it was thought there would be no opposition, but it appears that Mr. Oliver, of Wetumpka, of Republican notoriety, has become his competitor, and now there is a chance for the independents so-called to prove their loyalty to the State Democracy, which so many boast of always having supported. Mr. Parker forms part of the State ticket, but it is said to be a lawyer. Well what sort of muddle would the Senate be in without some lawyers? Deep Sea Wonders exist in thousands of forms, but are surpassed by the marvels of invention. Those who are in need of profitable work that can be done while living at home should at once send their address to Hall & Co., Portland, Maine, and receive free full information how either sex, of all ages can earn from $5 to $25 per day and upwards, wherever they live. You are started free. Capital not required. Some have made over $50 in a single day at this work. All succeed.

A Man's Wants.

Some thoughtless people may imagine that looking out for one's self involves no one else's interest, but that theory is not correct. Human beings were made for society, and with wants which require a great many providers.

A man in the east, where they do not require as much clothing as in colder climates, gave up all his worldly concerns and retired to a wood, where he built a hut and lived in it. His only clothing was a piece of cloth which he wore around his waist. But, as luck would have it, rats were plentiful in the woods, so he had to keep a cat. The cat required milk to keep it alive, so a cow had to be had. The cow required tending, so a cow-boy was employed. The boy required a house to live in, so a house was built for him. To look after the house a maid had to be engaged. To provide company for the maid a few more houses had to be built and people invited to live in them. In this manner a little township sprang up. Then the man said, "The farther we seek to go from the world and its cares the more they appear to multiply."

This man must have soon sickened of his passion for solitude; for if he had really wanted to be alone, he could have succeeded better than he did. But the parable is a rough lesson in political economy, showing conclusively that solitude is against the laws of nature, and that we cannot live for ourselves alone.—Exchange.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effect and does not blister. Read proof below.

Orange Mills, Fla., June 30, 1888.

Gents:—I have used your Kendall's Spavin Cure and it is wonderful to say the least. Yours respectfully,

J. L. CHABRY.

From the "Spirit of the Times," June 28, 1888. The old idea that a spavin was incurable has given way before the improvements made by modern science. Among these wonderful improvements must be mentioned the most successful remedy ever discovered for the cure of this disease, Kendall's spavin cure, one that is certain in its effect, and will not blister. It is prepared by Dr. B. J. Kendall (Co., Emsburg Falls, Vt., and has received praise on every hand for its thorough and reliable work in cases of spavin or hock lameness. It is a certain cure for rheumatism, enlargement of the joints, corns, etc., while blood spavins and bursal enlargements promptly disappear on its use. It is a standard remedy among horse owners and breeders, where its work has often been proven. It is for sale by all druggists at $1 per bottle or six for $5, or will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, Dr. B. J. Kendall (Co., Emsburg Falls, Vt. sept 8 87-y

Dr. Duncan's Cough Balsam.

All who have used this valuable medicine for Coughs, Colds and all other diseases of the lungs and breast, attest to its worth.

READ!

DR. DUNCAN'S:—For a long time my wife was troubled with a cough and cold, and all the medicine I could find did not do her any good. I finally got your COUGH BALSAM which cured her in three days. Its value cannot be over estimated. Very truly,

JAS. W. HENNING, Madison Co., Tenn.

DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE.

From infancy to old age the human family is liable to some form of kidney trouble. Restore the action of the liver and kidneys to a healthy state with DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE, and both the kidney and bladder will be restored. Read what the Rev. Dr. Arnold, of Camden, says of Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine:—

"I was cured of Symptomatic Heart Disease, caused by a torpid liver and indigestion. Was troubled with it for 30 years, growing worse all the time, until I commenced taking Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine. Three bottles restored me to perfect health after all physicians and medicines had failed to give me any relief. Dr. Duncan's Medicines are better, if possible, than he represents them to be."

ED. CHILTON VIEW.

In the View of July 28th "C. H. A." says: "A gentleman whom I can produce told Mr. W. B. Strock to come and get his Radical papers out of the postoffice. Mr. Strock said to the messenger: 'As well be a Radical as anything else these days.' The above is absolutely false. There was never such an occurrence, and I wish 'C. H. A.' to produce the GENTLEMAN. You will please give this a place in your next issue and oblige."

W. B. STROCK.

Verbena, Ala., July 28, 1888.

[Mr. Strock will find that "C. H. A." gives his authority for his statement in another article in this issue.—VIEW.]

Worth Knowing.

Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City, Fla., was taken with a severe cold attended with a distressing cough, and running into consumption with its first stages. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced in flesh, had difficulty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and found immediate relief, and after using about a half dozen bottles, found himself well and has had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a recovery for Consumption. Guaranteed to do just what is claimed for it. Trial bottle free at Phillips' Drug Store.

W. L. SANPEY.

"Bro. Dykes on the Road."

Bro. Dykes is now promising the negroes of Chilton county a seat in the jury box if they will support him for the Legislature. Is there a true white man in Chilton county who will support such a man? I think not. We have negroes in Chilton that know more about "Reconstruction" than Bro. Dykes, and I think could do more credit to the county, that is if we have to send one of the ignorant class to represent us. If Dykes is elected our county will not be represented at all for he would not be noticed any more than "Jack" (Jack is a bird dog).

Let every friend of the intelligent white Democracy go promptly to the polls on Monday. Yes, go early, talk to your friends, introduce to them the character of both the nominees and the Independent. If Bro. Dykes were to commence in the capital like he sometimes does in the piney woods, some people would think he was auctioning off the town. Now let us show that he is thought no more of here than in Coosa where he got nine votes. To be plain he is an escaped sorehead from Coosa anyway, and let us not have what Coosa throws aside.

Having learned that Mr. W. B. Strock desires my authority for my statement concerning his Radical papers, I herewith furnish the names of my informers. They were Tom Bland, W. F. Claughton, and J. D. Wells, all of Verbena, Ala. C. H. A.

Don't

let that cold of yours run on. You think it is a light thing. But it may run into catarrh. Or into pneumonia. Or consumption. Catarrh is disgusting. Pneumonia is dangerous. Consumption is death itself. The breathing apparatus must be kept healthy and clear of all obstructions and offensive matter. Otherwise there is trouble ahead. All the diseases of these parts, however, can be delightfully and entirely cured by the use of Boschee's German Syrup. I don't know this already, thousands and thousands of people can tell you. They have been cured by it, and "know how it is, themselves." Bottle only 75 cents. Ask any druggist. cov 2 sep

TREED BY ALLIGATORS.

A TERRIBLE HUNTING EXPERIENCE IN THE EVERGLADES.

A Camping Party Seeks Safety in the Treacherous Everglades.

A party of hunters from St. Augustine, Fla., recently had an experience at Cypress Lake which would never have been known had the colored boy who accompanied them been as reticent about the matter as the hunters themselves. The following is the story which the youth told a correspondent of the Charleston Times: The party had just stolen several young 'gators from a nest, and were on their way back to their camp on the shore of the lake. As they hurried on they heard the loud grunts and roars of the saurians on each side of the island, but they were entirely unprepared for the sight that burst on their vision as they reached the shore. The beach shelved gently down to the water's edge, and for several rods from land the water was shallow. Standing upon its fore paws beside its plundered nest was an immense female alligator, puffing and blowing, while right around and advancing in front of the water were over a score of others, all roaring and opening and snapping their capacious jaws with an ominous sound, the strong smell emitted filling the air for yards around. As soon as the hunters saw the butchers approach in the dim light they advanced on them with every indication of the utmost anger and rage, seeming devoid of fear. The boys fired several shots, severely wounding one or two, but the sound and flash seemed only to arouse still further the wrath of the reptiles, and the hunters fled back to the tent. The rest of the party, who had been preparing supper, etc., heard the uproar and came out, followed by Charley, the colored boy, who confessed that he felt rather shaky as he had never himself seen alligators so thoroughly enraged before. The reinforcements came up, but on seeing the scores of 'gators crawling up they decided to retire.

On going back to the tent they found it nearly surrounded by 'gators, who had crawled up from the opposite side, and the outlook was rather bad for the nervous persons. The deer that they had hung before the fire soon fell into the coils, and the smell of burning meat permeated the air and seemed to make the saurians still more savage. Soon the party saw a circle of fiery eyes ranged nearly around their tent, and the situation was indeed growing desperate.

"This won't do, boys," called out Charley, who, as it happened, was the only one who had a gun. "We must make a break for it or those imps will make mince meat of us. Fire all at once and then go for those stabs over there," said he, pointing to some half dozen dead lightwood trees and cypress knees that rose up some ten or twelve feet from the tent. The next moment the rifles rang out a volley, and the boys rushed forward through the lane their shots and sudden onslaught had made, and in less time than it takes to write it they were "shining" up the trees of refuge. Charley, the colored boy, got left in the sudden rush and came near meeting his death, for as he sprang over a big 'gator it rose suddenly on its fore feet, tripping him up and throwing him directly in front of an old saurian, who opened his jaws wide at the tempting morsel as he leaped over the prostrate hunter. But Charley was game, and diving under the one which had caused his fall, he leaped on the backs of the closely-packed reptiles, and on reaching the shore jumped into the boat, the impetus of his rush carrying it from shore.

As soon as the alligators recovered from the rush made against them they plunged furiously forward, and in a few minutes the meat hanging on the spits and in front of the tent was torn into hundreds of pieces, the fierce animals fighting one another for the choice bits like so many hungry dogs. Their huge forms floundered around, and in a second the tent was leveled and the space was occupied by a moving mass of the hideous brutes, moving around and roaring, the strong, musky odor nearly stifling the hunters on their narrow and uncomfortable perches. If ever hunters were fairly "treed" they were. They were all sitting astride of old dead limbs, on the stumps, all in the company of a few yards. Two of them had their rifles, but only a few rounds of cartridges. There they sat, and when the first fright had worn off they shouted out to each other to see if all were safe. After repeatedly calling "Charley," Charley's faint halloo was heard "I am" off the water, and "Heal I am" came to their ears. They could do nothing, however, so sat still and endured the long hours as best they knew how.

Meanwhile the scaly reptiles moved over the island in countless numbers, jostling against one another, and hissing at times like so many gigantic geese. The tent was leveled, the canvas was torn and trampled, the dishes, crockery, etc., broken, and pandemonium generally reigned.

About 2 o'clock in the morning, as the tired hunters were nearly falling down from sheer fatigue, a horrible din under their tent started them into a full sense of their peril. A full legion of alligators in the center of the mass between two speckled and soon others joined in, till they thought from the horrible gnashing of teeth and the dull thumps of the flail like tails of the 'gators that fully half a hundred were engaged in the deadly melee. Roars of pain and blood-curdling howls, the air, and the rushes of the immense bodies were dimly discernible, the whole forming a scene indescribable, terrible and sickening.

As soon as the light of day appeared the reptiles retired and the hunters descended from their warlike positions. And such a sight as greeted their eyes they say cannot be well described. Their camp had disappeared, everything being trampled into the ground or torn to pieces, while the scene of the combat looked as if a plowing contest had taken place there. Eight alligators were left dead on the spot, while pieces of tails, paws and other signs of the conflict were scattered about by scores. Charley was seen at a distance of half a mile from shore, and it was some time before he could be induced to land. The hunters suffered terribly from mosquitoes, and their faces presented a woful appearance. Hastily securing all possible of their peculiar adventure and pulled lustily for home.

The Clay Pipe.

"The clay used in making pipes, is obtained chiefly from pits located in New Jersey, although there is a large bed of clay being worked at Glen Cove, L. I. The clay costs $5 a ton at the mine, but, with freight charges, etc., it amounts to about $5 per ton before it is landed at the factory. As soon as it arrives the clay is spread out and seasoned by being exposed to the heat of the sun, which is then after with water and passed through a mill, which grinds it and removes the stones and grit which cling to the crude clay. It is then kneaded with the hands in the same manner in which bread is kneaded, and carefully freed from all foreign substances.

"After the clay has been brought to the proper consistency it is carried to a workman called a 'roller,' who sits before a bench on the top of which lies a smooth, square board. In making a pipe the 'roller' takes in each hand a small lump of the fresh clay and deftly rolls it out to the desired length and thickness leaving a knob-like lump at the end of each piece, which latter is formed into the bowl of the pipe.

"At the stage of its manufacture the half-made pipe is laid upon a measure, which marks the regulation length of the stem. If the latter has been made too long it is then clipped off. When a dozen pipes have been thus formed they are passed to another workman, who sits at a complicated machine, in which the pipes are further manipulated. The man at the machine first oils the clay, after which he places the rudely-shaped pipes in a mould and inserts an oiled and polished wooden plug, which makes the aperture through which the smoke is drawn in using. The mould is then placed in the machine and the superfluous clay is forced out.

"The pipes have now taken on their final shape and are laid in the sun to dry, after which they are polished and put in a large earthen receptacle called a 'sagger,' which is covered and arranged with a dozen other saggars in the kiln. The door of the kiln is then securely fastened, and the fire which is fed with charcoal and coke, is started and kept at a white heat for fifteen or twenty hours. The fire is then allowed to die out slowly and when quite extinguished the doors are opened, the saggars allowed to cool and the finished pipes are removed. The pipes, which before were of a dull blue color and very limp and soft have become perfectly white and hard. The finished pipes that have been examined and found perfect are carefully packed in barrels and boxes, and are then ready for shipment.

Let Us Work Together.

Except to elect a representative two years hence, there will be no election in our county for county officers for four years. Politics is always a distracting and disturbing element, and in more ways than one much agitation of political questions is detrimental to the best interests of the country. This being considered, we can all feel glad that the election is over; and, forgetting differences on political questions, can now work together for the progress and improvement of our county and section.

By establishing its exchange the Farmer's Alliance may prove itself of great benefit to the farmers and the country, and enable the farming interests to develop and improve the country with some satisfaction and profit. We have no doubt that the pooling of their interests and their capital will be greatly to their advantage, if proper management is brought to bear, though some of our correspondents seem to think differently.

The question of immigration is just now being given much consideration, and we hope our farmers here in Chilton will unite in offering some inducements to those of the North and West to come among us with their thrift and energy, by offering their surplus lands at a low figure, and giving them a cordial welcome if they come. Col. R. F. Kolb, State Commissioner of Agriculture, is doing everything possible to induce them to come, and tells us that he hopes and expects to see his efforts crowned with much success during the coming winter. We should endeavor to work for our own county in this matter and offer inducements to these immigrants, that some of them may make their homes in Chilton.

We repeat that it is fortunate for our county that its people will not be hampered with such a distracting factor as an election for county officers for four years. In the meantime let us all join hands in working for the material prosperity of the county, and the result will be something more tangible and substantial in the way of progress than can be brought about in the midst of frequent political campaigning, out of which only the poor newspaper men seem to make anything.

THE 15TH DISTRICT.

The Official Count Elects Jno. H. Parker The Senate.

ROCKFORD, Ala., August 13.—The Democracy of the Fifteenth District is triumphant after all! It was generally understood that Mr. Parker's majority over Porter in this county was only 336, and basing their claims on this, the Independents were claiming a majority, and "by faith" they had it too, had such been the case. But during the official count Saturday the returns from two beats were necessarily thrown out on account of broad legal flaws. One of these was Porter's own precinct, and the two combined would have given him a majority of 116, but the returns were legal. But the defeat increased Parker's majority to 448. This gives him a clear majority of 95 in the district.

Special Crop Bulletin of the Alabama Weather Service.

A. & M. COLLEGE, Aug. 11, '88.

The rainfall for the week has been well distributed in northern, middle and southwestern Alabama, but in the southeastern part of the State there has been a deficiency. The temperature has been near the average and the per centage of sunshine has been amply sufficient for the well being of the crops.

In all sections of the State, the reports from the crops are favorable, excepting in southeastern Alabama, where the late corn has been injured by the lack of rain. In this section cotton is parched till most of the forms and small bolls have been damaged. With the exception of a few localities only 0.60 of an inch of rain has fallen in southeast Alabama since July 5th.

Yellow fever has become epidemic in several Florida towns.

John H. Parker will be our next senator by a majority of 95 votes.

After the Battle.

It goes without saying that we never sat down to write the result of any election that is so gratifying to us—or more gratifying to the "true blues" of old Coosa than that which we record here; and it matters not how Chilton or Elmore may go, we will not be a whit the less grateful to her. It is a victory for clear cut Simon pure Democracy, stripped of all local or side issues,isms or cisms.

It indicates that if the people are let alone that they will do right. It indicates that time brings all things right to him that bides. It indicates that the people will not submit to be bossed by Radical politicians. It indicates that one man cannot succeed, by foul means, in booting himself into office by pulling another man down. It indicates that when a man suffers himself made a tool of that he is on the down road to ruin.

Just six years ago to a day Porter and Parker ran for representative. The total vote cast in the two elections differs only by 8 votes. The difference in the result is 464 votes. We publish below the tabulated vote of each election.

There is food for thought in the comparison, especially for Mr. Porter. He will certainly be convinced some day that the people of this county, at least, can get along without his assistance. His boss can also learn something that may be of benefit to him in his future political career. You can mark Coosa in the Democratic column to stay.—Rockford Enterprise.

Dr. R. A. Mosely, Chairman of the State Republican Executive Committee, was burnt in effigy at Talladega the other night. It was not from the fact that Dr. Mosely is a Republican that the people of his own home have thus humiliated him, but because he chose offensive methods to proclaim his Republican doctrines among them. Dr. Mosely, we believe, was born and reared among the people of Talladega, and independent of his politics is quite popular amongst them, but the bitter, offensive partisanship into which it seems he has fallen has evidently warped those better traits of his nature and made him, politically speaking, contemptible and despicable in the eyes of his people. It is a sad thing to make the decline of a man, who possesses as many generous impulses as Dr. Mosely, but he brought the disgrace upon him and should not now reproach those who have been the unwilling instruments of his downfall.—Montgomery Dispatch.

The republicans in the next Legislature will be a terrible lonesome set. The people who live in the counties this section crew are to represent will have to appeal to democratic members of other counties if they really wish any important legislation.—Exchange.

There were 2,375 votes polled in the county.

J. M. PARRISH, County Treasurer.

Increased Bond.

Some important business transacted by the county Board of Revenue on last Monday: was the increasing of the county Treasurer's bond from $12,000 to $15,000. The action of the Board was strictly in compliance with the law, which stipulates that the county Treasurer's bond shall be double the estimated value of county revenue. The county revenue for 1888 was $7,806, and the bond was fixed at $15,000.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effect and does not blister. Read proof below.
Orange Mills, Fla., June 30, 1888.
Dr. B. J. Kendall Co.
Gents:—I have used your Kendall's Spavin Cure and it is wonderful to say the least. Yours respectfully,
J. L. CHERRY.

From the "Spirit of the Times," June 26, 1888. The old idea that a spavin was incurable has given way before the new remedy made by modern science. Among these wonderful improvements must be mentioned the Kendall's Spavin Cure, which is certain in its effect, and will not blister. It is prepared by Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Ensbrough Falls, Va., and has received praise on every hand for its thorough and reliable work in cases of spavin or lock lameness. It is a certain cure for rheumatism, enlargement of the joints, corns, etc., while blood-spoors and other enlargements promptly disappear on its use. It is a standard remedy among horse owners and breeders, where its work has often been proven. DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE.

From infancy to old age the human family is liable to some form of kidney trouble. Restore the action of the liver and kidneys to a healthy state with DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE, and both the kidney and bladder will be restored. Read what the Rev. Dr. Arnold, of Camden, says of Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine:—

"I was cured of Symptomatic Heart Disease, caused by a torpid liver and indigestion. Was troubled with it for 30 years, growing worse all the time, until I commenced taking Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine. Three bottles restored me to perfect health after all physicians and medicines had failed to give me any relief. Dr. Duncan's Medicine are better, if possible, than he represents them to be."

Mr. H. F. DeBardleben, of Birmingham, has given his elegant residence in that city to the city for a charity hospital. A very generous gift.

Mr. W. B. Strock, recently elected county treasurer, was in Clanton Monday, and informed us that he would make no effort to file a bond and take charge of the treasurer's office. This will necessitate an appointment by the Commissioners.

The New York Herald's Montgomery correspondent thinks the complexion of the newly elected Legislature indicates that Senator Morgan will be re-elected with practical unanimity. The correspondent is correct. Looking more into the future, the correspondent thinks Senator Pugh's return doubtful, and prophecies that his seat will be successfully contested by Congressman Oates.

Hon. A. C. Hargrove, of Tuscaloosa, is prominently mentioned for the position of President of the State Senate. Col. Hargrove represents the district composed of the counties of Tuscaloosa and Bibb. The Montgomery Advertiser says: "He is an able, conservative and thoughtful man, who has done his duty acceptably in war and peace by the people among whom he has lived all the days of his life."

CLINTON, LA., August 17.—Miss Lena Loeb, the electric girl, is here attending the spiritualistic camp meeting, and is astounding people with her wonderful powers. Though weighing ninety-four pounds and only 16 years old, she pushed five strong men all about a room at once in daylight, and held a man weighing 300 pounds suspended from the floor in a chair, though ten other men were pulling down on the chair so strongly that it was pulled in pieces. Her other feats are wonderful.

At the reunion of Confederate soldiers at Randolph, Bibb county, last Friday, the following officers were chosen for next year: Capt. T. W. Davidson was chosen President; Col. H. G. Sneed, First Vice President; R. H. Pratt, Second Vice President; Rev. E. S. Starr, Corresponding Secretary; Sam. H. Gist, Recording Secretary; I. D. Langston, Treasurer; and the following Executive Committee was chosen: A. P. Howison, H. C. Graham, N. H. Thompson, H. G. Sneed, Rev. J. M. Langston, John C. Reid, R. D. Berry, A. D. Smith, H. C. Fancher, J. T. McSpadden, W. T. Lowry, N. T. Langston, R. D. Hill.

Geo. W. Childs editor of the Philadelphia Ledger, independent, says of President Cleveland and his official character:

His administration has been free from official or personal scandal; has been honest and clean. There have been no Star Route robberies; no navy jobberies; no profligate waste by United States marshals; no Treasury combinations or speculations; no corrupt operations in or through the Land Office. No American at home or abroad has had occasion to drop his eyes in shame because of any such things under Mr. Cleveland's administration. On the contrary, there has been a resolute effort to promote honest government, to increase efficiency, and to lessen expenses.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., August 20.—A special from Gadsden sixty miles north of the city, to-night says: The Captain of the Etowah Rifles has just sent twenty-six guns and one hundred rounds of cartridges to Round Mountain, Ala., where a band of desperate white men have declared war on the negro employees and managers of the Round Mountain furnaces. The Sheriff of Cherokee county was sent for today to quell the disturbance, and he has gone to Round Mountain with 100 well armed men. The white men who are regarded as desperadoes swear the negro laborers shall not return to work. The furnace has been out of blast a week on account of the disturbance which has been growing warmer every day. The men have sworn to kill manager Elliott, of the furnace company, if it takes them a year. A bloody conflict with the Sheriff's posse is almost certain to occur.

New Board of Revenue.

Governor Bay has appointed as a board of revenue for our county for the next four years: Messrs. J. M. Ponder, of Clanton, L. J. Hand, of Jemison, Judge H. W. Coffey, of Verbena, and J. A. Stephens, of Dixie. This was the board recommended for appointment by the Democratic county convention.

Our New Officers.

Mr. Lee Hayes has filed his bond and taken charge of the Sheriff's office. We hope that he will meet the expectations of his friends and make the county a good and faithful officer.

Mr. E. G. Rollins has also qualified as tax assessor. The View has congratulations and good wishes only for the newly installed officers, as it is best for the county as well as for themselves that they should fill the offices acceptably.

Mr. W. B. Strock has failed to make the bond required to fill the Treasurer's office. Mr. B. M. Gentry has also failed to make the required bond as tax collector.

Kolb's Car.

The Montgomery Dispatch says: The Real Estate Association held a meeting yesterday evening at which a letter was read from Col. W. C. Bibb, Sr., who went with Commissioner Kolb on his Western trip as a representative of the association.

The letter gave a very gratifying account of the trip, and Col. Bibb predicted much good would result from it to Montgomery and Alabama. Great curiosity and interest was shown by the people everywhere in the agricultural products, particularly cotton and ground peas. Why these two should attract unusual attention, Col. Bibb explains very satisfactorily to the association.

It is evident from his letter to the association that Col. Bibb is confident of good results from his trip.

The Next Legislature.

(Montgomery Advertiser.) The Advertiser publishes this morning a complete list of members of the next Senate and House of Representatives of Alabama except the member from Winston. The Senate is Democratic, with one exception, Mr. Branch, of the Lawrence and Colbert District. In the Twenty-third District, composed of the counties of Coffee, Dale, Geneva and Henry, there were two candidates, Dr. Stegall, of Dale, and Dr. Walker, of Henry. Both claimed to be the nominee of a Democratic convention, and there was so much doubt in the premises that the State Executive Committee did not decide which was the nominee. Dr. Stegall was elected, carrying every county in the district.

In the House the members from Butler, Chilton, Colbert, Cullman, Fayette, one from Jackson, Mr. French, and Lawrence, eight members, defeated Democratic nominees. Not counting Winston the other 91 members of the House, were either nominees of a Democratic convention, or elected as Democrats from counties where no nominations were made. The Legislature will, therefore, stand 32 in the Senate out of 33 and 91 in the House out of 100, of regular-recognized Democrats, a majority which makes the Legislature practically unanimous. There will be many important questions before the Legislature, some of which have already been outlined. Prominent among these are an increase in the amount appropriated by the public schools, an immigration organization, a school for girls, similar to the Agricultural and Mechanical college, so far as teaching practical arts is concerned suitable to the women, the convict question and others of great importance. It is getting time too that this great State possessed an executive mansion, and the next Legislature ought to provide one.

The number of experienced legislators in both branches is much larger than usual, and this will aid largely in expediting business and securing more legislation. It will be an assembly of more than average ability.

Special Crop Report.

Alabama Weather Service co-operating with the U. S. Signal Service A. & M. College, week ending Aug. 18, 1888.

The rainfall for the week has been about the average, and fairly well distributed, though in some parts of Western Alabama there has been slight excess. The amount of sunshine has been about normal. In most sections of the State the crops are reported to be in fine condition. In Western Alabama, however, the cotton is reported to be affected by rot, caused by the amount of rain that has fallen in that section. Cotton is also reported to be slightly shedding in that portion of the State.

Mapleville Data.

Mrs. George Cunningham and Frank Glover, of Dayton, Ala., visited relatives at this place last week.

Miss Fannie McMath is visiting friends near this place.

Mr. Frank Bowline, of Selma, is visiting friends at his old stamping ground. We hope Frank will enjoy himself and have a favorable tale to tell when he returns home.

Dr. Woolley intends building a good school house 20x49. We hope he will succeed in building up a good school at Mapleville.

Memories of the Past.

This morning I accidentally broke a little glass dish, a favorite of mine, and a "relic of happy days." As I gazed sadly and tearfully upon the broken fragments, a wave from the tide of memory swept over my soul. A little vine-clad cottage, a happy wife humming merrily as she trains the vines round the porch. She has never known sorrow; a devoted heart leads her over the rough paths of life. A few fleeting months of this happy time, that will ever linger in memory and the scene changes for a dark cloud comes floating over the spirit of her dreams. A blast is loudly echoed over our beloved land for the spirit of war with its sable wings has enveloped our prosperous country, and loving homes and pale, weeping women, must send forth their dear ones to meet the terrible conflict.

Again a change comes over the spirit of my dreams. The little vine-clad cottage is dark and lonely. A desolate widow weeps by the cold and cheerless fireside. The roses are faded; where once joyful laughter was wafted on the summer air, now are tears and mourning. Many years have passed. The cottage has gone to decay. The lonely heart is still beating, but oh, so weary of life, for the path has been so tough, no roses now as in days of old, but like the little dish the heart has become broken. Its pieces are of no value now, cast them aside; it is a thing of the past; but memory will linger as long as life lasts, and will often bring to mind the "sweet picture" of the vine-clad cottage and the days of "auld lang syne."

Dr. B. J. Kendall Co.
Gents:—I have used your Kendall's Spavin Cure and it is wonderful to say the least. Yours respectfully,
J. L. CRARY.
From the "Spirit of the Times," June 20, 1888. The old idea that a spavin was incurable has given way before the improvements made by modern science. Among these wonderful improvements must be mentioned the most successful remedy ever discovered for the cure of this disease, Kendall's Spavin Cure, one that is certain in its effect, and will not blister. It is prepared by Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt., and has received praise on every hand for its thorough and reliable work in cases of spavin or hook lameness. It is a certain cure for rheumatism, enlargement of the joints, corns, etc., while blood sprains and bursal enlargements promptly disappear on its use. It is a standard remedy among horse owners and breeders, where its work has often been proven. Kobb, of Montgomery, the Commissioner of Agriculture and Immigration of the State of Alabama, who arranged the tour and chaperones the party. He is accompanied by representatives of a number of Alabama cities and sections, the mineral, agricultural and timber districts all included. Their names and places of residence are as follows:

Dr. J. J. Barkley, of Decatur; W. P. Pinckard, Birmingham; Capt. J. F. Burke, Sheffield; Col. T. H. Jones, Florence; J. H. Armstrong, Perry County; Capt. N. J. Berry, Selma; L. B. Musgrove, Jasper; N. A. Cobbs, Anniston; W. C. Bibb, Montgomery; W. F. Baldridge, of Huntsville; J. F. Porter, Brewton; Dr. Alonzo Monk, Anniston; J. P. Oliver, Calera; Chappel Cory, of the Montgomery Advertiser.

They travel in a special coach arranged with a cooking department, dining room and sleeping arrangements. The exhibit car is separate and is sixty feet long. On either side, in large letters is the inscription: "Matchless Resources of Alabama," while at the four corners are the words "Agricultural Mineral, Wood."

A reporter of the Courier joined the throng that came to view the exhibit and greet the Alabamians. There was universal testimony to the wealth of resources represented in the three varieties of which Alabama boasts. There are eight compartments, four on either side, and the specimens are on shelves. The agricultural exhibits come mainly from Montgomery, Selma, Florence and Decatur, the first two being the chief cities of Middle Alabama and the last in the heart of the Tennessee Valley. The mineral exhibits come from Birmingham, Anniston, Sheffield, Decatur and Florence, while specimens of the manufactured products and the woods of Alabama are scattered through all the compartments.

AGRICULTURE.

The specimens of field crops are especially attractive. There are ears of corn from a field that has already produced a crop this present year of 60 bushels per acre, and on which is now growing the second crop of corn with a fair promise of 30 bushels more. Judging from the specimens, Alabama is a great grass State. We make special mention of some Johnson grass that is eight feet high and from land that produces annually from four to five tons per acre, being cut three times. There are fine specimens melilotus six feet high, oats wheat, barley, rye, German millet, the last of a size unknown in this latitude, besides Calf corn, Egyptian wheat, crab grass, clover, hops, several varieties of sorghum, ribbon cane, peanuts, tobacco etc., etc. Of course, cotton, the special product of the South is displayed in its highest perfection. Specimens of the prairie soil are on exhibit in a glass case.

MINERAL.

Alabama is the most rapid de- and richest in mineral re- of all Southern States. y, the mineral exhibits oc- arge portion of the car. Alabama State Fair.

I desire to make a personal appeal to every farmer organization in the state, and especially those which are convenient to railroads, and around the city of Montgomery and to urge them to compete for one of the very liberal premiums offered to the club, grange or alliance making the best exhibit at the state fair. I would also urge upon individuals to compete for premiums in the individual display; to stock men in the display of stock.

The state fair is not only the property of the State Agricultural Society but it belongs to the State, and we urge upon every citizen of the state, who feels any pride in his state, that he lend a helping hand in assisting to make this one of the best fairs ever held in the state.

We have but to open our eyes and behold what our mother state, Georgia, is doing in the way of fairs and expositions. We see what our close neighbor, Columbus, is doing, then to Macon, and the grand exposition at Augusta, and the many county fairs. Can we not concentrate our efforts and make a grand fair at Montgomery?

I would appeal to the patriotism of the citizens of our state in behalf of the Alabama State Fair. I would call upon the press throughout the state to rally to our support and keep the fair prominently before our people, and the importance of it and the great good to be derived from holding state fairs. There is no better medium of advertising the wonderful resources of the state than by putting on exhibition at the fair something of everything that the soil will produce. And I would also urge upon North Alabama to take this method of advertising the untold worth and merit of its mineral resources.

I. F. CULVER, Pres't Ala. State Fair.

A CARD.

To all Whom it May Concern:

The undersigned members of the Baptist denomination, and members of the Church, beg leave to state in the interest of Elder Hardy, Jones, and the cause of truth, that we have heard that certain rumors have been put afloat in Chilton county derogatory to the standing of Rev. Jones, and consequently injurious to the cause of Christ,—beg leave to say that we have known Bro. Jones for a number of years, and know his character as a Democrat, and as a Christian gentleman, to be good.

His nervous and excitable temperament and his ardent support of his convictions have occasionally subjected him to the hot persecutions of his enemies and some who differ with him, but we believe Bro. Jones to be honest, and truthful, and conscientious in his course of life, and in his preaching, and all things pertaining to the cause of the church, and that he is entitled to the confidence, esteem, and prayerful regard of all Christians.

A. & M. COLLEGE.

Week ending with Aug. 25, 1888.

The corn crop is made, and is generally good. In some sections the hard mud and rains have damaged this crop unless gathered soon.

Potatoes and peas are doing well, and since, yields are expected. There has been some difficulty in obtaining a stand of turpicks. The cotton crop is not doing so well. In the low-lands the caterpillars are making rapid inroads, and the heavy frequent rains have produced deleterious effects. The farmers are picking the staple as fast as it opens, and many bales are being brought to market.

The rainfall was above and the temperature below the average. There were many rainy days during the week.

From infancy to old age the human family is liable to some form of kidney trouble. Restore the action of the liver and kidneys to a healthy state with DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE, and both the kidney and bladder will be restored. Read what the Rev. Dr. Arnold, of Camden, says of Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine: "I was cured of Symptomatic Heart Disease, caused by a torpid liver and indigestion. Was troubled with it for 30 years, growing worse all the time, until I commenced taking Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine. Three bottles restored me to perfect health after all physicians and medicines had failed to give me any relief. Dr. Duncan's Medicine is better, if possible, than he represents them to be."

Abraham Hare, Druggist, Bellville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at Phillips' Drug Store.

Funeral of Colonel E. J. Lawrence.

The remains of Colonel Robert J. Lawrence were brought here Tuesday from Shubuta and interred in Magnolia Cemetery. Colonel Lawrence died at Shubuta on Monday after a lingering illness. He resided in Mobile in ante-bellum days. He was born in Tuscaloosa, Ala., and was about 65 years of age.

Colonel Lawrence before the war was one of the best known young men in Mobile, and also one of the most popular. He was a member of the Cadets and other organizations. He held various situations in business houses. When the war broke out he was residing at Shubuta, Mississippi, and he went to the front as Captain of the Shubuta Rifles. He afterwards became colonel of the Fourteenth Mississippi, and did gallant service in the Western army.

After war Colonel Lawrence became a member of the firm of Watson, Lawrence & Co. Afterwards he was in the employ of T. G. Bush & Co. and Kirkbride, Porter & Co. For a number of years past, however, he has lived in Mississippi, where his wife and daughter survive him. His affection for his old home led to the request that he should be buried in Mobile.—Register.

The deceased was a near relative of the editor of the View. Peace to his ashes.

THE BROOKLYN DIVINE'S SUNDAY SERMON

Subject: "Trouble on Both Sides."

Text: "There was a sharp rock on the one side, and a sharp rock on the other side."—Isaiah, xiv, 23.

The cruel army of the Philistines must be taken and scattered. The rock is just one man, accompanied by his bodyguard, to do what the Lord has said. The rock is just one man, accompanied by his bodyguard, to do what the Lord has said. The rock is just one man, accompanied by his bodyguard, to do what the Lord has said.

fast to get up and out into the sunlight; and a combined shadow of an invader and a woman's arm about the neck of the man, the Waterloo of life for the world.

And yet how many women there are seated between the rock of bereavement on the one side, and the rock of desertion on the other—Bones and Benches interlocking their shadow and dropping them upon her miser.

Out of the Way.

In passing a cottage one morning in spring—
"Was a mother that spoke and she said,
"O Robbie, I pray you, and why do you bring
So much of the earth with your tread?
I know that no one in the world would demur
If you went out of sight with the day!"
Sometimes a good angel had walked side of her!

Cousin Dolby's Mistake.

It's this making a fellow marry in spite of himself that I don't like. Why the deuce couldn't I be allowed the privilege of choosing for myself? Uncle George saying she might fancy me is sheer nonsense.

Sheridan and the Soldier.

I never heard this one of General Sheridan before. We all know that he is not a tall man. It matters not where he saw the ungaily Irish soldier, huge of stature, bow-shouldered and irregular of step. The General thought by a frowning reprehension to excite some feeling of martial ambition in the man.

PEARLS OF THOUGHT.

The eyes of other people are the eyes that ruin us.

The best kind of glory is that which is reflected from honesty.

The quality we call moral courage is necessary to finish success.

Sheriff Hayes promises to make a useful officer. We hope he will.

The State election in Arkansas on Monday resulted in a victory for the Democracy.

The yellow fever record from Jacksonville, Fla., for the week is very "discouraging." Over 300 cases have been reported.

"Last Night's Stabbing," "Yesterday's Shooting Affray," "The Latest Robbery," are some of the headings in the Birmingham papers now-a-days.

Blaine's amended declaration about trusts, that they are subject to state and not National control, not only contradicts his former assertion that they are private affairs, but fly in the face of the Republican platform. Mr. Blaine may be very smart but he doesn't always show it.

Instead of assessing the post office clerks and cats for campaign expenses, the president and his cabinet prefer to make liberal campaign contributions from their own pocket. This is not in accordance with time-honored custom, but it will be generally regarded as an improvement on the old method.

What of the night, watch man? There is a speck of war cloud on the horizon. But all is well. The man-with-a-backbone is at the head of the Government and the British lion's tail will get twisted, notwithstanding the effort of the Republican senate to protect British interests.

The New York Sun says: "Our esteemed Episcopalian contemporary the Churchman publishes a portrait of the late Bishop Harris, of Michigan, which is so much like Col. Henry Waterson that one can hardly believe the head was not photographed from him. Yet we are bound to admit that the Colonel, splendid fellow as he is, probably would not make a very good bishop."

Mr. Cleveland's message has knocked all the wind out of an issue upon which the republicans were building bright hopes. They had fixed the fisheries question so that the president had apparently no way of escaping. He was sailing between the Charybdis of war with England and the Scylla of abandoning American rights; but, with all the dangers ahead, he made the passage safely with his able, patriotic, statesmanlike message.

Harmony and the Republicans are fast becoming strangers. Candidate Harrison is kicking because he is forced to play second fiddle to Agamemnon Blaine; Guano Morton is wondering if he is not being led too freely in exchange for an empty honor, and Chairman Quay prods himself with a pin and wants to know "if he is running this campaign or not." If a straight forward answer will comfort Mr. Quay's soul, we beg leave to reply "certainly not." Trusty Blaine, in the meantime, continues to do the speech making for the party, though even he has become somewhat cautious, and hence his masterful effort in defence of trusts and monopolies, confines himself closely to manuscript.

In the meantime, in strong contrast to the cat-and-dog harmony existing among the Republican leaders, the Democratic family is united one. The President is attending strictly to business at the old stand, and his eagle eye is discovering and his trenchant pen showing up the hypocrisy of the opposition. The "Old Roman" is making the welkin ring with the music of his honest voice, and the other leaders of the party are actively engaged in doing yeoman service in the interest of the people. The Democrats are aggressive in this fight. They are united in an effort to give the country a continuation of the honest government they have had for the past four years, and unless the times are sadly out of joint, victory will crown their efforts.—Exchange.

Report of Grand Jury.

To the Hon. J. R. Dondell, Presiding. The grand jury empanelled and sworn for the fall term, 1888, of your honorable court respectfully beg leave to submit this report:

We find the public roads of the county in very good condition, and that the overseers and apportioners have been diligent in the discharge of their duties.

We find the books of records and other property entrusted to the care and keeping of the county officers neat and correctly kept to the best of our judgment. Upon examination, we find the treasurer's account to be as follows: He has received from all sources six thousand seven hundred and eighty-four dollars and thirty-eight cents, and disbursements by vouchers are as follows: Five thousand two hundred and eighteen dollars and thirteen cents. Cash on hand thirteen hundred and forty-six dollars and twenty-five cents, and one check drawn by R. Ehrman for two hundred and twenty dollars which we suppose to be good, and which balances the Treasurer's account.

We find after a thorough examination, the bonds of the county officers to be good except that of T. M. Edwards, bailiff for beat four, which we found to be insufficient, and recommend that his bond be strengthened six hundred and seventy dollars, and that the bond of A. G. Dake be strengthened eight hundred dollars, and we find the bond of T. J. Deramus to be totally insufficient, and we recommend a new bond in his case.

We find the county jail in good condition except the water works, and recommend thorough repairs of the pump.

We have found twelve true bills, all of which we respectfully submit, and beg to be discharged.

W. L. PARNELL, Foreman.

THE ALABAMIANS.

A Housing Reception Tendered Them By the Citizens.

Iowa City Republican.] The City Hall was packed last night with an interested audience. Even standing room was at a premium. Captain S. D. Pryce was elected chairman, and briefly stated the object of the meeting. He then introduced Judge Fairall, who in behalf of the citizens of Iowa City, extended to the visitors a hearty welcome. He said that our people felt honored in having them in our midst and paid a fine compliment to Alabama. His remarks were loudly applauded. Calls were then made for Commissioner R. F. Kolb who responded in an eloquent address. He spoke of the resources of Alabama, and said that the object of their visit to the north was to interest capitalists. He referred to the fertility of the States through which he had passed, especially Iowa, and he did not wish to entice our people away from such a country as he had seen, but there were many who desired to find a milder climate and to invest their money to good advantage. To such he extended a cordial invitation to come to Alabama and help them develop its wonderful resources.

Mr. W. P. Pinkard, of Birmingham, Ala., was the next speaker. He said he was not accustomed to make public addresses, but before he closed the audience discovered that he was a splendid talker. He mentioned the names of the new towns and cities which have sprung up in Alabama, the result of the industrial "boom." Birmingham was the "Pittsburg of the South." Pinkard declared that the war to him was only a dim recollection. He had grown up since the war period and represented the "New South." Alabama had her face toward the future. She believes in progress and will be one of the greatest States in the Union.

Mr. R. D. Berry, of Dallas county, Alabama, followed Mr. Pinkard in a very instructive speech. He said that he represented the agricultural interests of his State. He referred to the changed condition of affairs in the South since the war. The former slaves had left the plantations and flocked to the towns and cities, leaving the plantations without adequate help. Besides, very few of the colored people understood the latest improved methods of agriculture. The soil was not cultivated. It was as productive as that of Iowa. What was wanted was skilled labor. Eastern manufacturers were investing their money in the rolling mills and other industries, and if the people of the Northwest who are homogeneous with the people of the South, would come there and put their energy and their money into the promising openings, they would make money. Mr. Berry is a thorough, practical agriculturist and has great faith in the future of Alabama.

Capt. J. F. Burke made the closing address. He is a fine-looking gentleman of military bearing, tall and graceful, with an expressive countenance and having all the characteristics of the Southern orator. In common with all the other speakers he said that they had not come on a political mission. They had heard more politics since they crossed the Ohio River than they had heard for ten years at home. They cared nothing for politics, but were here on business. He regretted that the North and the South had been kept apart so long by designing politicians in both sections. A statesman was different from a politician. Capt. Burke brought out the distinction in a very happy manner, which both edified and amused the audience. He spoke of the wonderful growth of Sheffield, of which he was one of the founders. Four years ago the location was a corn-field, but now a prosperous town was in existence. Capt. Burke made a good hit on the "F. F. V." of Virginia and the early settlers of the Carolinas and Georgia, his idea being that whatever belonged to the old social regime which shut out emigration had disappeared. The people of the South welcome enterprise and capital. There were former residents of Iowa in Alabama and more were wanted. No matter what a man's politics or religion may be, he will enjoy perfect freedom. Capt. Burke spoke in an eloquent strain of the vast resources of his State. It had gold enough to pay the national debt, iron enough to weld the Union in bonds that could not be severed, wood enough to fence in the glorious American Union, rice enough to feed the Celestial Empire, brass enough for the whole Yankee nation, and slate enough to cover all the out-doors. The Captain paid a graceful compliment to the beauty of Iowa ladies and said so many fine things about their sisters in Alabama that we fear an exodus of our young men to the "Sunny South."

The Situation in New York.

Editor McGowan, of the Chattanooga Times, is a shrewd political observer and doesn't suffer his judgment to be warped by his desires. He has recently been to New York, and since his return makes the following summary of the situation there:

It is too early to talk about majorities, or even to calculate chances very closely where the two parties are so near evenly divided; but a close study of the conditions and tendencies at short range, we think, will convince any unprejudiced judge of popular movements that Cleveland has the State to-day by 15,000 to 25,000 plurality over Harrison; and it is certain the Democrats are not losing. We incline to the judgment that there will be very little defection from either side hereafter. The gains and losses would be about equal but for the fact that Cleveland has picked up a considerable section of the Butler contingent of '84, and but for the further fact that Fisk will hurt the Republicans worse than did St. John. We do not count of any value the accession to Cleveland of a section of Henry George's faction, that squad's "support" will hurt us as much as it will help; but the Butler vote of 16,000, nearly all Democrats, are back in the party to stay, as Hill's vote for governor in 1885 showed, he carrying every county in which the Butler defection defeated the Democrats the year before.

These are briefly the main points in the New York situation as we see them, and excellent judges of such matters confirm the opinion here expressed after careful inquiry and observation.

Same Everywhere.

Judge Nash, formerly a member of the Supreme Court of Ohio, a Republican and living near Judge Thurman, in Columbus, has made a visit to Chicago, where he was interviewed by the Times of that city; among other things he said:

"I suppose that you may know that Judge Thurman has many friends in the South. I remember some years ago I had occasion to visit Galveston, Texas, and Judge Thurman gave me a letter, unolicited to a very prominent citizen there. He said if I didn't find the gentleman that I could use the letter as an open one if I desired. I did not find the gentleman to whom the letter was addressed, and did present it to another, who rendered me very valuable assistance in the business which I had in hand. When I came to leave I offered to pay for the service. The man replied: 'No, sir any man who comes to this part of the country with such a letter as you have, from such a man as Allen G. Thurman, can't pay for any thing.'"

"And that is the kind of friendship which Allen G. Thurman has made all his life."

The South and Bloody Shirt Speeches.

New York Star. In the south, however, such speeches do have effect. They convince the southern people that there still exists in the republican party a desire to revive carpet-bag government and negro domination there, and so long as even a suspicion that this is the case remains, the republican party will never get an electoral vote from the "solid south." They may grow about their solidarity as much as they please, but they themselves do all they can to keep it solid.

J. L. CRARY.
From the "Spirit of the Times," June 23, 1888: The old idea that a spavin was incurable has long since been abandoned, and the improvements made by modern science. Among these wonderful improvements must be mentioned the most successful remedy ever discovered for the cure of this disease, Kendall's Spavin Cure, one that is certain in its effect, and will not blister. It is prepared by Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vt., and has received praise on every hand for its thorough and reliable work in case of spavin or hock lameness. Perry Carter Sent to Wetumpka.

The only conviction for felony had at the term of our circuit court which has just adjourned, was that of Perry Carter, a white man who has lived for many years in the western part of our county, who was convicted by a jury composed entirely of white men, of stealing about fifty ears of corn from Tom Jones, a negro, who was the principal witness for the State, and sentenced to one year's hard labor in the penitentiary.

Brace Up.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with headache, you are nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whiskey, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in a worse condition than before. What you want is an alternative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of liver and kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at Phillips' drug store, in Clanton.

Clanton High School.

This institution opened Monday with a good attendance. Mr. A. J. Scott, the energetic and worthy young principal, is deserving of a liberal patronage. His educational training was rounded up at the Southern University at Greensboro, and he comes among us a promising young man whom it should be a pleasure and a duty to encourage. We trust that he may fully realize his expectations in building up a high school of which our town can feel proud. His aim is high and his energy and determination deserve success. He has shown his faith by purchasing the school property and improving it. Miss Gamma Middleton will assist in the school. She is an accomplished young lady and will add no little to the establishing of a school of high grade in our midst.

The county Board of Revenue met Monday and appointed Mr. J. M. Parrish county treasurer. This was in accord with Democratic party precedent. Mr. Parrish was the Democratic nominee and a Democratic Board of Revenue could but follow the established precedent. In doing so, they have acted wisely. Mr. Parrish will no doubt file the required bond without difficulty.

Marshal Weston in Town.

[Birmingham Herald.] Marshal Weston, of Calera, is in the city. It has just been two weeks since Mr. Weston left the police force here to take the position of Marshal in Calera, and he says Calera is the best town in the world, but that it lacks a great deal of being a city, although Mayor Black has two sessions of court daily, and he now has twenty-two men at work on the streets. He said he had twenty-three, but one of them was so vile and filthy that he made the other hands run him out of town. One of the city aldermen, so Weston says, is one of his most efficient policemen.

Robberies, shooting scrapes and murders seemed to be on the increase in Birmingham.

A Woman's Knowledge. You ask me what is constancy, my child! It is to know One must live within these undimmed For woe or woe. It is to feel that grief and bitter pain Are thine for aye; To long with aching, hopeless heart in vain For yesterday. To wake within the midnight cold and drear From visions fair, And cry to God when there are none to hear Thy lone despair. To hold love's faith against the surest proof That knowledge brings, And, closing thy true heart, to stand aloof From whisperings Of doubt. To set thy dreary life to one Entrancing song Loved lips have sung, and when each day is done, Forgetting wrong. To fall upon thy knees and pray to God That he may keep Thy love from care, though thou dost him the rod, And live to weep. My little girl, thine eyes are filled with tears! May mercy free Thee from the anguish that life's cruel years Hath brought to me. Should young love stoop to kiss thee, may he bring Death's balm to still Thy heart, ere death's faith's wild suffering Thy life to fill. —[Atlanta Constitution.]

THE FAIR MESSENGER.

BY BENJON J. LOSSING.

On a warm, hazy day in January, 1849, I was at Orangeburg, S. C., eighty miles west of Charleston. My purpose was to visit the battle ground of Eutaw Springs, on the right bank of the Santee river, forty miles distant. I hired a horse and gig for the journey. The road was level and smooth most of the way. It lay through cultivated fields and dark pine forests, and across dry swamps, wherein the Spanish moss hung like trailing trees. At sunset I had traveled thirty miles. I lodged at the house of a planter not far from Vance's Ferry, on the Santee, where I passed the evening with an intelligent and venerable woman (Mrs. Buxton), eighty-four years of age. She was a maiden of seventeen when the armies of Greene and Rawdon made lively times in the region of the Upper Santee, Catawba, Saluda and Broad rivers. She knew Marion, and Sumter and Horry, and other less famous partisans, who were frequently at her father's home, on the verge of a swamp not far from the high hills of Santee. "We were Whigs," she said, "but the Tories were so thick and cruel around us, when Rawdon was at Camden, that father had to pretend he was a King's man to save his life and property. Oh, those were terrible times, when one was not sure on going to bed that the house would not be burned before morning."

offered to undertake the perilous task for the way was swarming with Tories. Greene was perplexed. Brave and pretty Emily Geiger, the young daughter of a German planter in Fairfield district, had just arrived at headquarters with important information for the General. She rode a spirited horse with the ease and grace of a dragoon. Emily saw the hesitation of the soldiers and Greene's anxiety. Earnestly but modestly she said to the General: "May I carry the letter?" "Greene was astonished. He was unwilling to expose her to the dangers which he knew awaited a messenger for the Tories were vigilant. "They won't hurt a young girl, I am sure; and I know the way," said Emily. "Greene's was great, and he accepted the proffer of important service, but with many misgivings. Fearing Emily might lose the letter on the way, he informed her of its contents, that she might deliver the message orally. She mounted her fleet horse, and with the general's blessing and cheer by the admiring officers, she rode off on a brisk gallop. She crossed the Wateree river at the Camden ferry, and pressed on toward the High Hills of Santee. "Emily was riding at a rapid pace through an open, dry swamp, at noonday, when one of three Tory scouts who were on the watch, seized her bridle and bade her halt. With perfect composure and firm voice she demanded by what authority she was arrested. The young man was confounded by the manner and appearance of his prisoner. They had observed a woman riding in apparent haste from the direction of Greene's army toward the camp of Sumter, and suspected her errand. She proved to be a young maiden, as fair as a lily, with mild blue eyes and a profusion of brown hair. The young scout, smitten with her beauty and air of innocence, released his hold upon the bridle, when an older companion, made of sterner stuff, seized the reins, and led the horse to an unoccupied house on the edge of the swamp, and bade her dismount. The younger scout gallantly assisted her to alight, and she was taken into the house. With proper delicacy the scouts sent for Mrs. Buxton's mother, living a mile distant, to search Emily's person. "I went with mother," said Mrs. Buxton, "to see a woman prisoner. The door of the house was guarded by the younger scout, who was Peter Simons, son of a neighbor two miles away, and a right gallant fellow he was. After the war he married my sister, and that younger who took your horse when you alighted is his grandchild."

"Then you saw the young prisoner?" "Yes, and I helped mother search her. We were amazed when we saw, instead of a brazen-faced, middle-aged woman, as we supposed a spy must be, a sweet young girl about my own age, looking at innocent as a pigeon. "Our sympathies were with her, but mother performed her duty faithfully. We found nothing on her person or in her manner that would afford an excuse for a suspicion that she was a spy. She was released by the scouts, who offered her many apologies for detaining her. She had been too smart for them. While alone in the house, guarded by Peter Simons, she had eaten up Greene's letter, piece by piece. So secured from detection, she willingly submitted to our search, and told us frankly who she was. "My name is Geiger—Emily Geiger," she said. "My father is a planter near Wainsborough, in Fairfield, and I am on my way to visit friends below." "Wasn't she smart?" said the old lady. "She was going to 'visit friends below'—Sumter and his men; our friends likewise, for that matter. When the scouts dismissed her, we took her to our house, gave her some refreshments, and urged her to stay with us until morning. But she could not be persuaded, saying the armies were so near it might soon become impossible to reach her friends. Peter Simons had accompanied us home, and offered to escort Emily to her friends at a proper time. She declined his offer, and rode away, bearing our silent blessings. We saw no more of her until some time after the war."

"Did she reach Sumter's camp in safety?" I inquired. "Yes, and delivered Greene's message almost word for word as he had written it." "Sumter and Marion joined forces, and hurried to Friday's ferry at Granby. Rawdon, baffled, did not attempt to cross the Congaree, but fled before the pursuing Americans toward Orangeburg, on the Edisto. "You say you saw no more of Emily Geiger until some time after the war," I remarked. "What was her fate?" "A happy one. She had married a rich young planter on the Congaree, named Thurwits. They had been on a visit at her father's house in Fairfield, and went out of their way to visit the scene of her exploit in 1781. They crossed the Wateree at Camden, as she had done before, visited the house in which she had been searched, and drove to our home to thank my mother for her kindness on that occasion. They had with them their sweet little baby, a few months old. Peter Simons was then my sister's husband, and at our house Emily stood face to face with her jailor of an hour. She freely told her story and owned that she was much startled when Peter seized her bridle and controlled her feelings. She told us of her dinner on Greene's letter and thought how silly the young scout was in leaving her alone in the house while he guarded the door on the outside. Peter wasn't much of a Tory, and we all rejoiced that a kind Providence had protected Emily from detection. "The ways of God are mysterious," said the venerable matron laying her hand on my knee. "Peter's son married Emily's daughter—the sweet little baby she brought to our house—and their son owns a plantation a few miles from here." —[New Orleans Times-Democrat.]

PEARLS OF THOUGHT. Beware of the man of two faces. Against discouragement. Take a cheerful view of everything. Tact is the oil that lubricates society. A moment of time is too precious to waste. The best of prophets of the future is the past. Pride costs us more than hunger, thirst and cold. Pray for a short memory as to all unkindness. Good nature should lead in the list of the virtues. The friendship of the artful is mere self-interest. Even the worst people have some good left in them. Merchandising represents the cold logic of facts and figures, as shown in purchases and sales. Eagerness for enormous gains too often defeats itself. Immense profits involve immense risks. Never reply in kind to a sharp or angry word; it is the second word that makes the quarrel. Even reckoning makes lasting friends, and the way to make reckonings even is to make them often. How Ghouls Climb. The way the ghouls climb is by means of spiral, curled tendrils, which are in reality small abortive stipules or leaf-appendages, specialized for the work of clinging to the external object, be it branch or stem of some other plant, over which the beautiful parasite rapidly spreads itself. The tendrils push themselves out on every side, revolving as they go, till they reach some slender twig or leaf-stalk to which they can attach themselves. It is curious and interesting to watch them as they grow, and to see how closely their movements simulate intelligent action. The little curled whorls go feeling about on every side for a suitable foothold, groping blindly, as it were, in search of a support, and revolving slowly in wide-sweeping curves, until at last they happen to lay hold with their growing end of a proper object. Once found, they seem to seize it eagerly with their little fingers (for in the gourd the tendrils are branched, not simple), and to wrap it round at once many times over in their tight embrace. It is wonderful how far they will go up out of their way in their groping quest of a proper foothold, and how, when at length they stumble upon it, they will look for all the world as if they had known beforehand exactly when and where to search for it. These actions come far closer to intelligence than most people imagine; they are deliberately performed in responsive answer to external stimuli, and only take place when the right conditions combine to excite them. —[Popular Science Monthly.] Smoking an Eagle. How would readers of the Companion go to work to catch an eagle? By putting salt on its tail, perhaps. How Chief Justice Parsons went about it is thus described by his son: The cry came into the office one day that a monstrous bird had alighted on the palings of the garden. So out my father went, and at once recognized a young, but well-grown, eagle. Putting a coal into the bowl of a large pipe, he filled the bowl with tobacco, and when it gave out smoke freely, he slowly approached the bird, and gently blew the smoke into its face. At first the eagle seemed offended, and threatened with beak and wing, but soon appeared to like it, and then, in a little time, was stupefied. My father then directed our man-servant to come up and catch the bird round the body, while he at the same moment caught at the throat with one hand, and at the legs with the other. In this way the bird was safely captured, and retained for a day or two, until accustomed to the smoke, when it was sold.

Varnish for Turkey Legs. When the average householder, or his cook, who proceeds to the Paris markets for domestic provender is offered embalmed geese, turkeys with painted legs, and diseased chickens, instead of healthy and untainted poultry, it is time, says the London Telegraph, for the police to interfere, in the interest of the public. Recent researches have shown that a considerable trade is done in diseased fowl in all the Paris markets, and a short time ago a brawny fort de la Halle, or market porter, died from blood-poisoning, caused, as the doctors inferred, by the bite of a large insect which had been bawling on some turkey. The practice of embalming fowl or dressing up long-denied birds so as to make them look fresh is of comparatively modern origin, but that of painting the legs of turkeys is as old as the days of Privat d'Anglemont. The first person in the field in this department of industry was Pere Chapellier, who made a little fortune out of it. He noticed that the legs of turkeys were brilliantly black for one day after they had been killed, and that then they became of a dusky-brown color. He accordingly invented a peculiar kind of varnish, the secret of which he sold with profit on retiring from business, and with this he touched up the legs of the birds which remained unsold for any considerable period of time. His services were requisitioned in every market, and the effect of his varnish was so conclusive that it deceived the most experienced cooks and housekeepers, who often bought painted turkeys in preference to birds of the same species which had been newly killed. It would be well if the poultry purveyors of the present day could find themselves in this comparatively pious fraud. A Great Alaska Glacier. The glacier enters the sea with a gigantic front two or three hundred feet above the water and a mile wide. Fancy a wall of blue ice splintered into columns, spires and huge crystal masses with grotesque, crevices and recesses higher than Bunker Hill monument and a mile in width! It is a spectacle that is strangely beautiful in its variety of form and depth of color, and at the same time awful in its grandeur. And not alone is the sight awe-inspiring. The ice mountain is almost constantly breaking to pieces with sounds that resemble the discharge of heavy guns or the reverberations of thunder. At times an almost deafening report is heard, or a succession of them like the belching of a whole park of artillery, when no outward effect is seen. It is the breaking apart of great masses of ice within the glacier. Then some huge berg topples over with a roar and gigantic splash that may be heard several miles, the waters being thrown aloft like smoke. A great pinnacle of ice is seen bobbing about in a wicked fashion, perchance turning a somersault in the flood before it settles down to battle for life with the sun and the elements on its seaward cruise. The waves created by all this terrible commotion even rock the steamer, and wash the shores miles away. There is scarcely five minutes in the whole day or night without some exhibition of this kind. —[Alaska Record.] The Price of Wild Animals. The price paid for animals varies very much. A good male lion is worth $1000, and a tiger $1500; leopards cost $300; for monkeys we pay from $10 upward, according to the species. Ordinary East India or African monkeys are worth about $10, and monkeys of rare species cost as high as $30, $40 and $50 each. The best speaking parrots are either the African or the Mexican double yellow head. For young birds of this species the dealer pays $10 apiece, when buying a number as a time retelling them at $15 and $20 each. The old talking birds of this variety are worth from $50 to $100 apiece, the price depending on the number of words they can repeat.

A WOMAN'S STORY. Nina Van Zandt Tells Why She Married Spies by Proxy. [From the Cincinnati Gazette.] Nina Van Zandt was interviewed. While the reporter was talking with her an old man came in with a petition in his hand. She took it eagerly and scanned it quickly, and then stood up beside the old man and turned sideways. "Won't you sign the petition?" said the old man, entirely ignorant as to whom he was speaking. "I sign it," said she. "It would do you no good; it would do you great harm; my name is Spies." The old man started, but said nothing. "How are you getting on?" she asked. "Do you get many signers, and what do they say?" And then she moved away, looking at the paper and slowly shaking her head. As he went out of the door she said: "Just think, he is over sixty years old and is going about with this petition!" Continuing she said: "I wonder if those opposed to it think they will stop this movement of the working people? Of course we feel that for the movement itself the death of those seven condemned men would accomplish much. Would not their blood be always freshening it up like the rain upon grass," and she put out her hand and with a pretty motion waved it upward. "A conspiracy! Yes, that is what they call it; it is only on a conspiracy charge that they could convict any one of murder, yet at the meeting four proved an alibi for the Haymarket meeting; and then there were some in the conspiracy who, it was proved, had never known each other; they have only become acquainted since they have been in jail together. Oh, the childishness of the whole thing makes one sick at heart. The terror that was inspired in the people right after the Haymarket meeting was dreadful, and that feeling has been fed and nursed and kept brightly burning ever since. For months after the meeting policemen found bombs under the sidewalks. Now, as the directions for the funeral of the men who were killed, it is not possible that those interested in having the bombs found there could also have put them there. Then it was so very strange that the police used to find bombs under the railroad tracks, and just above the main entrance before the train came along, and on tracks where the trains had been running all the time, and where it was impossible for any one to place them there in the intervals without those who did find them seeing those who had placed them on the track. But that was what the most of the conspiracy was all about. Judge Gary's court was closed for the summer, and the children of the janitor were accustomed to play there. They had left one of the tin balls to hold twine, such as you see in every grocery store. When the court-room was opened the tin ball was found, and it was said that a bomb had been placed in Judge Gary's court. The reporters visited the room, there appeared in the morning papers two columns of description of this bomb, with head-lines so large, and the pointed to the largest type in the newspaper. The reporters go to the jail and ask the jailor, 'Has Nina been here today?' Not Mrs. Spies; not Nina Van Zandt, but just 'Nina.' We had never thought about marrying until we knew what the fate of my husband would be; but a new Sheriff went in and it was given out that only blood relatives would be admitted to see the condemned anarchists; that some merely friends could see them: And for more than a week it was so, and then, and only then, did we think of a marriage which alone would give me the right to visit him. His mother and I do not stay long, hardly more than fifteen minutes, because that hour is the only time he has for exercise, and we feel he must have some chance to stretch his arms, for the cell is so small he cannot put them out to their full length."

A PARISIAN ROMANCE. A Strange Story of the Disappearance of Bank Notes Amounting to $100,000,000. The Stourds inheritance lawsuit forms the sensation of the day. About four years ago Prince Michael Stourds, one of the well-known characters of Paris, died, says the Chicago Tribune. He used to drive about the city in a curious gilded coach that reminded one of the state coaches of kings of the last century. He was known to be enormously rich, and at his death there was a great curiosity to know how he had disposed of his fortune. His will provided that his widow should enjoy the estate as long as she lived, and at her death it should be equally divided among the three children—Gregory, Demetrius and Princess Gortschakoff. Gregory, the eldest, is a Russian nobleman and also a General in the army of that kingdom, and it is he who has taken the lead in the present proceedings. Prince Michael was known to have left a fortune in real property and other stable securities worth $5,000,000. This was easily found and distributed according to the terms of his will. But he had also left another fortune of fully $10,000,000 in cash, jewels, and securities that could readily be turned into cash by any one who got hold of them, whether the rightful owner or no. And of this fortune not a penny was to be found. The minutes searched failed to reveal even the faintest trace of it. Prince Gregory appealed to the police, and offered fabulous rewards for its recovery. All was in vain. The $10,000,000 was gone. About a year later the widow of Prince Michael died at Baden-Baden. She had been living there in seclusion. Her only visitor had been her daughter Princess Gortschakoff, and she had not gone there often. However, the Princess had been on more intimate and confidential terms with her mother than either of her brothers had been. Consequently Princess Gortschakoff was the only one of the heirs present at the death-bed of the widow. She declares that she found among the personal effects of her mother securities worth $100,000, and jewels valued at $25,000, and nothing more. But the servants who were present tell a different story. "The nurse who prepared the body of the dead woman for burial declares, and is supported in the statement by the others, that she found the body encircled, underneath the clothes, by a belt of hid skin which at the back bore a large pouch like a 'dross improver.' In this belt and pouch were bank notes and securities amounting to $10,000,000, or the whole of the missing fortune. This the servants examined and counted and handed over to Princess Gortschakoff. Moreover, they say that the Princess got a locksmith to open a safe which she found in her mother's room and took from it more than a million dollars' worth of jewels. This story is confirmed by the locksmith himself who did the job. Princess Gortschakoff strenuously denies it all, and has made charges of dishonesty against the servants in order to discredit their testimony. But her brother, Gregory Stourds, will press a suit against her, and the whole matter will be well sifted in the courts. It is thought that if the case goes being against her the Princess will fly to Russia and claim the Czar's protection, believing that that monarch would not in any event allow the fortune she has grabbed to go out of the Empire and into the hands of Romanians, who might some day use it against Russia. He Sined Him Up. GRABBY.—"I say, cabby, what will you take me up and set me down for?" CABBY.—"I'll take you up for a penny and set you down for a lot!" —Punch By Time.

Willie Wadsworth was in Clanton Monday.

Read the advertisement of the Ala. State Fair. It begins at Montgomery on October 22d. Be sure to go.

Excursion rates are advertised for Birmingham to-morrow. A military display at East Lake is the attraction.

Wiley McIntyre, colored, of Verbena, has a card in the VIEW, which expresses his repentance for his course at the late election. It is never too late to be good, but some may think that Wiley should have repented sooner.

A wreck of a freight caboose occurred near the depot last week by a run off. Considerable damage was done to the track. This caused a second run off the following night when three other cars were ditched and badly damaged.

Mr. G. A. Duke has purchased the Simpson residence. We are always glad to note such investments on the part of a sound business man like Mr. Duke. It speaks well for the future of our town. Mr. Duke agrees with the View that Clanton county is the best country on God's green earth.

An Opportunity.

The Ala. State Fair will be held in Montgomery next month. Maj. Culver, the president of the Fair Association is an industrious officer and promises not only a fine display but expects a large number of visitors from other States in attendance. The northwest will begin to send down prospectors about that time it is believed, and in view of this fact a good display would be of great advantage to the State.

Would not the Fair furnish a fine opportunity for our farmers and lumbermen to make a display of the products of our own county? A better opportunity will not be offered in some time perhaps, and it would be greatly to the advantage of this section if Clanton county can make some exhibit.

This is merely a suggestion. There are many who would like to see some united action in such an important matter.

EDITOR CHILTON VIEW: Dear Sir—Please allow me space in your paper for the following communication to the Democratic party of Clanton county. On the first Monday in August last, under excitement caused by speeches made to us (the colored people) by men who claimed to be our friends "preaching" to us "oppression," (as usual with that class of speakers), I may have been and no doubt was instrumental in casting votes which were against your interests as well as mine. The present laws are Democratic. I concede them good, and they are for colored as well as white people, we all share their benefits alike.

In future I shall "hand off" of politics and hereby pledge myself to that end. All I ask is time to prove what I here say to you, by my actions.

Deeply regretting my conduct toward my white friends at Verbena, on the 8th day of August last, and sincerely asking their pardon, I am very respectfully,

WILEY J. MCINTYRE.

A line or two may appear in a newspaper that may make a man an enemy to that newspaper for life. He will stop his subscription, but this act does not deter him from reading the paper. It simply changes him from a subscriber to a borrower, a flier or a dead-beater of the editor's work without compensation. There are a large number of individuals who will read this item and appreciate its pith.

Knows Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 19 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and sorrow, and am able to do all my own house work. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." Try a bottle, 50c and $1 at Phillips' Drug Store.

The World is Very Funny.

The world is very funny. For no matter how much money man is earning he will spend it, and be hard up all the time; To the utmost he is straining to catch up without adding. Till he makes his life a burden when it should be bliss sublime.

He who earns a thousand merely. Thinks two thousand dollars yearly. Would be just the figure to make happiness complete.

But his income when it doubles, Only multiplies his troubles. For his outgo then increasing makes his both ends worse to meet.

It is run in debt and borrow. Flush to-day and broke to-morrow. Financiering every which way to postpone the day of doom; Spending money he makes it. And then wonder what takes it. Till he, giving up the riddle, looks for rest within the tomb.

Oh, this world is very funny. To the average man whose money. Doesn't quite pay for the dancing that he does before he should; And he kills himself by trying Just a little easier living. Than is suited to his pocket and his own eternal good.

The Editor in a Good Humor.

[From the Smithville, Ga., News.]

The proverb says that the good die young. But if that's so, what a hard lot of sinners these old folks must be!

The only difference between the clown in the circus and the man that's looking at him is this: One is a fool for money, and the other is a fool anyhow.

We notice that many of our exchanges are giving us credit now. We trust that their example will be emulated by the groceryman at home.

A letter from Jacksonville brings us $1 with the statement that the News is wanted there for a year to come. If there was any yellow fever in that dollar it is apt to spread, as we paid it out immediately for last month's groceries.

We appreciate all courtesies extended us by the Central railway authorities, but we don't think they ought to make us get off at stations and help grease the engine and throw on wood, and look for tramps under the trucks and help the baggage man with the trunks. We will lose all our dignity if the thing keeps on.

Worth Knowing.

Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City, Fla., was taken with a severe cold, attended with a distressing cough, and running into consumption with its first stages. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced in flesh, had difficulty in breathing, and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and found immediate relief, and after using about a half dozen bottles, found himself well and has had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a record of cure, as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Guaranteed to do just what is claimed for it. Trial bottle free at Phillips' Drug Store.

The cure for sickness 500 years ago was Neglect; 300 years ago, Sorecery; 100 years ago, Herbs and Drugs; 25 years ago Medicines; to-day it is Compound Oxygen.

Medicines weaken the whole system to strengthen one weak point; Compound Oxygen strengthens both.

A doctor's average bill is $50. Invest $15 in our "Home Treatment," and you will save the other $35, and feel better than you have for five years. Are you nervous? Those tired, sick headaches will vanish! Have you weak lungs? Give compound oxygen one chance to strengthen them. Have you Dyspepsia? It will cure you!

Remember always one thing. You risk absolutely nothing in trying our treatment. A case of yellow fever was reported at Decatur last week, and a panic was caused thereby. No other case since.

Capt. Dick Clarke, of Mobile, formerly of Tuscaloosa, has been nominated for congress in the first Alabama district over the present incumbent, Hon. Jas. T. Joss.

Four hundred refugees from Jacksonville were sent to Hendersonville, N. C., in locked cars last week. The yellow fever has developed among them since they reached Hendersonville.

The Montgomery Advertiser is authority for the statement that Judge Cobb will have opposition in this district in the person of either Ben. Walker, of Macon, or Lew. Parsons, of Birmingham.

Senator Morgan's thirty-seven-hour speech on the Fisheries Treaty was a great strain on him physically. When his voice became weak he would refer to some citation on the subject in hand and call on the clerk to read it. He thus obtained frequent intervals of rest which enabled him to perform his remarkable oratorical feat.

The excitement in Decatur over yellow fever, was occasioned by the death of A. D. Spencer, a fruit dealer aged about 42 years. He was attacked two weeks ago, but refused to take any medicine until a day or two before his death. The board of health investigated the case and arrived at the conclusion that the immediate cause of death was uranus (blood) poison.

The Rev. Sam Jones is not perhaps, an ideal evangelist. But his remarks from the pulpit sometimes hit the nail on the head. The following recent utterance of his, is an example:

The best thing on this earth is a happy marriage, and the worst thing an unhappy marriage. Whom God hath joined together let no man put asunder, but whom the devil has joined let them go to Chicago.

CONGRESSMAN BEN BUTTERWORTH has been writing a little biographical sketch of Gen. Harrison. From his account it appears the Republican candidate, as a youth was a very plain every-day kind of country youth. He had the usual number of stone bruises and stumbled toes, and stuck the average number of nails in his feet. He knew how to get up, feed the stock, milk, and then study his lesson by a tallow dip, walk two and a half miles to school and get there in time to play bullpen a half hour before school "took in."—Exchange.

That was a good piece of news to the farmers contained in a letter published in yesterday's Advertiser from Major I. F. Culver, President of the State Agricultural Society. Maj. Culver gave notice that at an early date a supply of bagging will arrive from Europe, which will answer the farmers' purpose for wrapping the cotton crop. All farmers ought, as far as may be possible to purchase the bagging in preference to the "Trust" bagging, the price of which has been doubly raised to the consumers. Even if the cost is the same the farmers should do what they can to thwart the purposes of the "Trust" which has been so unceremoniously saddled upon them.—Advertiser.

Somebody has been beating the Birmingham News in the usual way, carrying off a paper without paying for it, and that indignant journal thus expresses its opinion: "We paid a grocer 5 cents for a 2 cent sack of table salt, and within the hour his bookkeeper called at our office to get a News and walked away never mentioning the salt or the nickel we had given for it, relative cost and value of the salt and of that single copy of the News. The whole of those pages put into type by tolling printers, and then came the labor of the pressman, and yet that grocer who had made us fork 5 cents for 2 cents worth of salt asked the 3-cent office for 5 cents and wanted a deadhead local worth 45.

Every county in Alabama should adopt the following sensible suggestion from the Advertiser Watchman to the farmers of Calhoun county: We hope somebody will undertake the laudable enterprise of getting up an excursion to the State Fair at Montgomery specially for Calhoun county farmers. We think if they could be induced to go over in a body and take in the State Fair, they would be imbued with sufficient enterprise and enthusiasm in their profession to get up a good and permanent county organization. The cotton bagging trust, by which the farmers will be fleeced to the extent of millions, has had a wonderful tendency to induce them to organize for self preservation. Why not organize for social and farm improvement? We believe the best thing our farmers can do is to learn how to become self-supporting.

Farmers of Alabama.

Don't purchase the jute bagging. In three weeks there will be a bountiful supply of Dundee bagging on hand to put up the cotton crop.

I appeal to the cotton producers to stand firm and not buy any more of the detestable trust bagging, as the Dundee bagging can be put down for less than the trust bagging. It weighs twenty-four ounces to the yard, and is better every way than the trust bagging.

Messrs. Thurber, Whyland & Co., of New York, wired Messrs. Frazer & Co., of Union Springs on the 14th inst., that it would be laid down here in three weeks. I hope the farmers of the State will hold to their cotton until it arrives.

I. F. CULVER,
Pres. Ala. State Agricultural Society.

Merely Skins the Surface.

Under the above caption the Kansas City Times takes the Atlanta Constitution to task for a too restricted view in classing Father Ryan, Sydney Lanier and Paul H. Hayne as the only southern poets worthy of note. Says the Times:

Where is Poe, that strange, weird and still undefined and undefinable genius, whose every verse was a wail, whose every heart-beat was supernatural, and whose every gesture took hold upon death? Not a poet, you say? If this be so, then what is poetry? If it be poetry to make the flesh creep and to be cold and hot by turns, then Poe was the wizard of such emotions. He was the man who conjured up ghosts; he was the man who so peopled the imagination with horrors that it became haunted. Hayne never did this. His flight was too near the earth to hear songs that were never sung and words that were never spoken.

Where is Samuel Minturn Peck, who can be as quaint as James Whitcomb Riley, as exquisitely tender as Riley and as full of that rare pathos which makes the fingers of poetry take hold of the heart strings.

And where is the patriot poet James R. Randall?

The Cleveland Letter.

The Cincinnati Times-Star speaks of the "rhetorical clumsiness and turgidity" of Cleveland's letter of acceptance. This is reckless use of words in a partisan effort to belittle an opponent. As the New York World says of the letter, it is a graceful, dignified document. There is nothing clumsy about it, there is not a bump of turgidity anywhere in it.

Here are a few sentences. Read them aloud, and note how good in sound and sense they are:

"We are annually collecting at our custom houses and by means of our internal revenue taxation many millions in excess of all legitimate public needs. As a consequence, there now remains in the National treasury a surplus of more than $130,000,000. No better evidence could be furnished that the people are exorbitantly taxed."

And this: Unnecessary taxation is unjust taxation.

Much of the latter has been said before, but none better said and to keep in mind than this: "In reviewing the bad effects of this accumulated surplus, and the scale of tariff rates by which it is produced, we must not overlook the tendency toward a gross and scandalous public extravagance which a congested treasury induces, nor the fact that we are maintaining, without excuse, in time of profound peace, substantially the rate of tariff duties imposed in time of war, when the necessities of the Government justified the imposition of the weightiest burdens upon the people."

And here is a golden period. "We propose in any adjustment of our revenue laws to concede such encouragement and advantage to the employers of domestic labor as will easily compensate for any difference that may exist between the standard of wages which should be paid to our laboring men, and that allowed in other countries."

IRION THE ABSCONDER.

He Wants to be Punished. But is not Allowed the Privilege.

City Marshal Pickard yesterday received a communication from the chief of police at London, Eng., which stated that on the 31st of August, a man who had stated that his name was Frank M. Irion, and who represented himself as being a defaulter from Birmingham, Ala., had called at the office of the police of London and asked to be arrested and extradited back to this country, that he had misappropriated $10,000 which he held in trust as clerk and register of the city court of Birmingham, and had for some eight months been a fugitive from justice. He stated to the police, so the communication recited, that he went to New York from this city, thence to Canada, thence to San Salvador, and from there to England. The communication gives Irion's statement as to his reasons for appropriating the funds. It says that he got behind on his speculations and was compelled on one occasion to raise $1,000 by one of his creditors; that he then gave a check for that amount on the bank in which he kept the trust money deposited, that from that he continued to draw and check on the trust money until it was all gone, and that finally, when he saw the condition in which matters stood—saw that it would be impossible for him to replace the money, he fled.

The English officer stated that he had no charge against Irion and could not arrest him unless charges were presented by some one. Irion then spoke up, it is stated, and said that he was an American citizen and would prefer the charge himself. The authorities asked what should be done with the matter, and Marshal Pickard referred the matter to Solicitor Hawkins. It is not known whether or not he will be returned to this city. It will cost a good deal to send for him, and the reward offered by Gov. Seay is not sufficient to pay the expenses of the trip. The general verdict appears to be, however, that he should be brought back to this city and be made to endure "a punishment fit the crime."—B'ham. Herald.

Meeting of the Executive Committee of the Fifth Congressional District.

According to the call of Chairman Mac A. Smith the committee met in the reading room of the Exchange Hotel at 11 o'clock yesterday.

The organization of the committee was completed by electing F. W. Gist, of Bibb, Secretary.

Steps were taken looking to an active campaign in the district and a request was addressed to the State Committee to make appointments of at least two places in each county for Col. J. P. Oliver, Presidential elector and promising to request Judge Cobb to attend the appointments with him.

It was decided to leave the appointment of all other necessary speaking to the county committees for local speakers.

As yet no opposition to Judge Cobb has been heard of, but it is thought best to keep the people informed on the issues before them and by means of public speaking to bring out a full vote.

The committee adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.—Ex.

Special Crop Bulletin.

A. & M. COLLEGE, AUBURN.

Week ending Sept. 15, '88.

The week has generally been favorable for all farming interests.

The small amount of rainfall and the large per cent. of clear, sunny days, enabled the cotton to open rapidly and the farmers have been busy gathering the staple under such favorable auspices. Reports from observers indicate a reduction in the yield of cotton as estimated in the first bulletin for August, on account of the long continued rains during the last three or four weeks; some estimates are as high as 25 per cent. of damage. It is a difficult matter at present to give any exact figures as to the amount of loss.

All other crops are reported as doing well.

The temperature has been about the average for this season of the year.

But little rain has fallen during the week.

We are indebted to some friend in the Kolb party for northwestern papers which give interesting accounts of the movements of "Alabama on Wheels."

Mr. W. H. Phillips has sold his drug business and store house to Dr. A. E. Bivings. We are glad to be able to say that this does not mean that Mr. Phillips will remove from Clanton.

The Clanton correspondent of the Dispatch says an effort will be made to have a lumber exhibit at the State Fair from Clanton. We trust the effort may be successful. Clanton could make a fine exhibit of lumber and such an exhibit should be made.

A subscriber who has recently changed his postoffice and failed to get his paper writes: "Send the View on to Childersburg. I am a friend to the View and wish it success. I send $3 to pay for it. I suppose my letter was mislaid by your failing to send it to this place. J. J. B."

Dr. A. E. Bivings has purchased the drug business of W. H. Phillips and proposes to continue the business. He has purchased the building also, and he will keep in addition to a stock of fresh drugs, a good quality of family groceries. We are pleased to note this addition to our business circles.

Brother, don't stop your paper just because you don't agree with the editor. The last cabbage you sent in didn't agree with us, either, but we didn't drop you from our subscription list on that account. No, we simply said, "Make us thankful for what we are about to receive," and after we received it we were not able to say anything.—Smithville, Ga., News.

A fine horse and handsome surry belonging to Capt. J. M. Faulkner, at Mountain Creek, was stolen the other night from the vicinity of the church in that neighborhood where the animal had been left hitched during the services. After the close of church the loss was discovered and search instituted. It was learned that a turnout answering the description, driven by a negro had passed Robinson Springs the following morning, but after that all trace of it was lost. Capt. Faulkner has sent out telegrams offering a reward for the recovery.

Maplesville Data.

A great many persons are at Maplesville, at this time, some for pleasure but more for their health. Our town has a great reputation for pure air, and it justly merits it. There are so many old settlers here that look so young and fresh.

Mrs. Berry, of Orrville, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. DuBose, of this place.

Misses Caroline and Manie Goodwin, also Mrs. Frank DuBose and Mrs. Hare are here for their health. Mrs. King, of Birmingham, and Mrs. Sullivan, of Dayton, are visiting their sister, Mrs. Glover.

Mr. Leonard DuBose, of Selma, is spending a few days at home, Mrs. Bowline, of Selma, is visiting friends here.

We regret very much to state that Mr. Foshee is not improving very rapidly. His brother, George Foshee, of Bessemer, is with him. One of our most popular young ladies, Miss Mary R. Glover, has left us to attend college at Newnan, Ga. We miss her a great deal.

The Sheriff was here yesterday, and went up to chat with Mr. H. C. Bearden while, but about that time, Mr. Bearden thought his fish trap needed his attention, and left Mr. Hayes to entertain himself. We suppose he found the fish trap very much out of order as he did not make his appearance until Hayes was gone.

The rains have damaged the crops a great deal in this county, and others below this, especially Marengo. The drought in July, and the army worm close upon that, and then the rains have injured the cotton crop almost one half. The corn has been rotting in the fields.

Medicines weaken the whole system to strengthen one weak point; Compound Oxygen strengthens both.

A doctor's average bill is $50. Invest $15 in our "Home Treatment," and you will save the other $35, and feel better than you have for five years. Are you nervous? Those tired, sick headaches will vanish! Have you weak lungs? Give compound oxygen one chance to strengthen them. Have you Dyspepsia? It will cure you!

Remember always nothing. You risk absolutely nothing in trying our treatment. It is simply breathing different air; not "dosing," or "drugging," or going a thousand miles away from home and friends. Rev. Sam Jones will shortly begin a revival at Anniston, Ala.

The stand taken by the Minnecota republicans on the tariff question in their state platform is about as follows: "We hereby resolve to wait till the clouds roll by."

Two boys under 19 were married during the past week to widows, aged 41 and 43, respectively. No one gave the brides away, but they are the widows' mites, nevertheless.

If President Cleveland is not pleased with Jim Armstrong of Scottsboro, for Consul at St. Etienne to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Consul Coleman we want to suggest to him, if he will pardon our temerity, that Mr. W. E. W. Yerby, of Greensboro, Ala. is available and worthy timber for such a position.

The Nashville American pays the following deserved compliment to Dr. Cochran, President of our State Board of Health: "Dr. Jerome Cochran, who in the face of many other doctors, persisted in holding that the Spencer case at Decatur was yellow fever, is vindicated, though in a way that is most sorrowful. Dr. Cochran is a man who stands at the head of his profession in Alabama, and who does his duty fearlessly, regardless of consequences. His knowledge of yellow fever, acquired through many epidemics, makes him a high authority, and his presence at Decatur assures that all will be done that can be to prevent a spread of the disease."

Sheriff Porter, of Lawrence county, passed through the city yesterday with two prisoners he was taking to Newcastle. One of the prisoners was a white man, who had been convicted of grand larceny, and the negro, who had been convicted of forgery. Sheriff Porter had the white man and negro handcuffed and chained together by both the arms and feet. He had some business at the jail so marched his prisoners back and forth through the streets as they were, from the jail to the depot. It is against the law for any officer to handcuff, tie or chain a white man with a negro in Jefferson county. Porter was told this, but paid no attention to it.—Age.

Smith, of the Fort Payne Journal and the two Smiths, of the Prattville Progress, are "jawing" each other about the President's letter of acceptance, as if they knew something about it. The Smiths of the Progress are surprised to learn that Smith of the Journal is an anti-Cleveland man. Smith of the Journal is quite a savvy fellow and his opposition to the President is an old "chestnut" that has become very wormy with age, and its growth is due to the fact that Cleveland is among the "ins," and our brother Smith is still among the "outs." He is opposed to Cleveland because of the latter's delay in dealing out the spoils, and is in favor of Smith for President.

The Situation at Decatur.

One of the Age's Decatur correspondents gives his ideas in this morning's paper as to the origin and cause of the fever outbreak in that city. He may perhaps be correct but so long as it has assumed so malignant and fatal a form what difference does it make what kind of fever you call it? It may have been brought about by the upturning of decayed matter, it may have had a local origin, but we may as well leave all this kind of speculation to hair-splitting students of diseases. It appears to be contagious and kills like the deadliest poison. That is enough.

We believe the people of Decatur have acted wisely in deserting the town, and those who have gone away should stay away until all danger is passed. Those who have remained with the determination to do their part towards taking care of the poor and helpless, should have all the praise that their manly and heroic conduct entitles them to.

In the meantime no matter what kind of fever it is at Decatur, the outside world believes it is a contagious and deadly disease; the large number of people who fled from there also believe it, learned physicians believe it, and other cities must not be blamed for maintaining the strictest kind of quarantine until they are beyond danger.—B'ham Age.

Boycotting.

We have often heard of boycotting and boycotters, but have never been among the boycotting, and don't know that we have ever been boycotted.

During the last campaign we heard of threats of this character against this press, and against certain merchants who took an active part in behalf of the Democratic county ticket. It was not the first campaign in which such threats had been made, but we expected greater feats from this boycott than from any other. So far we have not felt any boycott, and we are disposed to think it has not yet been "put on" in our direction. For which, of course, we are truly thankful. Only three subscribers whom we can recall, have had their papers discontinued in the past three months, and two of those had other than political reasons for doing so—they were moving off. The third gave no reason, but if he is among the boycotters, we are inclined to think that the boycotting was all threats and "talk."

We have never heard of boycotting injuring any but the boycotters, and we can't believe that any of the merchants against whom these threats were made have been damaged, for we note that they are now driving a good trade.

The parties who spoke the loud, est and who were to lead the boycott were never subscribers to this paper, and there was no cause for alarm in this direction. Fact is, we have obtained quite a number of new subscribers lately, two of them being men who were nominees of the opposition to the Democracy. They probably recognize the fact that there is room enough in the world for us all.

There are too many people in the world for one class to succeed in anything like a boycott against another class.

A Cotton Bagging Factory.

The Farmers' Alliance of Mississippi are preparing to establish a factory for the manufacture of cotton bagging in that state. A meeting was held at Wiggins yesterday for the purpose of deciding where the factory shall be located.

The Bagging Trust was undoubtedly a blessing in disguise and has aroused the Southern planters to action and enterprise that must necessarily result in their lasting benefit.

It takes 42,000,000 yards of bagging annually to wrap the southern cotton crop. The covering heretofore used has been of jute grown in India and manufactured in Northern factories. Cotton bagging will serve every purpose that jute does and can be both grown and manufactured in the South.

Besides establishing new industries all over the South, giving profitable employment to capital and labor, these cotton bagging factories will create a new demand for the staple itself and hence enhance its price.

Necessity is the mother of invention, and but for this attempted extortion of the bagging Trust this new enterprise, that may prove of great advantage to the South, would never have been thought of.

All honor to the plucky Mississippi farmers for their prompt and decisive movement in this direction. Their example should be extensively followed.—B'ham Herald.

Moving to Pratt Mines.

A car load of household furniture belonging to Ike Vincent, the defaulting State treasurer, was shipped up from Montgomery yesterday. From here it was carried out to Pratt Mines, where Vincent's family will move in a few days. They have rented a house and will live permanently at Pratt Mines. It is understood that Vincent desires his wife and children to be near him where they can visit him often. The furniture consisted of beds, stoves, clothing, tables, chairs and other ordinary household goods. It was all of good quality and the family will doubtless live comfortably at the mines.—Age.

THE SOURCE.

An Appeal to the Masonic Fraternity of the State, to the Fraternity of Free and Accepted Masters of Alabama.

DEAR BRETHREN—The sad news comes to us that, along with the entire population of Jacksonville, Fla., our brethren in that city are in great suffering and destitution, in consequence of the epidemic of yellow fever now prevailing there.

The entire suspension of business has thrown out of employment many of our brethren, whose only dependence for support for themselves and their families, was upon their daily labor.

True to the principles of our Order, the Masons of Jacksonville have formed relief associations contributing of their own means to the wants of the afflicted and dying. But their limited resources are exhausted, and they now appeal to the Fraternity at large for help.

Brethren, the call is urgent. Let us act, and act at once.

Send funds to Brother James A. Conover, corner Bay and Laura streets, Jacksonville, Florida.

MYLES J. GREENE, Grand Master.

Yesterday Judge W. H. Pruett sent a communication to Gen. Benjamin Harrison, of which this is a copy: Eufaula, Ala., Sept. 18, 1888. Gen. Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, Ind. Dear Sir—I am a farmer. So were all my ancestors. My Great Grand Pa was a soldier in revolutionary war and was killed in a battle against the British. My Pa and Grand Pa both served Uncle Sam in his war with the Indians. I was born during the administration of your Grand Pa. My Grand Pa and my Pa were both strong supporters of your Grand Pa and named me William Henry Harrison for him. For that reason my Grand Pa's Grand son would like to support your Grand Pa's Grand son. But your Grand Pa's Grand son is on the wrong side of the fence to get the support of my Pa's Grand son in the present race. And then again, your Grand Pa's Grand son has gone back upon the record of his Grand Pa [who was a friend of the people] and belongs to the Republican party which places an unbearable tax upon the food and clothing which I have to buy for my family. Also upon my farming tools and household and kitchen furniture. It calls the above taxation protection. But the only protection it gives is to the monopolies and trusts. The protection which the shepherd gives who, being bribed by the wolves, turns them into the sheepfold. The sheep cannot even flee for their lives, as the walls of taxation are around them. Very respectfully, William Henry Harrison Pruett.—Eufaula Times.

An Important Opinion.

A contest that has arisen over the possession of the Sheriff's office in Barbour county brings out a question that is likely to prove very disturbing over the entire State until it has been finally determined by the Supreme Court.

The question is whether or not the old Sheriff's hold over until November or those elected in August came immediately into the rightful possession of the office?

The contestants in Barbour county submitted the question to Hon. Henry C. Tompkins, of Montgomery and he has printed a lengthy opinion in the Montgomery Advertiser in which he concludes that the term of office of the old Sheriff's does not expire until November.

Mr. Tompkins' legal ability is generally conceded, and such an opinion from him, sustained as it is by well considered argument, must necessarily prove a source of disturbance as the new sheriffs have taken possession of the offices in every county in the State except Barbour.

Georgia Farmers Will Not Use the Jute Bagging.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 23.—The merchants all over the South, and this State particularly, are greatly agitated over the failure of the farmers to bring in their cotton. The failure is due to the fact that the southern farmers have absolutely declined to use jute bagging at all and are holding their cotton in the gin houses, waiting to find some way to get ahead of the cotton bagging trust. Up to this time a year ago 1,143 bales of cotton had been received in Atlanta. This year up to the present time only 300 bales have been received in Atlanta, and what is true of Atlanta is true of this section generally.

Supporting Local Paper.

The people of Radford will not look in the direction of advertising the town. They will even attempt to cripple their town paper by patronizing offices of other towns with their job work and so forth. Still every one expects the Democrat to boom Radford for all it is worth.—Radford (Va.) Democrat.

We have seen many cases of this kind, and some business men seem to be incapable of appreciating the fact that every good local paper does its town ten times as much good as it is ever paid for. Men having large interests in a town and deeply concerned as to its progress often try to see how little they can do for their own local papers. The papers of the south are to-day doing far more for their country than they receive credit for. Day after day and week after week they are telling of its advantages of soil, climate, and minerals, and of its progress. The facts which they give are widely published in other papers, and thus the good work is carried far beyond their immediate circle of readers.—Journal of Commerce.

Some Birmingham lawyers of whom the Herald has taken occasion to inquire differ with Col. Tompkins, of Montgomery, on the question of the sheriff's tenure of office. There seems to be no doubt that the sheriffs now in position are sheriffs de facto and all of their official acts perfectly legal. The principal point involved is, who is entitled to the emoluments of the office from August to November.—B'ham Herald.

The Memphis Avalanche is advocating the establishment of a complete cordon around Memphis to keep out the yellow fever. It calculates that it will take five thousand men, at a cost of $140,000, to keep it up two weeks. But the Avalanche insists that this sum ought to be raised and the men be hired to stand guard around the city.

The Pittsburg Dispatch gives it as a rule for Democratic editors: "When you have no case abuse James G. Blaine and J. B. Foraker. Nothing that is said could be said about either of them."

From infancy to old age the human family is liable to some form of kidney trouble. Restore the action of the liver and kidneys to a healthy state with DUNCAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY MEDICINE, and both the kidney and bladder will be restored. Read what the Rev. Dr. Arnold, of Camden, says of Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine: "I was cured of Symptomatic Heart Disease, caused by a torpid liver and indigestion. Was troubled with it for 30 years, growing worse all the time, until I commenced taking Duncan's Liver and Kidney Medicine. Three bottles restored me to perfect health after all physicians and medicines had failed to give me any relief. Dr. Duncan's Medicine is better, if possible, than he represents them to be."

Early risers report frost on Saturday morning through this local.

Fine weather for gathering the crops, and crops are turning out better in this section than in the thought.

Judge Cobb will speak at Clanton on Monday, Oct. 15th, and at Clanton on Tuesday, Oct. 16th, as will be noticed from the list of appointments elsewhere published.

Public Speaking.

Hon. John W. A. Sanford, will address the people at Clanton, Saturday, Oct. 6.

Gen. James T. Holtzclaw will address our people the same day.

At Last.

On last Monday the post office at Clanton was made a money order office. We are glad to know it has been made so at last as the need was a great inconvenience heretofore.

Oyster Supper.

The M. E. Ladies' Aid society will serve oysters at the court-house next Friday night, Oct. 5th. Money to be used to plaster their church. They hope to receive the liberal patronage heretofore extended to them.

Read the announcement of the Clanton High School. Prof. Rufin, the new principal is a graduate of the Nashville Normal School and is well equipped as a fine scholar and teacher. He will prove a very desirable acquisition to our county, and Clanton in particular is to be congratulated upon securing his services.

We are requested by the depot agent to ask parents to forbid their children playing on the cotton that is on the depot platform as they might accidentally set it on fire. In climbing on it they pull pieces off and scatter it on the platform making it easy for sparks from the engines to do much damage.

Abstract of Assessment.

The abstract of assessment for Clanton county for the year 1888 which we have obtained from the office of the Probate Judge showed a very perceptible increase over the value of property in the county as shown by the assessment for the previous year. For 1888 the total value of real estate and personal property in the county is $1,942,478. In 1887 it was assessed at $1,864,832. An increase in value during the year of $77,646.

W. L. SAMPAY.

Good-bye, My Love; Good-bye.

When a summer ago when he left me here—A glimpse of smiles with never a tear, Till I said to him with a sob, my dear—Good-bye, my love; good-bye!

For I loved him, O, as the stars love night! And my cheeks for him blushed red and white. When first he called me his heart's delight—Good-bye, my love; good-bye!

But now, oh God! what an empty place My whole heart is! Of the old embrace And the kiss I loved there lives no trace—Good-bye, my love; good-bye!

He sailed not over the stormy sea; And he went not down in the waves—not he—But, O, he is lost—for he married me—Good-bye, my love; good-bye.—James Whitcomb Riley.

A Marriage.

Justice Screws married Lawrence Storrs and Fannie Henderson, a buxom couple from the country with the following "suggestions." "Marriage is at once the most sublime, exultant and soul enwrapping of all the Heavenly commands. The realization of love's young dream is the most blissful of all earthly joys, or at any rate the poet attunes his lyric so to say. Yet marriage sometimes comes to very unromantic phases; house rent, wash tubs, collars, occasional domestic broils, and if you follow the divine injunction and help to people the earth you will be afflicted with many lusty squalls. These parties propose to enter into this state; if there be objection let it be known." The Justice then married the tired couple with the ritual.—Advertiser.

HELP FOR THE SUFFERING.

How often a home is made sad by the suffering of some member of the family. How keenly the good wife sympathizes with her invalid husband, how greatly the kind husband hopes for his sick wife's recovery. Blessed be the men that furnish sick and aching humanity with a remedy that brings relief.

Isaac H. Orlow, M. D., N. C. writes: "I was troubled with skin disease for ten years. I had been afflicted for ten years. My wife had derived from your great and wonderful medicine, Dr. B. B. For two years she was a great sufferer from Scrofula or some blood disease which had taken almost all her life. To day my wife is perfectly healthy and clear from any scrofulous taint, and she now has a three months old babe also perfectly healthy. Very Respectfully, H. L. CASADY.

The cure for sickness 500 years ago was Neglect; 300 years ago, Sorcery; 100 years ago, Herbs and Drugs; 25 years ago Medicines; to-day it is Compound Oxygen.

Medicines weaken the whole system to strengthen one weak point; Compound Oxygen strengthens both.

A doctor's average bill is $50. Invest $15 in our "Home Treatment," and you will save the other $35, and feel better than you have for five years. Are you nervous? Those tired, sick headaches will vanish! Have you weak lungs? Give compound oxygen one chance to strengthen them. Have you Dyspepsia? It will cure you!

Remember always one thing. You risk absolutely nothing in trying our treatment. It is simply breathing different air; not "dosing," or "drugging," or going a thousand miles away from home and friends. It is breathing daily into your lungs, at your own home, the concentrated vitality of all the health resorts in the world.

Commissioner Kolb and party with "Alabama on Wheels" have returned from their trip through the northwest.

W. C. Hanlin, of Birmingham, is the Republican candidate for congress in the sixth district. He is a brother of Mr. J. M. Hanlin, of this county.

President Cleveland sent a little message back to congress along with his signature to the Chinese exclusion bill, which, like all of his documents, was a deadener to republican prospects. As a statesman and politician he has fairly won the championship of the United States, and the people will tell him on the 6th of November that he can retain the belt another four years.—Exchange.

The Republican senatorial tariff bill was reported last week. It proposes to take about $40,000,000 off of the customs two, thirds of which is from sugar and rice. The free list is increased to $9,000,000, instead of $20,000,000, as was provided in the Mills bill. The Republicans recognize the fact that some reduction was necessary, so they want to make it on Southern industries, while northern manufactures are protected to fullest extent.

Some of the Mississippi papers are drawing a parallel between the conduct of those State officials who remained in Jackson during the yellow fever panic and those who ran away. For instance Gov. Lowry is being severely criticised for abandoning his post while Mrs. Morancy, State librarian, who remained in Jackson is lauded for her fortitude in an hour of threatened danger. For himself courage gave us a woman every time.

A telegram from Philadelphia says the result of the re-union of Northern and Southern soldiers at Richmond last week will be to put an end to any more such re-unions, at least in the South. The Philadelphia Brigade which took part in the street parade, felt outraged at the exhibition of a Confederate flag, which they think was flaunted in their faces. If it was a re-union such as it should have been, of manly, good fellowship, pray what sensible objection could there be to both sides exhibiting the banners under which they fought.

After the Battle.

"The election is over and the great day has past,
But the sky with clouds is yet o'ercast;
And the loudest thunder in the distance rolls,
As the coons are hurrying to their hollow holes."

But, Mr. Editor, where are all the candidates that were a short time since, riding over the country, smiling so pleasantly, and so glad indeed to see and shake hands with the dear blessed people? They have disappeared, as we see no more of them.

Well, sir; the last seen or heard of the successful ones, they were still smiling, and they will continue to smile or grin, for many days hence; and, sir, they are happy too, as happy as can be, and they congratulate the county of Chilton in being so fortunate as to have secured their valuable services, and they have awakened to the reality that they are the coming men of Chilton's future greatness; that the offices have been seeking them a long time, and to their great surprise have just found them, and it will never do, no never, to let them go.

Well now, what about the defeated candidates? Do they accept their defeat as brave and patriotic men, feeling strong in their honest convictions, that they are right, and that they have discharged their duty to their friends and to the Democratic party, and not only friends and party, but to their country, and to the little innocent prattling children of to-day. Can they say as old Henry Clay did, when he uttered the motto of the great statesman, "That it is better to be right than to be President." Or are these defeated candidates crestfallen and demoralized, and writhing under the sharp sting of the ingratitude of Republicans, and abusing the ignorant Democrats for not seeing their great worth, and shaking their heads with threats of wrath, or some day hurl at the Democratic party, and go hurrying on the road to secededdom. There to comfort their disappointed souls, in hearing curses on the rotten and corrupt Democratic party, that they have just discovered to be so foul and black, that it is surprising they did not see it sooner.

Now, we do not say that the Alliance, Labor, or third party or whatever the party is to be called, is made up altogether of such material, for we are sorry to know that there are many good men in that party. Men whom we know to be upright, and who desire to do what is right in all things. Men for whom we have a high regard, but they have in some way suffered themselves to be misled into that mongrel party, a political party that is nameless. It was brought forth in the city of Montgomery last March and christened the labor party, but we find some in this county, who ignore that name, at the same time deny being Republicans; and we know that it is not a Democratic party, neither organized nor independent, because independent Democrats claim to be independent of any and all party organization or party machinery, and this new party has a strong secret organization. Any way it is a party where all soreheads go to blow and hiss and rant in ignorance, prejudice and wrath, because they are not smart men, or that they have not been able to get into office.

Some of these soreheads or chronic office-seekers were Democrats at one time, and favored organizations, and had their names before conventions. Dejected there, they ran for office independent, and defeated there they now belong to no party, but like enraged blind serpents, strike at every sound, whether it be music or discord. Every man of sense knows that the Democratic party has often gone wrong, as all other parties have and will do, that there are bad men in it, as there always have been, and always will be as long as it is a party, but there is one thing very certain, let the Democratic party go right or wrong, it is the only party for the white people of the South, and when we see it wrong, or being used by designing men to foster their selfish ends, it is the duty of every southern man who loves his dear southland, and who is true to the blood of the Caucasian race, to stick the closer to the principles of the Democratic party, to try as honest men, and as brave men, as patriotic men, and as white men, to keep the party straight.

In endeavoring to interest our people in their section and to get them to organize and adopt some plan for advertising it to the world at large the View has never met with much encouragement, financial or otherwise. As most of us are hampered with limited means nothing can be accomplished with out unity of action. The following is a paragraph for the perusal of those who are able to do much in assisting the county's progress and as yet have done nothing. It is applicable to this neighborhood as to any other.

What are the people of this town waiting for? Something to turn up? It will not turn up unless you lend a helping hand. Waiting for somebody to come along and take your property off your hands at your own figures? They won't come until you invite them and offer an inducement. There are too many towns anxious to build up and whose citizens are willing to put both feet forward in the attempt to get things started. When all the towns of this sort grow into cities it may then be our turn. But seriously, are you willing to wait? Don't you think it much better to move in the matter now? But, says one, we have no money. Well, there are many places in the South that started without money. You have lands; they are worth something. Organize a company and put your lands at what they would bring if sold. Say you subscribe in this way $25,000. Then have some one of your number appointed to correspond with capitalists seeking investments in the South. Offer them inducements to come into your company and furnish the cash capital needed to start it. When this is accomplished you have gotten over the worst part of the journey, and the rest is easy sailing. These capitalists will then become interested in building up the town and will go to work to effect it, by getting various industries started here and by improving their lands, laying them off into streets and lots, and by building a good hotel, etc. This is not idle talk. Other towns far less favored have done the same thing and are now prospering.

New Treatment for Yellow Jack.

The readers of the Times-Union will remember the letter published about three weeks ago from Mr. John N. Webb, of Birmingham Ala., in reference to an electrical treatment for yellow fever. Finding no response to his offers of aid, Mr. Webb, accompanied by Dr. Hercules Sancho, arrived in Jacksonville day before yesterday, and immediately went to work.

The daughter of Mr. Peters, of 180 Forsyth street, was found with a high fever, and fifteen minutes after the application of the electro-poison perspiration appeared. In half an hour more it was very profuse, and when the instrument was removed at 11 o'clock last night her temperature was normal. Yesterday she was dressed, and playing around the house to all appearances fully restored to health.

These gentlemen offer their services gratuitously to those suffering with the fever and guarantee cures if called at the time a physician should be sent for. The treatment is entirely harmless, and is attended by no unpleasant effects. They can be found at 130 W. Forsyth street, and will be glad to attend any in need of their services.

Some of our most prominent citizens (two or three physicians among them) are interested in the subject, and are investigating it. Physicians are especially invited to investigate the subject and test the efficiency of the treatment.

The printer, J. J. Dawson, who was obliged to leave off work at the Times-Union office on Friday night with a high fever, pains in his head, back and limbs, was removed to his room at 113 W. Adams street, and treated by Mr. Webb with Dr. Sancho's electro-libration cure. The treatment was applied, and the patient then left alone and asleep. When seen in the morning he was quite free of fever though rather weak, his pulse beat about 80 deg. He had slept sound all night, and was able to get up and open the door to admit Mr. Webb. He went down town during the afternoon, and wanted to work last night, but was advised not to do so.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

The New York Evening Post gives the following explanation of Old Hutch's deal in Chicago: "Toward the latter part of September, Mr. H. P. Hutchison, a member of the Chicago board of trade, made a calculation that he could buy all the wheat in the Chicago elevators and hold it for a few days. He then made another calculation that no large amount of wheat could be brought to Chicago from the elevators of Milwaukee, Toledo, St. Louis and other storage points, and be inspected and hoisted into stores and weighed and certificated before the close of business on Saturday, September 30. Having made these calculations he began to bet with his fellow-members that they could neither get wheat to Chicago from other points, nor get hold of any of the wheat that was actually in Chicago, during the remainder of the month of September. Naturally, he won all bets. Great efforts were made to run express trains loaded with wheat from St. Louis and other points to Chicago within the time mentioned in bets, but they were generally failures. This is the true explanation of the corner in September wheat at Chicago."

And this is why flour is selling at from $1.50 to $2.00 more per barrel than it ought to bring. It will hit the farmer who does not raise his own wheat a great deal harder than the bagging trust does.

Temperance and Regularity

Temperance is superior to regularity, and there is nothing regular in nature; everything is governed by circumstances and environment. The animal, vegetable and mineral kingdoms are irregular; they may run by the season, but not to the minute or the hour. Eat the right thing at the right time, follow the dictates of your appetite, and eat and drink with moderation. This is the kind of regularity I observe. I never have taken any note of the hour or minute for taking meals or doing anything else—circumstances control me. You may inquire what moderation is, and may say what is moderation for one may be immoderate for another. Very true. The answer to this is that if persons do not know what temperance and moderation are, it is their misfortune. The plain truth is, that few persons ever find out how to eat and drink till age overtakes them and it becomes too late to reform.—Wilson MacDonald in Herald of Health.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. Oct. 15.—The monthly statements of various coal and iron companies just issued show that the output of the Birmingham district have been larger than ever before. LOCAL NOTICES.

The Sweetest Eyes.

Which are the sweetest eyes to you? The brown, where fire and languor meet.

The sunny, laughing eyes of blue, Or black, with glances shy and fleet?

Or opaline, with changed hues, Or gray, where mind with beauty vies,

Or violet, so soft and true— Tell me, which are the sweetest eyes?

My darling bent her sunny head, Her radiant face seemed half divine, The sweetest eyes to me," I said, "Are those that look with love in mine."

Rev. A. E. Burns administered the ordinance of baptism to two converts on Sunday afternoon.

The Baptist Ladies Aid Society will give an Oyster Supper at the court house on Friday night, October 26th for the benefit of the church.

Chairman Macer Smith has issued an address to the Democrat. Voters of the Fifth Congressional District. It has the true ring and we will publish it in next issue.

Judge Cobb, Democratic nominee for Congress filled his appointments at this place and at Jemison on Monday and Tuesday. He gave us a very interesting address at Clanton. He is an out and out tariff man. We did not hear him talk at Jemison.

Mr. I. N. Langston calls the attention of the people of this section to the fact he is again in business "on his own hook" and ready to supply the wants of all his customers. He has in stock a large and complete stock of goods in his store at Clanton.

Shoes.

I have just replenished my stock of shoes and boots, and have in stock some of the best I have ever had and a good assortment of sizes. Come and examine my stock before you buy your shoes for the winter.

W. L. SANFORD.

Died, at Verbena, on the 13th inst., of typhoid fever, Mr. Dave Wells.

The deceased was a son of Mr. K. Wells.

Mr. C. R. Bruce brings us the champion sweet potato so far. It weighs five pounds, and measures 8 1/2 inches in length.

Jno. L. Cobbs & Co. of Montgomery, have a new advertisement in the View to which we invite the attention of the general public.

Mr. Cobbs of this firm has just returned from New York where he purchased a handsome and varied line of goods. If you need anything in his line call on him before purchasing.

A correspondent signing himself "K." sends us a communication which has been delayed, but will still be good reading for some, though perhaps nothing can be accomplished by it at this time.

While we cannot subscribe to all he says, yet he makes some good points on matters political and writes in an interesting vein.

Mr. E. B. Tullis has removed his china and glass ware establishment from his former stand on more Dexter Ave., Montgomery, to commodious and elegant quarters near the Exchange Hotel, on Commerce Street. Mr. Tullis is a most affable and agreeable gentleman and will be pleased to have you call on him when you need anything in his line.

For Delinquents Only.

Some few of our delinquent subscribers have overlooked the little matter of paying for their paper. Those who find this paragraph marked around with pencil will know that we want to hear from them. There is not much due, and we know that times are tight, but if you can't pay all you owe now, pay a part. Come to see us or send us the amount by postal note or registered letter. We hope no body will have a fit of the "jim jams" because this paragraph is marked.

Our correspondent "Prohibitionist" may be right in his surmise as to a blind-tiger in this locality but if there is a "tiger" in Clanton it is certainly a very blind one. Whiskey is brought here every day from Montgomery no doubt, but it is done openly and without violation of the law. In the prohibitionists will not see the law enacted for their benefit enforced and executed when violated, then it might as well be repealed. We are thankful that things are not as bad as they have been, and we see no cause for complaint as yet. The last term of the circuit court at which the criminal docket was disposed of in one day proves that prohibition is effectual here, and that the tax payers are already reaping the benefit. It is too easy to get whiskey from Birmingham and Montgomery, for any one to bother with selling it on the sly in Clanton. Our correspondent, however, may know of things about which others are in the dark, and if he does, he will no doubt make a report to the next grand jury. This, in our opinion, might do more good than a public meeting, though a meeting of the prohibitionists might accomplish something when needed.

The Pulaski Tenn., Citizen observes that the preachers in Nashville go to hear Sam Jones that they may hear something new.

But "let one of them attempt to imitate him from his pulpit by saying something only half as rough as Sam does, and he will be left alone in his robes or figuratively kicked from his pulpit." The Citizen must remember there is only one Sam Jones in the world.

CLANTON, ALA., OCT. 8, '88.

ED. CHILTON VIEW:—Knowing how spasmodic is man's zeal in the execution of prohibition laws, and how persistent his greed for money and love of whiskey, it has ever been an unsolved problem with the writer, as to the propriety of such laws, though I have always been in sympathy with the good people who wished to prohibit.

That sobriety followed prohibition for a while I am glad to admit, but so sure as "time, the tomb-builder still marches on" so sure has the seal of the prohibitionist waned, and the greed for money and love of whiskey waxed strong, and the odor of "bug juice" taints the air at every turn.

There was a time when our beautiful forest embowered village was a sweet-scented place of refuge for the inebriate fleeing from his cups, but alas, alas, my countrymen, what a change! Such an one now finds it no haven of rest, but must shake the dust of the place from his feet, and sometimes before breakfast, ere the tempter beguiles him.

Unless "all signs fail in a dry town" as they do in dry weather there is "tiger" and probably a "blind" or otherwise dependent sayeth not, lurking in the jungle, and unless prohibitionists bestir themselves disgrace is inevitable. Let's have a public meeting to devise ways and means to execute the law. What say you? PROHIBITIONIST.

A Lively Campaign Note.

Arizona Howler.

We owe no grudge to Col. Hastings because he once cuffed our ears in the corridor of the town hall. We had proved him a liar, a swindler, and absconder, and he had to cuff to save his reputation.

The colonel is now seeking the nomination for sheriff and is promising in ease he is elected to secure our town a government appropriation of $250,000 to build a public building. We are actuated only by the kindest motives when we say that the colonel is a blooming deceiver. He can no more secure a dollar from Uncle Sam than we can borrow one of the hinges from the gates of heaven. All the influence he has in this world of sin and sorrow is confined to the Red Hot saloon and its crowd of reprobates. Do not be deceived in castor-oil voice of the colonel.

A PHYSICIAN'S WARNING!

Of all the terrible, soul-affrightening ills that afflict all classes of humanity, nothing in all ages has ever approached comparison to the ravages of BLOOD POISON. That slow, insidious destroyer of flesh and life. Alas! How often just such an affliction loves to affect a noble life with its poisonous taint. It strikes with destructive aim the most notable, sparing neither king nor statesman. Even unto the third generation are the sins of the fathers made manifest. What a fearful heritage to bequeath an innocent child! Alas! the ravages of this affliction! To its activity is due sore-throat, SORES, sore liver, sore kidneys, sore lungs, sore skin, great ulcers, internal, external and eternal unless proper treatment is applied. The best remedy is a prescription used extensively in private practice by an old Atlanta physician. It is now prepared a thousand gallons at a time, and is sold in large bottles at only one dollar per bottle. It is called B. R. R. or B. R. R. Blood Balm. Under its peculiar influence the blood poison first becomes passive, then divided, and lastly is eradicated through the liver, through the kidneys, and through the pores of the skin. It is clearly the duty of every one who suspects the least trace of syphilis or venereal poison in their blood, whether recently from contagion or from inheritance, to get it out of their system thoroughly by the use of this great remedy so that pleurisy, pneumonia, scurvy, gonorrhea, kidney disease, and other symptoms will not be transmitted to innocent posterity. Demand it of your druggist and take the substance true. Testimonials from those who have tried it may be found in the (Birmingham) Book of Wonderful Cures sent free to any address by the B. R. R. Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga. [sep27 cw 17]

T. E. CALLIER & SON,

The cure for sickness 500 years ago was Neglect; 300 years ago, Sorcery; 100 years ago, Herbs and Drugs; 25 years ago Medicines; to-day it is Compound Oxygen.

Medicines weaken the whole system to strengthen one weak point; Compound Oxygen strengthens both.

A doctor's average bill is $50. Invest $15 in our "Home Treatment," and you will save the other $35, and feel better than you have for five years. Are you nervous? Those tired, sick headaches will vanish! Have you weak lungs? Give compound oxygen one chance to strengthen them. Have you Dyspepsia? It will cure you!

Remember always one thing. You risk absolutely nothing in trying our treatment. It is simply breathing different air; not "dosing," or "drugging," or going a thousand miles away from home and friends. It is breathing daily into your lungs, at your own home, the concentrated vitality of all the health resorts in the world.

The Montgomery Dispatch becomes "rich, rare and racy" as it grows older. It humorously alludes to the "decomposition" of the Birmingham dailies. Heretofore we supposed it was only a "consolidation."

An Alabama paper published the following notice: "Married at Flintstone, by the Rev. Samuel Windstone, Ephraim Grindstone to Emeline Sandstone, both of Limestone. Lookout for a lot of small Grindstones."

There are 3000 women telegraph operators in England earning anywhere from $300 to $1000 a year. The telegraph being a branch of the civil service in England, it is necessary for them to pass a competitive examination before employment is given them.

The bravery of the doctors of Decatur, fifty per cent. of whom have gone down to death in the terrible epidemic, is rarely seen or equaled. These men, sacrifices to duty, deserve places beside the grandest and the noblest of earth's heroes.

An effort will be made to have the next Legislature amend the law which allows a mortgagor to redeem mortgaged property. The purpose is to permit the mortgagor to waive his right of redemption. This being done he will be enabled to borrow money on mortgage security at a lower rate of interest. Such an amendment would be desired by both the borrower and the lender.

AN ADDRESS.

To the Democratic Voters of the Fifth Congressional District.

On Tuesday, the 6th day of November proximo, a very important election will be held, an election, indeed, which will be fraught with untold good or evil to the entire American people. At that date the voters of all the States of the Union will have an opportunity of exercising the invaluable franchise vouchsafed under our free institutions; of choosing by ballot certain citizens to be elected to cast their suffrages for President and Vice President of the United States; and in this District of Alabama, as well as in other districts of the State, the great duty is imposed of selecting by a direct vote of the people an immediate representative in the Congress of the United States. The Democratic party of Alabama, at its late State convention in Montgomery, nominated for your consideration at the polls in November a list of candidates for presidential electors who are worthy of your support and endorsement selecting as a candidate for elector for our district, a distinguished citizen in the person of the Hon. J. P. Oliver, of the county of Tallapoosa. The representatives of the party in the Fifth district at the recent convention in Wetumpka, nominated for re-election to the office of Congressman, Judge James E. Cobb, of the county of Macon who has already so faithfully and acceptably represented the interests of the people in the councils of the National Legislature. It is with in the power of Democratic voters to vindicate or abrogate the nominations thus made and promulgated by the conventions. Shall the honored banner of Democracy which has thus been placed in the hands of true and worthy standard-bearers, be suffered to trail ignominiously in the dust of defeat? Shall not the devoted hands of Judge Cobb and Col. Oliver and the electoral candidates be valiantly upheld and sustained until glorious, white-winged victory shall proudly perch upon the bright standards of the party ere the setting of the sun on the 12th of November? To make a struggle for the vindication of Truth, and then be discomfited by the serried forces of Error, is never without laurels for the fallen hero. But to passively submit to the intrusion and encroachments of the enemy and not attempt to repulse and drive back the reckless invader of our peace and happiness, would indeed be an offense of exceeding magnitude and criminality. The Democracy of the Fifth Congressional district may justly assert claims to the distinction of "Old Guard" of the party in the State. Proud of its unbroken series of victories in the past, secure in its large majority over the motley hosts of the enemy, and strong in the unanimity which pervades its harmonious councils, the war-cry, the slogan of "Up, Guards, and at them!" need only to be uttered over its commanding hills and across its faithful valleys to secure the faithful service and earnest co-operation of every true member of the party. Let the war-cry be heard now, and let the camp-fires be lighted in every valley and on every hill-top from Bibb to Chambers, and from Macon to Attala again. The Republican party has nominated a State electoral ticket, composed solely of Republicans, and presented a Republican competitor of our candidate for Congress in the district, hoping doubtless by the seeming apathy in the ranks of our party that many Democrats will not vote in the election, and that by a full and solid vote on their part to succeed in electing their candidate, and thus accomplish the defeat of our chosen standard-bearers. Shall we, by indifference and apathy, and by culpable neglect of duty on election day suffer such a disgraceful disaster to befall our time-honored party and stain its proud escutcheon. No! Not so long as we remember that our opponent is the same party that disfranchised many of our best and noblest citizens, that displaced virtue and intelligence with vice and ignorance, that tried to make white secondary and subservient to black, that misappropriated and squandered the public money wrong from the Democratic tax payers of the State, that utterly depleted and left empty our State treasury, that taxed our people almost beyond the limit of endurance that piled up and bequeathed a state debt of nearly $40,000,000, and is to-day endeavoring to perpetuate a most grievous system of Federal taxation, which was born of necessities of the late civil war and which in its civil rates of tariff upon imports increases the gains of a few millionaires at the expense and to the impoverishment of the laboring people of the country. No such calamity to the Fifth District will ever occur so long as we are moved by memories of the Democratic party and its glorious achievements. Under its benign influence and wise direction of government offices this great country grew and developed from the thirteen original colonies to its present wonderful proportions of thirty-eight states and ten territories. Founded almost contemporaneously with the formation of our Government at its foundation upon the Constitution itself, and will doubtless live so long as statesmanship shall respect and be guided by the limitations and provisions of that sacred instrument. It has always been the champion of the rights of the people and the inveterate foe of tyranny and oppression. Until the year 1860 it had almost invariably overcome all opposing political organizations. It is the party that in 1874 defeated Radicalism in Alabama, "cleansed out the Augean stable," and has since then given us pure, honest and economic government. In 1884 it elected Grover Cleveland to be President of the United States, and his administration has restored the Executive department of the general government to its pristine character for incorruptibility and devotion to the public welfare. Can we afford to suffer the Fifth district to be classed outside of the Democratic column? A thousand considerations and patriotic appeal and cry aloud to us to go to the polls on Tuesday, the 6th day of November proximo, and vote for Judge J. E. Cobb for Congress; and for the Presidential electoral ticket of the Democratic party of the State. Scarcely three weeks will elapse before the momentous election day. Our candidates, true and faithful, are in the field, addressing the people in the different counties of the district. They, a few faithful coadjutors alone, cannot do all the work of the campaign. Let each individual member of the party in the district do all he can for the cause that needs assistance, from now until the closing of the polls on the 6th proximo, and shout and praise of victory will again go up from thousands of lips and tongues in this good Democratic district of Alabama.

Prohibition Electors.

The following list was furnished us as containing the names of the Prohibition Presidential Electors in this state. We give it a place in our columns for the information of the public:

J. O. Orr, F. J. Tyler, J. C. Rankin, Peter Findlay, J. F. Coldman, W. C. Denison, M. E. Dozier, Edward Leslie, Andrew Jackson and B. W. Eddy.

A good story is related about the experience of a New York political reporter. A man told him to bet $500 on Hewitt. He got a man to put up $500 against Hewitt and put up $250 for it. Then he returned to his principal, who told him that he had been able to get odds and would not bet even money. The reporter sorrowfully went back to the Hoffman House, expecting to see the other man appear and take the forfeit. The other man did not turn up. The reporter made a bluff and took the forfeit money.

A Father's Marvelous Feat.

In the forest of Esterel, France, a man and woman were at work recently in a field, and not far from a babe, an infant 6 months old was lying in its cradle which had been moved to the front of their cottage in order that the little cherub might inhale the fresh air under the watchful gaze of its fond parents. Suddenly a noise was heard when an enormous eagle was seen to descend from the cerulean sky, seize the babe with beak and claws and then to soar once more toward the sun, when the distracted father rushing madly into his hut took up his gun and without a moment's hesitation pointed his weapon at the cruel bird and fired. The eagle dropped earthward as dead as a door nail, and its slayer now performed another feat which would have won him any amount of applause at Lord's. He held out his hands and caught the child as it fell, the little one escaping without so much as a scratch, and returning from its journey into mid-air as "bright as a button."—London Telegraph.

A Governor of Greenland.

The governor of the Danish colony of Greenland receives by the ship which brings him his annual supplies, copies of the daily papers of Copenhagen for the year preceding. He arranges these papers in the order of their dates, and then quietly and calmly reads a paper each day, just as though it was fresh from the press. He is sometimes strongly tempted to peer into futurity by reading some papers ahead when he comes across interesting news; but he resists the temptation, no matter how anxious he is to know the fate of some measure. One day's paper for each day is his rule; and at the end of the year he is thoroughly familiar with the news of the preceding year. He says he is just as happy as though he pulled each day's paper off the press.—New York Tribune.

Easily Impressed.

"Only those who have been roused from midnight slumber on ship board by the terrible cry, 'man overboard,'" said the traveler, "can comprehend, to the full its terrible meaning, the fear and horror in its sudden alarm." "Oh, yes, they can," replied the little lame shoemaker, who wasn't much of a traveler. "I heard it once when I wasn't near the ship, and I realized the horror of it more than any one else." "You couldn't," said the traveler, scornfully. "Yes, I could," persisted the little lame shoemaker. "I was the man who was overboard."

The Question of Kissing.

A lady who has given the matter much attention is authority for the declaration, says the Savannah News, that in kissing, all men kiss with too much force. A kiss to be appreciated by a girl, must be gentle and not rough, and under no circumstances should have any suggestions of tobacco or John Barleycorn. As the result of comparing notes with many lady friends, married and engaged she asserts that the kisses of three-fourths of mankind, husbands and brothers, are "smoky."

The Rock Mills of Randolph county, Ala., are making a cotton bagging that is said to be very fine and that has successfully stood all the tests. It is thought to be better than the jute bagging, and is much wider and stronger than bagging made by the Lane Mills, of New Orleans. It weighs thirteen ounces to the yard, is 48 inches wide and sells for 12 1/2 cents per pound. The capacity of Rock Mill is 1,500 yards per day.

Hanson Craig, of Kentucky, is one of the greatest men of his day and generation. His weight is 702 pounds, and it requires thirty-seven yards of cloth to make him a suit. He is six feet four and one-half inches in height, is 31 years old and weighed eleven pounds at birth. When 2 years old he took a $1000 prize at the baby show in New York, tipping the beam at 203 pounds at that time. His father weighed 115 pounds and his mother 125.

"There is one thing," said a laundryman to his cashier, "that I want you to be very particular about. Always require cash from a young man who doesn't change the ends of his cuffs. It's a sign of extravagance that can't be mistaken."

Butter Mirror: A gentle-

from Bologna informed us a few days since that the negroes are organizing a Farmer's Alliance in this county right along. Already two or three have been organized near Bologna, and as many at Mt. Hebron, and probably other places. Our informant said he had seen a copy of the constitution of the order, and it appeared to be entirely in regard to the building up of the social status of the members.

The republicans have put out the following electoral state ticket: Robt A. Mosley Jr., William Henderson, Edward W. Williams, James H. Perdue, James C. Flournoy, B. O'Neill James, Charles D. Alexander, Asa B. Stratton, Napoleon B. Spears, Burwell C. Lanier. The two first named are for the state at large and the others for the districts in the order named.

Mr. J. J. L. Stewart, the Secretary of the county Alliance of Autauga county, is a very breezy writer, and seems to be after "Bro." J. A. Logan, of Clanton, with a sharp stick. He has this to say in the last issue of the Alabama Farmer:

In his first letter Bro. Logan accuses me of having said a great deal about other members of the committee and State Alliance, in his last. He asks me to confine myself to the truth, when I assail an Alliance man through the columns of a newspaper; his representations in this respect only show that he is howling for help, and that he would gladly have me say something that would bring some one to his aid, that he wants help is plainly evinced by the fact that he wounded me through his county in the hope that he could take up something against me at home.

As to Clanton's Alliance allow me to assure those brethren (unless Bro. Logan claims to be the Alliance), that I have nothing to charge against them, but as Bro. Logan says they consider me a puff, I accept the term and promise them to puff a breeze on him that will look awkward, to say the least.

We regret to see such prominence given personal disputes every week by the official organ of the Alliance. It can do no good. Furthermore, we look to the Alabama Farmer to give us something on farming and agriculture for our columns and for the instruction of its readers. We have looked in vain. The View gives its readers something on the subject of agriculture in nearly every issue, but the Alabama Farmer, strange to relate, seems to dodge this subject very successfully.

Being More Pleasant.

BLOOD AND BRAIN.

Pure blood is what oils the machinery of life, eases every movement of the body, removes stiffness of the joints, drives out pain from the nerves, stimulates the brain, protects the liver and kidneys from irritation, enables physical exertion without fatigue, prolongs life, and makes men and women perfect in health and feature. Good blood and good brain are inseparable. Aim to keep the blood pure by using the only true blood remedy, B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm).

Miss S. Tomlinson, Atlanta, Ga., says:

"For many years I have been afflicted with rheumatism combined with severe kidney troubles, indigestion and nervous prostration. Several physicians were employed and numerous patent medicines resorted to without benefit. At last I began the use of B. B. B., and its effect was like magic. Rheumatic pains ceased, my kidneys were relieved, and my constitution improved at once."

Z. T. Hallerton, Macon, Ga., writes:

"Three years ago I contracted a blood poison. I applied to a physician at once, and his treatment came near killing me. I employed an old physician and then went to Kentucky. I then went to Hot Springs and remained two months, but nothing seemed to cure me permanently, although temporary relief was given me. I returned home a ruined man physically, with but little prospect of ever getting well. I was persuaded to try B. B. B., and to my utter astonishment it quickly healed every ulcer."

W. C. McGaughey, Webb City, Ark., writes:

"I owe the comfort of my life to a use of B. B. B. I was troubled with blood poison. I was afflicted for five or six years, and found no relief equal to that given by this valuable remedy."

Mrs. Emma Griffith, Uxilla, Tenn., writes:

"The doctors said my boy twelve years old had scrofula. His knees were drawn up and joints were stiff, and for three years he had been unable to walk. One bottle of B. B. B. has done him so much good he can now walk, and his pain has ceased. It is a real joy to his mother. [sep27 cw 17]

The Way to Win.

If on the field of love you fall,
With smiles conceal your pain;
Be not to love too sure a thrall,
But lightly wield his chain.
Don't kiss the hem of beauty's gown,
Or tremble at her tear,
And when caprices weight you down,
A word within your ear.
Another lass, another lass,
With laughing eyes and bright—
Make love to her,
And trust me, sir,
'Twill set your wrongs aright.

When'er a sweetheart proves unkind
And greets you with a frown,
Or laughs your passion to the wind,
The talk of all the town,
Plead not your cause on bended knee
And murmured sighs prolong,
But gather from my minstrelsy
The burden of my song:
Another lass, another lass—
There's always beauty by—
Make love to her,
And trust me, sir,
'Twill clear a clouded sky.

A Saw-Mill Man's Kindness Rewarded.

Southern Lumberman.

Sometimes a good man suffers a severe and heavy loss, which under ordinary circumstances, would crush out all hope, yet the adversity is often the direct means of finding friends in quarters least expected. When J. F. Maul's mill at Strasburg, Ala., was destroyed by fire (mentioned in our last issue) his saw-mill crew and loggers came up in a body and requested that they be allowed to work without pay until his saw and planing mill was put up in running order. They stated, as a reason, that Mr. Maul had given them steady employment at full pay when lumber was cheap and the demand dull and now that an opportunity presented, they wanted to show their appreciation in a substantial way. He declined this kindness but it roused his old pluck and energy, and as a result he has completed and ready for work one of the best mills in Alabama.

Some of our readers will remember an accident that occurred to a passenger train early one morning last spring on the L. & N. road near Mr. Maul's mill, and will better remember a well-built, smooth face, jolly-looking man, who came to the train and said: "you are likely to remain here for some hours, and I invite you all to come to my house for breakfast ladies first, right this way!" That man was J. Fox Maul, and he fed seventy-five people that morning free of charge, and without hope of reward.

Such a man will always succeed, will never have a strike, and we are glad he is in the saw mill business. We expect some day to have the pleasure of proclaiming him king of the yellow pine trade.

UNAPPRECIATIVE.

How little we are apt to appreciate that which we possess. The hardy wood-sawyer envies the wealth of his employer. The rich man envies the health and strength of his poor neighbor.

"Our mind and our time we employ
In longing for what we have not,
Unmindful of what we enjoy."

How much better if all exerted themselves to obtain their heart's longing. If poor in purse seek to gain wealth by industrious and frugal habits. If poor in health seek to use those remedies which are the best and truest medicines. Among remedies sold by druggists none is the equal of Botanic Blood Balm for curing the ills of flesh and blood.

Felix Foster, Atlanta, Ga., says: "I took B. B. B. for several foul ulcers, which had given me much trouble and would not heal from a use of other remedies. Within ten days my health improved, and before I had used three bottles every sore was entirely healed. It improved my appetite and gave me flesh and strength."

Hudson Clark, Camden, Ark., says: "I was afflicted with the severest form of rheumatism for about 13 years, and suffered extreme misery during all that while. I also had catarrh so bad I almost stopped my breathing through my nose. My flesh in some places looked as if it had been charred or scalded. My back was so lame I could hardly stand. I tried nearly every thing but found that none would cure me until I tried B. B. B. I used several bottles and am now as sound and well as any man in Arkansas."

Mr. G. A. Davis, late of the New Orleans press, will commence the publication of a weekly paper in Birmingham next Thursday to be called the Bessemer Journal.

The ladies of the Memorial Association, of Montgomery, have determined to do everything possible the coming winter to raise enough money to complete the Confederate Monument in that city.

A courier arrived at Jackson, Minn., Friday with the news that on Thursday afternoon a prairie fire swept over Sioux Valley township, Jackson county, and destroyed thousands of dollars worth of property and five lives.

We notice that Capt. R. F. Kolb, State Agricultural Commissioner has selected Rev. S. M. Adams, as a delegate to the National Agricultural Congress from the seventh congressional district. Mr. Adams lives in Bibb county, which is in the fifth district.

The National Free Press notes the fact that "Gen. Wheeler, of Alabama, attended every session of the House, day or night, from the time it met in December until it adjourned on the 20th of October." This was a commendable record and has never been beaten.

If Cleveland carries the solid South and all the Northern States regarded as close, i. e., New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, California and Nevada, he will have even 300 votes, and 199 majority.

A number of correspondents and other friends of the Herald frequently enquire about the correct way to spell Tuscaloosa. The latter part of the preceding sentence answers the question, and the only authority at hand here and now is the bare assertion that there is, never has been, and never can be any other correct way of spelling it.—Bham Herald.

The Herald is correct. The proper spelling is with a "k" instead of "c." Dr. Wm. S. Wynne, of the State University, who has given much study to the Indian dialects, is all the authority needed on this point.

From J. A. Logan.

ED. FARMER.—As Brother Stewart has been swelling, stretching and spreading himself against me through your columns, I am compelled to ask space of you to reply to him. In the first place I want to ask him to confine himself to truth strictly when he assails an Alliance through the columns of a newspaper. He desires to convey the impression that my Clanton brethren, do not like me. He says "as to the course they advised, I don't feel at liberty to disclose, as I don't want to bring any brother into this wrangle." I will here say to brother Stewart that these Clanton brethren are willing for him to disclose anything they said. They simply considered him a puff. Again he says, "as to charge no. 2, that I have interfered with his plans of organization." He says he never interfered with my plans but does acknowledge writing to a brother, who he supposed would not approve his organizing without a commission to beware of brother L. This must have meant something that was very spurious, for he wrote a brother to beware of me, and then says, he requested that I have all aid possible, if I should go in there to organizing. He then comes to full stop, and I suppose draws a long breath and says, "now then for facts." I am proud indeed that he was honest enough to confess that the proceedings of this article, was untrue and proposed to come to the facts. But Alas! He failed to get there. He begins by saying the organization of the county Alliance April 7th several Alliances went to Bro. L. and requested him to deputize some one to organize the county, and at their request I allowed them to suggest my name to him, and authorized them to make such terms with him as they saw fit. He says my reply was that I had received several letters from the county requesting me to come down and get up alliance. This is an other had mistake. I said I had written to several places and ed to get any answer, that is just what I am complaining about when I said "I hoped Bro. Stewart had not interfered with my arrangements" so any one can easily see why I never went down to organize those people. It took the most of my time to attend to the important duties incumbent upon me and the balance to read and answer the numerous letters written by Bro. S. He says I should have answered one any how. I answered all the letters I ever received from him but one, the reason for not answering it was, I supposed he would get his commission before a letter could reach him from me, (which was then at the post office.) Bro. Coburn President of the County Alliance told me that he did not expect an answer to his, I know he did not from the contents of it. Now Mr. Editor, I heard of a young Lady once, who was very much disturbed by a young man who wanted her to say yes, and she married him to get clear of him. But I am not willing to marry Bro. Stewart, to get clear of him, so you can see why I was not willing to spend all my time and means writing to him. However I was and am still willing to answer all important letters written me by Bro. Stewart, and if I could have had any idea there would have been any mishap about his commission, I certainly would have written him. I am sorry I did not ask all pardon of him. Again he asks if I am unwilling to conform to Art. 2 Sec. 9, of the constitution & I must say I have never been able to find that Sec. in the constitution of the State Alliance of Alabama. So you see he has made another mistake and blunder.

He still goes on with more clash trying to get the Alliance brothers and sisters of this grand old State to believe I have collected the pitiful sum of thirty cents unjustly from his County. When I collected the fees from his county Bro. Stewart was carrying the bag, and Bro. Coburn County President instructed him to allow 25 cents more to compensate for my trouble, he did so but it was very reluctantly. I suppose as he wants me to give his county credit for it. As to the other 5 cents I know nothing of it, he may have taken a drink of cider, or lost it or forgotten what he did with it. And again he says he thinks that this was Reynolds last dodge and that I would never have broke over, if they had not threatened to fire the bush. I heard of no threats by any one except Bro. Stewart and I will assure one and all that I am not afraid of him and have not done any dodging or breaking over as he accuses me of. He says, as Job did to his counselors, that I don't think wisdom will die with him. I do not know how he wishes to apply this if to me, I am proud he puts so much confidence in my wisdom I fear it will never live with him. Now Mr. Editor, I hope this will end this wrangle between Bro. S. and I. I love Bro. Stewart, and think he is a good man, but he don't like to hold back. He kicks out of the harness sometime, before the vehicle runs on him. Hoping that Bro. Stewart will come up and spend the night with me that we may settle our little trouble, I will close.

Yours to the end,

J. A. Logan.

A BIG RAILROAD DEAL.

Wall Street Sharps Working to Unify All the Important Southern Lines Under One Management.

Philadelphia Record.]

A deal of gigantic proportions, by which all the railroads in the Southern portion of the country, are to eventually come under the control of a syndicate of Wall street sharps, is now under way, and should the pending negotiations reach a successful consummation, which it is thought likely they will, there will be created one of the greatest monopolies that ever existed, a trust that will rule Southern industries and manufactures with a rod of iron, and an organization so extensive in its ramifications that it will eventually control the whole section of country in which it conducts its operations. This section is south from the Ohio river to the Gulf of Mexico and east from the Mississippi to the seaboard.

The little handful of men who even now are at work with all their shrewdness and cunning on this scheme are gamblers in railroad stocks and bonds—men who have no interest whatever in the welfare of the country in general, and men who would not scruple to ruin the commercial interests of the entire country if their own private interests could be benefited thereby. In the event of their success they will make their own rates for the shipping of freight. They will control the output of agricultural and manufactured products by regulating the amount of freight to be carried, and, having a complete monopoly, will dictate practically what shall become of the goods.

The first step toward carrying out the deal was taken a few days ago, when the Richmond Terminal Railroad Co. bought the Georgia Central Railroad and all its connections. The bargain has already been consummated, one-half of the $4,200,000 purchase money having been paid.

With a view of preventing this deal, or at least of undoing what has been done, the Law Counselors Samuel Dickson, and Joseph L. Doran, representing Nicholas Thon and William Burr, of this city, and other stockholders, applied to the Chancery Court of Tennessee, at Knoxville, for an injunction against the lease of the East Tennessee Railway system to the Richmond & Danville Railroad Company. The Court directed the bill to be filed, and has fixed November 16 for argument. The application is made upon the ground that the Richmond and Danville is a competing line both in Tennessee and Georgia with the East Tennessee Road; that under the laws of those States, the leasing of one road by a competing road is forbidden, and a penalty of forfeiture is incurred. It is believed that the consolidation of these systems would be very disastrous to the development of the sources of the country about Atlanta, Chattanooga and Birmingham by making those points solely dependent upon one line of communication with the outside world. By the block given to the development of the progressive interests at these points it is believed that eventually the East Tennessee system would greatly suffer.

By the consummation of this impending deal one vast monopoly will control about 7000 miles of tracks, extending through at least seven southern States. One main line sweeps from Alexandria, Va. through Danville, Va., Charlotte, N. C., and Atlanta, Ga., to the Mississippi river at Greenville, Miss. From West Point to Danville runs an important stem. From Bristol, Tennessee, another main line is carried south to Mobile, Ala., and west from Cleveland, Tennessee, to Memphis, and southeast from Cleveland through Atlanta to Brunswick, on the Atlantic coast. By the recently acquired control of the Georgia company the Terminal secures other important lines from Birmingham and Montgomery, Ala., Atlanta, Ga., Greenville and Spartanburg, S. C., to Port Royal and Savannah.

There are also negotiations under way for the purchase of several smaller roads that have their termini at points in the South, and which will be essential to the completion of the contemplated monopoly.

The Birmingham Age has been adopted by the CHILTON VIEW and one or two other papers as a political and journalistic model, and it is a good model, too, in most respects, although its politics have not been entirely satisfactory in every particular; still that is an objection which can be reasonably raised against almost every paper in the country.

This is said, however, merely as introductory to calling the attention of the CHILTON VIEW and some other papers which have found fault with the Journal's sentiments to the following extract from the Age which contains the very same doctrine which those papers condemned in the Journal. We want to see if they are as ready to criticize in one case as in the other. Here is the paragraph in question:

"The great majority of the Democrats with whom the civil service reform mugwumps have allied themselves are not in sympathy with their ideas of reform. They believe that the party should support its friends and not its enemies; that the administration in all its departments from the highest officers to their lowest subordinates, should be taken from the ranks of the party. That is the Democratic idea and no doubt of it, and if Cleveland is re-elected there will not be as much reform in the civil service, according to the mugwump idea, as there has been during the present administration."

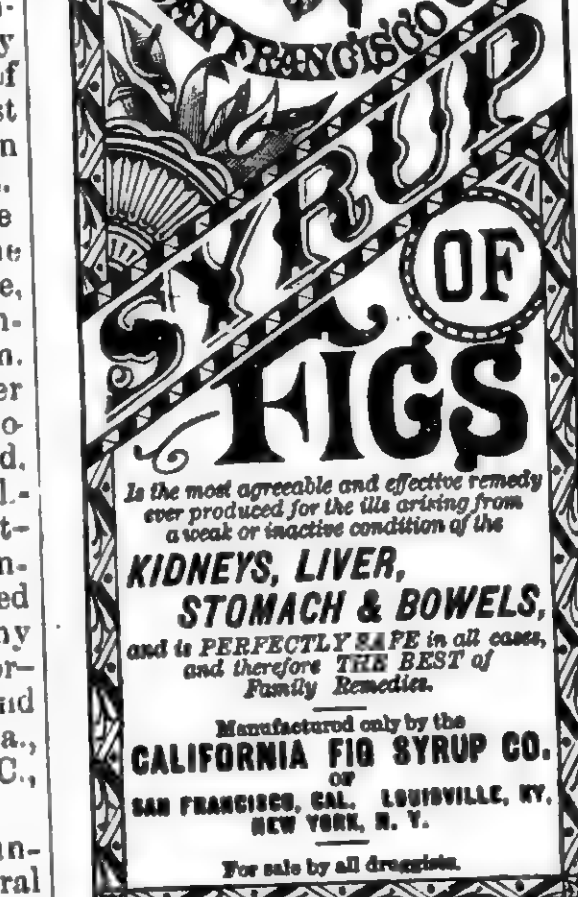

The above is from the Fort Payne Journal. The Journal is mistaken in a very important point. We much prefer Mr. Cleveland as a model to the Age. The View has never agreed with the Age in damning President Cleveland because of his low tariff message. The View favors tariff reduction to a revenue basis with protection as an "intentional incident" believing that will afford home industries all the protection needed. The Age favors protection for the sake of protection.

advisers have recognized the wisdom of going slowly in this matter, and therein we think he has shown a degree of statesmanship that raises him above the ordinary spoils politician. In short the View thinks that Mr. Cleveland is the best President the country has ever had without a single exception, and this service aspires to no political place of his giving.

The Montgomery Dispatch explains the condition of the Journal briefly yet vigorously in the following:

The Fort Payne Journal in a grumbling mood dictates that "there is no disguising the fact that the people at large have been in some measure disappointed in Mr. Cleveland's administration." The mistake of the Journal consists in the fact that it looks upon a small coterie of sour-hearted Democratic malcontents—like itself—as "the people at large." That's all.

The outlook for Alabama was never fairer than now. A fine crop both of cotton and fowls has been harvested. With the exception of Decatur the state has been blessed with health. Gradually surely and fast enough the state is being pushed on in her great career.—Ex.

WE LEAD THEM ALL!!

WE are unapproachable when it comes to looking after the interest of our trade. Our Low Prices and continual rush of customers verify this fact. We are daily receiving dead loads of sparkling new styles and effervescent bargains!

classes of laborers who are received for the hard work. But as the work was good and the running expenses seem so light I was much surprised to learn that the prison was not self-supporting, only seven-tenths of the total cost being realized from the sale of prisoners' work. Another curious fact is, that every adult prisoner is detained for three months after his sentence expires, if he has not found in the meantime his friends; and until he is of doubtful age he has not reached it and is unclaimed. These prisoners wear blue instead of red, after their sentences have expired.

The women's quarter at Ichigaya separated from the men's by a big wooden fence and gateway guarded by a sentinel, and consists of two dormitories and one large central workshop. I observed that the 110 are employed as laborers but only by contract. When I was there they were all hemming silk handkerchiefs, each seated upon a matted floor before a little table, a very neat they all looked and were, prettily some of them, with their loose hair in gowns and simply twisted hair. "They are forgers," said the officer, pointing to three of them; "I do not know of any so pretty."

One of the women had young boys playing beside her, and another of them, as she glanced up, at once showed a face entirely different from the rest, pale, and and refined and I saw that her hands were small and very white. It was Hsian Tze, the once famous geisha of Tokio, famous for her beauty, her samisen-playing, her dancing, her pride, and most famous of all for her selfishness. Two years ago she had been a servant managed to make trouble between herself and her lover whom she expected to buy her out of the life of a professional musician at an one's call, and then offered to make peace again between them on his own terms. So one night she called him out of her house and stabbed him to death with a kitchen-knife. Now music is quite behind her, and song is distant, and she herself, as she will hear the samisen again, but in prison ball, and of all the men in the world around her she will know more for ever, except so far as she reads the reflection of it as it pales and fades away in the eyes of some companion who may chance to join her a while.

The Daily Herald is the result of the two Birmingham papers. The Herald company purchased most of the Age stock.

Lewiston Journal: It is said that a Bangor lawyer, noted for being absent-minded went up his own stairs the other day and seeing a notice on his door, "Back at 2 o'clock," sat down to wait for himself.

The State Legislature is now in session. The officers are: A. C. Hargrave, of Tuscaloosa, President of the senate; C. C. Shorter, of Barbour, Speaker of the House; W. L. Clay, clerk of Senate; Ben Elmore, clerk of the house.

Congress is unquestionably Republican by a working majority, the exact figures being in doubt but somewhere about ten or fifteen. There will be contests from many Southern districts, including the First, Fourth, Seventh and probably the Eighth Alabama districts.

Bob Nabors a son of French Nabors, of Montevallo had a difficulty with W. W. Shortridge, a lawyer of the same place, on Tuesday. Shortridge was frightenedly stabbed. Nabors was drinking, and a short time after his fight with Shortridge he became involved in a difficulty with a negro. The negro struck him on the head with the butt of a shot gun, fracturing his skull, from which he died a few hours after.

We are pleased to note that many of the leaders of the opposition to the reorganized Democracy in Chilton county have shown a commendable spirit of magnanimity since the election. They have paid little heed since the election to the criticisms to which they were subjected and which they probably expected when they went into politics. Such a spirit of manliness and good nature is not often shown by politicians. This was the point in which we differed with our correspondent "K," whose communication appeared a short time since.

The Sentinel is nearly in accord with the proposition to largely increase the appropriation for public schools. Nearly every county Alliance in the state has passed resolutions requesting the next Legislature to make an additional appropriation of at least one hundred thousand dollars. Our most efficient retiring auditor recommends an increased appropriation and Maj. Palmer our very capable State Superintendent, will present, in his forthcoming biennial report, unanswerable arguments in favor of an increased appropriation of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. With a surplus in the State Treasury and public sentiment all in favor of a liberal support of public schools, there can be no doubt of securing the above appropriation.—Shelby Sentinel.

The Election of Harrison.

The national Democracy is defeated and General Harrison will be our next President. Promiscuous surmises as to the governmental policy that will be adopted by the incoming administration are useless. The Republican party has no reason for existence except as a party of spoils, and we must expect its civil service policy to be controlled by that principle. Every Federal office will be filled by Republicans. The defeat of President Cleveland may have demonstrated that no political party, however noble in its principles, can long succeed if its workers are to go unrewarded. And again, the result of the election may have demonstrated that the people of the country, capitalists as well as laborers, want no tinkering with the tariff laws such as the Watterston school of Democracy promulgates. The business interests of the country are too easily unsettled and capital is too timid to listen to long drawn out arguments favoring a radical reduction of the tariff. The Democracy will take heed at its defeat and prepare for the next campaign with an armor that the enemies' weapons cannot so easily penetrate.

A Forecast.

A Montgomery Advertiser reporter has obtained some interesting suggestions from a well-informed citizen concerning Harrison's policy toward the south. He expressed the idea that probably the new administration would not attempt the old policy toward the south, that instead of using every possible means to secure a solid negro vote, it would attempt to divide the solid white vote by conciliatory, winsome methods. He thought it probable that Harrison would attempt to build up Republicanism on the protection issue; that he would go to new southern manufacturing centres and seek nuclei of what would be a new Southern Republican party. This gentleman thought it probable that Harrison would ignore nearly all the old Republican office-holders and leaders, with their aroma of indecency and unpopularity, in filling southern Federal offices, taking instead well known and high standing natives whose sympathies are with protection on account of their interest in manufactures, and thus making decent influential Republican leaders for the new movement. This gentleman also intimated that hundreds of well-known Alabamians were really for Harrison in this campaign, though they had not voted for him because there was no respectable organization in Alabama; that some of these made contributions to the Republican campaign fund; that a number of such citizens had actually voted for the Republican nominee though quietly. The idea of an early organization in the South to advise Harrison and to direct a crystallization of a Republican-Protection party, was also suggested as not a very remote probability. These ideas are well worth attention. Such a scheme is not at all improbable, and future developments will be looked for by the vigilant. It sounds plausible and reasonable, and is an important political straw. Such a policy would certainly be far more profitable to the Republican party than the old reconstruction regime, which can only result in a continuation of the solid south by keeping the white people shoulder to shoulder for self-protection. The bare prospect of the inauguration of such a movement is enough to relieve the public mind of a vast deal of the unrest and dread now so naturally prevalent.

Watterston's Work.

The boasted "Kentucky idea," of which Henry Watterston and John G. Carlisle are the chief apostles, has defeated the Democratic party in two campaigns, and preserved the republican party in a healthy and vigorous state 8 years after it should have been laid in the grave. But for the fact of Henry Watterston having slipped his pet phrase, "a tariff for revenue only," into the Democratic platform, adopted in Cincinnati in 1880, Hancock would have been elected and the Republican party would have gone to pieces for the want of a raison d'être. The evil done there was repaired in 1884 when a conservative tariff utterance was placed in the Chicago platform. The tariff was kept out of the campaign and Mr. Cleveland made a speech at Newark, New Jersey, in which he placed himself on sensible ground. The result was a Democratic victory and the Republican party was again fast drifting into that state of decay where the logic of events should long ago have placed it. If the party is not irretrievably committed to the Watterston fallacy, and can place itself on a platform four years hence, it still may hope to win, but the free trade Jonahs must be thrown to the whale before the Democratic party can hope to come again into power.—Age-Herald.

ALABAMA REPUBLICANS

Have Already Made Up a State For Harrison.

MONTGOMERY, Nov. 7.—A number of republicans from Alabama convened here to-day, making up a slate for the principal federal offices in the state in the event of Mr. Harrison's election. Among them are Thomas C. Bingham, of Montgomery, as collector of internal revenue; Dr. Henry, of Montgomery, receiver of public monies; Thomas J. Scott, register of land office; Henry Booth, postmaster at Montgomery; C. W. Buckley, minister to Belgium; Julian A. Bingham, collector of customs at Mobile; M. D. Wickham, postmaster at Mobile; R. A. Mosley, Jr., postmaster at Birmingham; Morgan, of Wilcox, United States Marshal middle district; J. D. Gardner, of Troy, district attorney; Leo Day, of Huntsville, district attorney northern district; J. D. Hardy, Marshal northern district.

Cleveland the Man.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—The Herald to-morrow will contain an editorial nomination of Mr. Cleveland as the standard bearer of the Democrats in 1892. The triumph of the Republicans, the Herald declares, was accidental and based on misinformation, and its fruits will speedily decay. "Grover Cleveland alone among modern Democrats in high place," it says, "gave his party an issue. He alone is entitled to lead the host to victory." Mr. Cleveland stands for the masses against the classes. Rejected by the corrupt elements of his own State, he is freed of all morally local restrictions. He stands and will stand for an idea that is to triumph when the Democrats shall triumph, and is to perish only when the Democracy shall perish. He will be the nominee of his party vastly augmented by that time in the campaign that is to come. He will be elected; let the good work begin now.

Thoughts of Jefferson.

Select-I from the Writings of Thomas Jefferson.
Taste cannot be controlled by law.
The only security for all is a free press.
A respectable minority is useful as censors.
I never suffered a political to become a personal difference.
Where the press is free and every man able to read all is safe.
The execution of the laws is more important than the making of them.
An honest heart being the first blessing, a knowing head is the second.
Is uniformity of opinion desirable? No more than of face and stature.
I must ever believe that religion substantially good which produces an honest life.
It is error alone which needs the support of government. Truth can stand by itself.
No man will ever bring out of the presidency the reputation which carries him into it.
Bigotry is the disease of ignorance, of morbid minds; enthusiasm of the free and buoyant.
An equilibrium of agriculture, and commerce is essential to our independence.
The whole body of the nation is the sovereign legislative, executive and judicial power for itself.
Were we directed from Washington when to sow and when to reap, we should soon want bread.
We owe a debt of gratitude to France, justice to England, good will to all, subservience to none.
The state and federal governments are co-ordinate departments of one simple and integral whole.
Opinions which are equally honest on both sides should not affect personal esteem or social intercourse.
A naval force can never endanger our liberties nor occasion bloodshed; a land force would do both.
I wish that at the end of four years congress had made the president forever ineligible a second time.
Education is the only sure foundation that can be devised for the preservation of freedom and happiness.
I have sworn upon the altar of God eternal hostility against every form of tyranny over the mind of man.
I am not among those who fear the people. They, and not the rich, are our dependence for continued freedom.
It is better to keep the wolf out of the fold than to trust to drawing his teeth and claws after he has entered.
It is not by the consolidation or concentration of powers, but by their distribution, that good government is effected.
Never suppose that in any possible situation, or under any circumstances, it is best for you to do a dishonorable thing.
It is a fatal heresy to suppose that either our state governments are superior to the federal, or the federal to the state.

They Will Not Parade.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—A committee from the so-called "Anarchist Amnesties Association," called upon Mayor Roche to-day to ask permission of the city authorities for the "societies" to parade on Sunday next, the anniversary of the hanging of the anarchists, Spies, Parsons, Engel and Fisher. The mayor emphatically refused to comply with the request and the parade is "off."

Mr. R. H. Green, representing the Commercial Fire Insurance Company, of Montgomery, was swinging his grip and taking in our town Friday. He represents one of the best companies in the country.

The spelling match was a grand success. Misses Rosa Gullahorn, Gamma Middleton and Mr. W. F. Middleton won the cake as the best spellers. Mr. J. S. Edwards won the tin cup as the next best. Amount realized was $12. The View reporter who attended says it was "a howling good show."

Dry Valley Locals.

Perhaps some of the many readers of the View would like to hear something from this part of the moral vineyard. This is a beautiful valley envied by almost mountainous hills, which overlook the productive fields below.

The farmers have almost harvested their entire crop. Nearly every one who tills the soil here is a successful farmer, lives at home and strictly obeys the 11th commandment, "attends to his own business."

Rev. J. C. Edmonson preached an interesting sermon at Concord Church last Sabbath.

Rev. Wilson filled his regular appointment last Sabbath. He preached his farewell sermon.

Concord Sabbath school is in good condition, under the management of Supt. Green.

Pleasant Grove Academy is largely attended. Enrollment shows about fifty pupils, and still they come. Several boarders from adjacent counties.

This valley is not without amusement. Fox hunting seems to be the order of the night.

CYRUS.

A Sermon to Husbands.

Text: "Husbands, love your wives."

1. Never find fault with her before others.

2. Per contra, remember the counsel of the good book. "Her husband shall praise her in the gates," that is before folks.

3. Bear all the burdens for her even then she'll bear more than you do in spite of you.

4. If you want her to submit to your judgment never ask her to submit to your selfishness.

5. A woman's life is made up of little things. Make her life happy by little courtesies.

6. Love is a wife's wages. Don't scrimp in your pay.—Christians at Work.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years ought to know a little about sugar; read what he says:

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for forty years, and would say that in all my practice and experience, I have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours Truly,

L. L. GORSUCH, M. D., Office 215 Summit St.

It Has Never Failed.

Botanic Blood Balm, (B. B. B.) has cured hundreds of cases of Scrofula, Eczema and other contagious blood diseases, after other treatment had been tried and failed. You do yourself and family great injustice unless you give this excellent remedy a trial. Send to Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga., for illustrated "Book of Wonders" filled with letters from persons cured by B. B. B.

Mr. M. J. ROSSMAN, Greensboro, Ga., writes: "I have a lady friend who has been entirely cured of an ugly scrofulous breaking out of the skin, and the use of two bottles of B. B. B. effected an entire cure. I know of several cases of blood diseases cured speedily by the use of B. B. B."

E. G. TIMNEY writes: My mother and sister used B. B. B. for scrofula and ulcerated sore throat and secured more benefit from its use than all other remedies they ever used.

A. H. NICHOLS, Montgomery, Ala., writes: "My wife for several years has been suffering with what physicians term Eczema, affecting her whole body, limbs and scalp. It appeared that her whole skin would shed off in scales about once a week, leaving the surface red and tender, and sometimes cracked open. Her general health failed, and for a while it was thought she would die, as several doctors and numerous patent medicines failed to give any relief. My brother-in-law, Mr. J. B. Cummings, was selling the B. B. B. and insisted that I should try it on my wife. I did so, and to our utter astonishment she commenced improving at once, and after using only one bottle, effected an entire cure. It is wonderfully quick in action."

D. M. MCRAE, Waynesboro, Miss., writes: "My sister was afflicted with boils which sadly impaired her health, and she lost sleep and strength each day. One bottle of B. B. B. acted like magic and produced a complete cure." (sep27 cw 1y)

Why do you hesitate to join the large army who are using COMPOUND OXYGEN when you know two things: First, By no possibility can it harm you. Second, In nine cases out of ten it must benefit you.

The quality of our curative agent is proved by the success in our business during the last eighteen years. Investigate, and you will not hesitate a moment. We will send free some of our books on the subject of HEALTH, if you will send your address.

AGRICULTURAL.

NOTES OF INTEREST RELATIVE TO FARM AND GARDEN.

How to Lead a Hog.
A Western farmer, who claims to know all about it, tells of this novel way to lead a pig: Back the wagon up to the pen; place two planks side by side, with one in the wagon and the other on the ground, making a inclined plane. Then turn the hog with his tail toward the wagon, put a basket over his head, and as he backs up to get his head out follow him up, taking care that he does not step over the side, and to his surprise he will find himself in the wagon without a struggle.

Bees as Educators.
No sooner does a person become the owner of a colony of bees than he looks around to see what are the prospects of future gain. Therefore he drives or rode along the highway, noticing the rut, bridges, fences and houses, but now his vision takes in a wider range. His observation is quickened, and trees, shrubs and plants have put on new life, as it were, to his enlightened faculties. From the first opening buds in spring, until the last rustling leaf has fallen, his interest never lags, as he constantly watches the opening flowers, and notes with pleasure the busy workers roaming over them in quest of treasure to store in their hives.

What was to him once a useless weed, to be cut down with the scythe, or whacked off with a hoe, is clothed in beauty, and becomes a priceless treasure. Whoever saw any beauty in the figwort, or watched for the appearance of its tiny cup-shaped, looked down into their depths for the first appearance of sparkling nectar, but a bee keeper. Or whoever saw any utility in Spanish needles, or borage, there is a bond of friendship existing between the bee keeper and nectar bearing plants, and they appear to spring up to greet him wherever he goes. The Indian calls white clover "The White Man's Foot," and well he may, for its modest flower soon appears as the harbinger of peace and plenty.—Pravda Farmer.

Durability of Farm Machinery.
Farmers are gradually learning that the wear of farm machinery is one of the chief expenses of running their farms. That the machine is costly they know well enough when they buy it, though the glib-tongued agent disguises this ugly fact as much as possible by postponing the day of payment. There is beside an indefinite idea prevalent among most farmers that the expensive machine once bought becomes a permanent investment, and that only the annual interest, with perhaps a little extra for repairs, need be considered in determining the real cost.

The cold actual fact puts the case in far different light. Under poor management or neglect machines are half destroyed before the farmer's notes given for them have matured. It has with some farmers, come to be a rule that the first year's use of a reaper, harrow or mower is the only one that can be had without an expenditure in repairs. The machines are heavy and complicated, and often become misshapen during disuse through winter, from their own weight bearing on parts not fitted to hold up under this continual strain. This may happen when in unskilled hands the machinery has been carefully sheltered from storms.

It is, perhaps, to accommodate the American love of cheapness and lack of carefulness that many farm implements are made weak and unsatisfactory. The dealer understands that the machine is scarcely expected to last more than two or three years, and in the competition for cheapness they weaken it so that it does not do good work all through one season, though, of course, much depends upon the amount of work to be done, and more still, upon the man who uses the machine.

The more complicated kinds of farm implements should only be used by experts or those having a natural genius for mechanics. The ordinary farmer who buys and uses them finds that they save him little in labor, care or worry over his work, while as for expense, they often cost more than to do without them. The time is coming when Eastern farmers, at least, will find it their interest to hire harvesting and such work done, rather than to attempt to do it themselves. Jobs will be let out by the acre or otherwise, much as the threshing is done now by men who, during the season, make cutting grain their entire business.—Cultivator.

Farm and Garden Notes.
Dig deep and plant shallow.
Luxuriant growth does not insure fruit.
A rough bark on trees invites borers; smooth bark repels them.
Young vines produce beautiful fruit, but old vines produce the richest.

Sweet clover is a great honey plant wherever it can be induced to grow.
Cream should have a uniform consistency when it goes into the churn.
Egg dealers throughout the country are again negotiating the selling of eggs by weight.

Six thousand pounds of milk is the amount that it is claimed a good cow should produce.
Cream is a ready absorbent and therefore quickly injured by association with odors of all sorts.
A raw egg broken into milk given calves to drink, is said to be an effective remedy for scours.

Do not waste wood ashes. They are sufficiently valuable to pay for saving and applying to the soil.
Remember that one ill-tempered or slow-walking horse will do much harm on a farm where colts are raised.
When butter is made from sweet cream it does not keep so well as that taken from milk that has soured.

For breaking heifers to be milked, patience and gentleness are the only requisites.
If the udder is handled occasionally from a calf up to cowdom, the heifer is already broken.

Some people don't like wooden floors in fowl houses, but they don't know whereof they speak. Cover them with straw, hay, sawdust or sand, and you avoid dampness, rats and other vermin brought up by the fowls and the fowls themselves.

A Candy Store Captured by Bees.
An immense number of bees recently made a descent on the confectionery stalls of a market in London and literally took possession of them. Business was stopped and the owners of the stalls took to flight. It is presumed that the cold and inclement season had deprived the insects of their ordinary source of sustenance, and that they were driven by famine from the country into the town.—London Telegram.

HOUSEHOLD MATTERS.

Food for Feathered Foes.

To make food for singing birds, knead together three pounds of split peas, ground or beaten to flour, one and a half pounds of coarse sugar, the raw yolks of six eggs and six ounces of fresh butter. Put about a third of the mixture at a time in a frying-pan over a gentle fire, and stir it until a little browned, but not burned. When the other two parts are done and all cold, add to the whole six ounces of mace seed and six pounds of bruised hemp seed, separated from the husks. Mix together, and it will be found excellent food for thrushes, robins, larks, linnets, canaries, finches and most other singing birds, preserving them in both song and feather.

Cheese Straws.

There are various recipes for making cheese straws, but an English authority on culinary matters claims that the following is the genuine original way of making this now fashionable delicacy: Take two ounces of best pastry flour and mix with it a little pepper and salt, together with just a dust of cayenne. Rub in two ounces of butter as for pie-crust, and when these are thoroughly incorporated add two ounces of grated cheese (Parmesan, preferable, but any dry, strong sort will do). Work the mixture to a smooth paste with the yolk of an egg. Should there not be sufficient moisture in the yolk of one egg, use part of another, or a very little lemon-juice, but on no account add water, which has a tendency to make the crust tough. Work the paste till it is smooth and stiff, and roll it out till about one-eighth of an inch thick. Then cut into straws about five inches long and one-quarter of an inch wide.—New York World.

To Wash Blankets.

Put a pint of household ammonia in the bottom of your tub, having had the blankets well beaten to remove all clinging dust before you get the tub out. Then lay the blanket lightly on over the ammonia, and pour upon it a sufficient quantity of warm water to cover the blanket entirely. Then with a stick or the hand, press the blanket about in the solution, pressing all the water that will come out of it against the side of the tub, without wringing as you remove it to the rinse water. You will be amazed to see the dissolved dirt coming out through the fibres, as no washing or rubbing with soap suds will bring it out. Rinse in the same way, in the same moderately warm water (not boiling water), and by simply pushing the blanket about in the tub, the dirt will be wringer and hang out to dry in a windy place not in the sun. As the blanket hangs there drying, a little water will collect in the four corners, which it is rather an amusement to squeeze out to help the drying process. If you do not care to put another blanket in the first ammoniated water, which must be done promptly, as the ammonia evaporates quickly, divide the quantity, taking half a pint of each one of the two tubs, and wash two blankets at once. The evaporating ammonia, released by the warmth of the water, can only escape through the blanket which is laid over it in the tub before the water is applied. Hence you get the value of every drop of it. In ordinary cleaning with ammonia, for joint, brasses, silver, etc., mix it with cold water first, and then add a little warm water to the pail.—Ledger.

Marmalade.
Fruits that are too ripe for preserves or canning may be used to make marmalade, which will be found delicious. Use very ripe fruit in good condition. It should be cut in pieces and put in a preserve kettle with a layer of sugar at the bottom.

For marmalade made of peaches, pears, grapes, quinces, pie apples or plums, three-quarters of a pound of sugar should be allowed to a pound and a quarter of ripe fruit. No water should be added if the fruit is juicy, as it should be. Care is necessary in order to prevent the marmalade from burning while cooking. Different fruits require a different length of time in boiling, but whenever the fruit begins to look clean and thick it is done, and may be taken up and put in jars at once.

Quince Marmalade.—Peel the quince, weigh and put in a very little water. Boil tender, work and add three ounces of a pound of sugar to each pound and a quarter of fruit, boil about one hour, stirring, and pour into glasses or small jelly molds, cover with waxed paper and turn out on a plate when needed.

Teach Marmalade.—Peel and quarter ten pounds of soft peaches, put in a kettle with ten pounds of sugar, boil and stir until thick and clear.
Plum Marmalade.—Boil ripe plums in a very little water, run through a colander, add half a pound of sugar to a pound of the pulp, and boil until clear and thick.

Orange Marmalade.—Take ten pounds of sour oranges, wash and peel, put the peelings in a kettle with a little water and boil several hours, cut the oranges in half, and squeeze out the juice and pulp. When the peel is tender, drain from the water and pound very fine. Put the whole, with seven pounds of loaf sugar, in a preserve kettle and boil one hour. When it jellies, put in small glasses and cover with paper.

Lemon Marmalade.—Take large, perfect lemons, and extract the seed. Boil the peel until very soft, mash, add the juice and pulp with a pound of sugar to a pound of lemon. Boil until thick, put in glasses and cover.—Courier-Journal.

Gold Dollars Used Only as Trinkets.

"Only two left; dollar and a quarter apiece."
"What! twenty-five per cent premium on American gold dollars?"
"Yes, and hard to get at that," replied a money changer to a New York Telegram reporter in quest of one of these gold souvenirs of his Uncle Sam. "They have gone out of coinage now," continued he, "and are getting exceedingly scarce. Here's one of 1864, narrow and flat, and one of 1863, broad and thin, but the same amount of gold of course, in each. The silver dollar and the greenback have driven these little things to the wall. The demand for them in business circles has entirely ceased, and they are used only for trinkets and baubles now. Nearly all of the hoards have been bought up by the jewellers and trinket dealers. In a few years you'll find them all around the girls' wrists."
"But there's a law against converting Uncle Sam's currency into ornaments."
"Yes, but it's a dead letter."

Tricks of the Cafe Waiters.

"The other night when dining rather liberally at one of the uptown 'hotels,' I called the waiter's attention to the fact. It seemed astonished and counted the change twice, then lifting the bill of items from the plate where it rested with a satisfied smile as two quarters of a dollar appeared, though when I told him that I had spent time and money enough in Paris to know that trick well, and always rewarded them there, as I proposed to do with him, by omitting his accustomed fee."
"What is the trick?" queried the reporter.
"Don't you see that by hiding two or three coins under the list in that way when returning the change to a careless man, who does not count his change, he has secured his tip and the hidden coin also, but when serving a more careful person, myself for instance, and a receipt was called for, the missing coin could be found and no suspicion of dishonesty attach to the waiter, unless he happened to be a thief. He is a clever fellow, got tired of having the same old chestnut played too often. There are other tricks beside that for capturing the careless, but I will not tell you those. One that is practised in France, where gold louis and half louis are the most common coins in circulation, is when the waiter receives a louis he puts it between his teeth or seems to do so. You see the gold right there in plain sight all the time, but he gives you change for a half louis only."
"You immediately call his attention to the fact and remark that it was a louis you gave him. 'But no sir' he says, 'was there,' and takes the coin from between his teeth and behold it is only a half louis. You are puzzled, for you were confident that it came from the list, and you know that a half louis would not fit, and cannot account for it until you learn that he has had the half louis waiting in his mouth for just such an occasion. The only safe way, therefore, is the moment you see your loss going, to say to him, 'let the battle begin,' and tell him to let it remain on the table until the change is given. That is not all, for in the supper rooms at the various places in Paris the number of the room is placed right over the column of figures and added to with the total amount. I suppose if the room were not numbered they would add in the date; anything, in fact, to make the amount bigger."

The best recipe for going through life is a commendable way is to feel that everybody, no matter how rich or how poor, needs all the kindness they can get from others in the world.

LANGUAGE ON PAUPERISM.

The London Editor Gives his Views on the Subject.

Mr. Gladstone said the other day at the Hawarden Flower Show: "I don't so much believe in over-population. Well, no more do I. It is the greatest fudge out. One has never heard of 'over-population' except in connection with the most ridiculous laws and where the industrial ingenuity of man has been absolutely and absurdly fettered. 'Over-population' is merely another name for 'under-production.' The well-worn theory about man increasing in geometrical ratio, and food increasing only in an arithmetical ratio is not, but it is not true. As a matter of fact, man— I don't mean the natural man, whom no one living now has ever seen, but man as we know him in these civilized and for the most part civilized countries—man who must have cooked food, clothes, a house of some sort to live in, and only one wife—is out and out the most sterile of all creatures, whether animal or vegetable. He can, if he be left alone, make food infinitely faster than he can propagate his kind. When he fails to leave his children better off than he was when he began life himself, it is either because his hands have been tied, or because he has been robbed of his earnings."

Take the ordinary typical case of the English artisan or Irish peasant who has "seven children." As a matter of fact, I believe he has something under five, but I prefer to be generous and allow him seven. Well, he leaves them penniless, and the oldest philosopher, in the evening newspaper, says that they never ought to have been born. But the real fact is, that they were well entitled to be born, but have no business to be paupers, for their fathers or mothers have failed in the duties of a father and mother, and not merely seven children, but seventy times seven. Unfortunately, the honest man has been robbed. The two piles upon which the whole rotten edifice of England's pauperism rests are landlordism and ignorance. Landlordism depopulates the country and floods the town, and combined with ignorance, brings down the artisan's wages to starvation level. When we have corrected ourselves of these two evils, we shall find that we have plenty of food for a very much larger population than England at present possesses. Our only care then will be to see that we do not suffer from oppression and ignorance of foreign growth, and that neither care nor hatred takes away the father's law in the duties of a father and mother, and not merely seven children, but seventy times seven. Fortunately, the honest man has been robbed. The two piles upon which the whole rotten edifice of England's pauperism rests are landlordism and ignorance. Fortunately, the honest man has been robbed. The two piles upon which the whole rotten edifice of England's pauperism rests are landlordism and ignorance. Landlordism depopulates the country and floods the town, and combined with ignorance, brings down the artisan's wages to starvation level. When we have corrected ourselves of these two evils, we shall find that we have plenty of food for a very much larger population than England at present possesses. Our only care then will be to see that we do not suffer from oppression and ignorance of foreign growth, and that neither care nor hatred takes away the father's law in the duties of a father and mother, and not merely seven children, but seventy times seven. THE COFFIN.

The Chinese believe the dead food and as living. After the funeral of a miniature sedan chair, in the time of the deceased's absence, the corpse is dressed in the longevity clothes, according to custom, the upper part of the body must be wrapped in two mortuaries than the lower. Rich families use other cloths the upper part in as many as twenty-one garments, putting all on the lower part. These garments, frequently of very costly material, constitute a very large coffin. They are because it is desirable that the man make the best possible impression upon those he meets in the last regions; and, secondly, because a long way thither he is apt to use good many cloths. Once dressed, the corpse is placed upright on the floor, three pieces of coin strung on a cord are fastened loosely on the inside of their sleeves. A member of the family shakes the arm of the corpse, the coins drop on the floor. The wick they drop, that is to say, or tails," as we say, shows forever the wish of the deceased. Afterward one of his sons, for instance, must start upon some important enterprise he takes these coins to

The procession to the grave is in order: Two men, carrying a large lantern, musicians, a portable brazier with the picture of the spirit in some burners, men scattering money; relatives and friends, with no coffin; sons of the deceased on foot weeping; Sedan chairs, containing food for offering at the grave, and scattering mock-money. This evil spirit who thus are delayed their way to the grave, whereof funeral procession is enabled to get first. The scattering of mock-money called by the Chinese "buying the picture carried at the head" of the procession is the first in them of "god opening the road," while the large white lanterns are supposed to lead the spirit on its way. The actual ment is short. As soon as the lowered several relatives quickly upon it some earth, which they have kept ready in their laps. They place on the body the funeral

"No, indeed. Evening toilets are "Well, I have an old black

"Splendidly! But," in tones of

"Yes; let me see. I have a black

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 16, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co., Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for fifty years, and would say that in all my practice and experience, I have never seen a dispensation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours truly,
L. L. GORSUCH, M. D.,

We will give $100 for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. TAKAHASHI & CO., Proprietors, Toledo, Ohio.

DID YOU KNOW IT?

Did you know Catarrh is a most common ailment? Well it is almost invariably so, and frequently is a symptom of labored blood poison. The tendency to Catarrh may lay dormant in the system half a man's lifetime and then suddenly become active and the disease at once reveals itself.

R. C. EDWARDS, Lampasas, Spinks, Texas writes: "For over four years I have been a great sufferer from a terrible form of Nasal Catarrh. I was greatly annoyed with a constant tearing in my head and my hearing became very much impaired. This Catarrh from my nose was profuse and very offensive, and my general health was suffering. I tried nearly all prominent physicians, but they did not cure me and I used various advertised preparations without success. I then sent to the drug store of T. E. Smith & Son, and purchased B. B. B., and to my astonishment and satisfaction the use of ten bottles has restored my general health, stopped the roaring sensation, entirely healed and cured the nasal Catarrh, and I am proud to recommend a blood remedy with such powerful curative properties. I do business here of 30 years and know of my case."

W. A. PABER, Fredericks, Ala. writes: "I can testify and affirm to you that a good medicine you have. For two years my mother has suffered with a severe Catarrh of the head and neglected health. She resorted to various remedies without effect, until she used B. B. B., which cured her Catarrh, and healed her sore throat."

R. C. KINNARD & SON, Tallahassee, Fla. writes: "One of our neighbors has been suffering from Catarrh for several years, which rendered all treatment and medicine resorted to, inefficacious. We finally induced him to try the efficacy of B. B. B., and he was soon delighted with an improvement. He continued its use, and was cured and well."

THE DAY OF GRATITUDE. Oh day of special prayer and praise... Mary D. Brine

And I had the advantage of being more intelligent. Dora would be just the wife for my son; she was energetic, robust, strong and smart...

you comprehend the terrible loneliness and emptiness of that little room—Jamie was gone. I alone knew of the dangerous somnambulic habits of my son—a habit that began in infancy, and that, in boyhood, happiness and the eyes that he turned upon his foolish old mother were brim full of tender love and thankfulness. Thus ended one Thanksgiving Day; and when the next one came my daughter Dora was the sweetest, most sensible little bride that ever gained her mother's love by her unselfish heroism.—Detroit Free Press

HABITATIONS. A UNIQUE EXHIBIT FOR THE FRENCH EXPOSITION. Illustration of Every Style of Architecture the World has Known Since the Time of the Lake Dwellers.

As different countries pass the same milestone of progress at different times, it is not surprising that the architecture of the Aztecs bears no inconsiderable resemblance to that of the Egyptians. Both had pyramids, both had ponderous structures, evidently modeled on the same principle. Both had a profusion of ornaments, for the skill of the Aztecs in stone-cutting was very remarkable, and their temples and palaces, which still remain to us in ruins, show not only wonderful taste in designing, but marked power in execution.

ASTEC. A surprising degree of civilization in their houses. Doors had they, windows and courts. They seem to have been provided with water-pipes and many other comforts and conveniences, and in all respects were, no doubt, quite as habitable as the Etruscan, Persian, or Egyptian dwellings.

THANKSGIVING CHEER. Oh, what can make November dearer than the month of all the year! A day so full of warmth and glow, its gladness can but overflow...

stified its reproaches, and gave vent to my ugly feelings by spitefully dashing all manner of kitchen utensils out upon the porch. After the turkey was tanned to russet and gold in the big oven, and the cakes were done, the excitement that had kept me in a hurry all day suddenly left me, and I sat down in the disordered kitchen and had a good, long, hard cry over my poor boy.

made him a cripple for life—and now in heartrending tones I called to my friends to aid me in my frantic search for garret to cellar—but to no avail. Suddenly the bells of the village—a mass full of nerves and fancies—came rushing into the house exclaiming: "A ghost! A ghost!"

How to Cook the Thanksgiving Bird. The secret in having a good roast turkey is to baste it often and to cook it long. So says such excellent authority on practical cooking as Mrs. Henderson.

European architecture began with the Etruscans, who, in the fertile plains and genial climate in the northern states, found all the conditions favorable for the development of a strong nation.

After the Romans had conquered the world and Christianity had conquered Rome the treasures of all lands came to Constantinople and new orders of architecture sprang up. A composite of all these formed the Byzantine order, the best example of which is seen in the Experience of an English Woman in the Presence of a Royalty. "Hepburn Johns, the delightful 'Topical Talker' of the Pittsburgh Dispatch, is abroad just now. In his latest breezy letter, dated from Winchester, England, was the following: 'At a little persons age the other day, whether I had gone to play tennis and drink tea—and I am sorry to say that there was too much water for tennis, as it rained all day, and too little water in the tea—by chance I met a very agreeable and I hope representative woman of noble birth. She also came to the marriage for tennis and tea, and was by an hour or two of sunshine in the afternoon. There was nothing about her to tell you that she was an earl's daughter and there is not the least need to say more of her.'

ONE THANKSGIVING. BY EVA BEST. I WAS very cross that night. All day things had gone wrong, and I had so much to do in the way of cake baking and seeing to a thousand things besides. We were to give a supper on this Thanksgiving day, as it was the thirtieth anniversary of our wedding.

By ones and twos and threes the guests began to congregate in my little best room until it was crowded, and they were forced, for want of space, to move on into the other rooms or scatter about the garden. The young folks choose the latter place, as the night was mild as summer itself, and the big full moon, that seemed too heavy ever to rise above our heads, was floating slowly over the eastern hills.

Tramp—tramp—he was almost to the end now; yet we dared not move lest we should wake him and make death a certainty. Nearer, nearer—every wrong I had done him, every sharp word I had unwittingly given him, came crowding now upon my heart and soul like so many accusing devils, torturing me to agony as I stood there watching him draw slowly toward the end of the scaffolding.

On the Way to Thanksgiving Services. A Runaway Couple. The night before Thanksgiving. A Thanksgiving Fable. The greedy turkey gobbled up the good, y fare and grew fatter day by day, but the prudent turkey, suspicious of such bountiful grub, refused to eat it and grew rapidly thinner.

Chinese House. tiling is cheap and durable, and the most common style of architecture among them is simply a roof tile with timber supports, slanting straw or bamboo walls extending to the first story. The nature of the materials renders Chinese and Japanese houses very inflammable, and fire in all the great cities of the Celestial empire are of so frequent occurrence as scarcely to be entitled to the name of news, for little loss is incurred, since the addition of tiling and straw or thatch and straw rise on the ruins of the predecessor in a few hours, and the population

Church of St. Sophia, which is at present the principal mosque in Constantinople. Many other sanctuaries, both in Constantinople and elsewhere, were constructed on the same plan—which, in brief, is that of a great central dome, supported by strong pillars with bold arches and clusters of small domes in various parts of the edifice. Several churches in Venice, notably St. Mark's, are on this order, which is practically a combination of the Persian, Egyptian, Etruscan and Indian architecture, borrowing from each and every quarter that which was most applicable and adapting it to the new style.

It was the most painful thing I've seen in a long while. A stout and very angry person cannot stand on the floor without losing in some way her dignity, and spectators who can keep their composure when such an accident occurs would be hard to find. And unfortunately Lady—was of all of the most overwrought. She laughed all through her get into her dog cart and drive away down the gravel path.

The work and some other neighborhood would be blessed if some women could be afflicted with chronic lockjaw.

The press of the state is well represented in the offices of the general assembly. W. D. McIver and Jim Armstrong in the senate as assistant clerk and door-keeper; and Frank Gist in the house as enrolling clerk.

The Judson, Marion's great female college, was burned down on Sunday last. No lives lost. The school will go on with temporary arrangements until the building can be replaced. The insurance on the building was $25,000.

The safe of the treasurer of Pickens county was blown open and robbed on Sunday night the 11th inst. The thief found only about $70 in money and a draft of $89 the treasurer having removed the funds elsewhere as a matter of precaution. There is no clue as to who did it.

The young men certainly have the upper hold in the Alabama Legislature. They are at the head of all the important committees. F. W. Pettus is chairman of the judiciary committee, Dan Lay of the ways and means, and Alva Fitzpatrick of the educational committee.

If, when the rest of the Cabinet is made up, the General finds he has well provided for various interests and sections and has still a place, he may conclude to call an Indian. Should the vacancy be the Postmaster-Generalship it would probably be offered to Col. New. Col. New is a self-made man. You can tell that by the way he keeps his hat indoors.

The Alabama railroad commissioners show by their report filed with the governor the other day, that there is in operation in Alabama 8,265 miles of railroad including branches and sidings. There are 75 miles of dummy line track in the state. 530 miles of new railroad were constructed during the year which ended June 30. The report refers with pride to the rapid increase in railway construction and its resulting benefit in the development of every interest and industry in the state.

Legislative.

Mr. Porter, of Jefferson, has introduced a bill in the house the purpose of which is to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors in this state except in incorporated towns. This will be a good measure provided it does not interfere with the local prohibitions now prevailing in some of the incorporated towns, and if it may not prevent other incorporated towns from voting the whiskey traffic out if they so choose.

We understand that an effort will be made to pass a bill to incorporate the town of Clanton.

A bill is before the body to amend an act entitled an act to require all trains on railroads in this state, carrying passengers, to stop at the nearest telegraph station now or hereafter established, to be determined by the R. R. to the country seat of each county through which the railroad may pass, for the purpose of receiving and discharging passengers, when signalled to stop or whenever there is any passenger on board who desires to stop at such station. (The act, as it was, provided no punishment for a violation of the law, and this amendment seeks to correct this defect by making any railroad, violating its provisions, subject to a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $100.

Mr. Shorter has introduced a bill which provides that the funds in the State Treasury shall be deposited in different banks throughout the state. The object being greater safety.

Mr. Dykes has introduced a bill to abolish the board of revenue of Chilton county.

A measure looking to improvement of the public schools by increased appropriations is before the house. Mr. Hendley, of Madison, being its author. Something is said of the public schools in demanded, and there is every indication that the demand will be complied with before the session closes.

The houses will adjourn to-day for thanksgiving, and it is thought an adjournment will be had the 15th of December until after Christmas.

The following bills of general importance have passed:

S. 87. To authorize members of the different Alliances of the State to organize themselves into a body corporate.

Also S. 80. To amend section 3247 of the code [relates to the punishment of Probate Judges for acts contrary to the duties of their office and prohibits the preparation of certain documents by such judges].

Senator Morgan was re-elected United States Senator on Tuesday without opposition.

The Alliance Has the Right to go into Business.

Griffin Sun.

A man who denies that the farmers have a right to go into any kind of business for themselves that is legitimate and honorable is simply crazy. Farmers like all other people, have the right to do as they please with their own business to suit themselves. The Grange, when it was introduced into this section made war on the middle men. That was the battle cry. It allowed everybody, however, who owned a cotton patch to come in, and the first thing we knew the middle men were all in the order and had their hands upon its throat. The Alliance comes with no cry against middle men or merchants. It simply seeks in a business way to benefit its members by advancing their interests. They do not seek to tear down but to build up. They make no war on anybody. Everything the Alliance has done has been legitimately within the privileges of every citizen.

Harrison.

The newspapers have ascertained the following points about General Harrison:

He wears a 7 1/2 hat.

He wears a 6 1/2 shoe and can wear a 6. He has one bunion on the right foot and no corns.

His neck measure is 16 1/2.

He wears open front shirts, and pays $27 a dozen for them.

He seldom carries a silk handkerchief usually carries a common linen.

He keeps one horse.

He is a regular smoker, and smokes small cigars a clear Havana. He does not smoke to excess, however.

His whiskers are getting gray. He uses bay rum on his hair and does not use oil.

He is fond of baseball.

His chest measure is 37 and his waist 42. He has a good deal of "stomach." He weighs about 180 and appears to be five feet seven and a half in height.

He does not fancy jewelry.

He usually wears a high-buttoned double-breasted frock coat and seldom has a suit all off the same piece.

He reads for recreation. He is fond of Scott, Elliot and Thackeray.

He goes to bed at 10 and gets up between 6 and 7.

The family cooking is done by an old negro "aunty."

He is a Presbyterian elder.

To which may be added as follows:

He attends church regularly.

He will not read his business letters or newspapers on Sunday.

He will not allow his mail to be brought from the Postoffice on Sunday.

He spends the Sabbath with his family.

He is likely to make a good President, in fact will do so, if he does not fall into the hands of designing politicians.

An Old Tale But Worth Repeating Over and Over Again.

Cuthbert Liberal.

If our Alliance friends will heed a word of advice we would suggest that they be more interested in buying less than in paying less for what they buy. Suppose every farmer in Randolph county would raise his own wheat (and it can be done) what would he care for "corners" in wheat? If all had had enough to kill this winter for next another year what difference would it make with them whether wheat was worth six cents or fifteen cents? With well filled corn cobs, some at two dollars per bushel would suit them better than corn at fifty cents per bushel. If every farmer in the county would plant from one to three acres in sugar cane the "sugar trust" would have few terrors for them. No farmer who habitually buys what he can and should produce on his own farm is entitled to sympathy when "the whistle costs him dearly." But these things can not be grown at home while twenty or twenty-five acres to the mile are planted in cotton every year. This advice has been sounded in the ears of Southern farmers for twenty years but they heed it not. Until they do heed it and practice its precepts neither farmers' alliances, granges, nor any other organizations will bring them relief.

OVER THE COUNTY.

It is gratifying to the many admirers of Barbour's young member, C. C. Shorter, in his election to the speakership of the house. Mr. Shorter is another of the rising young men of Alabama, and we look for him to fill many places of honor and distinction; when the proper time comes, we feel assured that he would make a good governor.

A young man by the name of Allen, who has relatives living near Clanton, was placed in jail on Wednesday last as insane. He was sent to the Asylum at Tuscaloosa Tuesday together with Joe Benson another unfortunate. Allen is a printer and was recently at work on the Birmingham News. His health failed, and finally resulted in weakening his mind.

American Republican: An editor works 365 days per year to get out 52 issues of a paper; that's work. Once in a while some one pays him a year's subscription that's capital. And once in a while some "son of a gun" of a dead beat takes the paper for a year or two and then vanishes without paying for it, that's anarchy. But later, justice will overtake the last named creature, for there is a place where he will get his deserts; that's hell.

For Sale.
I have on hand 300 bushels excellent sweet potatoes which I will sell at 40 cents a bushel.

Making Molasses.
New South.]

The only reason why our farmers cannot make money raising molasses is that the merchant's can't handle country molasses because it turns to sugar on their hands. While at Starkville recently, we asked Prof. Hutcherson, who is a Louisiana gentleman of practical experience and scientific attainments how to prevent molasses from turning to sugar.

He says that if the cane is stripped very high and all the white unmaturing portion boiled and the molasses not boiled too thick the result will be reached. He says there is a substance known as glucose in the top of the cane that will prevent at least a part of the sugar from forming. On talking with molasses-makers since our return, we find those who had been so careful as to strip cane high, have had no trouble with sugar. We hope our farmers will try this plan. There can be nothing lost.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10, 1887.
Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for forty years, and would say that in all my practice and experience, I have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT.
When physicians fail to give relief in cases of chronic ailments, resulting from poison blood, how gratifying to the sufferer to obtain at last the right remedy. Where every other treatment miserably fails to cure, Botanic Blood Balm invariably gains a victory.

SAN SABA, TEXAS, February 9, 1882.
Our little daughter became affected with some form of scalp disease, supposed to be ringworm or eczema. It first began in white scales on dandruff and then, formed in small sores all over the front part of her head with rough patches on her forehead and face, and then ran an ugly eating sore on her head which could not be spread with a neighbor insisted on me trying B. B. B. After using a bottle and a half the sore is healing nicely and the child's health much improved and she is getting fat. I believe B. B. B. to be an excellent blood purifier and very quick in its action.

Mrs. BETTIE GRAVES.

WILLOW CITY, TEXAS, April 9, 1888.
Blood Balm Co.: I was taken with paralysis, the doctors said caused by a tumor that is attached to the neck, and had a bad case of dyspepsia. B. B. B. has done me more good than all the doctors.

TUMORS.
BARNWORTH, CHAMBERS CO., ALA., February 6, 1888.
For the last six years I have been a great sufferer from blood poison; could not get anything that would do me any good. The doctors thought I would die. Two years ago I was stricken with cancer of the breast and the most extensive and was not able to walk out of my room, the cancer causing me to suffer great pain. A month ago I commenced taking the B. B. B. and was able to walk a half mile before I had taken two bottles. The cancer is healing up nicely, and I think the use of this remedy will cure me.

They had just as well discuss his northern or his eastern or his western as his "southern policy."

The Inter-State Immigration convention will meet in Montgomery on the 12th inst., and promises to be largely attended. Every county in the State is interested in the subject of immigration and representative men from every county should attend this convention and unite in a strong effort to people the waste places of our growing State.

Mr. Cobbs, the newly installed State Treasurer, is one of Montgomery's best and most substantial business men, and carries with him in his new office an experience in financial affairs which will be of great service to him and to the State. He will make a safe State Treasurer, just as he has been a prudent and conservative business man. Honest and conscientious in all things, Mr. Cobbs will reflect credit upon himself and honor upon the State as Treasurer of Alabama.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND takes the result calmly and philosophically and attributes his defeat to the proper cause. He has always been a cool, self-possessed well balanced man and has made a most excellent chief executive. Relying on his record alone, he would have been re-elected without difficulty. In leaving the Presidential office he will carry with him the respect esteem and good wishes of all his countrymen.

Legislative.

Some demagogues always manage to get into the Legislature, and this time they are at work against the railroads. Of the ten bills introduced on this subject but few nearly every one has demagoguery plainly written on its face. The people of Alabama owe too much to the railroads to approve of the passage of any legislation inimical to the interests of such corporations. On the contrary the State should in every way encourage the investment of capital in such enterprises rather than throw cold water on them by crazy legislation.

This section of Alabama would be a wilderness to-day if it were not for the railroads; and we trust the Legislature as a whole will refuse to interfere with the interests of the chief developing agency of the country.

A good work done was the passage of the bill on Tuesday increasing the appropriation for public schools by the amount of $100,000. This will give the public schools of the State $625,000 a year.

Thoughts of Jefferson.

Selected from the Writings of Thomas Jefferson.

The introduction of one new culture is worth more to a nation than all the victories of the most splendid battles of their history.

The excise law is an infernal one. The first error was to admit it in the constitution; the second to act in that admission.

The press is the best instrument for enlightening the mind of a man, and improving him as a rational moral and social being.

A representative government made responsible at short periods of election, produces the greatest happiness to mankind.

I have but one system of ethics for man and for nations to be grateful, to be faithful to all engagements under all circumstances.

I think, myself, that we have more machinery of government than is necessary, too many parasites living on the labor of the industrious.

The people are the only censors of their governors, and even their errors will tend to keep these to the true principles of their institutions.

I never appointed a relation to office, and that merely because I never saw the case in which some one did not offer or occur, better qualified.

Agriculture, manufacture, commerce and navigation, the four pillars of our prosperity are the most thriving when left most free to individual enterprise.

The cement of this Union is in the heart-blood of every American. I do not believe there is on earth a government established on so immovable a basis.

Educate and inform the whole mass of the people. Enable them to see that it is their interest to preserve peace and order, and they will preserve them.

I profess so much to the Roman principle as to deem it honorable for the general of yesterday to act as a corporal to-day if his services can be useful to his country.

Were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers or news papers without a government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter.

This formidable censor of the public functionaries, by arranging them at the tribunal of public opinion produces reform peacefully which must otherwise be done by revolution.

He who is now against domestic manufacture must be for reducing us either to dependence on England or to be clothed in skins and to live like wild beasts in dens and caverns.

Whenever any one state in the American Union refuses obedience to the confederation by which they have bound themselves, the rest have a national right to compel them to obedience.

I believe this the strongest government on earth; the only one where every man at the call of law would fly to the standard of the law, and meet invasion of the public order as his own personal concern.

Verbena Views.

J. F. Thornton has gone to Birmingham on business.

Rev. G. S. Anderson, of Fort Deposit, has accepted the call of the Baptist Church at this place. Rev. W. G. Curry having resigned, and will move soon to Livingston to take charge of that church. He is a faithful minister and we wish him much success in his new field.

J. Lawinsky & Co.'s saw mill near this place was destroyed by fire on last Thursday night. Supposed to have been accidental.

A place belonging to Dr. J. S. Pitts and occupied by an old negro was visited on last Saturday night by some white men claiming to represent Wells, Ehrman, McDowell & Co. They knocked down the door, broke out the sash, fired into the house several times with a shotgun, one load taking effect in the foot of a bed where two children were sleeping. Running the negroes out of the house, they drew their knives, cut their bed quilts and mattresses to pieces, cut up the wearing clothes of both men and women, broke up all the dishes, the stove and everything that could be found, and took a new suit of clothes which was to have been one of the negro's wedding suit the following day, and eighty dollars in money. It is supposed that the money was what they were after. Such men should be dealt with, and it is hoped that the grand jury will look into this matter. The men were drinking, but it seems they knew when they came to a new suit of clothes and money. A white man who was an eye witness says that it was Jim McDowell and Judge Wells, who did the work. McDowell was in town to-day trying to get a compromise. It was he who said that they represented the firm of Wells, Ehrman, McDowell & Co., and that they had "ten thousand dollars to back them." The State would like to have some of this surplus change the company holds. The negro is said to be a good peaceable man.

Another gentleman living in the immediate neighborhood of the raid sends the View the following account of the affair: There was quite an affair in our neighborhood Saturday night. The negroes living on a place the property of Dr. Pitts had some trouble with a gang of white men. It seems that old Joe Walker, the head of the negro family has been at odds with Judge Wells. Saturday night at nine o'clock Wells and his mill boys, Jim McDowell, headed a gang from his mill and attacked the house with fire arms, destroyed the windows, tore down the doors, ran the woman and child to the woods, broke up and banged up everything in the house, cut up the bed clothing, and made way with the money they had in the house.

[If the above versions are correct the affair was indeed shameful and may result very seriously for the participants. If incorrect in any particular these columns will be held open to hear from the other side.—VIEW.]

Sociability

Sociability is the best corrective of that serious and prolonged absorption in business or thought or cares which is so detrimental to many of our busy people. The rest taken in solitude, after working hours are over, permits the mind still to pursue one beaten track. The easy chair and blazing fire may be tempting to the weary toiler, but they do not force his thoughts into other channels or compel him to lay aside a train of ideas that for many hours been working in his brain. Society, on the contrary, forbids such unwholesome indulgence. She insists upon a total change of mind and manner during her short reign. She calls for vivacity, variety, imagination—if possible, wit and humor, or at least a cheerful interest in others. She banishes the accustomed seriousness of mind the brooding over familiar topics, even the earnestness of strong emotion. For a short time all of these are forced to give way to the lighter play of fancy the excitement of popular interests and the development of sympathy with others upon unfamiliar and varied subjects. Thus the mind is refreshed and invigorated, unused facilities are brought into exercise and the lost balance restored by a gentle compulsion that no one dares to resist.

The View wishes the gay couple a journey through life free from further wickedness and woe.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for forty years, and would say that in all my practice and experience, I have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours Truly,

A RUINED HOME.

Our house is on fire! Our home is burning up!! What cry so piercing to the soul? Indeed, it is terrible when it destroys the things we love, but how much more terrible when it destroys the living tissues of the flesh! Fire in the blood, how cruel in its effect! Covering the fair skin with spots and blotches. Traversing the limbs and joints with aches and pains, creating ulcers and running sores. Singeing the very roots of the hair and causing it to fall dead away. Cramping the functions of the liver and kidneys with internal swellings and sores. Disfiguring form and feature. Thank Heaven, in the midst of such fearful contamination, a cure, safe, sure and quick in its effect, comes to mind. It is Doan's Blood Balm, made in the beautiful city of Atlanta, Ga. An Illustrated "Book of Wonders" sent free by the Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga., is filled with most convincing proof of its remarkable merit.

QUICK CURE

Robert Ward, Maxey, Ga., writes: "For twelve or fourteen years I have been a great sufferer from a terrible form of blood poison. My head, face and shoulders became almost a mass of corruption, and finally the disease broke away from my small bones. I became so horribly repulsive that for three years I absolutely refused to let people see me. I used large quantities of most noted blood remedies and applied to nearly all physicians' prescriptions, but my condition continued to grow worse, and all said that I must surely die. My bones became the seat of excruciating aches and pains; my nights were passed in misery; I was reduced in flesh and strength; my kidneys were terribly deranged, and life became a burden to me. I changed to Doan's Blood Balm, (D. B. B.) and when eight or ten bottles had been used I was pronounced sound and well. Hundreds of scars can now be seen on my neck, looking like a man who had been burned and then restored. My case was well known in the county."

BAD BLOOD

Low Johnson, Belmont Station, Miss., writes "My ears and scalp were covered with sores and all my hair came out. I lost my appetite and became a mere skeleton. I am now taking D. B. B., and the sores are going away and my strength is coming back."

If you have lost your pocketbook, you will listen to any one who can tell you how to get it back. If you have lost your health,—which is more precious,—listen to us. Medicines can do nothing but check diseases; they act negatively, not positively. They cannot build up your health, or bring back your strength, or renew your vitality.

Why do you hesitate to join the large army who are using COMPOUND OXY-GEN when you know two things: First, By no possibility can it harm you. Second, In nine cases out of ten it must benefit you.

The quality of our curative agent is proved by the success in our business during the last eighteen years. Investigate, and you will not hesitate a moment. We will send free some of our books on the subject of HEALTH, if you will send your address.

The fact that the President failed to mention civil service in his message is affording fun for the press, and even Congressmen are disposed to joke about it. This particular buzz-saw is now in readiness for the President-elect. President Cleveland has had all the amusement he desires in monkeying with that machine.—Ez.

The Cartersville (Ga.) American is responsible for the following: "Will somebody lend us a bat for our tears? It is saddening to contemplate that the idea of January is so soon to find the leap year of 1888 pushed into the vast and dismal space of the subsequently and so many of our magnificent male catches left in the blank bleak realm of single cussedness."

President Cleveland's lead in the popular vote of the country seems to be about 100,000. This is unprecedented for a defeated candidate. It shows that while the Republican corruption fund was distributed effectively in just those states which were required to give Harrison a majority in the electoral college, yet the country as a whole favored President Cleveland.

Speaking of the color line in politics Texas with its Democratic majority of something less than 200,000 votes has elected five colored men to the Legislature. What Northern Republican State has elected even one? It looks as though the Northern Republicans were more than willing that Southern Democrats should furnish all the recognition the colored brother is to get.

Sid Cooke, a Georgia editor and Sallie McCutcheon, associate editor of the Franklin, Ga. News agreed to get married, and each put up $10 forfeit money in the hands of a friend. Mr. Cooke wanted to back out but he could not afford to lose the $10. Miss McCutcheon wished to do the same and after a severe mental struggle refused to become a bride. Mr. Cooke draws the money, and every body, including the two most interested, is wondering what the agreement was ever made for. Marriage in this case was a failure.

Legislative.

Frank Gist, the enrolling clerk of the House, writes to his paper, the Bibb Blade, as follows: "The House is so thoroughly Democratic that the independents do not stand much show, other than a respectful recognition of their presence. Mr. Dykes, of Chilton, was 'sat down on' Friday, when he attempted to get on the calendar his bill for the election of commissioners in his county. The governor now appoints them, and thus insures their being Democrats. It pays to be a Democrat down here, and for that matter it pays anywhere in the South."

Mr. Winston asked to have the bill requiring railroads to stop trains at the telegraph stations nearest the county seat called up.

Mr. Hundley said that the committee on commerce and common carriers had unanimously reported adversely to the bill. The same committee had reported a bill seeking to repeal the very bill which this sought to amend.

Mr. Winston thought the State had been paying attention to the railroads and it was now time to do something for the people.

Mr. Johnson thought the bill worked great injustice and imposed a hardship on them. He didn't think this House ought to do anything which would keep through traffic out of Alabama. The railroads paid a large percentage of the taxes of the state and the bill would stop trains where not infrequently passengers had no business at the stations where it was designed for trains to stop.

Mr. Hundley thought this bill was taking up a great deal of unnecessary time.

Mr. Winston thought that if there was any merit in this case the House ought to have a full and free discussion of the matter and if it was not right vote it down.

The following bills have been introduced in the Senate, and prove that our worthy senator is looking after the interests of this portion of his district:

S. 174—Mr. Parker—To declare Thomas W. Shrader, liver between the counties of Chilton and Shelby, a citizen of the county of Chilton and to change the line between said counties. Municipal and county organizations.

S. 175—Also, to authorize the Court of County Revenue of Chilton county to issue bonds of said county to an amount not exceeding $25,000, for the purpose of building a court house for said county. Passed.

The Montgomery Advertiser makes the following prediction:

"Those who think the Black Belt and the Mineral region require different legislation because of the negro, fail to look into the future. Within five years there will be more negroes within twenty miles of the centers of Anniston and Birmingham, than within twenty miles of the centers of Selma and Montgomery.

Within ten years draw a line east and west across the State through Clanton, which would about follow the foot hills of the mountains, and there will be more negroes north than south of it."

Horrible Crime.

A man by the name of R. R. Hawes was arrested and jailed in Birmingham last week charged with the murder of his wife and two children. The body of his wife was found in the lake at Lakeview and the body of one of his children was found floating on East Lake.

Upon the finding of the body of the murdered woman the excitement was intense, and a mob was formed for the purpose of lynching Hawes. The mob was, however, repulsed by the sheriff and his deputies and some dozen men were killed and a like number wounded. This resulted in arousing the indignation of the mob to a fearful pitch, and a warrant was sworn out for the arrest of Sheriff Smith, who ordered the firing, and he was placed in jail.

The strong arm of the State militia has been brought to bear in the crisis, and Birmingham will be under martial law until the excitement subsides.

The soldiers are there to protect the doomed man in his right to a fair trial and their presence has thrown a damper upon the spirit of mobocracy which is all too prevalent in the chief city of the State. No event in the history of Alabama has had a more horrible sequel since the State was a territory and the revengeful red man wrote his name in blood at Fort Mims.

A Story of Senator Blackburn.

Senator Blackburn is not only peppery in speech but is also at times exceedingly grandiloquent, though he is not now so much given to this failing as in the days of his youth, as the following story shows:

One day, when he was only Capt. Blackburn he was engaged in arguing a case in Lexington, and his speech was so full of high falutin that it rather bored his legal opponent, who sought relief from it by going out on the green surrounding the court house. As he stepped from the door an old hump raiser who had followed him out said: "Capt. Blackburn is making a great speech."

"O, yes," sneered the bored attorney, "Capt. Blackburn always makes a great speech. If you or I had occasion to announce that two and two made four, we'd be just fools enough to blurt it out. Not so with Capt. Blackburn. He would say: 'If by that particular arithmetical rule known as addition we desire to arrive at the two integers, we should find and I assert this boldly and, sir, without the fear of successfulness contradiction we, I repeat, would find by that particular rule of arithmetic properly applied and, sir, I hold myself perfectly responsible for the assertion I am about to make that the sum of two given integers would be four.'"

Chicago, Dec. 6.—A local paper says: The extensive preparations being made for the reception of Mrs. Lucy E. Parsons, on her return to this city from her trip abroad, are very likely to be knocked in the head by the police.

Chief of Police Hubbard says: If Mrs. Parsons or her friends think they can parade the streets of Chicago behind a brass band as they did in London, they will find themselves greatly mistaken. There has been enough of this foolishness in times past, and anarchy will never be allowed to parade the streets of this city again as long as I am chief of police.

A gentleman living near Huntsville says: I came to Alabama sixteen years ago and located here, and it is with feelings of pride that I note the grand progress we have made during that period. Waste places have been taken up and utilized, school houses have been built, churches erected, steam and water mills and gins are quite numerous, the sale of liquor is prohibited and postoffices established, whereby we are enabled to get our county papers the day after publication.

Mrs. M. A. Butler has moved her store to the Garner store and asks for a share of public patronage. She has a nice stock of confectioneries and fancy groceries and is also prepared to do sewing and dress making. We bespeak for her a liberal patronage.

Elsewhere will be found a communication from Mr. J. A. Wells, of Verbena. Mr. Wells denies the charge made against him in last week's paper by two correspondents from that place. We have known Mr. Wells for a number of years, have never known him to act otherwise than as a true gentleman, and we could not but think that some mistake had been made in implicating him in the affair. He speaks moderately enough considering the provocation, and we gladly give place to what he has to say for himself; yet we do not doubt that our correspondents meant nothing more than to publish the news as they heard it, and that they would not knowingly injure Mr. Wells or his good name. We are glad indeed to publish his vindication and he has other friends here who will be as glad to read it.

A Correction.

VERBENA, ALA., Dec. 10.

ED. CHILTON VIEW.—Dear Sir:—Your Verbena correspondent was very badly informed, or else made up and wrote a malicious lie in regard to the fuss that occurred at the negro house near my mill. I was near my mill talking with three responsible white men when the fuss started, I went over to see what was the matter. I found two white men at the house, and the negroes were gone. There is no doubt but that the white man your correspondent has reference to as being an eye witness was the man that did the mischief. I think it was only a drunken frolic and there was not as much mischief done as was reported, and I guess if there was any money or a suit of clothes lost, the eye witness and your correspondent, Mr. Adam Courtney, got them, as I have not heard anybody else say anything about them, and I don't think they would be kicking, but I guess the clothes don't fit, for I think it was a little negro that lost the clothes. Now if your correspondent is not satisfied at this he need not go to a newspaper, but can find me at Verbena, where I can satisfy him in any way he may choose.

Respectfully,
J. A. WELLS.

VERBENA, ALA., Dec. 10.

This is to certify that Mr. Judge Wells did not come to my house and do all the mischief as stated in the last issue of the CHILTON VIEW and he did not come to my house till after the fuss was started.

Signed in presence of Anderson Baker, W. R. Boyd and W. M. Kicker.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says:

TOLSON, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co., Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for forty years, and would say that in all my practice and experience, I have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence as your salt cure.

Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say to you that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Years Truly,

HELP FOR THE SUFFERING.

How often a home is made sad by the suffering of some member of the family. How keenly the good wife sympathizes with her invalid husband, how greatly the kind husband hopes for his sick wife's recovery. Bleased be the men that furnish sick and aching humanity with a remedy that brings sure relief.

Isaac H. Othow, M. D., writes: "I was troubled with skin disease and was long out in raking sores. I had been afflicted for ten years with skin diseases in hot months. Eight months ago I got a bottle of B. B. B. at John R. Smith's drug store at Mt. Olive, and it has entirely cured me, and I have had no symptoms of the disease since."

Kennesaw, Ga., Sept. 11, 1887.

Blood Balm Company. My Dear Sir: I take great pleasure in acknowledging the great benefit my wife has derived from your great and wonderful medicine, B. B. B. For two years she was a great sufferer from Scrofula or some blood disease which had laid dormant all her life; we had attended to her for some of the most skillful physicians in this country but all to no effect until we had all despaired of her recovery. Her mouth was a solid ulcer and for two months or more her body was broken out with sores until she lost a beautiful head of hair, also her eye-lashes and eye-brows. In fact she seemed to be a complete wreck. Now comes the great secret which I want all the world to know, and that is that three bottles of Blood Balm medicine has done the work, which would sound incredible to any one who did not know it to be so. To day my wife is perfectly healthy and clear from any scrofulous taint, and she now has a three months old babe also perfectly healthy. Very Respectfully,
H. L. CASBIDI.

If the reader will send to the Blood Balm Co. Atlanta, Ga., for their illustrated "Book of Wonders," it will prove of further interest.

J. T. Harahan gives it out officially for the first time that he has resigned as General Manager of the Louisville and Nashville. He has accepted a similar position on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern.

The trustees of the Judson College at Marion, which unfortunately burned recently, taking the $25,000 insurance as a basis, have resolved to rebuild at a cost of $60,000. Already there has been over $10,000 of the amount subscribed.

The troubles of President-elect Harrison have just fairly commenced. The Ohio, Indiana and New York Republicans cannot agree as to who they want in the Cabinet. All they do know is that if the President appoints any of them, he will be violently assailed by the friends of those who are not appointed. Unless he is a very tough man the worry and trouble may soon dispose of him in the same way his father went.

Our Sheriff Blair deputized a constable to subpoena several witnesses to appear instantly before the grand jury, who reported in his return: "All served except the man 'instanter.' Have rode all over the beat and can't find him. Gofe to Georgia." Another constable was armed with a subpoena and a duplicate to leave with the party summoned, and returned the paper with the endorsement on it: "Saw party, but he 'fused' to be summoned."—Cotton River News.

Rev. T. M. Barbour, in a communication to the Farmer, warns farmers against paying high prices for fancy cotton seed. He states that an experiment made by Prof. Stubbs at the Louisiana experimental station of twenty-two varieties of so-called improved cotton seed showed that "the utter absence of merit of any kind was the conspicuous feature of most of them; in field there was no marked difference." Mr. Barbour says that high fertilization and abundant culture is the "open sesame" to abundant crops.

Honor and thrice honor to the good Geo. W. Childs, especially from all womankind, since it is recorded of him that he never sits in a street car while a woman stands, no matter what her age, color, or previous condition of servitude. In this era of crush and crowding and general hogghishness, so conspicuous a survival of the earlier and better manners of the republic should be given the widest circulation; though it is like to be regarded much more as a curiosity than an example by men of the present day.

A New Judge.

To relieve the pressure of business in Birmingham the General Assembly created a new circuit composed of the counties of Jefferson, Walker and Winston. Within fifteen days from the signing of the bill, which was done on Wednesday, the Governor is required to appoint a judge. So bring on your applications, gentlemen, you haven't much time. The solicitor will be elected by the Legislature after recess.—Advertiser.

The Message.

The Sun says the President's message means, "I am right and the country is wrong." It is an aimless and inconsequential document.

The Press says it is the effort of a shallow demagogue to create ill-feeling between classes.

The Tribune says it is an attempt to stir up anarchy by pandering to ignorance and passion.

The Herald says that Mr. Cleveland's remarks are sensible and well put, but his is the voice of one crying in the wilderness. The people have elected a party which favors monopolistic combinations, and they do not care enough about the evil effects of the system to change.

The Times thinks the President has somewhat overstated the case, but the message contains an amount of undeniable truth to which the country will be compelled to give attention.

The World says the message is a dignified, clear, compact and forcible state paper. If issued three years ago, and followed in 1886 by last year's tariff message, not even the power of money, nor the personal disaffection in the party could have prevented Democratic success this year.

We heard one of our citizens, a few days ago, say that he took the "Constitution," he liked it better than he did the Blade, and it cost the same.

We asked him if he ever read a news item from Bibb in the "Constitution." He replied "only one." Yet, that man liked the foreign better than the local paper. We pity such a father, such a husband. Our patrons should exert themselves to remedy this state of affairs.

As little as may be thought of it your county paper is accomplishing much and lasting good where it is circulated, not that the editorials are so ably written or that our locals are so sensational; but that its teachings are actual from pure motives, its county news is selected with care, keeping the interests of the county uppermost and always giving local news and county enterprises preferred space in its columns. We have ever been a supporter of every Bibb county enterprise. We want Bibb county's paper to be the equal of any weekly in the state, and urge its friends to use their influence in increasing its local circulation. Subscribe first for your local paper then take the best foreign journal you can get.—Bibb Blade.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of Alabama, which met recently in Gadsden determined by resolution that they have nothing to do with the Woman's Suffrage question. They have acted wisely in this matter, as all who know the ladies engaged in the Convention knew they would when that matter was brought before them. The next meeting will be in Tuscaloosa in November, 1889. The old officers were all re-elected except the recording secretary, Miss A. L. Hays, of Decatur, who declined and Mrs. M. L. Spencer, of Birmingham, was chosen in her place.

The Old Year.

[For the CHILTON VIEW.]
The old year is passing away, is dying; And sadly the cold wintry winds are sighing.
As the mournfully sweep o'er his hoary head,
And while with the frost of many a day, As he silently passes away.

The old year is passing away, and now, As time speeds on with saddening brow, I muse o'er the days so swiftly passed,
The shadows and sunshine that each bath cast,
O'er the hearts that bend to their changeful way,
As the old year passes away.

The old year is passing away, but the tide Sweeps not from memories' fireside;
The heart she gathered old time sped; The joys she treasured, the hopes that fled;
The flowers that withered, the thorns that stay,
As the old year passes away.

The old year is passing away, and we sigh,
As we think of the days and years gone by,
Though a withered rose and a thorn we find,
In the wealth of the passing moments twined.

We love them not less for their changeful way,
As the old year passes away.
The old year is passing away, is dying,
The moments on restless wings are flying.

Though the heart looks back to the days now gone,
Hope smilingly beckons our foot-steps on,
As the old year passes away.

As the old year passes away, and we sigh,
The moments on restless wings are flying.

Though the heart looks back to the days now gone,
Hope smilingly beckons our foot-steps on,
As the old year passes away.

A Montgomery exchange contains an account of the death of an old war horse belonging to Mr. W. W. Wadsworth, of Wadsworth, Ala. The animal was thought to be about thirty-five years of age. It was captured by Mr. Wadsworth from a Federal officer during the war. Its long life was no doubt due to the kind treatment which it received at the hands of its big-hearted captor.

TOLSON, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co., Gentlemen:

I have been in the general practice of medicine for forty years, and would say that in all my practice and experience, I have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you.

Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours Truly,

L. L. GOLDS, M. D., Office 215 Summit St.

We will give $100 for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.

HELP IN TIME OF NEED.

When a man is drowning he will grasp at straws, but straws will not save him. Extended to him a lifeboat and his rescue is certain.

Mr. James A. Green, of Athens, Ga., (endorsed by the editor of the Athens Banner-Watchman) makes the following statement:

"I am first cousin of the late Ex-Governor Alexander H. Stephens, and have been postal clerk on different railroads since 1868. For ten years I have been a sufferer from a cancer on my face, which grew worse until I became a matter of public and very offensive. I became thoroughly disgusted with blood purifiers and pronounced them humbugs, as I had tried many without relief.

Finally I was induced to use Eucalyptic Blood Balm. (B. B. B.) The offensive discharge decreased at once and the hardness disappeared. It became less and less in size until nothing remains except a scar. I gained flesh and strength, and all who have seen me bear testimony. I cannot say too much in its praise.

A. H. Morris, Pine Bluff, Ark., writes:

"Hot Springs failed entirely to cure me of several terrible, indolent running ulcers on my legs, with which I have been troubled for many years. Several doctors also attempted to cure me but failed. I have only used a few bottles of B. B. B., and the effect has been truly magical, as they have all healed and I am cured after everything failed. My general health is also improving, appetite and digestion good. I sleep soundly, and never feel better. Doctors told me that I could not be cured.

I refer to every merchant or professional man of Pine Bluff.

Any one interested who desires to know more about the wonderful merit of B. B. B., will please send address to Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga., for their illustrated "Book of Wonders."

HANG UP THE BABY'S STOCKING.

Hang up the baby's stocking;
Remember you don't forget—
The little dimpled darling!
The never saw Christmas yet;
But I've told her all about it,
And she opened her big, blue eyes,
And I'm sure she understood it,
She looked so funny and wise.

Dear! What a tiny stocking!
It doesn't take much to hold
That little pink toes as baby's Away from the frost and cold.
But then, for the baby's Christmas
It will never do at all;
Why, Santa wouldn't be looking For anything half so small.

Know what will do for the baby,
I've thought of the very best plan—
I'll borrow a stocking of grandma's,
The longest that ever I can;
And you'll hang it by mine, dear mother,
Right here in the corner, so I
And write a letter to Santa,
And fasten it on to the toe.

Write: "This is the baby's stocking
That hangs in the corner here;
You have never seen her, Santa,
For she only came this year;
But she's just the bluest baby—
And now, before you go,
Just cram her stocking with goodies,
From the top clean down to the toe."

NEW YEAR HOPES.

Oh, never think 'neath Fortune's frown,
But leave her with a shout of cheer,
And front her fairly—face her down—
She's only there to those who fear!
Here's "better luck another year!"
Another year!

Aye, better luck another year!
We'll have her smile instead of frown—
A thousand smiles for every tear,
With home made glad and goodly cheer,
And better luck another year—
Another year!

W. Gilmore Simms.

welcome, and a blessed Christmas to ye." And with a friendly nod she trotted off. Recovering from her surprise, the boy hurried after, exclaiming breathlessly: "Oh! I say, thank ye. My name's Bob, an' if yer got any wood to saw I'm yer man."

"Lor, sonny! I have it in, in bundles, but you've the right heart, and the Lord loves a willing spirit," then with her wrinkled face aglow with kindness the worthy soul hastened on her way.

"Here's luck!" ejaculated Bob, "and I'm blivin' what Johnnie's mother said," and Bob repeated slowly.

"The Lord cares for the orphan," adding emphatically, "and I'm blessed if I ain't an out-an'-outer; fur a feller couldn't be orphaner than a feller who never had no father an' mother, I take it."

Here, with a whoop, Bob darted across the street. A barrel of molasses had been stored in, and a swarm of youngsters were scooping up the sticky mess by every available means. Seizing a broken dish from out an accommodating ash barrel, Bob secured a share of the prize, uttering:

"I'm a squaler if we ain't in fur a regular jollification!"

His dish full, off he started, and after sundry turns made his way to a vacant lot, where, shielded by a pile of bricks, lay, tilted to one side, a large crate, partially stuffed with straw.

panion, he added: "But it's nice here, too, in this warm straw, an' I like being with you, Bob, I does."

A burst of joyous bells floated toward them on the crisp morning air. A melody of welcome to God's house of prayer. "Johnnie," called out Bob, "how'd yer like to go to church?"

"What's there?" questioned the little fellow.

"Oh, they see prayers, an' plays the organ, an' sings, an' folks as wants to take a snooze."

"Is it warm?" anxiously asked Johnnie, cuddling into the straw.

"Warm! You bet! An' sofs as soft as—"

"I'll go!" cried Johnnie, crawling out of his nest.

Such a quaint little figure as he looked all muffled up in an old shawl, the ends trailing on the ground as he marched happily off, his hand in Bob's. Shortly after these two children stood watching the handsomely dressed throng as it entered a fashionable place of worship, till Bob, with "Now, Johnnie, look alive, or the cop'll nail us," pushed the child before him into the crowd, and, sure enough, an alert policeman, spying Bob, made a grab for him, which Bob deftly eluded, but meanwhile Johnnie was carried on toward the back door amid a swirl of silks and satins.

The little fellow was a trifle awed at the church's solemn grandeur; but as Bob never failed to turn up all right, Johnnie made for an empty pew and curled himself up on a hassock to await his friend's coming. Presently the organ pealed forth, and Johnnie's eyes grew round with astonishment as the voices of the unseen choir mingled with its wondrous tones. But soon the little head drooped, and lulled by the sweet strains and the unusual warmth and comfort, the child slept. Nor heeded he the advent of a plump, rosy, checked lady, whose white hair contrasted so prettily with her still young face, and whose companion—a stout, jolly, florid-faced gentleman—possessed a bushy head of hair and beard of silvery whiteness. A faint exclamation escaped the lady; then, turning to the gentleman, she whispered:

"Look! The poor little lamb!"

"Shall I speak to the usher?" questioned he.

One swift glance at the pale, little face and the lady shook her head, answering: "No, no! Let him be, dear."

Many times during the service the lady's dark eyes strayed to the little sleeper, and once when the child stirred restlessly her daintily-gloved hand softly stroked his pretty curls.

A wish—a rustic—the congregation was dismissed. The lady of the rosy cheeks and white hair drew her shawlkin about her, but her gaze rested lingeringly upon the sleeping child.

"Well, dame?" and a merry twinkle glistened in the speaker's eyes as he addressed: "Looks as if a turkey bone might relish, don't it?"

"Bless his little heart, yes—and, oh, don't you think we might?"

And so, what was Bob's astonishment—for he had lingered round, amusing himself as best he could to see a lady and gentleman come forth from the church, followed by a footman bearing the sleeping Johnnie, carefully rolled up in a handsome carriage rug. Draws up to the curb was a stylish turnout, into which the lady and gentleman stepped, the footman placing Johnnie on the seat beside him; then, so the lady swung himself on to the box, away started the carriage down the street, Bob yelling out:

"Jimmy crackly! If I don't believe Johnnie's stuck up!"

Darting after the carriage, he clung on behind, talking good care, however, to keep out of sight of the driver and footman.

Seen they drew up before a handsome house, whose white porch—were an air of cherry welcome. Bob, wiggling himself down from his perch on the door clasp, upon Johnnie and his newly-dressed friends, ejaculated, somewhat ruefully: "Here's a go! I wonder what'll turn up next! Anyhow, I hope it'll be something odd for the little 'un. He ain't calculated to rough it, I reckon."

A moment later "the little 'un" was gazing wonderingly at his luxurious surroundings, his little hands softly patting the old gold brocade of the lounge on which he lay. It was every bit true, he thought—the gold furniture and pictures and big fires—and "Oh!" he exclaimed, as the rosy-cheeked lady came smiling toward him, saying:

"Well, my little man, are we ready for turkey and pudding?"

"Yes, please, ma'am, Mrs. Santa Clara," answered Johnnie, eying the lady curiously, as he added, sagely: "Bob said there was a woman in everythin', and he guessed there'd be a Mrs. Santa Clara."

The lady laughed merrily as a chuckle issued from the region of an easy chair and a voice remarked:

"One for you, Dame!"

"Who's Bob, dear?" questioned the lady.

"Why, he's—Bob. He takes care of me. You're Mr. Santa Clara, ain't you?" continued Johnnie, gazing knowingly at the stout gentleman.

"Hey! Why? What makes you think so?"

"Cause—cause—" and slipping down from the sofa, the child exclaimed, eagerly: "Oh, Mr. Santa Clara, please won't you bring Bob and me something?—because we never have nothin'. We're poor folks, but we ain't bad, we ain't."

"Well, well," somewhat huskily spoke the gentleman, "and what is your name?"

As the child, with a look of surprise, replied "Johnnie," the lady cried in eager tones:

"Oh, Ben! Our baby's name, and the pretty curls and blue eyes, so like. Isn't it almost as if God had sent him in exchange for our darling?"

"If you please, sir, there's a boy what insists on seeing you. Says his name's Bob, sir." Delivering himself of this message, the servant awaited his master's pleasure.

"It's Bob. My Bob?" uttered the child, delightedly.

"Show him up," was the order.

Bob paused upon the threshold of the luxuriously furnished room, feeling his dilapidated condition for the first time; but Johnnie running eagerly toward his young friend, drew him forward as the gentleman said kindly:

"Come in, my lad, and tell us what you want."

"It ain't nothin', sir, only I see you takin' Johnnie, an' I just followed to know what yer was mainin' to do. 'Cause I told his mother afore she died that I'd try an' keep an eye on the little 'un, as there wasn't nobody else to do 't. She was allers good to me, she was, an' a lady proper, too, if she didn't rig out fine. Johnnie he can say grace an' prayers which she taught him, right up to the handle, an' he's pretty, too, if he had fringes like rich young 'uns, an' if yer feel sorter like adoptin' him, why, I'm feelin' sorter like to do it."

"Tip-top, sir," was the ready reply. And so it came about that these two waifs—Bob in a neat suit, that his kind benefactor had managed somehow to procure, and Johnnie in a little frock, long treasured by a mother's constant love—sat down to a Christmas dinner that was a series of astonishing delights, to these small folks.

Tears had dimmed the eyes of gentle "Mrs. Santa Clara," as she clothed the tiny waif in garments that once belonged to her little son, her one yew lamb. Yet somehow the touch of Johnnie's baby fingers carried comfort to her lonely heart and eased the regret that had long dwelt there.

That evening as the rescued waif stood enjoying the blazing logs and quaint and old-fashioned fireplace, Bob suddenly exclaimed:

"Here we've been havin' no end of shindy, an' yer ain't said grace. Just yer fer ahead now, an'—an' I'll shove in a prayer, an' don't forget my old lady, cause she started us in on our luck today."

Kneeling, the child, clasping his hands, obediently repeated:

"For what us 'bout to 'ceive, Lord be thankful. God bless Santa Clara, Mrs. Santa Clara, the old lady an' Bob an' me, and please let us live here, amen."

"Amen! An' don't yer forget it, little 'un," subjoined Bob, gravely.

Russian Christmas Sports.

All of the merriment is done on the ice. There are many horses with records which would do credit to the American turf which were never given an opportunity for speed on a dirt course. They have run on ice and through the principal streets of the city and can be seen in the races without inconvenience. The main streets are veritable race courses during the winter months, there being no laws to prevent horses racing anywhere, the drivers simply assuming the responsibility of danger. All men of social standing own fast horses, and on Christmas day they drive them. The scene is brilliant. The sleighs are beautiful, and are driven by women as well as men. Often three, four and five-horse sleighs are in the races, and the daring displayed is witnessed nowhere else.

In some of the bazars at the churches and winter gardens the girls who are in quest of husbands go to enter the competition of wife hunters. They are dressed most brilliantly, and the young men who are in search of wives are accompanied by their fathers. More interest centres in the girls and their costumes than the bazaar. When a young man sees a girl he likes he makes a memorandum, and the next day his negotiator visits her mother or guardian and negotiations begin. It may be not till a match is made that the two see each other face to face.

The holidays are not alone celebrated by the elder persons. The children have their sports. As soon as they appear on the streets in the morning they begin to pelt each other with rice, beans, bonbons and preserved fruits. It is a kind of a free fight, in which the parents frequently indulge and make up what takes the form of Christmas trees in America. The children form in groups and march through the streets and from house to house, singing carols, and are given sweets wherever they go. They are a happy lot, even though they have not the advantages of school and training the white children of many other countries enjoy.—Philadelphia Times.

SONG OF CHRISTMAS.

Sound over all waters, reach out from all lands
The choirs of voices, the clashing of hands;
Sing hymns that were sung by the stars of the morn,
Sing songs of the angels when Jesus was born.

With glad jubilation
Bring forth to the nations!
The dark night is ending and dawn has begun;
Rise, hope of the ages, arise like the sun,
All speech flow to music, all hearts beat as one.

Sing the bridal of nations with chorals of love,
Sing out the war vulture and sing in the dove,
Till the hearts of the people keep time to accord,
And the voice of the world is the voice of the Lord!

Clasp hands of the nations
In strong congratulations;
The dark night is ending and dawn has begun;
Rise, hope of the ages, arise like the sun,
All speech flow to music, all hearts beat as one.

Flow, hues of battle, the marches of peace,
East, West, North and South at the long quarrel cease!
Sing the song of great joy that the angels began,
Sing of glory to God and good will to man.
Hark! joining in chorus
The heavens bend o'er us;
The dark night is ending and dawn has begun;
Rise, hope of the ages, arise like the sun,
All speech flow to music, all hearts beat as one.

—John G. Whittier.

A Happy New-Year.

Bring me a rose, and bring me a ring,
And bring me a little plum-cake, my dearie,
The old year's out and the new year's in,
And we must have something to make us merry.

TUE WAIF'S CHRISTMAS.

BY FLORENCE E. FENDER.

CHRISTMAS morn!
Clear, snow-decked,
With the bluest of skies, and Jack Frost and old King Huld holding high carnival.

A jolly day!
foretold the merry laugh of children as they tripped briskly along, taking in sundry pops and whiffs of the forthcoming Huge turkeys robbed of all dignity, lying helpless upon their backs, their long legs upraised in protest.
Savory-looking compounds being mixed by cook's deft hands, while fruits, spices, etc., littered up the kitchen tables.

Plenty and to spare for God's poor.
At least so, thought one of them, as he gazed into the kitchen window of a handsome dwelling. Not in these words, perhaps, but why some should have so much more than they wanted and others nothing, was a riddle to him. A moment he lingered, then turned away with the words:

"I don't mind much 'bout myself, but I'll like a summat for the little 'un."

Rather a comical figure did this young cut as his bare feet wended their way toward a less prosperous part of town. Yet despite the amplitude of rugged trousers and dilapidated frock coat, with its skirts reaching almost to the ankles, there was something in the boy's straightforward eyes and honest face that gave evidence that he was deserving of a better fate than that of a pauper. Clothes, however, never troubled him. Something to stuff off the cravings of hunger and a hole to crawl into when the cold of thought-to this child of the streets, more especially since he had taken unto himself a charge. Here-before he had led a happy-go-lucky existence, notwithstanding the meagre that plentifully to his share. Foraging about the streets, he had found a little woman, whose garb showed signs of poverty, whose face was pale as the snow, and, opening a basket she carried, said cheerily:

"There, sonny, there's a couple of buns and a few cookies I made myself, that I'm taking to the grandchildren. It's such a nice day, the Lord loves 'em, but y'er

"Hello, Johnnie! Wake up!" shouted Bob, at which a little fellow, with the bonniest of blue eyes and the sunniest of curls, poked his head from out of the straw in the crate, with:

"T'ere, Bob. Does us have breakfast?"

"You bet," replied Bob, displaying the treat, and continuing with: "We are going to do things in style this Christmas. Nibble on that while I set the table," and Bob tossed the little chap a cookie; then, gravely piling several broken dishes together, he placed thereon the broken dish of molasses and the old woman's donation, when, wedging himself in beside Johnnie, and tucking the straw snugly about them, he ejaculated: "Pitch in, little 'un, and say grace."

Folding his tiny hands, Johnnie lapsed, gravely:

"For what us 'bout to 'ceive, Lord be thankful. Amen."

To which Bob subjoined:

"Here's to the old lady's good health! Merry Christmas! Hurrah!"

After this rather peculiar grace the feast proceeded without interruption until Johnnie pronounced:

"What's Santa Clara?"

"Oh, he's a chap with a jolly, red face an' white beard, wot goes round Christmas with heaps of toys an' s'ch."

"Will he come here?" cried Johnnie, his eyes opening wide.

"No, I don't b'lieve as how he'll visit our establishment. I only hear tell of him going to the nob's, as can buy plenty for themselves," answered Bob, grinning.

"Haps—oh, Bob!—haps Mrs. Santa Clara'll come to us poor folks?" interrogated Johnnie, wistfully.

"Mrs. Santa Clara? Never exactly heard of s'ch, but I hear say there's a w-man at the bottom of everythin'; so I guess there's a nice, jolly old lady Santa Clara," replied Bob, assuringly, as he noted Johnnie's anxious little face.

"Where's Santa Clara live?" was Johnnie's next query.

"Oh, in a swell house," and Bob, coolly drawing upon his imagination, added, "two end of tip-top furniture, all gold and heaps of pictures and blazin' fires."

"Oh!" uttered Johnnie, with a wistful sigh, and "it'd be nice there, wouldn't it?" Then, nestling closer to his companion, he added: "But it's nice here, too, in this warm straw, an' I like being with you, Bob, I does."

A burst of joyous bells floated toward them on the crisp morning air. A melody of welcome to God's house of prayer. "Johnnie," called out Bob, "how'd yer like to go to church?"

"What's there?" questioned the little fellow.

"Oh, they see prayers, an' plays the organ, an' sings, an' folks as wants to take a snooze."

"Is it warm?" anxiously asked Johnnie, cuddling into the straw.

"Warm! You bet! An' sofs as soft as—"

"I'll go!" cried Johnnie, crawling out of his nest.

Such a quaint little figure as he looked all muffled up in an old shawl, the ends trailing on the ground as he marched happily off, his hand in Bob's. Shortly after these two children stood watching the handsomely dressed throng as it entered a fashionable place of worship, till Bob, with "Now, Johnnie, look alive, or the cop'll nail us," pushed the child before him into the crowd, and, sure enough, an alert policeman, spying Bob, made a grab for him, which Bob deftly eluded, but meanwhile Johnnie was carried on toward the back door amid a swirl of silks and satins.

The little fellow was a trifle awed at the church's solemn grandeur; but as Bob never failed to turn up all right, Johnnie made for an empty pew and curled himself up on a hassock to await his friend's coming. Presently the organ pealed forth, and Johnnie's eyes grew round with astonishment as the voices of the unseen choir mingled with its wondrous tones. But soon the little head drooped, and lulled by the sweet strains and the unusual warmth and comfort, the child slept. Nor heeded he the advent of a plump, rosy, checked lady, whose white hair contrasted so prettily with her still young face, and whose companion—a stout, jolly, florid-faced gentleman—possessed a bushy head of hair and beard of silvery whiteness. A faint exclamation escaped the lady; then, turning to the gentleman, she whispered:

"Look! The poor little lamb!"

"Shall I speak to the usher?" questioned he.

One swift glance at the pale, little face and the lady shook her head, answering: "No, no! Let him be, dear."

Many times during the service the lady's dark eyes strayed to the little sleeper, and once when the child stirred restlessly her daintily-gloved hand softly stroked his pretty curls.

A wish—a rustic—the congregation was dismissed. The lady of the rosy cheeks and white hair drew her shawlkin about her, but her gaze rested lingeringly upon the sleeping child.

"Well, dame?" and a merry twinkle glistened in the speaker's eyes as he addressed: "Looks as if a turkey bone might relish, don't it?"

"Bless his little heart, yes—and, oh, don't you think we might?"

And so, what was Bob's astonishment—for he had lingered round, amusing himself as best he could to see a lady and gentleman come forth from the church, followed by a footman bearing the sleeping Johnnie, carefully rolled up in a handsome carriage rug. Draws up to the curb was a stylish turnout, into which the lady and gentleman stepped, the footman placing Johnnie on the seat beside him; then, so the lady swung himself on to the box, away started the carriage down the street, Bob yelling out:

"Jimmy crackly! If I don't believe Johnnie's stuck up!"

Darting after the carriage, he clung on behind, talking good care, however, to keep out of sight of the driver and footman.

Seen they drew up before a handsome house, whose white porch—were an air of cherry welcome. Bob, wiggling himself down from his perch on the door clasp, upon Johnnie and his newly-dressed friends, ejaculated, somewhat ruefully: "Here's a go! I wonder what'll turn up next! Anyhow, I hope it'll be something odd for the little 'un. He ain't calculated to rough it, I reckon."

A moment later "the little 'un" was gazing wonderingly at his luxurious surroundings, his little hands softly patting the old gold brocade of the lounge on which he lay. It was every bit true, he thought—the gold furniture and pictures and big fires—and "Oh!" he exclaimed, as the rosy-cheeked lady came smiling toward him, saying:

"Well, my little man, are we ready for turkey and pudding?"

"Yes, please, ma'am, Mrs. Santa Clara," answered Johnnie, eying the lady curiously, as he added, sagely: "Bob said there was a woman in everythin', and he guessed there'd be a Mrs. Santa Clara."

The lady laughed merrily as a chuckle issued from the region of an easy chair and a voice remarked:

"One for you, Dame!"

"Who's Bob, dear?" questioned the lady.

"Why, he's—Bob. He takes care of me. You're Mr. Santa Clara, ain't you?" continued Johnnie, gazing knowingly at the stout gentleman.

"Hey! Why? What makes you think so?"

"Cause—cause—" and slipping down from the sofa, the child exclaimed, eagerly: "Oh, Mr. Santa Clara, please won't you bring Bob and me something?—because we never have nothin'. We're poor folks, but we ain't bad, we ain't."

"Well, well," somewhat huskily spoke the gentleman, "and what is your name?"

As the child, with a look of surprise, replied "Johnnie," the lady cried in eager tones:

"Oh, Ben! Our baby's name, and the pretty curls and blue eyes, so like. Isn't it almost as if God had sent him in exchange for our darling?"

"If you please, sir, there's a boy what insists on seeing you. Says his name's Bob, sir." Delivering himself of this message, the servant awaited his master's pleasure.

"It's Bob. My Bob?" uttered the child, delightedly.

"Show him up," was the order.

Bob paused upon the threshold of the luxuriously furnished room, feeling his dilapidated condition for the first time; but Johnnie running eagerly toward his young friend, drew him forward as the gentleman said kindly:

"Come in, my lad, and tell us what you want."

"It ain't nothin', sir, only I see you takin' Johnnie, an' I just followed to know what yer was mainin' to do. 'Cause I told his mother afore she died that I'd try an' keep an eye on the little 'un, as there wasn't nobody else to do 't. She was allers good to me, she was, an' a lady proper, too, if she didn't rig out fine. Johnnie he can say grace an' prayers which she taught him, right up to the handle, an' he's pretty, too, if he had fringes like rich young 'uns, an' if yer feel sorter like adoptin' him, why, I'm feelin' sorter like to do it."

Weather Proverbs About Christmas.

A light Christmas, a heavy cheer.
A warm Christmas, a cold cheer.
A green Christmas makes a full graveyard.

A green Christmas indicates a white Easter.

December cold, with snow, brings eye everywhere.

Christmas wet gives empty granary and barrel.

If windy on Christmas day, trees will bear much fruit.

Wet causes more damage than frost before Christmas.

At Christmas meadows green, at Easter covered with frost.

If it snows on Christmas night, we may expect a good hop crop next year.

If Christmas finds a bridge, he'll break it; if he finds none, he'll make one.

If we will bear a man before Christmas, it will not bear a mouse afterward.
(English.)

If the wind blows much the day after Christmas day, the grape will be bad the next year.

If the sun shines through the apple trees on Christmas day, there will be an abundant crop the following year.

The twelve days beginning with Christmas day and ending January 6 are said to be the best of the weather for the next year. But some begin December 26 and end January 6. (Probably one way is as good as the other.)

Christmas Checkles.

The season of Christmas has many a yuleologist.

Scalakin and sabbie are the best furs for Christmas decoration.

A Christmas belle—The girl with the ring in her voice who will always chime in when anything is tolled.

Why is it that Christmas is so desired by tell-tale people? Because they then have a chance to give things away.

A dealer in toys advertises "Fox and Geece" as a Christmas game. The Chris-mas game preferred by most people is the turkey.

"Live, live to-day!" the sage has said:
The present's ours, the future isn't;
Regret not Christmas now dead;
Content be with the "Christmas present."

"Let us ring the glad Christmas bells," as the young fellow said when he slid an engagement ring on to the finger of his fair one on Christmas Eve.

"Mamma, said the little one, "do you know what you are going to give me for Christmas?" "Why, yes," said the mother, "of course I know." "Well, for mercy's sake don't tell me," responded the puss with great vehemence.

Dolly's First Bath.

Every man must have noticed that when a man, father, brother or Christmas present for his wife is usually so large that he cannot conceal it, while on the other hand the wife's present for her husband is usually hidden under the pillow of her gown.

A Good Reason.

"Just think how unhappy the little cousin must be," said a Sunday-school teacher, trying to point a moral. "They have no Christmas at all. One day of you tell me why?"

"Oh! because they haven't any thing to want," answered the little cousin.

The Sheriff of Jefferson county is a man who knows his duty and is ready to perform it at all hazards. He is the right man in the right place.

A collision between negroes and whites at Wabash, Miss., resulted in the killing of six white men and the wounding of several others. No negroes hurt.

In Lamar county Friday night, a crowd of masked men took Mrs. Jane Johnson from her house and whipped her and warned her to leave the county within five days.

Out of the twenty-three Presidents of the United States fifteen have Bible names, which shows what a hold the Bible has on the family life of the United States.

The farming interests of the south seem to be in the condition of a drowning man grasping at a straw. The Farmer's Alliance well managed may prove a life boat and we trust it may.

J. T. Harahan gives it out officially for the first time that he has resigned as General Manager of the Louisville and Nashville. He has accepted a similar position on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern.

The trustees of the Judson College at Marion, which unfortunately burned recently, taking the $25,000 insurance as a basis, have resolved to rebuild at a cost of $60,000. Already there has been over $40,000 of the amount subscribed.

The troubles of President-elect Harrison have just fairly commenced. The Ohio, Indiana and New York Republicans cannot agree as to who they want in the Cabinet. All they do know is that if the President appoints any of them, he will be violently assailed by the friends of those who are not appointed. Unless he is a very tough man the worry and trouble may soon dispose of him in the same way his father went.

Our Sheriff Blair deputized a constable to subpoena several witnesses to appear instantly before the grand jury, who reported in his return: "All served except the man 'instanter.' Have rode all over the beat and can't find him. 'Gone to Georgia.' Another constable was armed with a subpoena and a duplicate to leave with the party summoned, and returned the paper with the endorsement on it, 'Saw party, but he 'fused' to be summoned.'"—Coca River News.

Rev. T. M. Barbour, in a communication to the Farmer, warns farmers against paying high prices for fancy cotton seed. He states that an experiment made by Prof. Stubbs at the Louisiana experiment station of twenty-two varieties of so-called improved cotton seed showed that "the utter absence of merit of any kind was the conspicuous feature of most of them; in field there was no marked difference." Mr. Barbour says that high fertilization and abundant culture is the "open sesame" to abundant crops.

Honor and thrice honor to the good Geo. W. Childs, especially from all woman-kind, since it is recorded of him that he never sits in a street car while a woman stands, no matter what her age, color, or previous condition of servitude. In this era of crush and crowding and general hogghiness, so conspicuous a survival of the earlier and better manners of the republic should be given the widest circulation; though it is like to be regarded much more as a curiosity than an example by men of the present day.

A New Judge.

To relieve the pressure of business in Birmingham the General Assembly created a new circuit composed of the counties of Jefferson, Walker and Winston. Within fifteen days from the signing of the bill, which was done on Wednesday, the Governor is required to appoint a judge. So bring on your applications, gentlemen, you haven't much time. The collector will be elected by the Legislature after recess.—Advertiser.

The Message.

The Sun says the President's message means, "I am right and the country is wrong." It is an aimless and inconsequential document.

The Press says it is the effort of a shallow demagogue to create ill-feeling between classes.

The Tribune says it is an attempt to stir up anarchy by pandering to ignorance and passion.

The Herald says that Mr. Cleveland's remarks are sensible and well put, but his is the voice of one crying in the wilderness. The people have elected a party which favors monopolistic combinations, and they do not care enough about the evil effects of the system to change.

The Times thinks the President has somewhat overstated the case, but the message contains an amount of undeniable truth to which the country will be compelled to give attention.

The World says the message is a dignified, clear, compact and forcible state paper. If issued three years ago, and followed in 1886 by last year's tariff message, not even the power of money, nor the personal disaffection in the party could have prevented Democratic success this year.

We heard one of our citizens, a few days ago, say that he took the "Constitution," he liked it better than he did the Blade, and it cost the same. We asked him if he ever read a news item from Bibb in the "Constitution." He replied "only one." Yet, that man liked the foreign better than the local paper. We pity such a father, such a husband. Our patrons should exert themselves to remedy this state of affairs.

As little as may be thought of it your county paper is accomplishing much and lasting good where it is circulated, not that the editorials are so ably written or that our locals are so sensational; but that its teachings are actualized from pure motives, its county news is selected with care, keeping the interests of the county uppermost and always giving local news and county enterprises preferred space in its columns. We have ever been a supporter of every Bibb county enterprise. We want Bibb county's paper to be the equal of any weekly in the state, and urge its friends to use their influence in increasing its local circulation. Subscribe first for your local paper then take the best foreign journal you can get.—Bibb Blade.

The mite meeting at Joseph Green's was a success. Each one seemed to enjoy it hugely.

Prof. Dawson's school at Providence will close next Friday with examination.

Pleasant Grove academy will vacate next Friday for Xmas. The enrollment of this academy has increased every week since school began. About sixty on the roll.

There will be a Christmas tree at Concord Church on Monday night before Xmas. The little folks are looking forward to the time with joyful anticipations.

Miss Annie Moore, of Jefferson county, is visiting relatives in this vicinity.

Miss Maggie Garner is visiting relatives in Clanton.

Rev. Wilson, a much esteemed and beloved pastor will preach for us again next week.

Mr. Bailey Green visited his father last week. The writer of this never met a more courteous gentleman.

The View is anxiously looked for every week. Long may it prosper. A merry Xmas to the Editor.

CYRUS.

The Birmingham Age-Herald of the 4th has an interesting article devoted to an interview between a reporter of that paper and several Northern men who were visiting that city. Mr. Charles S. Smith, President of the New York Chamber of Commerce, of the number. Mr. Smith talks like a man of strong good sense who has given much thought to his subject, to wit: the condition and resources, natural and artificial of the South. He has formed a most favorable opinion of those resources, and of the strong inducements offered in the South for the investment of Northern capital. Alabama certainly has cause for congratulation at the very encouraging outlook she now presents to the capitalists of the country.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of Alabama, which met recently in Golden determined by resolution that they have nothing to do with the Woman's Suffrage question. They have acted wisely in this matter, as all who know the ladies engaged in the Convention knew they would when that matter was brought before them. The next meeting will be in Tuscaloosa in November, 1889. The old officers were all re-elected except the recording secretary, Miss A. L. Hays, of Decatur, who declined and Mrs. M. L. Spencer, of Birmingham, was chosen in her place.

The Old Year.

[For the CHILTON VIEW.]
The old year is passing away, is dying; And sadly the cold wintry winds are sighing
As they mournfully sweep o'er his hoary head,
And white with the frost of many a day,
As he silently passes away.
The old year is passing away, and now,
As time speeds on with aching brow,
I muse o'er the days so swiftly passed,
The shadows and sunshine that each hath cast,
O'er the hearts that bend to their changeful way,
As the old year passes away.

The old year is passing away, but the tide
Sweeps not from memories fireside;
The hand she gathered as old time sped;
The joys she treasured, the hopes that fled;
The flowers that withered, the thorns that stay
As the old year passes away.

The old year is passing away, and we sigh
As we think of the days and years gone by,
Though a withered rose and a thorn we find,
In the wreath the passing moments twined,
We love them not less for their change—
As the old year passes away.

The old year is passing away, is dying
The moments on restless wings are flying
Though the heart looks back to the days now gone,
Hope smilingly beckons our foot-steps on.
As the old year passes away.

Laws Relating to Newspaper Subscriptions.

The following is the decision of the United States Supreme Court:
1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, are considered wishing to continue their subscription.
2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals the publishers may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid.
3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible until they have settled their dues and ordered them discontinued.
4. If subscribers move to other places without notifying the publishers, and the papers are sent to the former direction, they are held responsible.
The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them unclaimed for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

We wish them each and all a pleasant Christmas, and a bright new year. If some of our delinquents should have compassion and money enough to pay up we may eat a Christmas turkey ourselves.

A Montgomery exchange contains an account of the death of an old war horse belonging to Mr. W. W. Wadsworth, of Wadsworth, Ala. The animal was thought to be about thirty-five years of age. It was captured by Mr. Wadsworth from a Federal officer during the war. Its long life was no doubt due to the kind treatment which it received at the hands of its big-hearted captor.

If the anarchists are in search of a professor of arson and assassination they can find the man just suited to their wants in the person who wrote the villainous article in the Chicago Tribune upbraiding the Southern negroes for their law abiding disposition. That man would double discount a dynamite bomb thrower any time.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says:

Montgomery, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for forty years, and would say that in all my practice and experience, I have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure. If they would take it according to directions.

Yours Truly,

L. L. GORSUCH, M. D., Office 215 Summit St.

We will give $100 for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.

HELP IN TIME OF NEED.

When a man is drowning he will grasp at straw, but straw will not save him. Extend to him a life-boat and his rescue is certain.

Mr. James A. Green, of Athens, Ga., (endorsed by the editor of the Athens Banner-Watchman) makes the following statement:

"I am first cousin of the late Ex-Governor Alexander H. Stephens, and have been postal clerk on different railroads since 1868. For ten years I have been a sufferer from a cancer on my face, which grew worse until the discharge of matter became profuse and very offensive. I became thoroughly disgusted with blood purifiers and pronounced them humbugs, as I had tried many without relief.

Finally I was induced to use Botanic Blood Balm. (D. B. B.) The offensive discharge decreased at once and the hardness disappeared. It became less and less in size until nothing remains except a scar. I gained flesh and strength, and all who have seen me bear testimony. I cannot say too much in its praise."

A. H. Morris, Pine Bluff, Ark., writes:

"Hot Springs failed entirely to cure me of several terrible, intolerable running ulcers on my legs, with which I have been troubled for many years. Several doctors also attempted to cure me but failed."

HOT SPRINGS bottles of D. B. B. (made in Atlanta, Ga.) and the effect has been truly magical, as they have all healed and I am cured after everything failed. My general health is also improving, appetite and digestion good. I sleep soundly, and never feel better. Doctors told me that I could not be cured.

I refer to every merchant or professional man of Pine Bluff.

Any one interested who desires to know more about the wonderful merit of D. B. B., will please send address to Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga., for their illustrated "Book of Wonders."
